Tread Lightly-Proud Foot!

That's a mighty proud foot you see there. It's resting on the accelerator of a 1953 Cadillac.

But we have a serious and timely warning for that proud and happy foot: Tread lightly!

Down under that accelerator is a dynamic 210-horsepower engine—coupled with the smoothest, quickest-acting Hydra-Matic Drive* in history.

That great power was put there for the driver's safety in an emergency—and to provide that smooth, effortless, steady ride which is the essence of luxurious motoring.

It was not put there to enable a Cadillac to dominate the highway—or to dash into the lead when the traffic light turns green—or to outmanoeuvre the other cars on the road.

So don't ever exhaust that accelerator—unless you're in an emergency, and must do so for reasons of safety.

If other drivers covet the honors at the stop light—just smile and let them go. They are first away by your courtesy—and that should be satisfaction enough for anybody.

Just be happy and satisfied with the great luxury this powerful engine brings you—the infinitely smooth performance . . . the quick "lift" that comes when you nudge the throttle . . . the great reserve for a burst ahead in case of necessity.

And be happy, as you can't help being, with the scores and scores of other wonderful things about this magnificent car—its easy relaxing ride, for instance . . . its distinguished and inspiring beauty . . . its rich, luxurious interiors . . . its honored and respected name . . . and its truly amazing economy.

Yes—there is so much about a Cadillac to inspire and delight its owner that he doesn't need the additional thrill of unleashing its spectacular performance when it isn't necessary.

So that's why we're sure he'll "Tread lightly!" He isn't in competition with anyone.

*Standard equipment on all Cadillacs except series 75.

U.N. Negotiators Threaten Break Off Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP)—UN negotiators today threatened to break off the renewed Korean armistice talks unless the Communists come up soon with a concrete proposal for exchanging prisoners—last big obstacle to a truce. Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison said the UN command "does not intend to become involved in protracted and useless arguments." He warned the Reds that they "should be well aware that we mean what we say."

Official sources in Washington, however, were said to see a glimmer of hope that the Reds may be moving toward a truce despite today's UN threat to suspend the negotiations again.

The session at Panmunjom was the third since the negotiations were revived Sunday in an effort to decide what to do with prisoners who refuse to go home.

WANT NEUTRAL STATE

The Allies asked the Reds to name a neutral state which would assume custody of prisoners unwilling to return to Communist rule, but received no definite answer. The Communists have indicated they might name Red-run Poland or Czechoslovakia, neither of which would be acceptable to the UN command. The Communists rejected Switzerland.

The full, five-member delegations met for 39 minutes and will meet again Wednesday.

They were hung up on three main points:

1. The neutral state to handle balky prisoners.

2. The length of time after an armistice necessary for disposal of prisoners.

3. Whether prisoners will be shipped to the neutral state or be held in Korea while their fate is decided.

NOTHING NEW

North Korean Gen. Nam Il offered nothing new in a lengthy statement today.

Nam once more called for debate on deciding the neutral state. He described the six-point proposal be advanced at the opening session Sunday as reasonable.

This proposal called for repatriating within two months after an armistice prisoners wanting to go home, and for sending to a neutral state those refusing repatriation. Within the following six months, representatives of Red China and North Korea would be permitted to visit the prisoners in neutral custody and give them "explanations" to quiet their "apprehensions" about returning home.

Pact Offer Renewed By Molotov

Western Officials Not Optimistic About Accepting It

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government again has endorsed the Communist-sponsored proposal for a peace pact by the "Big Five" powers—Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union, Communist China and France. The latest Russian nudge for such a piece agreement—which the Soviet Union has urged repeatedly at meetings of the United Nations assembly — was voiced by Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov in a message sent Monday to the meeting in Paris of the Soviet-supported "Congress of the Peoples in Defence of Peace."

There was no immediate comment from the state department in Washington on the Molotov message. Officials said privately it sounded like standard Russian propaganda. The Western powers have rejected previous Soviet overtures for a big-power conference to conclude such a peace pact. They contend it promises nothing but fruitless talk unless the Communists first prove their peaceful intentions in such existing bodies as the UN assembly, the UN disarmament commission, and the deputy foreign ministers trying to write an Austrian independence agreement.

PUBLISH TEXT

Moscow newspapers published the text of Molotov's message today.

The papers said the Paris congress—which includes prominent members of the Communist-backed peace partisan movement—had appealed to the five governments to "begin talks for the purpose of concluding a peace pact among the five great powers."

Molotov replied that the Soviet government, "following its policy of strengthening of peace and cooperation between peoples, solidarizes with the appeal of the congress. . .and with the proposal contained in the appeal."

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said editorially that "there is no other question that would so vitally interest the peoples in all the countries of the world."

"The peoples realize that if the five big powers whose population makes up almost half of all mankind will live in peace then universal peace would be guaranteed. . . .

"Who does not know that the very foundation of the United Nations is the unity of the five big powers? This principle agreed by all nations is being ignored by certain nations and thus hinders the United Nations organization from fulfilling its task. A pact between the five nations would strengthen the United Nations organization."

Hold Little Hope Pair Saved After Rockburst

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP)—A rockburst exploded at the 4,900-foot level of the Wright-Hargreaves gold mine Monday night and sealed off two men. Rescue workers digging frantically through tons of rock held out little hope the men would be found alive." The rockburst was felt all through this Northern Ontario mining centre and by noon today rescue crews still had to dig through 25 feet of rock to reach the men, Leo Murray, 25, and Leon Wojcechowski, 39, both of Kirkland Lake.

Alex Harris, a spokesman for the company, said "there is little hope the miners are alive."

However, rescue workers pressed to clear away the tons of rock in the hope that the two men have enough air in the chamber to survive.

Two hundred miners were underground when the explosion rumbled through the tunnels and startled hundreds of residents here. Murray and Wojcechowski were the only two men near the rockburst. No other miners were hurt.

The Wright-Hargreaves mine is one of many in this area and is located in the centre of Kirkland Lake. It is only a short distance from the community's main street and near the big Lake Shore gold mine.

Reports from the pithead are meagre. Scores of miners hurried to the scene when the explosion rocked the area at 7:55 p. m. EDT. Rescue work started within minutes.

Mr. Harris said rescue workers figured they could not reach the trapped men until early this afternoon. If so, the two miners will have been trapped for nearly 19 hours.

Rescue operations were being supervised by Larry Walkom, an inspector for the Ontario department of mines. He said the work was "quite dangerous and we're timbering as we go."

Up until noon today, rescue workers had cleared only 25 feet of huge chunks of rock. They still had 25 feet to go to reach the two men.

YELLS UNANSWERED

Rescuers tried to communicate with Murray and Wojcechowski during the night but their yells went unanswered. Mine officials said the chamber in which they are trapped gives "little protection."

Some workers considered blasting their way to the chamber but officials considered that too dangerous.

Rescue men, laboring in teams of 20, descended to the 4,900-foot level at 8 p. m. Monday. They took turns shovelling away the rubble and carrying big timbers deep into the mine to support the tunnel.

There were no onlookers at the entrance to the main shaft. Rel-

New Council Faces Expenses Of $11 Million

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's new metropolitan council will begin business Jan. 1 with assets worth about $65,000, expenses of about $11,000,000 and plans to spend at least $66,000,000 in the area during the next 10 years.

Biggest financial headache will be education. While the council will spend most of its first year laying plans for the future, the metropolitan school board will assume immediately the education problems and costs which have been plaguing most of the 12 municipalities since their incorporation.

Possibilities of tax cuts appear to hinge on the amount of school debt spread over the metropolitan area. The debts must be settled and those with higher education standards will have to trim their budgets until a balance is obtained.

The council will weld the entire waterworks system into a unit worth about $60,000,000 with annual operating costs likely to run at $5,500,000.

A nominal $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 will be spent on new streets. Maintainance is expected to amount to $600,000.

Education costs for the area during 1954 are estimated at $24,000,000 with $6,000,000 coming in grants from the Ontario government. This leaves $15 a head to be raised in taxation.

Ex-Communist Admits Stealing Secret U.S. Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thad Mason, a self-identified former Communist spy testified today that he stole secret U. S. plans for a military diesel engine during the Second World War.

He said the thefts were from a General Motors plant in Cleveland.

Testifying before the Senate internal security sub-committee, Mason said he stole the plans one by one from files of the inspection division, and smuggled them to fellow spies who worked in the plant's cafeteria. The plans then were photographed in a secret hideout in the basement of the cafeteria, he said.

He learned later, he said, that the blue prints were for only part of the engine, although he had believed he was stealing the plans for the entire unit.

UNDERGROUND ORDERS

Mason said he also stole from a Dupont chemical plant in Cleveland the formula for a preparation for the prevention and cure of diseases among livestock. He said he did it under orders from the Communist underground in 1943, and that "the comrade in charge said it would be of great use to our comrades in Russia."

Mason related that he had an "unhappy experience" as the leader of a prep school strike in Cleveland. As a result, he said, the school authorities refused to recommend him for a job when he finally was graduated from Ohio University.

Embittered, he said, he looked upon himself as "the man behind the eight ball" and joined the Communist party in 1936.

He said he advanced swiftly in Communist circles to the role of spy, first in the Dupont plant and then at General Motors.

10 Opposition Leaders Held

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—At least 10 opposition party leaders were reported arrested today, presumably in connection with recent bomb explosions that caused the deaths of six persons among a vast crowd listening to a speech by President Juan D. Peron.

Pro-government newspapers said those taken into custody included chiefs of the Radical and Socialist parties and "possibly some Communists." The reports said they were "assumed to be working jointly."

The newspaper La Razon said it had "been able to ascertain that working under the directives of a highly placed politician, they (those held) probably were connected with exiles in Uruguay." The paper added that many materials used "in criminal attempts were introduced from Uruguay, where they had been sent from a northern country."

Two Houses Drop Into Hole, 5 Killed

SWINTON, England (CP)—The tunnel of an abandoned railway line collapsed today and two houses which had been built above it dropped into the gaping hole. The freak accident killed four women and an elderly man, sleeping in bedrooms of the houses.

The houses were reduced to brick and rubble as the five victims were plunged with the debris into the bottom of the unused tunnel.

More than 100 rescue workers pried up the wreckage in an effort to save them. One fireman was hurt as he worked in the tunnel. Walls of a third house had to be hastily shored up to prevent it from slipping into the hole.

Japanese Volcano Erupts Second Time

TOKYO (Reuters)—The volcanic Mount Aso in South Japan erupted again today, showering boulders and lava near rescue workers searching for the bodies of children killed there in Monday's eruption.

A third eruption is expected soon. Today's caused no casualties though molten lava poured over the lip of the crater and red-hot cinders showered through the air.

Police said five bodies have been recovered from Monday's explosion. At least 10 persons, mostly children, were killed and rescue parties believe that figure might reach 30. About 100 others were treated for injuries.

11 U.S. Sailors Killed In Carrier Accident

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP)—A boiler accident aboard the U. S. aircraft carrier Bennington killed 11 seamen and injured four others, navy officials reported Monday night.

The accident occurred Monday while the 27,000-ton Essex class carrier was operating off Guantanamo Bay, one of the navy's principal bases in the Caribbean area.

The Bennington carries a normal complement of 2,900 officers and men.

4 Inches Of Snow Blanket Quebec Town

AMOS, Que. (CP)—An overnight storm blanketed this northwestern Quebec community with three to four inches of snow. Veteran residents described it as a record fall for this time of year.

Weather conditions have delayed breakups on northern lakes and have hampered prospecting in this rich mineral area.

Seek Two Men After Cabbie Robbed, Shot

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal police today sought two men for the fatal shooting of a taxi driver in a robbery that netted about $15.

Andre Lorge, 44-year-old Montreal cabbie, was shot through the head by two men who entered his car in the heart of the city and left his body at a waterfront street-corner.

The body was found on a sidewalk at the downtown intersections of McGill and Wellington streets by a passing cab driver.

Police said that when Lorge was found he was without hat and shoes and that there was a bullet hole just above his left eye. It was believed made by a .45-calibre revolver.

Dressed in a wrinkled blue suit, Lorge was still wearing his glasses.

LOCATE CAB

The slain man's cab was found a few minutes later by another La Salle driver, Alonzo Blackburn, who said that the engine was still warm, indicating it had not been abandoned for long.

In the cab were Lorge's cap and shoes but police said there were no signs of a struggle.

Investigating police, headed by Capt. J. H. Bond, chief of the homicide division, said Lorge was shot where the body was found.

Red Troops Closing In On Two Sides Of Capital

LUANGPRABANG, Laos (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh captured the mountain post of Pakseng, 42 miles northeast of Luangprabang, as invasion columns continued today to press upon Laos' royal capital from the north and east. A French Army spokesman announcing the fall of Pakseng said he did not know now whether part of the French Laotian garrison there had escaped or whether the Vietminh took the post in a sharp fight.

The invading troops Monday night were reported within 25 miles of Luangprabang on the east, and one unofficial report said advance Vietminh units were within 12 miles on the north.

The sector north of Luangprabang was reported quiet today, indicating the enemy may be awaiting fresh supplies before pushing closer to the town.

FILTER THROUGH JUNGLE

The exact position of the Vietminh north and northeast of Luangprabang was difficult to determine. The invaders were filtering single file through dense jungle toward the ring of mountains surrounding the town, which lies in a palm-lined valley along the Medong river.

The French continued to rush men and supplies into Luangprabang by airlift while bombers and fighters hit the enemy wherever troop concentrations were spotted.

French and Laotian soldiers dug trenches and constructed barbed wire entanglements around the little town of 6,000, hereditary home of aged, ailing King Sisavang Vong.

The king's son, Crown Prince Savang, told correspondents his people are determined to defend their country and "we know we are going to defeat the enemy if they attack Luangprabang."

A French major reported that advance units of the invaders are within 12 miles of the town on the north, while on the east larger forces had advanced to within 25 miles.

FIGHT FOR TOWN

Gen. Raoul Salan, French commander in chief in Indo-China, flew to Luangprabang Monday from his headquarters at Hanoi, 275 miles to the northeast. He assured the crown prince the French would fight it out before the town.

The Vietminh radio broadcast that a "resistance government" is following the Red army into Laos. The radio said it was headed by Souphanou Yong, who formed a fugitive Laotian government in Vietminh territory in 1950.

The Red command was reported also building up its forces circling the Plaine des Jarres, 70 miles southeast of Luangprabang, where French and Laotian forces have thrown up strong defences in the hope of bringing the Vietminh to a showdown battle on ground of their own choosing.

But the Vietminh, by-passing the plain, has aimed three powerful columns from the northwest, northeast and east directly at Luangprabang. Its capture would represent an enormous political victory. The Red columns already have clipped off a third or more of the kingdom of 90,000 square miles.

Delay On Jet Certificates Brings Demand For Inquiry

LONDON (AP)—Three Labor members announced today they will raise questions in the House of Commons about the refusal of American authorities thus far to grant certificates of air worthiness for British-made jet airliners.

The questions will be directed to Civil Aviation Minister Alan T. Lennox-Boyd by Maurice Edelman, Austen Albu and Woodrow Wyatt.

They will ask what representations the government has made in Washington on this subject and "what reply has been received." A thorough parliamentary airing is assured.

Many London newspaper columnists have whipped up great emotional steam over the subject during the last two weeks.

They have taken this line: The United States, after long leading the world in airline manufacture, now knows that its plane makers are trailing Britain in the jet airliner field. The authorities in Washington hope to stall long enough on the issuance of certificates to keep British-made jets off airlines operated by Americans.

Today's Financial Times presented a somewhat different picture from that carried in much of the rest of the London press.

The paper said while the delay in Washington is causing concern "it has not yet jeopardized the Pan American Airways' order for three Comet III machines from the de Havilland Aircraft Company."

"Reports that the contract would lapse on Thursday if Britain and the U.S. had not reached an understanding about airworthiness are not correct," the paper said.

De Havilland's Comet I, the world's first jet airliner, now is in operation on British Overseas Airways Corporation's routes to South Africa and the Orient.

The Comet II, due to enter public service later in the year, now is undergoing British acceptance trials.

Pan American is interested in the Comet III, a large plane capable of trans-oceanic flights. The three machines of this type it has ordered are not due for delivery until 1956.

The Financial Times pointed out that the civil aeronautics authority in Washington has been asked only to issue a certificate on the Comet III, and the application still is under consideration.

"So far as the Comet III's are concerned they have not yet flown, much less won a British certificate of airworthiness," the paper said.

Purge Ordered Among Bosses

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communist bosses today ordered a purge inside their own college for planned economy, claiming "hostile elements" were functioning on a high level.

The party's central committee made public a sharp criticism of the college in Karlshorst, the Berlin suburb housing the Soviet headquarters.

The top directors of the college were singled out by name but the party indicated others also were to blame. The college, the party charged, permitted "Trotskyite" expressions to be used in the classroom and also failed to step in when decisions of the central committee "were openly opposed."

Prof. Bruno Warnke was charged with "basically anti-Soviet statements" and his dismissal was ordered. Mrs. Eva Altmann, director of the college, was reprimanded for "political carelessness and for ignoring criticism."

The college operates for Communist officials concerned with planning the state economy.

Prince Charles Enjoys Practising Salute

WINDSOR, England (AP)—Four-year-old Prince Charles had a swell day practising his salute.

For some time the manner in which soldiers greet each other has fascinated the heir apparent to the throne, and today he had a chance to give his right arm a workout in the best military tradition.

The occasion was the presentation by the Queen of new standards to the Royal Household Cavalry. Prince Charles, in blue coat and cap, watched his mother intently, and while he didn't have an official part in the ceremony he saluted at every opportunity. He was impartial, saluting the man who beat the drum, a couple of policemen and the crowds which watched the colorful parade.

Household troops are attached to the royal household for ceremonial duties, but they are relieved at intervals to fight in wars in which Britain may be engaged. More than 500 officers and men, smartly mounted, faced the Queen.

30 PoWs Begin Flight Home

TOKYO (AP)—Thirty-five American soldiers, freed from Communist prison camps in Korea last week, boarded a big hospital plane here today and headed eastward across the Pacific toward home.

The plane will land in Honolulu this afternoon. After resting about 24 hours the men will leave for California on the last leg of their homeward flight.

The plane probably will land at Travis air force base, near San Francisco, early Thursday.

The army refused to let newspaper men talk with the former prisoners at the airport.

Eden To Have 2nd Operation

LONDON (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today that ailing Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will undergo a second operation "within the next day or two."

The spokesman said the operation was necessary "in view of the persistence of jaundice."

Eden was operated on April 12 at the London clinic for the removal of gallstones. His recovery has been slow.

Five days after the operation the foreign secretary developed tonsilitis with some fever. Then he had a recurrence of jaundice. Eden had been ill off and on since the middle of the winter.

During his absence the foreign office has been under the direction of Selwyn Lloyd, minister of state.

The foreign office did not go into details on the exact nature of the second operation.

Canada Shifts Truce Opinion

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs officials said today Canada believes the military should be left free to negotiate a truce at Panmunjom.

They were commenting on a news dispatch which said some Allied countries are reported to have proposed that civilian diplomats sit in at Panmunjom and advise the U. S. military negotiators. Canada was said to be interested in the idea.

The reaction here was that this would be opposite to the view Canada has long taken. This view holds that military men should handle negotiations for a truce. Once a truce was obtained, then political - diplomatic discussions could start to see where "we should go from there."

Say Parents Unable Attend Mass Funeral

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—Doctors today said Mr. and Mrs. Philip Derry are out of danger, but in no condition to attend Wednesday's mass funeral of their five children and three nieces who perished when fire destroyed the Derry home near here Sunday.

The Derrys are suffering from burns, cuts and severe shock.

The parents escaped from their bedroom but were forced back by flames when they attempted to rescue the children.

A fund for medical and funeral expenses, opened Monday by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, now stands at about $1,000.

Slump In Exports

Decline Of $46,300,000 3rd Month In Row

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's exports declined by $46,300,000 in March as a slump in shipments to Britain and other Commonwealth countries continued for the third consecutive month, the bureau of statistics' preliminary trade report for March showed today.

Total exports for the month dropped $313,000,000 from $359,300,000 last year while imports rose to $360,400,000 from $327,000,000.

This sharp emphasis on purchases from other countries and the drop in exports produced a deficit of $47,400,000 in March trade, a reversal of the $32,300,000 surplus a year ago.

Total exports for the first three months of 1953 dropped by $87,900,000 to $913,900,000 from the high of $1,001,800,000 last year.

Imports rose by $82,100,000 to $998,200,000 from $916,100,000. Thus in the first three months of 1953 trade, Canada's international trade balance had a total deficit of $84,300,000 compared with a surplus of $85,700,000 in the first quarter of last year.

Exports to Britain in March slumped to $38,800,000 from $69,000,000 last year. Total shipments to all other Commonwealth countries dropped to $16,800,000 from $34,200,000.

Exports to the U. S. during March rose to $206,400,000 from $188,700,000. Shipments to all other countries slipped to $51,000,000 from $67,400,000.

BIG INCREASE

Canada's imports from Britain during March jumped to $37,600,000, from $22,600,000, while imports from all other Commonwealth countries eased to $10,700,000 from $10,800,000.

Purchases from the U. S. rose to $214,300,000 from $253,500,000. Imports from all other countries slipped to $37,800,000 from $40,100,000.

House Approves International Wheat Agreement

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons, with all parties in opposition giving qualified support, has approved the new international wheat agreement. While agreeing with the bulk-selling principle of the pact, opposition members expressed concern during a five-hour debate Monday over the fact that Britain, Canada's top wheat customer, has held aloof from the agreement. Trade Minister Howe, who piloted through the House the resolution approving the price-stabilization wheat pact, heard one member — John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) — suggest Canada should promise Britain $2-a-bushel maximum wheat and subsidize the other five cents a bushel. The pact's maximum price is $2.05, but Britain wouldn't go beyond $2.

Opposition members urged the government to try again, possibly during the cabinet's Coronation visit to London, to get the British government to reconsider. Mr. Howe said he, too, would like to see Britain take "one more look" at the agreement, but he doubted if she would change her mind.

OTHERS GIVE APPROVAL

Even as the Commons debate went on more and more countries were approving the pact in Washington Monday, final day for signing. A total of 41 of the 42 importing countries—Britain was the exception—signed the agreement effective on ratification Aug. 1.

Some British circles had expected that India, Ceylon, New Zealand and Greece, all importers, would withdraw if Britain did not come in. But all have signed.

Mr. Howe told the House that Britain has until July 15 to decide to come into it. He believed that Canada would retain the UK market for wheat even if Britain does not come in, but he thought Britain ill-advised not to.

Britain abstained from signing because Canada and the other three exporting countries would not agree to a $2 (U. S.) top price for a bushel of wheat. The agreed ceiling is $2.05 and the floor $1.55.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, and Mr. Blackmore said Britain has such a scarcity of dollars she has to watch them, but Mr. Howe said he did not believe Britain withdrew because she thought she could save dollars.

WATCH DUMPING

Hazen Argue (CCF—Assiniboia) thought the agreement might work even without Britain if Canada and the United States did not dump their wheat surplus on the world markets.

Mr. Howe, as assurance of stability ahead, announced that initial prices paid by the wheat board for wheat, oats and barley would be at least as high for the next crop year as they were in the current crop year, which ends July 31. The wheat price, he said might even be boosted "to some extent."

Initial prices the Canadian wheat board will offer farmers will be at least $1.40 a bushel for No. 1 northern wheat; 65 cents a bushel for No. 2 CW oats; and 96 cents for No. 3 6-row barley.

Because of heavy demand for Durum wheat, the initial price will be increased to $1.50 a bushel from $1.40 this year to encourage production of this type.

The Commons went from wheat into a general discussion of agriculture as Agriculture Minister Gardiner's estimates came before the House.

NET FARM INCOME

The minister told the Commons Canada's farmers had a net income of just under $2,000,000,000 in 1952—compared with a peak of $2,200,000,000 in 1951—and said there are indications this "present satisfactory position" will be maintained.

However, there are some surpluses and the government holds stocks of butter, beef, pork and skim milk bought to stabilize prices. The minister said 71,000,000 pounds of canned pork is expected to be disposed of this year.

Good steers had sold at $27.92 a hundredweight at Winnipeg in February, 1952. At the beginning of this month, April, the price had dropped to $18.60. At Chicago prices had dropped to $20.45 from $32.20.

In 1943-45, however, farmers were getting $9.63 a hundred pounds for all grades of beef. This had jumped two-and-a-half times to $23.78 in the period 1950-52.

Farm spokesmen for the Progressive Conservative party—Arthur Ross (Souris) and John Charlton (Brant-Wentworth) said it was "most unfair" that the minister should use 1943-45 as years to compare with the present in agricultural prices. Prices in 1943-45 were low.

Heart Foundation Split Reported

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Heart Foundation and the provincial health department were reported Monday night to be in disagreement over the method to be used in obtaining financial assistance for the foundation's work.

The foundation, made up of both doctors and laymen, was organized to direct assistance in heart disease research and to recommend approved treatment methods.

The foundation members were said to feel that much research has to be done before a fund-raising organization should be created such as the ones existing in the cancer, polio and other health fields.

The association approached the provincial government and suggested that $100,000 in federal grants be sought by the Ontario health department to be used solely for research. It also suggested that the provincial government match this amount, providing funds for co-ordinating the knowledge from the research, seeking information from other research projects and informing the medical profession of the progress.

Health Minister McKinnon Phillips has endorsed the foundation's aims but has told the organization that until it is set up along lines of the Ontario cancer body no government funds can be expected.

Prices Drop Slightly On Exchange Trading

TORONTO (CP)—Prices weakened slightly in early afternoon stock market trading today.

Industrials and base metals were mixed but golds and western oils dropped minor amounts. Volume for the first three hours totalled 2,470,000 shares.

Uraniums showed strength and New Brunswick base metals held firm. Northern Ontario rare metals slipped.

Banks were strong in industrials and papers and utilities rose. Textiles, manufacturing companies, miscellaneous issues and liquors slipped.

Senior and junior golds weakened but holding companies held firm.

Western oils weakened on a list of small losses.

Study Poor Relations Urban-Rural Groups

GUELPH (CP)—Poor relations between urban and rural communities were discussed Monday at the annual conference of the Ontario Junior Farmers' Association.

Delegates said most newspapers give more space to consumer price increases than to reductions in prices to consumers. It was difficult to convince residents in urban districts that farmers are having a tough time.

A panel discussing the subject concluded that meetings may be held to bring young city residents together with farmers so that farmers can tell how they are faring.

.07 rain.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m.

Synopsis:

The disturbance which brought a few days of cool showery weather over Southern Ontario is slowly moving eastward across the Maritimes today. A northern flow of cool moist air brought snowflurries in Northern Ontario and caused showers to persist in the lower Great Lakes regions Monday. A weak ridge of high pressure, slowly moving across Ontario will clear the skies today. However, the clearing will be short-lived as a new disturbance which developed in Colorado is moving northeastward and will spread clouds and rain into southwestern Ontario Wednesday. Southerly winds will bring warmer air into the province Wednesday.

Regional forecasts valid until Wednesday:

Eastern Lake Ontario, Haliburton regions: Cloudy today. Clear with a few cloudy intervals tonight and Wednesday. A little warmer Wednesday. Winds west 15 today, light Wednesday. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Trenton 40 and 55, Killaloe 35 and 50. Summary for Wednesday: Sunny.

Martin Believes UN World's Best Peace Hope

DETROIT (CP)—Hon. Paul Martin, Canada's health minister, described the United Nations Monday as man's best hope for peace.

Mr. Martin, chief Canadian delegate to the recent United Nations general assembly, said the session might prove the turning point in world affairs.

If an honorable armistice is achieved in Korea, he said, the UN action in that country will have become a symbol of collective security in action.

Mr. Martin said Korea has been only one part of the UN story. During the last seven years, the UN did not achieve everything expected of it.

"On the other hand," he added, "we must remember that the UN is little more than seven years old, while the massive problems with which it must cope are as old as civilization itself."

Civilization Loses Clash With Jungle

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP)—Civilization clashed with the jungle Monday and took a sharp setback.

An official of a machinery firm dreamed up the idea of matching the pulling power of a tractor with the muscles of a circus elephant.

They were hitched back to back. The tractor didn't have a chance. Jumbo dragged the sputtering machine all around the lot.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 15-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Monday's noon rate was 98½ cents. Pound sterling $2.77⅝, against $2.77 9-16.

atives and friends of the two men were not permitted to gather at the shaft entrance but were informed of the rescue work by mine officials.

WALLS GAVE WAY

The rockburst occurred when the walls of the excavation gave way under great pressure from surrounding rock. Small rockbursts are frequent here. However, many cause no loss of life and little damage. They usually explode in unworked sections of the mine.

Murray and Wojcechowski are both married and each has a child.

The blast occurred shortly after the night shift started to work. The men descended to the tunnels in an elevator and were tunnelling for about 30 minutes when the rock broke loose.

ACCIDENTS RARE

Accidents at the Wright-Hargreaves mine are rare. It is nearly a year since the last fatality.

At the Lake Shore mine, three men perished in a similar explosion last June. The rockburst occurred at the 5,400-foot level of the mine, deepest in North America.

Details of Monday night's explosion were not made known until this morning. Mr. Harris, who channels the news from the company, was in Toronto Monday night and arrived here early today.

CCF Asks Ottawa Amend Housing Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—The CCF in a motion in the Commons today urged the government to amend its housing policy to make direct loans to home builders and go directly into home building itself where necessary.

J. S. Noseworthy (CCF—York South) said Canada's housing program would get nowhere until it was "freed" from "the shackles of the finance companies."

Board Refuses Application For Horse Meat Freezer

The application of Nick Peconi for permission to build an addition to a garage and also to install a "walk-in horse meat freezer" was rejected by the board of works Monday. The location is west of Downer's Corners.

That was the action on a motion by Ald. J. A. Dewart, seconded by Ald. N. G. Graham.

The words of Ald. Dewart conveyed a measured sound as he slowly said: " I move that the application of Mr. Peconi be refused."

Discussion emphasized a charge that Mr. Peconi had continually flouted the authority of the council and thereby the citizens, and that it was time for some decisive stand against him.

NO AUTHORITY GIVEN

City Engineer Chalmers informed the board that on April 19 Mr. Peconi was advised to take out a building permit, that he was referred to the City Clerk on April 20, "and that on more than one occasion he has continued to work on that garage and on the deep-freeze place" in spite of the fact that he had no authority to carry on this work.

"I think it is time to make an example of Mr. Peconi, and to assert the authority of the council and the city," Ald. Dewart said. "He has proceeded in defiance of the city council and of everybody else. We should take whatever action is necessary forthwith to see that the building bylaw is carried out.

If there is any question of legal advice, let us get that forthwith too."

Ald. Rehill asked whether this was just going to be a case of $10 fine and let Peconi continue to operate. "Should we not have more than that?"

CONTINUING OFFENSE

City Clerk Outram expressed to the board the opinion that every day Peconi continues in action or operation is an offense. "Every day he is without a building permit is a continuing offense."

The assertion was that Peconi would place himself in a position of liability for every day he continued without a building permit.

He is also being accused of having obtained permission to sell used cars on his property on east Lansdowne St. and that since then he has converted it into a car wrecking yard.

As to that allegation which was vigorously stated to the board by a deputation of which E. C. Boyler was the speaker, a motion by Aldermen Burrows and Graham ordered that this matter be immediately called to the attention of Chief Constable John Thompson for a report leading to action.

Heading a deputation from Lansdowne St. east, Mr. E. C. Boyler told the council that the petition which he presented was virtually unanimous of that comparatively new section of the city.

The complaint set out that Mr. Peconi had first converted the used car lot (on the Finnie place not Boyler as reported) into a car wrecking yard, and he was now proceeding and had been working about three weeks on the job of converting a garage into a horse-meat walk-in freezer.

NEIGHBORHOOD WILL FIGHT

"We went to the city planning board first," Mr. Boyler said. "They told us to come to the council. Who's next to get this hot potato. The neighborhood is determined to fight Mr. Peconi. He laughed when we tried to stop the used car lot."

As to the report that the garage was about 175 to 200 feet from Lansdowne St., which is No. 7 Highway, Mr. Boyler said it was only 72 feet from a surveyor's mark at the front to the south wall.

The neighborhood does not want Mr. Peconi's business in their midst, Mr. Boyler said. The trucks that transport dead horses from the country to the abattoir further east in Otonabee were allowed to stand in his yard. Any body could imagine what that meant.

"You can't drive behind one of those trucks on the highway," Ald. Syd Black remarked.

"You would think that he would wait until he had a permit to build from the city," Mr. Boyler said.

Peconi's application for a used car lot was opposed by the neighborhood, but he got a permit to carry on that kind of business. Now, it is a junk yard, Mr. Boyler said.

"Is a used car lot a place to wreck cars, or is it a lot for the sale of used cars?" Mr. Boyler asked. "Some of us have been living in that neighborhood 30 to 40 years. This man has come in and caused a disruption. He has no regard for the law, the council or the citizens generally. The council knows that the McGinnis industry is coming out that way. They need water Why arouse people who are likely to become water consumers when the lines are laid and you will expect us to join up and take the service? I wish to tell the council that the community is solidly behind this petition."

"If he isn't going to obey the law that says he must take out a permit, the only thing to do is to lock him up," Ald. Black suggested.

As to the original garage, Mr. Boyler said it had no foundation and was made of scrap lumber.

It was said that Mr. Peconi couldn't get his industry into South Monaghan, North Monaghan and Smith. From his own statement he has received permission from Otonabee to build an abattoir three miles from the city for his horse meat industry. The product is sold for dog food.

Mayor Waddell recalled that "he was turned out down at the corner of Erskine and McKellar Streets".

The deputation told the board that flies, smells from the trucks, the horse-meat freezer, were some of the aspects of protest against the invasion of their residential neighborhood. The business would reduce the value of their properties.

PECONI HEARD

Mr. Peconi was heard later in the series of visiting deputations. He said whe wanted to put up a small building next to the garage which he said he was converting into a walk-in freezer for horse meat.

'With the freezer no one could smell anything," Mr. Peconi told the board.

Ald. Graham: "Why did you go ahead and build without a permit?"

Mr. Peconi: "I didn't know you had to have a permit to turn the garage into a room for the freezer."

He estimated cost of the work at $500.

Mr. Graham: "Did you know it was against the bylaw to use sawdust in filling the walls of the garage?"

Mr. Peconi: "No, I didn't. Frigidaire told me it was a good as cork."

No other members of the council projected questions at Mr. Peconi. Ald. Anglesey, chairman, said: "That is all. Your request will be considered later."

Union Official Loses Appeal Against Term

OTTAWA (CP)—The appeal of Tony Poje, 33-year-old Vancouver union official sentenced to three months in jail and ordered to pay a $3,000 fine for defying a court injunction, was rejected today by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The Poje case became a labor "cause celebre" when he allegedly defied the court injunction ordering him and his men to stop picketting a Nanaimo, B. C., freighter during British Columbia's crippling lumber strike last year.

Fourteen other members of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL), involved in the court charges that spring from that defiance, were fined $300 each. The Supreme Court also rejected their appeals.

The pickets allegedly aimed at preventing longshoremen from loading the lumber piled on a dock. Ship owners protested that they were losing $1,800 a day in the loading delay. They obtained a court injunction restraining the union from picketing the ship, but Poje and other members of the union local allegedly defied the order, served on the men by Sheriff W. B. McKenzie.

OBITUARIES

JOHN DAVIS

The funeral was held on Monday at two p.m. from the Comstock funeral home of one of the district's oldest and most highly respected residents in the person of Mr. John Davis.

Mr. Davis was born in Ennismore, a son of the late Richard Davis and Hannah Taylor, and has lived his entire life there. He was 83 years of age.

Though he has departed from this early abode, his companionship and friendship will forever be cherished. He will be missed greatly and indeed mankind has lost one of God's chosen people. Mr. Davis was a member of St. James' Anglican Church, Emily.

He is survived by his wife, one son Albert and a daughter-in-law, the former Helen Franks, also four daughters, Mrs. George Tiernan (Ezetta), Ennismore, Mrs. Lorne Armstrong (Violet), Mrs. William McClelland (Vera), Mrs. Gratton Harris (Pearl) and Miss Cora Davis, all of Peterborough; one sister, Mrs. William Coones, Bobcaygeon, a brother Thomas of Peterborough and eight grandchildren.

The body was taken from the chapel to Ray's cemetery, Lakefield, for burial.

Flower-bearers were Allen Northey, Jack Harris, Garry Armstrong, Jack Harris (all grandchildren), Gordon Farthing and Norman Farthing (nephews of the deceased). Honorary pallbearers were Lorne Armstrong, George Tiernan, William McClelland and Gratton Harris. Active pallbearers were Richard Davis, Bill Cavanagh, Lorne Davis, William F. Cavanagh, Leonard Flood and Stan Davis.

The Rev. Charles Richmond conducted the service.

HERBERT W. GLOVER

A builder for 55 years, 23 of them in Peterborough, Herbert William Glover, 75, of 573 Spruce St., died Monday in hospital. He had been ill for some months, and three months ago retired because of poor health.

Born and educated in Port Granby, Ont., he was a son of the late William Glover and Lucy Marshall, and lived in Oshawa before coming to Peterborough.

An elder of Grace United Church, Mr. Glover is survived by his widow, the former Hattie E. Hawkins, three daughters and a son: Mrs. Joseph Lovett (Gladys) and Mrs. Harvey Lenhart (Pearl) both of California, Mrs. Wilbur Rusnell of Oshawa, and William E. Glover of Peterborough.

There is one brother, Ernest of Willowdale; and another brother Allan of Oshawa died two weeks ago. Ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren survive.

Funeral service will be conducted at 1.30 p.m. Thursday by the Rev. I. G. Pollock of Grace United, assisted by the Rev. E. W. Rowland of George St. United Church. Burial will be in Union

MRS. SEYMOUR VANESS

TRENT RIVER (ENS) — Mrs. Seymour Vaness, 73, of Brighton and formerly of Trent River died at her home Monday following a short illness.

Mrs. Vaness, the former Mary Seaman Wood, was born in Rockport, Ont., daughter of the late Ira Mallory Wood and Nancy Jane Andrews and has lived in Brighton for the past two years. Formerly she lived in Trent River, and Steenburgh, Ont.

She was a member of the Trent River United Church and of the Women's Association of that church.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Wesley Bird (Hilda) and Mrs. Morrey Levesque (Eloese), both of Trent River; three sons, Ernest, Trent River; Wesley, Hastings; John, at home; three sisters, Mrs. John Kringe (Hannah), Toronto; Mrs. Luther Tooley (Emma) and Mrs. Frank Brown (Etta), both of Plevna Ont.; two brothers, Henry Wood, Cloyne, Ont; George, Manitoba; 17 grandchildren and one great grandchild. Her husband, Seymour Vaness, predeceased her three years ago.

The funreal will be hold Thursday at 2 p.m. from the home of her son, Ernest Vaness, Trent River, to Trent River United Church. The Rev. R. C. Newman of that church will conduct the service. Burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery, Havelock.

Convict MP As Dangerous

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—Emil Arnold, a member of the Parliament and a leader of the Swiss Labor (Communist) party, was convicted today of endangering Swiss security and was sentenced to eight months in prison.

The court declared Arnold had told a Communist meeting in Budapest in 1951 that Switzerland was the centre of U. S. espionage in Europe. He said the International Press Institute in Zurich and the headquarters of moral rearmament at Caux were training grounds for U. S. spies.

Arnold is expected to file an appeal. The verdict, if sustained, would remove Arnold from his seat in Parliament.

Paper Confesses To 'Hideous Crime'

HANNOVER, Germany (Reuters) Due Wahrheit, only Communist newspaper in Lower Saxony, today confessed to a hideous crime.

In a long editorial it admitted letting the name of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, the breakaway Communist leader, creep into a cross-word puzzle.

The editor responsible was guilty of "lack of vigilance," the paper said.

Winners In Draw

Three names were drawn as winners of prizes at the Red Patch Club dinner Saturday. The lucky winners were Cecil Cowey, 3 Bruce Street, Charles Ellis, 587 Gilmour Street, and W. Williamson, 308 Stewart Street.

Assisted At Funeral

The Rev. K. B. Bauder of the Free Methodist Church assisted at the funeral service of Major Reginald Thomas Hounsell conducted by the Rev. A. A. Mathews.

Major Hounsell died last week in hospital and burial was in Ray's cemetery, Lakefield.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains were a little higher in routine dealings at the opening today.

Best gains were shown by wheat. Wheat started ⅜ to ¾ higher, May $2.20¾-2.21, corn was unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.59⅛.

Bertrand Loses His Appeal

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec court of appeals today dismissed the appeal of Rheal Leo Bertrand, 37, of Ottawa, convicted a year ago of murdering his 55-year-old bride of two months.

The appeal court's decision was unanimous.

The appeal was made on the grounds the jury had been misdirected by the trial judge and that the 12-man Roman Catholic jury had been allowed to go to confession during the trial.

Mr. Justice Gregor Barclay said that during the trial members of the jury applied for permission to go to confession. After consultation with all parties permission was granted.

Mr. Justice Barclay said the practice was not improper but should not be continued.

Hint Seaplane Base For Fort Frances

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—Possibility that a seaplane base may be established here appeared today following a report that the federal government is prepared to spend $5,000 towards the cost.

Mayor Joseph T. Livingstone reported the federal offer when the question of docking facilities for tourist planes was raised at a council meeting Monday night by a Chamber of Commerce delegation.

The mayor said he had been told the money might be obtained if the town would acquire land for approaches to the dock. Rusty Myers who operates a private seaplane base here said the dock could be built from the end of a road to his base.

Falls From Deck Man 34, Drowns

STURGEON FALLS (CP)—Leo Goulard, 34, was drowned Monday when he fell from the deck of a power boat into Lake Metagamassi near this Sudbury district town.

Police said Goulard was crawling along the narrow deck when he fell. Albert Teasdale, driver of the boat, said rough water prevented him from getting close to Goulard.

Regard Molotov Proposal As Backward Peace Step

LONDON (Reuters)—Diplomatic circles of Western Europe today saw little chance of fruitful results from Russia's latest peace offensive tactic—an announcement of willingness to negotiate a five-power peace pact.

Commenting on Russia's note to an international "Peace Congress," government sources in London and Paris said there was nothing new or constructive in Russia's agreement to bring Communist China in on a top-level pact.

London diplomats regarded the move as taking a step backward from the recent Russian trend of dealing with simple, uncomplicated issues, since such negotiations face the United States government with the question of recognizing the Communist government in China.

A French spokesman described the Russian reply as "a classic theme of Communist propaganda."

The problem of China's international position is considered in London to be one of the most difficult and delicate in the whole field of international relations.

NOT NEW IDEA

Asked to comment on the peace pact proposal, conveyed Monday in a note signed by the Russian foreign minister, Vyacheslav Molotov, a foreign office spokesman said: "The Soviet government has made such a proposal on many other occasions since the war."

Prospects of its acceptance by the West, in present circumstances, are considered to be infinitely less than the prospects of agreement to attend talks on a four-power basis, he said.

French diplomatic quarters said Molotov's statement only reiterated the Russian view that there was no controversial or unsolved problem that could not be settled by peaceful means.

They added that the Soviet government's real intentions still remained to be tested on such an issue as the Austrian peace treaty.

Molotov's statement was in reply to an open letter addressed to the Soviet prime minister, Georgi Malenkov, President Eisenhower, Sir Winston Churchill, Chou En-lai, the Chinese Communist prime minister, and Premier Rene Mayer of France.

Defer Action On Criminal Code Changes

OTTAWA (CP)—Conflicting labor views Monday prompted the House of Commons criminal law committee to defer action on criminal code amendments touching on strikes in public utilities and transportation.

The committee, studying a general revision and consolidation of the code, put off until today a decision on the wording of clauses dealing with this type of strike. Meanwhile, its members were to study divergent representations from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Canadian Congress of Labor.

It took no action, for the moment, on suggestions from some members that TLC and CCL spokesmen be asked to give their views to the committee personally before it makes a recommendation to the Commons.

OPPOSED ON CLAUSE

The opposing views of the two major central labor bodies developed chiefly over a clause in the new code — basically unchanged from the old criminal statutes—which makes it an offence to break a contract when it will hold up service by a public utility or a common carrier. Penalties range up to five years.

After earlier representations from labor, the justice department drafted an addition to the clause that would specify there was no offence on the part of employees or unions in the case of a legal strike.

The minister told the committee Monday the 525,000-member TLC agrees to the proposed change.

But he said the 370,000-member CCL wanted deleted a section that would exempt strikers from prosecution only when they had complied with "all steps provided or contemplated by law."

Medical Progress Outlined To Rotary Club

CAMPBELLFORD — (ENS) — Dr. David Burgess was guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon on Monday. He chose for his topic "Advances in Medicine in the past 50 years."

Dr. Burgess was intoruced by Dr. Ross Richardson, who said that the speaker is a native of Philadelphia, though he went to England early in life. He graduated at Guy's Hospital, Loidon, and joined the RAF during the war. Because of his American birth he was transferred to the American Air Force. Upon discharge he practiced for a year in the Old Country and came to Canada in 1948. For several years he practised in Western Canada and come to Campbellford in 1953.

Dr. Burgess centred his remarks around the fantastic growth in tha use of drugs, which have revolutionized his profession. As an example, the dreaded pneumonia, which formerly meant anxious waiting, care and in many cases, death, has become for most a transitory illness. Insulin has overcome diabetes to such a degree that cases which were formerly regarded as hopeless are now restored to health and long life. Tuberculosis, which was regarded as an act of God about which nothing could be done, is now a challenge to the profession.

Fifty years ago, there were few known drugs. Purging and bleeding were the chief cures. The germ theory had not yet been accepted. Surgery was a last hope, and cleanliness was little practiced in the operating room. As a result, operations were usually a failure. If there was a fracture, amputation was the only solution and then it was very dubious in its effectiveness. A goitre was considered a deformatory, not a disease, and an autopsy a sacrilege.

During the past half century, medical science has done wonders: progress has been almost unbelievable.

If, said Dr. Burgess in conclusion, the next fifty years brings comparable advances in the treatment of injury and disease, we will live to see the conquest of disease reach heights undreamed of today, with the span of life and comfort immeasurably improved.

President Frank DeCorrol thanked Dr. Burgess for his address.

Robbed Garage Jailed In 18 Mos.

COBOURG — (ENS) — Fred Cardy of London was found guilty on a charge of breaking into Mathieson's Service Station in Hope township on March 30.

Police found Cardy's car but no occupant while making the rounds of the service station at night and traced the ownership to Cardy.

Cardy has a previous record and Magistrate R. B. Baxter sentenced him to 18 months definite and six month indefinite in the reformatory.

Association Director James F. Oldham Dies

ST. THOMAS (CP)—James F. Oldham, 58, one of the founders and former president of the Elgin Swine Producers' Association, died Sunday night.

He was a director of the Ontario Swine Breeders, the Elgin Federation of Agriculture, Elgin Soil and Crop Improvement Association and a member of the St. Thomas and Central Elgin district high school.

Mr., Mrs. Timothy Garvey 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Garvey, 182 Hazlitt St., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently.

The anniversary celebrations took the form of a thanksgiving mass in St. Peter's Cathedral when the Rev. Leo Leahy, a nephew of the couple, celebrated the mass and two grandchildren, Gerard Gavey of Peterborough and Jack Garvey of Campbellford, served the mass.

The mass was followed by a dinner celebration. A reception for friends and relatives was held in the afternoon and a dance in the evening. John Garvey, groomsman at Mr. and Mrs. Garvey's wedding, attended the reception and dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Garvey were married in St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, April 21, 1903. The ceremony was performed by the late Rt. Rev. M. J. O'Brien.

Mr. Garvey was born in Asphodel township, son of the late Michael Garvey and Julia Allen. He went to school in Asphodel and worked on his parents' farm until he was married.

BOUGHT FARM

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Garvey bought a farm on the south line of Douro township, where they lived for 11 years. In 1914 they moved to their present home in Peterborough. Mr. Garvey was employed by the Quaker Oats Co., where he worked in the shipping department until he retired in 1941.

Mrs. Garvey, the former Elizabeth Conroy, was born in Otonabee township, daughter of Mrs. Patrick Conroy, Dalhousie St., and the late Mr. Conroy.

Mrs. Garvey attended SS No. 17, Otonabee, and lived at her parents' home until she was married.

Mr. and Mrs. Garvey are members of Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic church. Mr. Garvey is an enthuastic gardener and Mrs. Garvey keeps busy knitting for her grandchildren. They both enjoy playing cards.

The couple have six sons, Leo, Emmett, Gerald, Robert and Vincent, all of Peterborough, and James of Campbellford; two daughters, Mrs. Patrick Cavangh (Irene), and Mrs. Ray Clifford (Helen), both of Peterborough, and 24 grandchildren.

Their family presented Mr. and Mrs. Garvey with a refrigerator as an anniversary gift.

Young PCs May Hold Conference Here

Possibility of a regional conference being held in Peterborough was discussed Monday night at a meeting of the Young Progressive Conservative Association.

The conference, which would draw delegates from four or five ridings in this area, would be of a day's duration. No specific plans were made, but it was decided that further meetings would be held to make tentative arrangements.

Speaker at the meeting was Frank Greene, of Port Arthur, president of the Ontario YPC Association.

Denouncing a flood of smut, filth and pornography that comes into the country under the name of literature, Mr. Greene called for a bill to regulate the entry of books and "so-called funny books."

PROBLEM FOR STATE

Mr. Greene said that the problem had developed so far it was no longer a case for parents, but one for the state. Charging that the Liberal party had done nothing, he re-stated the stand of the Progressive Conservatives and said they had "recognized this national threat for what it is."

"With red herrings like freedom of the press, definitions of what is obscene, and countless other unrelated statements they (the Liberals) managed to involve us in an issue of legal gymnastics until the initial idea was lost. That initial idea was to provide for the youngsters of Canada . . . decent, principle-building publications, or at least to spare them from the type of trash they have to accept now."

Eleanor Bowles of Peterborough was elected treasurer of the local organization. Executive secretary Mary Bowman of Toronto attended the meeting.

Car Strikes Bridge Man Fatally Hurt

CORNWALL (CP)—Milton Hassard, 50, of Hamilton was fatally injured Monday when the car in which he was a passenger hit a bridge 22 miles east of here. Hassard died in hospital from multiple injuries.

A brother, Clare Hassard of Sherbrooke, Que., and a brother-in-law, James Dingman, 45, of Hamilton, were injured and were taken to hospital here.

Police said Dingman was the driver of a westbound car, which hit the bridge while rounding a curve. The right hand side of the automobile was sheared off.

Admits Assault Man Fined $15

Irving McCue, 19, of the Curve Lake Indian Reserve, was fined $15 and $2.50 costs Monday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of common assault on Clayton McCue.

McCue pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault causing actual bodily harm which was reduced to one of common assault with consent of his counsel, Gordon H. T. Farquharson and Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC. The assault took place October 30, and McCue was remanded several times prior to Monday's hearing.

Charge Reduced Man Fined $75

Clarence Alley of Trent River was convicted in Magistrate's Court today on a charge of impaired driving. He was originally charged with drunk driving but insufficient evidence resulted in the lesser count. He was fined $75 and $16.75 costs.

The court action arose out of an accident April 7 on Highway 7 six miles east of Havelock. Alley and Norman Ingram of Toronto were involved.

Ingram was driving along the highway when Alley's truck came out from a sideroad and hit his vehicle. According to Ingram and PC William Rose who investigated, Alley staggered badly while his breath smelled of alcohol.

The accused claimed he had only three beers the afternoon prior to the accident which occurred at dusk.

On the basis of this evidence, Magistrate W. R. Philp reduced the charge to impaired driving and ordered payment of $91.75.

Soldier Killed

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Pte. John Joseph Forster, 20, of Sydney, N.S., was killed in a traffic accident Monday near Garlstorf, the Canadian 27th brigade announced today. Four other Canadian soldiers riding in Forster's jeep were uninjured.

Sees Television Way To Bring Peoples Closer

TORONTO (CP)—Canada must use television to bring her peoples closer together, J. Alphonse Ouimet, general manager of the CBC, said today.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Advertising and Sales Club of Toronto, he said Canadian TV will help Canadians learn more about each other, and is necessary because of the wide dispersal of the country's population.

Canadians wanted Canadian television as distinct from French, British and American television because their temperament is no longer typically French or British and far from being American

Mr. Ouimet said he is confident of the future of television in Canada because there is potential talent in the country. In fields such as drama, there were groups of Canadian actors who could hold their own against the best from outside.

GROWING INDUSTRY

The TV industry is Canada's fastest growing postwar industry, he said. It employed 10,000 workers producing sets and more than 20 firms were competing on the Canadian market. Last year, the industry sold 146,373 sets valued at $64,677,482. Estimates for 1953 put sales at 250,000 which would mean a $100,000,000 industry.

Mr. Ouimet said full national coverage on television "is one of the most difficult problems we have to face.

"Canada has such a small population to its tremendous size that it may take considerable time and effort before television is available to every small community in outlying areas."

AVAILABLE TO THIRD

By the end of May, when the Ottawa station goes on the air, Canadian TV service would be available to more than one-third of the population. The construction of private stations already approved should be under way in less than two years and should cover two-thirds of the population.

Further stations would be set up in other centres across the country, bringing coverage to "more than three-quarters of our population, three years only after the start of television in Canada."

Mr. Ouimet also predicted a bright future for advertising on TV.

"I think that within a few years you will see it grow from its present level of about $1,500,000 to some 20 times that amount," he said.

Bad Weather Grounds Planes In Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Gusty winds and grey skies grounded all but weather reconnaissance planes in Korea today. On the ground only a few patrols moved across no-man's-land as truce negotiators met for the third day at Panmunjom.

Observers said both the Allied and Communist armies appeared to be under wraps pending the outcome of the renewed armistice negotiations.

The biggest ground action Monday night occurred on the eastern end of the battle line when a South Korean raider patrol bumped into a North Korean patrol and reported killing 15 Reds. The 8th army reported 46 Communist casualties in light patrol skirmishes during the night and Tuesday morning.

Canadian Ballet Opens Week-Long Festival

OTTAWA (CP)—Five ballets by four dancing companies from across Canada Monday night opened the fifth annual ballet festival to the applause of a first-night audience that included Governor-General Vincent Massey.

The British Columbia ballet from Vancouver, the Willy Blok Hanson group from Toronto, the Elizabeth Leese ballet from Montreal and the Halifax Theatre ballet presented the first of a week-long program.

Mr. Massey officially opened the festival in a brief ceremony. The Festival Association president, Joseph A. Whitmore of Toronto, told the near-capacity audience that Canada is the only country in the world to have such a ballet festival.

The eight companies who will perform during the week—a mixture of amateur and professional dancers—will get no awards since the festival is non-competitive. Their dancing is judged only by the audiences and by critics from newspapers in New York, Toronto and Montreal as well as Ottawa. Monday night's performances were generally well-received.

PRESENT TWO WORKS

The B. C. company, led by choreographer and lead dancer Heino Heiden, presented two works—"Daphnis and Chloe," a Greek pastoral story, and excerpts from "Cinderella." Female leads were danced by Rosemary Deveson in the first ballet and Jacqueline Ivings in the second.

Writing for the Ottawa Journal, Richard Coates said he especially liked Mr. Heiden's "inventive choreography, the strong use of color and movement and the decor by the Vancouver artist Jack Shadbolt."

The Ottawa Citizen critic, Lauretta Thistle, praised the female dancers. She found Miss Deveson "capable of lovely line and extremely musical dancing," and Miss Ivings a young performer who shows great promise of being a fine lyrical dancer."

The Willy Blok Hanson group from Toronto presented the festival's only ballet with a French-Canadian theme—"Maria Chapedelaine," based on Louis Hemon's famous novel. Mrs. Hanson danced the leading role and the ballet has an original score by Canadian composer Calvin Jackson.

The Journal critics found the dancing of the whole company "particularly good and of a high level" and the music "strong, rhythmical and suggesting the folk quality of the story."

Montreal's Elizabeth Leese group presented "Lady From the Sea," based on the play by Ibsen with music by Canadian composer Saul Honigman.

The critics termed it "an extremely well-designed work." The Journal writer described choreographer-dancer Miss Leese as "a slim, competent dancer who is capable of expressing strong emotion in her movements and who is essentially an interpretive artist."

The atmosphere of the Halifax waterfront was conveyed by the Halifax Theatre ballet's "All the Nive Girls," directed by Hilda Stromberg. The story tells of two sailors on leave and the girls they meet at the corner of Sackville and Water streets.

"While the company is young in experience it has an enthusiastic and lively group of dancers who give this ballet interest and color," the Journal critic wrote.

Tonight's program brings the B. C. company back with two new ballets, "Pygmalion" and "The Atom." The Francoise Sullivan group of Montreal will present "Le Combat" and the Ottawa Classical ballet "Moonlight Sonata."

Douse Chimney Fire

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—Campbellford firemen were called to the home of Arthur Russell, in Seymour East, shortly after 4 p.m. Monday, where a chimney fire was threatening to ignite the roof of the farm home. The fire was extinguished and no damage resulted.

Special Course For Officers On A-Weapons

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany (AP) — Mankind's most terrible weapon became a classroom study today in this little Bavarian town where Christ's crucifixion is re-enacted each decade.

For the next four days, high officers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will learn about the atom bomb as men of war take over the town of the Man of Peace.

Major-Generals or the equivalent, who hold key commands in Allied forces, will be indoctrinated in the use of nuclear weapons.

It is the first of two courses to be given by U. S. Army, Air Force and Navy instructors to European defence chiefs.

30 OFFICERS TO ATTEND

The second will last 10 days and come 30 officers from army corps staffs and their opposite numbers in other services will attend.

A communique said that instruction would acquaint Allied officers with the use of atomic weapons in tactical situations, to permit them to consider "implications of atomic warfare in the defence of Western Europe."

Oberammergau, where the passion play portraying the life of Christ is presented every 10 years, has been the seat of the U. S. Army's chief intelligence school since the war.

Nestled in the Bavarian Alps, it provides the seclusion the army needs in training its agents.

Stole Car

COBOURG— (ENS)—Sherman Anderson of Toronto appeared in court Monday on a charge of stealing a car in Toronto on March 27, He was sentenced to one year in the reformatory. Anderson said he was on a liquor binge and recalled little of what he had done.

Atkinson Foundation Gives Cobourg Hospital $5,000

Cobourg General Hospital is one of four Ontario hospitals benefiting from grants totalling $29,133 from the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, it was announced today.

The grants, authorized for purchase of hospital equipment go to: Wingham General Hospital, $10,817; Haldimand War Memorial Hospital, Dunnville, $8,733; Cobourg General Hospital, $5,000; Louise Marshall Hospital, Mount Forest, $4,583.

The hospitals have a total capacity of 151 beds and serve more than 50,000 persons.

NEW X-RAY UNIT

At Cobourg, the grant will help purchase a $9,000 X-ray unit powerful enough to permit efficient diagnosis of chest and gastro-intestinal ailments. It will replace the present unit which is suitable for limb fractures but does not produce a sharp, clear picture when used on dense portions of the body. The X-ray department, headed by Dr. J. A. Boyd of Toronto, X-rayed 2,219 patients last year.

The 43-bed hospital was built in 1914 with generous financial aid from U.S. summer residents, a source of help no longer available.

The hospital serves 8,000 Cobourg residents and another 8,000 within a 15-mile radius. It is staffed by 12 doctors, 19 nurses and two nurses' aids and is supervised by Mrs. Laura Vigrass.

The 20-man board of directors, headed by A. C. Hodgetts, is braced for additional strain on facilities as completion of a federal ordnance plant in the area is expected to increase the population of Cobourg by several thousand.

Fined $100 For Liquor

COBOURG— (ENS) — Herman Nelson, of Grafton, who was found Saturday night in a taxi with a bottle of beer and a bottle of wine belonging to another man, was fined $100 or three months for illegal possession. Nelson took the liquor from the dwelling of Henry Herman north of Cobourg.

Where does the money go?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bank-book, and wondered: "Where does the money go?"

Each year we at Imperial add up the company's bills to see what happened to the money we received in the previous 12 months for the gasoline, fuel oil and other products we sell. Here's where each dollar of Imperial's 1952 income went:

54.32 cents — CRUDE OIL and other raw materials we bought, plus freight, took more than half of each dollar.

28.20 cents — OPERATING expenses took more than 28 cents. This was the cost of searching for and producing crude oil, and of manufacturing and marketing the hundreds of products we supplied for thousands of uses. Throughout the year high quality products were made available where and when you needed them.

10.00 cents — TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 10 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax, which—depending on where you live—took from 24 to 36 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

4.06 cents — DIVIDENDS paid to shareholders for use of plants and equipment amounted to 4.06 cents.

3.42 cents — TO REPLACE worn out equipment and to make sure that we can supply your needs in the future 3.42 cents was put back into the business.

FAST RELIEF OF PAIN

WITH HEAT THAT PENETRATES

InfraRUB—the amazing new greaseless analgesic cream that actually penetrates your skin in 12 seconds—relieves muscular soreness, nagging aches and pains with a speed and effectiveness never before possible!

Here is the InfraRUB secret! Scientists have known for years that a substance manufactured by the body is outstanding in the relief of pain. It acts quickly to open up or "dilate" tiny blood vessels in afflicted areas—provides deep warmth and relieves pain.

Now InfraRUB—and only InfraRUB—for the first time successfully combines this amazing pain-relieving substance with the remarkably penetrating Methyl Nicotinate. Methyl Nicotinate penetrates the skin in seconds—carries the pain-relieving substance deep down into areas afflicted by muscular strain, arthritis, neuralgia, rheumatism.

Remember—only InfraRUB contains this unique combination of pain-relieving substance and penetrant—so only InfraRUB can give you pain-relieving "heat that penetrates" for the fastest, surest relief possible!

Greaseless! Can't stain clothes!

Peaceful Co-Existence

Long ago the Prime Minister spoke of his belief that "peaceful co-existence" was possible between the Communist world and the western democracies. Canada has always looked towards this possibility, even at the time she was a leading proponent of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as a collective defensive measure. The prospect now is bright for a rational, businesslike acceptance of this concept—that there is room in the world for both the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A.; for both Communism and Capitalism or Communism and Socialism. The Soviet response to President Eisenhower's speech on world peace and disarmament contains this paragraph: "The Soviet Government will welcome any step of the American Government or any other government if it is directed at friendly settlement of difficult questions. This is evidence of the readiness of the Soviet side for serious business-like discussions of outstanding problems".

* * *

We think it is such evidence. The internal needs of Russia are very great and so also are her resources. The U.S.S.R. is an empire in itself, with imperial problems within its own borders. Russia does not need a war; indeed, it is likely that a war would be very bad for it. The U.S.A. is likewise a continental empire in itself. The U.S.A. does not need a war; it does not want a war. These two great countries can carry on their own separate existences and affairs without impinging rapaciously on the other. There are and will always be areas of overlapping self-interests and conflicting interests, but primarily both nations are big enough and resourceful enough to get along in their own and with their own. Their external affairs are small compared with their domestic affairs. Where there are external areas of conflict, there can also be rational settlement of them, without recourse to war. Peaceful co-existence is not only possible, it is desirable. Under such a peace smaller nations can find their own orbits touching and even concentric with the larger spheres, but not unbalancing their axes.

The Citizens' Band

At a cost of less than eight cents a head. Peterborough has had a good band. It gives Sunday band concerts during the summer. It plays at a wide variety of civic and public functions. It is always ready to parade its cheerful music and smart presence for occasions when Peterborough wishes to indulge in some pomp, ceremony or merry-making.

Despite its many uses and the pride Peterborough people have in their own band, the City Council through the Recreation Commission's budget reduced the annual grant to the band from $3,000 to $2,500—and this in Coronation Year when the band will be especially appreciated and much in demand. It is hardly a fitting recognition for services rendered and services expected.

The bandsmen themselves are not in pocket from their membership. They play for the pleasure they get in it and the service they can give, not for the money to be got from it. They are paid only if their public appearance takes pay time. Then the bandsmen affected receive an allowance to compensate for the hourly pay missed from their jobs.

We suggest that the Council and members of the Recreation Commission give some thought to restoring the grant to its usual size. Its budget is now very meagre. The band should be sufficiently secure in its finances to be able to carry on efficiently, and to have the means to recruit and equip new members from the excellent preparatory ground such as the PCVS school band provides. A cut in the grant this year has not been a happy indication of public support and appreciation. Less than seven cents a citizen—which is what the current grant works out to be—is a parsimonious expression of public favour.

U.S. Talks One Way, Acts Another

An inconsistency which exasperates allies of the United States to the point of protest is the manner in which it advocates or promises something in the field of economics, then proceeds to flout the advocacy or break the promise. An example of the former is President Eisenhower's pledge to work for "the highest possible level of (international) trade" and the Chief Joseph Dam contract. An example of the latter is the breaking of the Geneva tariff agreement on certain types of cheese.

In the latter case, the United States agreed to allow certain types of cheese to enter the country. This, of course, was a tariff agreement. Shortly afterward, a representative of one of the dairying States inserted an amendment in a Defence Department bill which had the effect of barring the importation of virtually all cheese. With the exception of an appeal by the Truman Administration to Congress, nothing has been done about this. Canada and other nations have protested.

In the former case, after President Eisenhower expressed the Administration's devotion to the principle of "a strong and self-supporting economic system" in the free world, the Defence Department considered tenders for equipment for the Chief Joseph Dam in the State of Washington. The equipment was expected to cost six or seven million dollars. A British company offered a price nearly a million dollars lower than its nearest competitor (an American concern), not counting an additional $681,000 that the U.S. Government would have collected in import duties on the British equipment. The British bid was turned down.

While a breach of agreement may be seriously questioned, no one can question the right of the U.S. Government to pay $1,000,000 more than it need for equipment, while at the same time passing up almost $700,000 it could gain. But it would look a little better if the incident had not followed so soon after high-sounding pledges to work for international trade.

Good Government

"More honesty, disinterestedness and devotion are to be found per square inch in government administration here than in any large private organization", the American expert said. A great many nice things are being said about Canada these days but this is not one of them. Mr. Paul H. Appleby, American consultant on public administration, was speaking of the government of India, which he had been surveying under the auspices of the Ford Foundation.

Some other phrases in his report make it perfectly plain that he could not have been referring to Canadian government; "too much attention is paid to frugality and false economy."

It is very high praise for the government of any country, particularly of a new country, which until very recent years, was carried out largely by British senior officials and British civil servants even in its middle echelons. Can there be any doubt that the tradition of honesty and efficiency of the (British) Indian Civil Service provided the basis for this high reputation? India, the consultant said, is one of the twelve best-administered countries in the world, and honesty has been carried to the highest level. One criticism strikes us as being very just: the administrative personnel are too academic and intellectual in outlook, and too little trained and adapted for administrative action and for handling human relations. Our observation has been that educated Indians tend to be mentally agile, their logic to be like clockwork—with a rather frightening tick—and they make a science of even parlour jokes.

We are glad to read about the good Mr. Appleby's good survey at a time when a couple of other Americans were also making a survey: Messrs. Schine and Cohn, snoopers in Europe for Senator Joe McCarthy.

Arbitration Removes Threat Of Strike

Canadians will be relieved that the binding decision of an arbiter in a dispute between the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the railway companies has removed any possibility of a strike over the issue. Incidentally, the judge who was the arbiter (Mr. Justice Kellock) found in favour of the union. His decision is one proof that arbiters are not sitting ducks for management, and that they are really impartial, weighing each case on its merits. Too often, especially as regards three-man conciliation boards, the third man, the neutral appointed by government labour offices and usually a judge, is thought by union officials to be predisposed to management and antagonistic towards labour. Why should he be prejudiced? His entire reputation rests on his record for impartial judgement. He has nothing to gain except discredit if he abandons his wits and balance to prejudice.

The New Mood Inside Russia

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

WHILE all the world is straining to read the signs from Moscow, it is worth asking what the people on the inside — the Russian people themselves — make of the new mood in the Kremlin. The Russians are well-trained in understanding cryptic signs. For many years all those who have taken an active interest in the affairs of the world have had to get their news from reading between the lines; and we may take it as certain that the Soviet Government knows just how to convey to them what it wants to convey, and without superfluous words.

What is now being conveyed, in brief, is the strongest optimism in domestic affairs, together with a new cautious and qualified optimism about the international situation.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE SERIES of remarkable gestures towards the West is unlikely to have struck the Russian people with the direct impact with which it has struck the outside world. The outside world is watching the Soviet Foreign Office and does not follow with the same interest Soviet internal developments. But for the Russian, foreign policy plays only a small part in his government's activities. Malenkov's attitude, for example, to compulsory grain deliveries affects millions of Russians far more directly than his attitude to the Korean war. Further, whereas we in the outside world isolate critical phrases and actions and put them into the headlines, in the Soviet Union these same words and phrases are embedded in vast structures of familiar propaganda.

BUT IF the impact of the Kremlin's change of mood is less direct inside the Soviet Union than outside, its general purport seems to be far clearer in Moscow than it is yet in London or Washington.

Enough has been printed in the Soviet Press to make it perfectly plain to the Soviet reader that something radical is in the wind. He has not been told directly what it is. There have been no discussions of Soviet hopes and American intentions. Propaganda continues for the Soviet way of life and against the capitalist way of life; there are still warnings about spies and saboteurs; the West is still shown to be going down while the Soviet Union goes up; the liberation struggles in Asia and Africa are glorified; atrocity stories about the American Army are still broadcast to the Soviet Army; and so on. But the attentive reader cannot fail to observe that all this has notably diminished in extent and intensity. And although life goes on very much as before, with the same blend of official nagging and boasting, there is a new light in the pages of Pravda.

✧ ✧ ✧

APPARENTLY TRIVIAL events take on immense significance. Thus the fact that Pravda printed a report of President Eisenhower's appeal for peace the day after he made it and followed up with a report of Mr. Churchill's support of it no less promptly, must have struck home very deeply indeed. Both Eisenhower and Churchill have been consistently held up to the Russian people as the active and evil instigators of a new war, in defiance of the ordinary people of America and Britain. Suddenly they are presented as men who, in their own way, are also seeking peace. And to underline the importance of this case their words were reported immediately with unprecedented speed.

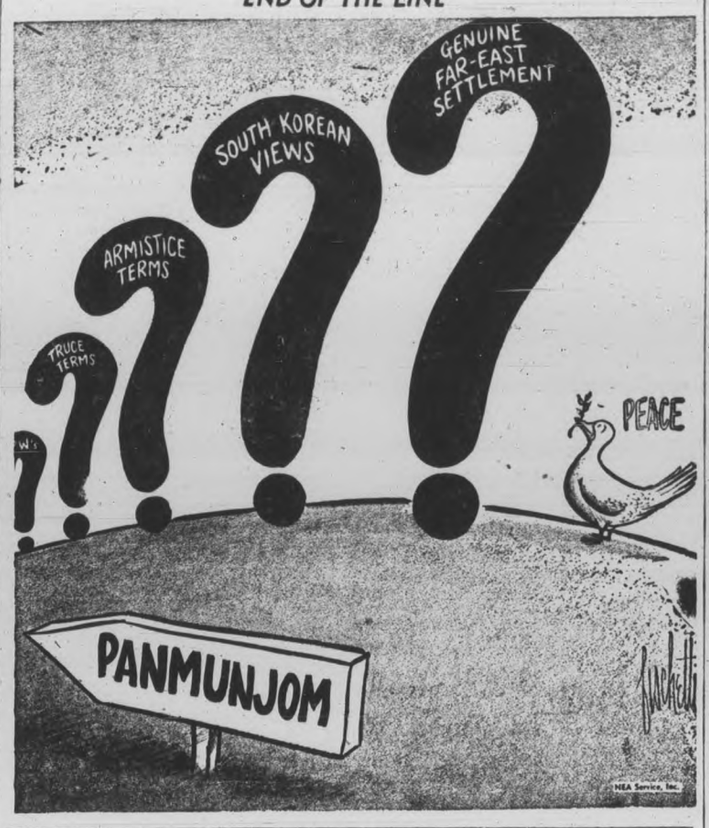
✧ ✧ ✧

THIS ALONE tells the sophisticated Russian beyond all doubting that Malenkov hopes to do a deal with Eisenhower and Churchill. It tells the unsophisticated Russian that there is a new hope for peace — even the warmongers Eisenhower and Churchill have been forced by the weight of decent public opinion to change their tune. It tells all Russia, and the world as well, if it cares to listen, that the Kremlin sees a chance for a peaceful settlement by negotiation. What kind of a settlement nobody, of course, knows.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER SIGN for the sophisticated is the progressive deterioration in the position of Mr. Vyshinsky. At the time of Stalin's death Vyshinsky was Foreign Minister of the U.S.S.R., and newly-elected candidate member of the Presidium of the Communist Party. From being Foreign Minister he first descended to being one of two first deputies, the other being Mr. Malik. Now, with the elevation of Mr. Gromyko, Vyshinsky in his job at Lake Success is simply one of a trio working under Molotov. In Russian eyes Vyshinsky stands, and with good cause, for all that is worst in the old regime.

✧ ✧ ✧



THE TREATMENT of the Korean developments tells the same story. Although Pravda still speaks of elements working to prolong the war, it has spread the impression that both sides have realized that it is in their own interest to conclude an armistice as soon as possible. This is another example of the new emphasis on the responsible nature of Western statesmen who only yesterday were held up as the worst kind of lunatic aggressors.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT although it must now be clear to everybody in Russia that there is very real hope of easing the cold war and avoiding total war, this has so far been stated only by implication. The Soviet Press does not for a moment let the Russians forget that the Soviet system is good and the capitalist bad. It is worth noting, too, that, apart from certain oblique references in Malenkov's inaugural speech, no Soviet leader has yet committed himself about a new era in international affairs. Here there is a very marked contrast between the downright statements about home affairs—e.g., the "doctor poisoners," the exposure of the old Ministries of State Security, the suspension of the anti-Jewish campaign, the amnesties and the reversal of the purge in Georgia. Here the Kremlin has spoken unequivocally. It has said that certain things in the past were bad —things incidentally very closely associated with Stalin — and are going to stop. The Russian reaction is to seize immediate advantage and hope for the best in the future — a hope weighted with habitual scepticism. But here again the government, whether sincerely or not, has announced in fact its intention of starting a clean sheet, and the very fact that it has considered this desirable, will strengthen the idea that it may seriously believe in the possibility of reaching an accommodation with the Western Powers. I think it is safe to say that the popular outlook in the Soviet Union, encouraged discreetly by the Kremlin, has undergone a genuine revolution during the past six weeks. And this fact in itself shows that the new regime seriously means business.

Upstart Cricket

By ROBERT MILLER

ONE of the minor curiosities about this year's Budget is Mr. Butler's decision to do away with the entertainments tax on cricket matches. "In this country," Mr. Butler said, "cricket occupies a special place among sports." It seems to me an odd argument. To begin with, cricket has never been particularly popular in Scotland: golf is the national game in those parts. Much the same can be said of Wales and Northern Ireland where cricket is in about the same precarious position as it is, say, in Canada.

Mr. Butler is not even sound historically. The British were playing football centuries before cricket was ever heard of. True, it was not the game that we know now; it usually took the form of a rough-and-tumble through the streets of some small town or village. But the point is that football is perhaps the only survival from the past: cricket is almost an innovation by comparison.

Why, then, does Mr. Butler talk about its "special place"? The answer is that cricket, unlike football, has both a literature and a mystique. No one in England has ever written a memorable line about football: so many favourite poets and authors have written about cricket that it has been possible to get together anthologies on the subject. Even James Joyce has a haunting passage on the game. The curious will find it in what I think was his masterpiece: "Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man."

THESE THOUGHTS come particularly to one's mind at the moment because the Australian Test Team has just arrived in England. One cannot help feeling sorry for these sunburnt young men who have landed at the beginning of a tetchy English spring when rain perpetually chases after sun and snow never seems far away. These humane thoughts are quite unworthy. In cricket the British and Australians are ancient enemies and in the coming series of five matches no quarter will be given. All-in- wrestling seems gentlemanly by comparison.

Having nothing better to do the other day, I went along to Lords to watch the appearance of these gods from the other side of the world. The cognoscenti were there in force and there were many learned conversations on the strengths and weaknesses of the players. Not being able to maintain such a high intellectual standard, I strolled across the desolate ground of this famous place and went into the pavilion. And there, wandering about the empty rooms, I remembered a story told by Mr. Neville Cardus (English writer on cricket and music) in one of his books. To me it explains a great deal about the mystique of cricket. A day or two before the outbreak of the last war Cardus found himself in the famous long room at Lords with a fellow member. Etiquette is very strict in these exalted circles: they naturally did not speak to one another. Presently a workman entered and removed the portrait of W. G. Grace. "You see that?" Cardus's companion said, breaking down under the stress of an intolerable emotion. "That means war."

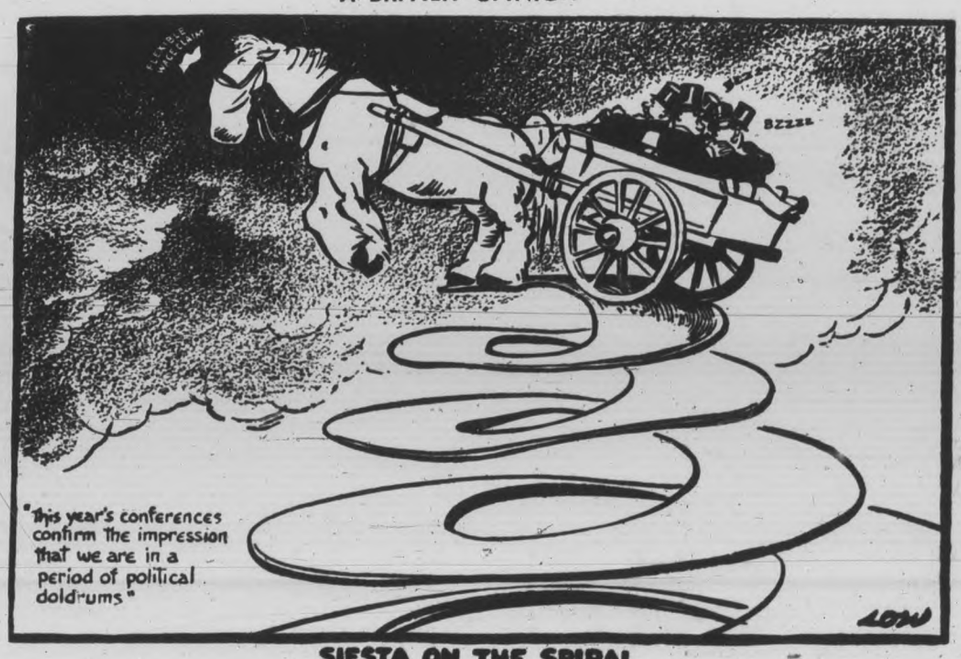
High Overseas Air Mail Rates

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

IN making a renewed request to the Post Office department for an expanded overseas air service, the Canadian Exporters Association has raised questions that have been going without a satisfactory answer for some time. The Association asks for an air parcel post from Canada to other countries; a trans-Atlantic air rate for second-class matter, including price lists, technical information and bills of lading; and a reduction in the present trans-Atlantic air mail rate.

As the Association remarks, Canada is lagging behind many other countries in the matter of both air parcel post and second-class mail service. The result is to place a certain handicap on Canadian firms trying to develop markets abroad, for they are placed at a disadvantage with competitors who enjoy the benefits of a cheaper air mail service. When an exporter is introducing a new product into South America, for example, his mailing expenses run to a substantial figure.

The Post Office has taken the position that high transportation charges stand in the way of cheaper overseas air mail rates and of an extended service. But it is understood that the department pays Trans-Canada Air Lines $4.83 per pound for the carriage of trans-Atlantic mail. At 80 letter to the pound—even after making a liberal deduction of four cents per letter for handling—the Post Office appears to derive a revenue of about $8.80 per pound. There should therefore be room for a reduction in rates.



It is true that the postal services of many other countries are subsidized in some degree. Canada's Post Office pays its own way. For this it deserves full marks, but there seems no just reason why, in effect, overseas mail should be allowed to subsidize domestic services. Canadian exporters seem warranted in making their complaint. They are not asking for favours, but for simple equity.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Why do the neathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? (Ps. 2:1.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Thus said the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain? . . . Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit . . . For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. (Jer. 2:5, 11, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods? (Jer. 16:20.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars . . I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings . . .

O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters. (Jer. 17:1, 10, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart. (Eph. 4:17, 18.)

Letter To The Editor

TAKE TIME ON REVISION

Sir: With reference to your editorial of Friday, April 24, I heartily agree with the idea that Parliament should take ample time in dealing with the revision of the Criminal Code.

The Communist is not the only group which was dissatisfied with the draft in its original form.

Rushing this measure through, possibly, was not wholly prompted by the jeers of the communist.

The rabid anti-communist is equally as undesirable as the rabid communist, (it would seem we have some of this type of "anti" in our Parliament), since both are inclined to lump all opposition into one basket and are much given to intimidation in order to gain their point.

If in the course of their deliberations, our government comes down with a really democratic measure, I would say that the communist will be most disappointed, as it will deny him the chance to set up the martyrs which are his stock-in-trade.

By all means let Parliament take plenty of time in this case, in order to bring down a measure which will be specific and just and at the same time not harsh.

Yours truly,
EDMUND S. HUMPHREY.

Protest Policy For Training New Teachers

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Teachers' Federation in a resolution passed by the board of governors Monday protested the education department's new policy for training teachers.

The policy permits grade 12 graduates to take a two-year course at teachers' college while continuing to allow grade 13 graduates to take the one-year course. Graduates of both courses receive the same certificate after teaching successfully for two years.

The federation, representing 27,000 teachers in Ontario, said it "viewed with alarm" the deterioration of the standard of requirements for the certificate and urged that since the qualifications are different the certificate should be different.

LIMIT CERTIFICATES

The statement said a first-class certificate should be given only to those who had reached university entrance standard.

"Otherwise" the statement added, "students with full Grade 13 standing will not wish to enter a profession where their superior academic qualifications are not recognized and entrants to the profession will come more and more from the ranks of those who are unable or unwilling to obtain Grade 13 standing."

The resolution said a teacher whose academic quailfications are insufficient for entrance to the three-year pass arts course of a university should not be considered eligible for a first-class certificate, but shoud be designated by some other title.

Irish 'Rebel' Dies

DUBLIN (AP) — Maud Gonne MacBride, mother of a former Irish foreign minister, Sean MacBride, died at her home here Monday. She was 88. A fighter for Irish independence in her own right, she was the widow of Major John MacBride who was executed by a British firing squad for his part in the famous 1916 Easter Week rebellion. In her long life she had been actress, patriot — and a raving beauty.

Manning Plans To Head Back To Arctic Area

OTTAWA (CP) — One of the North's most famous figures, 41-year-old Tom Manning, heads back to the Arctic next Sunday to pick up where he left off last fall when an early freeze-up caught him hundreds of miles from nowhere.

Manning and an English companion, Capt. Ian Sparrow of the Royal Engineers, will be flown to Sachs Harbor on the south coast of Banks Island—the most westerly island of the Arctic archipelago.

Then they will hike north some 200 miles across the island to the canoe which Manning left late last fall.

Manning, rated by northern experts in Ottawa as the greatest present-day Arctic traveller, is making the trip for the defence research board.

Last summer he and a 19-year-old Ottawa College student, Andrew MacPherson, cruised by canoe around the west half of the island before winter caught up with them and forced them to travel hundreds of miles on foot and by Eskimo boat to reach the mainland.

This summer Manning and Capt. Sparrow hope to cover the east half of the island 1,300 miles north of Edmonton. Their canoe will allow them to search for possible harbor sites that can be used for small boats carrying future Arctic study groups.

But first they will tramp across the island, pulling a sled since the snow won't be gone until about the beginning of June. The snow will fly again about the time they intend to leave at the beginning of October.

In the interior of Banks Island they expect to add to information now available on the terrain and increase the already huge amount of knowledge of Arctic geology, plant and animal life which Manning has amassed since he arrived in Canada from his native England in 1933.

ARCTIC NEW TO HIM

Capt. Sparrow has never before been in Canada or Canada's Arctic, although he has had experience in northern Norway.

Manning, born in Northampton, England, has a record of Arctic travel almost unmatched among white men. He was on Southampton Island from 1933 to 1935, came out for a year and then returned for a five-year stint from 1936 to 1941, during which time he married an English-born girl on Baffin Island. He has returned to the Arctic several times since the end of the war.

GRANT'S SPORT CORNER

By DON GRANT

Today's column is something like my baseball days, just a little hit and miss.

First a little about people.

Pint-sized Ike Hildebrand is back in town after a very successful season with Cleveland in the American Hockey League. He's raring to go after another championship, once again the Mann Cup, with the Peterborough Trailers.

It's needless to say that Ike was one of Jim Hendy's mainstays for the Barons throughout the season and in the finals against the Pittsburgh Hornets. He's definitely NHL material.

Now for a former Peterborough youth, Ray (Red) Thomas. City cage fans have been following Red's path as he works his way around Toronto in basketball circles. But this year he reached the peak of his playing career, starring with Paul Thomas' Toronto Tribells, Canadian senior basketball champions.

During the pre-playdowns exhibition games Red was rather slow working into form. He soon proved his worth and also proved that he was an equal with teammates, Ray Monnot, Glen Pettinger, Fred Thomas (remember that fellow in high school ball a few years ago) and Sharpy Litvak, some of Canada's best cagers.

High school sports are losing an ardent worker in June when Kenner Collegiate's Jack Cullis leaves for Hamilton's Delta Collegiate. Around PCVS Jack helped coach basketball and this year has been organizing the sports program for Kenner.

Along with Norm Erskine and Gord Johnston, Jack has given Kenner a good foundation for the school's future in basketball. He's also worked hard at inter-mural activities, taking in soccer and track and field, with all students participating.

It's a case of Kenner's loss, Delta's gain. Good luck Jack.

Now a little lacrosse.

How are the seniors shaping up? That's a question a number of lacrosse supporters are asking. Coach Bob Thorpe comes back with a hearty "pretty good."

All the "ohing" coming out of the YMCA during the past week comes from the boys who are drilling under the eyes of Mick Magee and Fraser Wade, Y physical director. Miller Bowl's still muddy, but Thorpe hopes to end inside workouts this week and start whipping the ball around down there.

Thorpe said the club will stick with last year's championship lineup. There's no imports unless big Merv McKenzie, recently appointed Ontario athletic commissioner decides to some here.

Don Ashbee will be reporting this weekend after a few days holidays with his in-laws. Jerry Fitzgerald and Harry Wipper will be in early in May, possibly next week.

Bob did a little spying over the weekend when he took in the Brampton-Toronto West Yorks exhibition in Orillia (incidentally Toronto won 22-18). His views were: (1) the game was only an exhibition and the boys didn't mix it up; (2) West Yorks have a pretty good club, but "we have one better."

The Yorkers are also sticking pretty close to last year's players, adding a few Orillia lads. One of these is Bobbie Burrell, the blond-haired player who amazed fans here several years ago with his speed. Coach Thorpe reports that Burrell is still doubtful; he may play with Alliston intermediates.

How about a dip? Don't worry it's in the Y pool.

Swimming, the competitive variety, has been yielding poor dividends for the city during the past year. But on weekend Gord Minty's lads started coming back into their own.

Competing in the Hamilton Aquatic Club's spring carnival Gord's swimmers did fairly well. David Ross picked up a second in the 100-yard back stroke and fifth in the 100-yard free style, both for boys under 14. Wayne Ash was third in a heat in the 50-yard free style for boys under 12 and Dave Pryde was fifth in the 100-yard back stroke for junior men.

Gord assures us that things will be much better next season. He'll be working the boys, David Ross, Wilton Tranter, Terry Northrop and Brian Bell, to mention a few, along the titular trail.

Gord's abilities for developing champions has been proved in the feats of Al Marshall and Bill Lech, both Canadian champions.

TROPHIES, TROPHIES, TROPHIES — The Peterborough Boys' Work Board completed its largest undertaking since its re-organization Monday night when teams of the church peewee and midget hockey teams were banqueted at George St. United Church. Knox United Church peewees took most of the honors, winning the trophy for the most outstanding team, held by team captain Donald Dunn (right) and the trophy for the peewee section, held by assistant captain David Drummond (left). Paul Parnell (centre), captain of the Grace United Church midgets, accepted the midget trophy. Later this week there will be another banquet for the bantam teams.

Puck Trophies Presented Church Victors

Knox United Church peewee hockey team were the winners of two trophies at the Boys' Work Board hockey banquet Monday night. Don Dunn, team captain recieved the pee-wee division cup and the trophy for the most outstanding team in the Church Hockey League.

Ateended by 200 boys, team coaches and officers of the Boys' Work Board, the banquet was held at George Street United Church.

In recognition of their services during the hockey season, referees Ed Woodstock, Bill Post and Jack Hawthorne were presented with sports jackets. The presentations were made by Merv. Williamson, vice-president of the board.

MIDGET VICTORS

Grace United Church midget team won the trophy for their division. P. Parnell, captain, received the award from E. Bell, chairman of the hockey league program.

Presentation of the pee-wee trophy to Captain Don Dunn was made by Stu Saunders, and Doug Vaisey presented him with the Knox Trophy.

John Hunter, chairman of the Boys' Work Board, commended the players for their interest and participation in the league games.

Mr. E. Ingalls, Peterborough Film Council, assisted in the entertainment program by showing films.

Trojans Capture Crown Over Aces In Overtime

The YMCA floor hockey championship wasn't decided Monday night until the teams battled into two periods of overtime play. Then Sheehan gave Mick Magee's Trojans the championship when he scored on a passout from Jim Heffernan, behind the net, at the 3:46-minute mark of the second overtime period. That goal gave the Trojans the title with an 8-7 victory over the Aces. The game was the final of a best of three series and the Trojans had to come from behind after losing the first game last Wednesday.

For a while during the first period Monday night, it looked as though Trojans would run away with the third game. In a free-scoring period they came from behind a 3-1 score to take the lead 5-3 at the end.

THEY RALLIED

Facing defeat, the Aces, paced by Stew Brooks, Pat Belsey and Johnny Longo, rallied in the second period. They stopped the Trojan's scoring attack and then proceeded to tie the game at five-all on goals by Brooks and Belsey.

Close-checking and excellent goal-tending by both teams during the third period kept both clubs off the score sheet and the game ended at regulation time still tied at five-all.

The teams agreed to play an eight-minute overtime period to settle the issue. Rowley put Trojans up early in the period only to have Seabrook tie the game again two minutes later. For a second time, the Trojans went ahead, only 13 seconds after Seabrooke's goal. But in less than two minutes the game was tied again as Mongraw scored.

GOES OVERTIME

With the game still tied, this time seven-all, at the end of that extra period, the teams agreed to play sudden-death, the first goal ending the game. Sheehan did the trick in three minutes.

The winter season which has seen floor hockey, city and house league basketball for the YMCA, will end tonight with a banquet at the "Y" auditorium at 6:30 p.m. Trophies will then be presented to the team winners, Trojans' in floor hockey, Oilmen in city basketball, and Trojans in house basketball.

Practises Starting For The PMLA Boys

Minor lacrosse begins activity for the season tonight. The bantams, under Walter Firth, hold workouts this evening and Thursday at 6.30, open to all boys of bantam age. Wednesday and Friday nights, the midgets drill under Mac VanAllen. The juveniles also go this evening at 6.30 under John Parry, all being open practises.

These workouts are for the purpose of getting the boys in shape for the season, and also to give the group conveners an opportunity of obtaining their names to lineup league competition. It is hoped that all boys interested in any of these age groups, as well as newcomers, will attend the workouts. Information may be had by phoning Roy Renwick at home 6307 or at the office 4623.

PEREZ TRIMS GONZALES

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP)—Young Lulu Perez of Brooklyn made a bold bid for the big time Monday night when he came from far behind to floor Corky Gonzales twice and score a unanimous 10-round decision over the sixth-ranking featherweight from Denver at the Eastern Parkway Arena. Perez weighed 126½ to 129 for Gonzales.

Tourney Plans Progress For Golf Competition At Kawartha On Aug. 1-2-3

Plans are progressing for the big Kawartha Golf Tournament to be held at the Kawartha Club links on Aug. 1-2-3. Though a cold, drizzly April night seems a far cry from brilliant, warm sunshine on a golf course in early August, last night's committee meeting was a necessary step toward the eighth annual competition which draws top-flight players from all over Ontario to this city. With Chairman Lionel Browne presiding, sub-committee reports were received from Gordon White, Steve Csumrik, Lex Robson, Alex MacGregor, John McIntyre and others. All expressed progress since the initial meeting, and the various members were given instructions for the next few weeks' planning work.

VALUE OF $2,500

Prizes to the value of $2,500, besides four trophies, will bring the best golfers into the three-day August tournament here. It is limited to 250 entries, playing 54 holes, medal play, 18 holes a day. The last date for entries is July 25, and meantime all clubs in the province, and several in Quebec, will be sent entry forms with all details. Entertainment will be supplied the ladies and men, also, and the public is invited to the tourney.

The breakdown in prizes is: First flight—1st gross, $150; 2nd, $150; 3rd, $125; 4th, $75; 5th, $50; and 6th, $25; second flight in that order—$125, $100, $75, $45, $30 and $20; third flight—1st, $50; 2nd, $30; and 3rd, $20. In the first flight, 1st net, it's $75, followed by $50, $40, $30, $20 and $10; second flight net, it will be: $75, $50, $40, $30, $20 and $10; third—$35, $20 and $15.

OTHER PRIZES

Day prizes each day are: First flight, $100; second flight, $60; and third flight, $20. Team prizes, first and second, are $150 and $75. The Dawn Patrol has 10 prizes of $60, while the Sunset Serenaders have six prizes of $36. There are trophies for these, as well as the Calvert Cup, and the team competition cup.

The Ornamental Swimming Club has offered to take part in the entertainment end of the three-day affair by staging their aquatic specialties in the club pool Monday evening, and this offer may be accepted by the committee. Various other entertainment projects are being considered to help make the tournament not only a competition of high calibre, as it has been in the past, but also a gala Peterborough event at the Kawartha Golf Club.

Red Kelly Of Wings Wins Byng Trophy

MONTREAL (CP)—For the second time in three years Red Kelly of Detroit Red Wings has won the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy, the National Hockey League announced Monday night. Kelly received 80 of a possible 90 points in the balloting by 18 hockey writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities.

The trophy is awarded annually to "the player adjudged to have exhibited the best type of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct combined with a high standard of playing ability during the season."

Runner-up was Wally Hergesheimer, sophomore right-winger of New York Rangers, with 49 points. Sid Smith of Toronto Maple Leafs, winner last year, was third with eight points.

GORDON TOPS SCORERS

NEW YORK (CP)—Jackie Gordon, veteran centre for the American Hockey League champion Cleveland Barons, was the leading scorer of the post-season Calder Cup playoffs.

Statistics released by the AHL show that Gordon got four goals and seven assists in the 11 games the Barons played.

Danny Lewicki of runner-up Pittsburgh Hornets was second with six goals and four assists for 10 points in 10 games, followed by teammates Bob Solinger with four goals and five assists and Willy Marshall with one goal and eight assists.

Softball Loop For Girls Re-organizing

The annual reorganization meeting of the Peterborough Girls' Softball League will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) evening at 8:30 o'clock in the YMCA. The session has been called by league president Bill Flint, who urges all interested to attend. It is a wide-open meeting to receive reports on last year's activities, discuss plans for the 1953 campaign, and to elect officers for the year.

It is thought likely that the circuit again will be open to city and district teams, with games being held two or three nights a week in double-headers at the East City Bowl. The men's loop has two nights there, Tuesday and Thursday, each week, and the Civic Loop may apply for two nights on the same diamond each week this summer. The Girls' League has been affiliated with the PWSU in the past, but the local winners had trouble with the provincial body last fall and there was some talk here of dropping out of the Union.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

The afternoon of Saturday, May 2, will be the occasion of the seventy-ninth running of the Kentucky Derby, at Churchill Downs, Louisville. Scores of thousands of out-of-town novelty seekers will be present. Perhaps local and visiting attendance will lift the total to more than 100,000. And it's all about a race that doesn't seem to deserve the attention, publicity and money lavished upon it.

For the Derby isn't a derby, to begin with—not in the requirements of distance, for example. Of course, in America, the term "derby" has come to be used very loosely, and very frequently. All sorts of tracks have a "derby" annually. But few, if any, parallel the daddy of all derbies, the Epsom Downs race, in the matter of distance.

This Kentucky Derby, run annually on the first Saturday of May furnishes the first test of three-year-olds over the distance of one and one-quarter miles. This is one-fourth of a mile short of the regular Derby distance as established by the English classic run at Epsom Downs, from which the name "derby" is derived. The English race is at a mile and a half, and is raced in early June.

The Kentucky race occurs almost too early for eligible females of this age to compete on equal terms with colts. And it is too early to condition even the males of the species for a 10-furlong struggle.

You may think that transportation difficulties are annoying now. But back in 1875, the year the Derby was first run as a modest little race, the sporting folks of the era who attended really had grief. The "Louisville Jockey Club race-track" since labeled Churchill Downs, was so far from the city that horse-drawn street cars required two hours to make the trip. Many of the customers started to walk the distance early in the morning. Others went in wagons, buggies and on horseback. Attending the Derby in the seventies and eighties was a journey, not a trip.

Arrangements for the race were primitive. There was, of course, nothing like a starting gate. Even the web barrier of 40 years ago was unknown. The starter drew a line in the dirt across the track with the butt of the flag he used to start the field and then lined up the candidates well behind it. A walk-up start was the system.

When "Col. Johnson of Nashville", the starter for the first of all Kentucky Derbies, got his field in alignment he flashed down his flag. A drum sounded the official start and the field was off.

There were many other differences between the races of those early days, and now. It has gained in importance, in glamour, in attendance, and in speculative interest, so who are we to point out minor technical shortcomings of the continent's No. 1 glamour race?

BIG LEAGUE BALL CHASE

TORONTO (CP) — Millionaire Jack Kent Cooke says he's using the squeeze play to get big league baseball in Toronto. It has left the fans trying to figure out who's on third.

Cooke said Sunday night he had been trying for three months to buy the St. Louis Browns' franchise and move a major league team into Maple Leaf Stadium. Things looked pretty bright, he said.

However, Cooke admitted Monday that he was starting a squeeze play on the Toronto harbor commission and the city over a decision on disposition of the stadium. The commission operates the city-owned park.

His latest statement came after owner Bill Veeck of the Browns virtually threw him out by saying the American League club was not for sale and that Cooke hadn't even made an offer.

Cooke, president of Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, then admitted:

"I was trying to force the harbor commission to either sell the stadium to me or to increase the seating caacity to 30,000 or 32,000 so that I can bring big league ball to Toronto."

The stadium now has a capacity of about 20,000 including standing room.

Cooke, who owns a radio station and has some magazine interests, gave no details of his negotiations beyond saying that he had been talking with Bill DeWitt, vice-president of the Browns.

DeWitt said from St. Louis that Cooke had inquired about the sale of the Browns and possible movement to Toronto on several occasions. But, he added:

"I told him that the Browns were not for sale and that until Toronto had a park of major league standard, it would never get a big league team."

Cooke said he is willing to buy the ball park, which is on Fleet street and a home-run smash from Lake Ontario, rather than invest about $1,000,000 to add 10,000 seats.

ELGINS' CASANOVA BACK

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Bruno Casanova of Windsor, second baseman for St. Thomas Elgins in the Intercounty Senior Baseball League last season, is back to try to win a berth on the club this year. Elgin manager Bob Benish also brought in Johnny Morris of New York, a prospect for shortstop, and Ray Bowers, a lefthanded pitcher from Sebring, O.

SEEK TO JOIN IHL

DETROIT (AP)—Tentative applications for membership in the International Hockey League were filed at the IHL's annual meeting here Monday by Louisville, Ky., and Marion, O., interests.

No action was taken on either application, ending a financial investigation. A final decision, directors said, may be reached at a meeting in Grand Raids, Mich., June 4.

Secretary-treasurer Fred Huber said the Grand Rapids, Cincinnati, Troy, O., Toledo, Milwaukee and Fort Wayne clubs reported they were ready to go again.

URGE PLAYOFF COMMITTEE

CALGARY (CP)—The Alberta Amateur Hockey Association will recommend the setting up of a committee to decide on all matters pertaining to junior and senior playoff games in Canada, it was learned Monday. The recommendation will be put forward at the May meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in Niagara Falls, Ont. The decision was made Saturday at an AAHA meeting.

Brazil And Flanagan Make Bid For Canadian Tag Team Title

Bobo Brazil's ko-ko bumps and Pat Flanagan's drop kicks and mule kicks will be jointly directed at the persons of Dick Raines and Lou Plummer in the tag team wrestling feature at the Brock Arena here on Wednesday night.

The Texas twosome of Raines and Plummer will be defending their Canadian Open team championship and Calvert Trophy against the Brazil-Flanagan challenge, which looks to be one of the most dangerous the swashbuckling ranch-hands have met to date.

Brazil's choice of Flanagan as a partner was a smart one and he will get plenty of support from Flan which was not the case with Hermann last week.

Man Mountain Dean Jr., the 350-pound bearded giant, will oppose Steve "Mr. America" Stanlee in the semi-final.

Bill Stack of Oshawa will wrestle Firpo Szybsko of Poland in the first bout.

It is a sparkling card, especially the main bout, and will undoubtedly draw another large crowd of mat devotees.

DO YOU OWN A CAR?

If you own a car, we would like to tell you about a discovery.

About five years ago, the Manager of Bardahl Manufacturing Corporation had been driving a '39 model car. Noticing a leak in the radiator he took the car to a garage for repairs. At the time the Bardahl Manager had been working on a rust preventative for the cooling system. When he received his car back, he put some of this into his radiator. After driving the car for several weeks he noticed the radiator still leaked. Returning the car to the garage he reported the trouble. Later that day the garage operator phoned to ask Mr. Tennant what on earth he had put in the radiator. The garage owner went on to explain that when he drained the radiator the water was so thick with dirt it would hardly pour. The rust preventative prepared by Mr. Tennant had removed rust, scale and dirt untouched by the popular brand of chemical cleaner used by the garage owner.

The garage owner immediately placed an order for their own use. Since then hundreds of thousands of motorists across Canada and the United States have tried this Bardahl Rad Conditioner.

If you own a car you should try it, for if your car is old you'll be positively amazed at the dirt, rust and scale it will remove; if your car is new, Bardahl will keep the radiator in new, tip-top condition.

Bardahl keeps radiators clean . . . eliminates rust formation which can insulate a motor causing harmful overheating, and it also lubricates and stops squeaky water pumps. And when you think most of us spend about $25.00 every year washing our cars and yet neglect a more important part of the car—that is, the radiator—well, it's really worth it to buy a can of Bardahl Rad Conditioner at 80c.

Barrie Flyers Hit Stride Down St. Boniface 6-4 In First Of Series

By AL VICKERY

WINNIPEG (CP)—Barrie Flyers played 20 minutes of solid hockey Monday night and it was enough to give them a 6-4 victory over St. Boniface Canadiens in the first game of their best-of-seven Memorial Cup final. The highly-touted Flyers overcame a 4-2 second-period deficit to score four times in the final frame while holding the Habs off the board. Second game of the series will be played at Brandon Wednesday night and the third back in Winnipeg Friday night.

"We blew the big one," said centre Len Thornson of Canadiens, "but we know now that Barrie aren't the super team they're cracked up to be. We forgot to keep checking in that last period."

Coach Hap Emms appeared to be satisfied with his club's performance.

GOT WORST OF DEAL

"We tried the rough stuff in the first two periods and found we were getting the worst of the deal. Then we settled down," he said.

He plans to take his team to Brandon today and work out at the arena, scene of the second game.

Coach Bryan Hextall will keep his club in Winnipeg until Wednesday.

The pro-St. Boniface crowd continually blasted the two eastern referees—Louis LeCompte and Bing McDonald, both of Ottawa—for their officiating, but the Habs' manager, Larry Desjardins, laid the blame on the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

"We've got a big team and like to lay it on, but we haven't a chance with Manitoba officials I don't blame Barrie or the officials. It's the CAHA that's at fault. There's no consistency in the refereeing. If we carried our sticks or charged like the teams did tonight, we'd be crucified during the regular schedule."

BIG GUNS

Skip Teal, captain Don McKenney and Doug Mohn were the big guns for Barrie. Teal collected two goals and two assists. McKenney set up three goals and also scored what proved to be the winner, while Mohns assisted twice. The other Flyers' goals went to Jim Robertson, speedy Tony Poeta and Orval Tessier.

Garry Blaine, one of, if not the, outstanding men on the ice, paced the Canadiens with two goals—first two of the game. Leo Konyk and Barry Thorndycraft added the others. Though held to one assist, centre Cece Hoekstra of Canadiens' Kid Line was a standout throughout.

Both goalies turned in creditable performances. Hal Dalkie of the Habs stopped 41 shots, including 18 in the wild last period. Marve Edwards, Flyers replacement from St. Catharines, blocked 37.

Springfield Divides Doubleheader

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The 1953 edition of the International Baseball League will make its Canadian debut Wednesday on all three fronts. Buffalo, home of the Bisons, also will see its first IBL game of the new season.

All eight teams are taking it easy today, limbering up for their northern invasion.

A twi-night double-header at Springfield was the only activity on Monday night's schedule. The Cubs broke a three-game losing streak by winning the abbreviated first game from Buffalo 4-3, but suffered their first whitewashing of the season, 5-0, in the nightcap.

A record attendance is expected for Wednesday's contests.

TO PLAY HOST

Montreal Royals, last season's pennant winners, will play host to Rochester Red Wings. Syracuse Chiefs go to Ottawa against the Athletics and Springfield will take on the Maple Leafs at Toronto. The Bisons will greet Baltimore Orioles.

In Monday night's opener, Springfield starter Jim Brosnan gave up only three hits and fanned eight, but the win went to reliefer Gen Tarabilda who came on in the seventh and final inning.

Ted Kapuscinski won the nightcap in his first start for the Bisons, giving up seven hits. Buffalo got to three Springfield hurlers, starter Bob Hartig taking the loss.

Ward, Stranahan Enter Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — Defending champion Harvie Ward and Frank Stranahan, a two-time winner, head a 29-man United States delegation entered in the British amateur golf tournament at Hoylake, May 25-30.

The U.S. Golf Association, announcing this list Monday, said 12 of these Americans plan to play in the French championship at Chantilly June 4-7 and at least four, including professional Lloyd Mangrum, in the British Open at Carnoustie, Scotland, July 6-10.

Crooner Bing Crosby, who shoots in the 70s, is entered in both the British and French amateur events despite criticism in some British newpapers.

Desmond Hackett of the London Daily Exress said recently Crosby and Bob Hope should be barred from British tournaments. He said Crosby turned the 1950 amateur at St. Andrews into a circus and added that Hope "made an ass of himself" in the same tournament at Porthcawl two years ago.

Ball Clubs Begin Touring Circuit

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Today's the day the ball clubs quit playing the home folks and take a look at their distant relatives for the first time this season.

Although Rudyard Kipling pointed out how unlikely it is, East meets West—through the courtesy of the schedule wizards.

This first invasion, which this year sees the American League take Horace Greeley's famous travel suggestion while the National League views the sights in the east, always is particularly important.

It shows how the leagues are balanced and gives a good line on whether a club can be depended upon to win away from home.

Here's the major league picture at the start of the east-west invasions:

LEAD NATIONAL LEAGUE

Philadelphia Phillies, riding an eight-game winning streak, lead the National League by a big 2½ games over second-place Chicago Cubs. Brooklyn, experts' choice to win the pennant for the second straight season, is third, only one notch over the .500 mark after 11 games. St. Louis and Milwaukee are tied for fourth followed by New York, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

In the American League Cleveland owns a 28-percentage-point advantage over the defending champion New York Yankees, although due to a mathematical quirk the Yankees are a half-game ahead in the "games behind" column. This is because the Indians have played only nine games to the Yanks' dozen. The dangerous Chicago White Sox are a close third with St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics tied for fourth. Boston, Washington and Detroit finish out the standings.

In both leagues the leaders will be playing at home. The Phillies begin an 11-game stand against the West, the Cardinals coming in tonight for three straight night contests. Milwaukee will stop off for two games, Chicago for four and Cincinnati for two.

ONLY SEVEN GAMES

The Indians have only seven games against the eastern American League entries this time around They start off tonight and Wednesday with the Athletics, rest a day before a two-game series with Boston and a doubleheader with Washington and then take another day off prior to a single night game with the Yankees.

Other games today in the American League bring Washington to Chicago and Boston to Detroit. The Yankees play tonight in St. Louis.

In the National League all the teams wait until tonight when, in addition to St. Louis at Philadelphia it will be Milwaukee at New York, Cincinnati at Brooklyn and Chicago at Pittsburgh.

The Braves, who became a western team by moving from Boston to Milwaukee, and the Pirates, changed from a western to an eastern club to balance the schedule, both benefitted by the shifts.

The Pirates won three and lost eight in their opening eastern games this year while in 1952 they won only two of 13 while opening against the west. The Braves won four and lost seven a year ago in the east. This season they broke even in eight western games.

East And West Meet For Cup

KITCHENER (CP)—The East and West meet here tonight for the opening of the 44th series of the Allan Cup, emblematic of Canadian senior amateur hockey supremacy.

The East is represented by Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen and the West by Penticton V's.

The Allan Cup, donated by Sir H. Montagu Allan of Montreal in 1908 and first won by Ottawa Cliffsides, has been fought for annually except for the Second World War year of 1945.

The West has claimed the trophy 20 times and is the current holder. Fort Frances Canadiens won it last year by defeating Stratford Indians 4-2 in a best-of-seven series.

Should Penticton win the cup it will be the third time a British Columbia contender has taken it. Trail Smoke Eaters defeated Quebec Aces in 1938 and Kimberley Dynamiters turned back Sudbury Falcons in 1936.

This year's series is the first for Kitchener fans and a full house of more than 7,200 is expected every night in the new Auditorium.

LITTLE GIBRALTAR HILL — A Sherman tank of the Lord Stratchona's Horse overlooks a scene that will long be remembered by members of the 1st Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, who fought one of their greatest battles of the Korean war on the hill-top feature at right. The battle of Little Gibraltar Hill, to be commemorated by the unit each year, resulted in the largest number of casualties suffered by the RCRs in Korea. However, it has been reported that 10 of the 11 men previously considered missing in action are being held as prisoners-of-war by the Communists.

AWL Soldier Convicted Of Assault

LINDSAY (ENS)—A 24-year-old Lindsay soldier, Pte. Kenneth Ruttan, AWL from Vimy Barracks in Kingston, was remanded for sentence until Wednesday in magistrate's court when convicted Monday of assault occasioning bodily harm and creating a disturbance.

The army provost corps is sending men to pick him up.

Peter Bakageorge, owner of the Embassy dance hall in Ops township west of the town, laid the complaint of assault against Ruttan.

He told the court that Ruttan had kicked him in the thigh and struck his bouncer, Mervyn Moore, in the mouth and rammed his fist through a pane of glass of a door of the hall. This was a result, said Mr. Bakageorge, of his being asked to leave the hall because he was drunk.

HIT POLICEMAN

Provincial police were called. When Constable Tom Fitzpatrick of the Lindsay detachment tried to arrest Ruttan he also received a split lip and a kick on the shins. He managed to handcuff and take him to the cruiser.

Constable Fitzpatrick testified that after Ruttan arrived at the county jail he aimed more kicks and blows at him and Constable Jim Hall before he was quieted down.

Ruttan said he remembered nothing of the events of the evening from the time he said he was struck by a billy in an altercation over his bill at a Lindsay restaurant. At that time he had been taken to the police station for treatment and released.

Ruttan admitted that he had been AWL since April 16. He joined up only six weeks ago.

Another charge of assaulting a police officer was withdrawn.

Pole Is Ready

LONDON (CP)—A 45-foot Douglas fir donated to London's Coronation decorations by New Westminster, B.C., manufacturers, arrived safely. It will become the traditional maypole in the Strand.

FREEDOM VILLAGE—Since the start of the prisoner-of-war exchange in Korea, Freedom Village, little more than a cluster of tents, has welcomed two released Canadians. They are L.-Cpl. Paul Dugal, of Quebec city, and Pte. A. Baker, of Montreal, both members of the Royal 22nd Regiment. Shown is the entrance to the Commonwealth section of Freedom Village.

Sympathetic Committee Takes Ohio Into Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sympathetic congressional sub-committee listened to all the facts Monday, and then unanimously voted to permit Ohio to come into the union.

A nice gesture, even if it was 150 years and 27 days late.

People have so fallen into the habit of thinking Ohio was already in the union that they have elected seven U.S. presidents from that territory.

But some historians started poking into records and they found that somehow Congress never got around to accepting Ohio officially.

Representative George Bender (Rep. Ohio) hurried to the rescue. He introduced a resolution to bring Ohio into the union, retroactive to March 1, 1803.

Bender spoke for his bill Monday, and things certainly look confused. One government ublication insists Ohio was born Nov. 29, 1802; another argues for March 3, 1803.

Naturally this has been upsetting to Ohioans.

"My resolution," Bender said, "will end the sleepless nights of historians who are becoming hysterical on the subject. It certainly will be held for me. I pray the committee will provide the relief."

The resolution passed the sub-committee without a dissenting vote.

Of course, it still must get the approval of the full committee, the House of Representatives, the Senate and the President.

Quash Conviction Over Extortion

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario appeal court Monday quashed a conviction on a charge of intent to extort against William G. Weiss, former manager of the Personal Finance Co., of Kitchener and now a resident of Windsor, Ont. The court agreed with defence counsel G. A. Martin that there was no evidence of intent.

Testimony indicated that Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schmidt of Kitchener had borrowed $532 from the finance company and had put furniture up as security. The furniture was sold to another party and the finance company asked for more security.

Crown counsel Harold Daufman contended at the trial that Weiss had tried to compel George Israel, Schmidt's father-in-law, to enter into a guarantee for repayment of the loan by threatening to accuse the Schmidts of theft.

Tree Stops Car Plunge

HAMILTON (CP)—Police said Monday a tree stopped an automobile from falling 400 feet Sunday night and saved a teen-age couple from death. They said the car missed a turn, went over the lip of Hamilton mountain and was caught by a tree growing 15 feet down the bank. Ronald Bocock, 18, and Mary Low, 17, crawled out and climbed to a ledge where the tree grew. Both suffered minor injuries.

House Approves Credit Group Law

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons Monday approved legislation providing for the organization of central co-operative credit associations in Canada.

The bill, which goes to the Senate, specifies the powers and provides for the supervision of any central co-operative credit associations that may seek incorporation by parliament.

Adams Directs Basic Training

HAMILTON (CP)—The administrative command of Canada's 6,000 naval reserve personnel arrived here Monday from Ottawa.

HMCS Star, one of the 22 divisions across Canada, welcomed Commodore Kenneth F. Adams of Victoria, who will direct activity at the centre of basic training.

Commodore Adams, former commander of the aircraft carrier Magnificent, said the transfer will free naval headquarters of a lot of red tape.

He said the new administration will relieve coastal commands of a great weight and all basic training can be carried out on the Great Lakes. Training will include courses in radio, radar, gunnery, electronics and anti-submarine work.

Shoplifting Sentence

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Elsie Swearngen, 34, of London, Ont., convicted of using her daughter in shoplifting sprees, was sentenced Monday to five days on a theft charge. She was remanded for sentence on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency. A detective told the court the 13-year-old daughter stole nightgowns, an expensive box of powder and other items while her mother kept the attention of the clerks.

W. Bark To Open Law Practice

A native of Toronto, W. Donald Bark, will begin a law practice in Peterborough this week.

Mr. Bark graduated from Osgoode Hall in 1951 and for the past two years has been associated with the law firm of E. A. Richards QC.

He trained in the RCN's fleet air arm as a pilot, but the war ended before he completed his training.

While at Varsity he played both senior football and hockey. For two years he coached the intermediate university football team.

His wife and three children will be moving to the city shortly to join him.

Army Reports Five Casualties

OTTAWA (CP)—A Korean casualty list Monday included one man killed in action and four men wounded in action. The last previous list was issued April 23.

The list also included as "returned from prisoner of war" Pte. A. Baker of Montreal, a member of the Royal Canadian Regiment who was handed back by the Communists last week.

The army list brought to 1,312 total casualties so far suffered by Canadian troops in Korea, including 249 dead, 951 wounded, nine missing, 87 injured and 16 captured.

The navy has reported three dead and three injured in action and the air force has reported one missing.

The list (No. 176):

Returned from Prisoner of War

Baker, Arthur, Pte., Royal 22nd; Peter A. Baker (father), Montreal.

Killed in Action

Redmond, Patrick Gerald, L. Cpl., RCR; Mrs. Evelyn Carey (Sister), Halifax.

Wounded in Action

Downs, William Malcolm, L. Cpl., RCR; Scarborough township, Ont.; Mrs. Sally Downs (mother), Toronto.

Gaudet, Claude Joseph, Pte., RCR; Mrs. Rose Gaudet (mother) Halifax.

Prest, Lloyd Mowar, Sgt., PPCLI; Vancouver; Mrs. Patricia Y. Prest (wife), Calgary.

Reeve, William George, Pte., RCR; Essex, Ont.; Alfred Reeve (father), Salisbury, England.

Appeal Court Makes Sentence Longer

TORONTO CP)—The Ontario Appeal Court Monday increased an Ottawa man's four-month jail term for incest to six years in penitentiary because his sentence was "grossly inadequate."

Vernon Ryan was sentenced by Magistrate Glenn Strike of Ottawa to four months definite and four months indeterminate on two charges of incest, plus 10 strokes of the lash.

The appeal court changed it to three years on each charge, to run consecutively, plus five strokes on each.

Plan Recreation Centre

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent launched a campaign Monday to raise funds among government employees for construction of a $725,000 civil service recreation centre here.

The centre is to be a memorial to Dr. W. C. Clark, deputy finance minister who died last year, and will carry his name. It is to be established on a 10-acre site. Dr. Clark was working on the project when he died.

Convict 5 Of Assault

BRANTFORD (CP)—Five brothers, Norman, Albert, Clifford, Gordon and Leonard Hies, were convicted Monday by magistrate R. J. Gillen of assaulting John Hockin, causing bodily harm. Each was fined $10 plus $7.80 costs. The charges arose from a fight in the beverage room of the Alpine House.

Wants PM Have Bigger Salary

OTTAWA (CP)—George Cruickshank, Liberal member for British Columbia's Fraser Valley, told the House of Commons Monday that Canada's prime minister should be paid more money.

Mr. Cruickshank, during consideration of the prime minister's estimates, said he took exception to the figure of $15,000 for the prime minister's annual salary, as not enough.

The prime minister also gets a $4,000 annual indemnity as a member of the Commons, plus a $2,000-a-year tax free living allowance and a $2,000-a-year motorcar allowance.

Mr. Cruickshank said the leader of the country, no matter who he might be, "ought to be properly rewarded." It seemed strange that a civil servant could make as much as $50,000 a year while the prime minister, with the whole burden of the country on his shoulders, didn't make anything like that.

Prime Minister St. Laurent thanked Mr. Cruickshank. He said that whoever is the prime minister of Canada the most "worthwhile" compensation he can get is the feeling that he is always trying to do the best he can for the country at large.

Hurt In Explosion

KITCHENER (CP)—A fire extinguisher blew up in Milton Carter's hands during a drill at the fire hall Monday. He suffered head injuries. Chief Albert Pagel said the soda-acid type extinguisher exploded when Carter turned it upside down for operation.

B.F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire
Because IT HAS NO TUBE
It may save your life . . .
The B. F. Goodrich LIFE-SAVER Tubeless Tire gives you maximum protection against the hazard of blow-outs and dangerous skids, that frequently result in serious injury, and even death.
It can save you trouble . . .
The B. F. Goodrich LIFE-SAVER Tubeless Tire seals punctures on running wheels . . . protects against the annoying trouble caused by flat tires.
It will save you money . . .
The B. F. Goodrich LIFE-SAVER Tubeless Tire provides greater safety than any tire and tube, yet it costs less than the conventional safety tire-tube combination.
Act now to prevent this!

Accidents like the one above can happen when blowouts occur—that's why you owe it to yourself to find out about the extra protection in B. F. Goodrich LIFE-SAVER Tubeless Tires. Most blowouts are caused when the inner tube explodes through weakened or broken cords. But, because it has no inner tube, a LIFE-SAVER Tire changes a sudden, dangerous blowout to a safe s-s-s-slowout—allowing you ample time to stop your car safely, with perfect control.

PUNCTURE PROTECTION
A gummy rubber compound under the tread immediately seals around puncturing objects, and permanently seals the hole when the object is removed. Inconvenience and delays are eliminated.

BLOWOUT PROTECTION
Instead of a tube, the LIFE-SAVER has a patented inner lining that's part of the tire. In the event of damage there's no sudden blowout, only a small break in the liner, a s-s-s-s-slowout that lets you stop safely.

SKID PROTECTION
The LIFE-SAVER tread is cross-cut into thousands of tiny rubber-grip-blocks, spaced 16 to the inch. At 30 miles per hour on wet roads, it stops you a car length quicker than regular tires . . . and gives you longer mileage too!

A BRIGHT FUTURE for iron mines in the Peterborough area in particular and in Eastern Ontario in general was predicted by Ontario's Deputy Minister of Mines in an address to the Rotary Club Monday. He is shown here (left) with James E. Girven who was responsible for bringing Mr. Rickaby to Peterborough to talk to the club.

Mining In Eastern Ontario Headed For Big Things

A prediction that Eastern Ontario will be in the iron ore producing business in a big way in the near future was made Monday by the Deputy Minister of Mines for Ontario, H. C. Rickaby, in Peterborough on Monday. In an address at the Rotary luncheon meeting, Mr. Rickaby painted a bright picture of what's to result from a comparatively sudden renewed interest in the province's iron deposits. His remarks were particularly optimistic about operations now being carried on by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation just south of Marmora.

"The influence of this mining development can already be seen in Marmora," Mr. Rickaby said. "Shop fronts have been spruced up and new housing is giving this village a new look of prosperity."

In his story of the government's study of potential iron mining sites in the eastern part of the province, the speaker outlined just how and why this area is suddenly gaining the limelight in mining circles.

CONSTANT DEMAND

"There is an insatiable demand for iron to feed the great steel furnaces of America which led to predictions that known iron reserves might possibly be exhausted by 1975.

"This increasing demand plus the introduction of new tools for discovering minerals such as the magnetometer have been the two main circumstances that have led to the recent great interest in Ontario's iron ore resources."

The deputy minister explained that the provincial government had spear-headed this development by a survey in 1949 of a 450 square mile area of eastern Ontario. This area included Marmora and was carried out by personnel of one of the best known research companies.

Early in 1950 maps were issued from this survey showing concentration of deposits which were sent to all American and Canadian steel companies.

"This government-supported venture followed a trip to New York State by the provincial geologist and myself to visit operations producing iron ore. The geology of New York State is similar to eastern Ontario and we felt that the commercially successful operations could be duplicated in known iron ore deposits here."

The speaker explained that sites of many deposits in the area were known and included in a report made in 1923. Some of them were producing at the turn of the century, but fell through following the find of extensive deposits in the Lake Superior area.

CONCENTRATE FIRST

"Several companies showed interest in the Marmora deposit, but the Bethlehem Steel Corporation got there first. The deposit there filled the specifications of the steel companies. It was within 100 miles of Great Lakes' transportation and the ore, although not of a sufficiently high grade for direct shipping, was concentrated enough to warrant mining operations."

The deputy minister then told the story of the Marmora development so far and outlined what would happen in the future.

Drilling operations were started in June, 1950. By September, 1951, the corporation had set up its organization. The next step was the stripping of the soil and then stripping off the 130 feet of limestone which is on top of the iron ore.

"It will be 1954 before they will be down to the ore and for production to start."

The ore as already determined is 37½ per cent iron. This means that it will have to go through a refining process before it is shipped to the steel plant at Lackawanna, N.Y.

EMPLOY 225

"When this mine is in full operation it will employ 225 men. It has been estimated that 20 million tons of ore can be mined as an open pit operation." At the expected production of one million tons a year the mine will be good for 20 years as an open pit. As yet there are no plans beyond the open pit, but there is ore beyond that and I am quite sure the corporation will go on with operation of a shaft mine."

The deputy minister reported that other iron deposits had been located in the area and drilling operations have indicated that these too are commercial deposits of ore. One of these is near Campbellford.

He also predicted that further studies of this area will take place which will include a magnetometer survey of Peterborough.

"Ontario is in the iron ore business," Mr. Rickaby concluded, "and we're going to be in the iron ore producing business for some generations to come."

The deputy minister was introduced by J. E. Girven and thanked by Mayor Hugh Waddell.

Born in Orono, Mr. Rickaby attended Newcastle High School and later graduated from Peterborough Normal School. He taught for three years in Barrie and then entered the University of Toronto in 1914. His studies were interrupted by three years of war service, but he returned to graduate from the university in 1922. A year later he received his Master of Arts degree. Mr. Rickaby's next step was to enter the Department of Mines as a research assistant. In 1927 he joined the geological staff of the department and in 1934 was appointed provincial geologist. He became deputy minister of mines in 1938.

Province Cuts $33,000 Off Rd. Bylaw

County Council Drops Appropriation To $202,000 For '53

County Council received the shattering news Monday that their $233,000 appropriation bylaw—to pay for the upkeep and construction of county roads and bridges during 1953—has been cut $33,000 by the Ontario Department of Highways.

Ewart Marston, departmental district engineer, assured the glum councillors that they weren't being specially singled out. "It's the general pattern throughout the province," he said.

By a narrow margin they voted to cut the appropriation to $202,000. But rather than change the tax bills at this time they decided to keep the present road rate of 7½ mills and apply the extra $16,500 on the Buckhorn road account. If the supplementary bylaw for the Buckhorn road project is turned down the money will not be spent this year; it will be kept in a separate account.

This news from the department means that they are willing to pay the usual subsidy on the approved expenditure of up to $202,000. But anything over that figure the County Council would have to pay for completely. On department-approved expenditures the county receives a 50 per cent. subsidy on roads and an 80 per cent. subsidy on bridges and culverts.

(The appropriation is the total amount of money spent on all road work. It includes the money raised by tax levy, by debentures and by departmental subsidy. This year's approved appropriation of $235,000 is $10,000 more than it was in 1952.)

WHAT TO DO?

Most of the afternoon was taken up in a discussion on what to do. Councillors were faced with a number of tricky considerations:

1. If any less money is spent on the upkeep of the county road system it may fall into a bad state of disrepair.

2. Now the department have slashed the annual appropriation bylaw, what will happen to the two supplementary bylaws? One of them is for $56,000 to finance the paving this year of the Buckhorn road, and the other is for $203,000 to finance the building of the high-level bridge and rock-fill causeway at Gannon's Narrows.

(Nobody has the answer to this one, but there have been a few winks and nods exchanged between departmental and county officials, indicating that those two bylaws are probably safe from axing.)

3. It would be difficult to change the road rate at this stage as many of the municipalities in the county have already sent out their tax bills. Havelock have already collected most of their first tax instalment from the ratepayers.

4. As a matter of policy, should money raised by taxation necessarily be spent in that same year?

This fourth consideration— the spending of money raised in any one year—caused most disagreement among the council.

Reeve Dick Stewart of Otonabee Township brought the discussion to a vote with a lengthy resolution that was seconded by Reeve Roland Tedford of Douro Township.

KEEP ROAD RATE

Apart from Reeve Rork Ferguson of Norwood, who abstained from voting as a matter of principle, none of the councillors objected to the first part of Reeve Stewart's motion. It called for the road rate remaining at 7½ mills. And the $16,500 levied on the county ratepayers, which was not subsidizable (it was the county's estimated share of the $33,000 that exceeded the department's limit of $202,000), should be applied on the county's share of the cost of paving the Buckhorn Road — all this on the understanding that the supplementary money bylaw for the Buckhorn project would be approved by the department.

If the supplementary bylaw for the Buckhorn project is not approved by the department then the $16,500 raised this year should be spent this year, said the Stewart-Telford motion. It was supported by Reeve Gordon Fitzgerald and Warden Ernest Leeson.

The motion was defeated. An amendment by Reeve William C. Grant of Lakefield and Reeve James Humphries of Asphodel Township that the money so raised "be not spent this year," carried.

"I dont' believe in raising money in one year and not spending it," said Reeve Stewart.

Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore said he didn't believe in raising a road levy and the having to finance it 100 cents on the dollar. He thought the provincial government might find some additional type of revenue, such as a gasoline tax that included a cent-a-gallon rebate to the municipalities.

NOT PROPER

Reeve Ferguson said he didn't think it was proper to divert funds from one account to another. Several of his fellow councillors however told him that it was perfectly legal; all funds were in the roads committee account.

A digression was made by Reeve William Griffith of Belemont-Methuen. He found fault with the county's financing and he blamed the Buckhorn Road project.

North Monaghan Agrees To Annexation Of Strip

North Monaghan council has affirmed its consent to annexation of lands on the west side of the city including Hugh Stewart's Hilltop Farms which are destined for a residential subdivision by Westbrook Company of Toronto. Attitude of the township was one of the conditional factors in the council's cautious approach to this project, the progress of which has been patiently tabbed by W. M. Bowes, secretary-treasurer of the company.

Another preliminary of enquiry brought from the Bank of Nova Scotia recommendation of the Westbrook Company in its financial rating.

Westbrook Company plans to build 20 houses in the area north of Civic Hospital this year, and a total of 50 before the end of 1954. It is understood that their subdivision will comprise approximately 200 lots, many of which will be offered for sale.

PAY TAXES

The only reservation by Monaghan council insisted on the 1953 taxes on the west side land being payable to the township treasury. Westbrook Company are providing a right of way to the city through their property, plus $3,000 toward financing a sewer which becomes part of a main sewer from the Weller St. section.

This sewer will eventually be an accommodation from the district up around Parkhill Road, extending south across Sherbrooke St., and continuing farther south on Western Ave. to Lansdowne St., Erskine Ave., Borden Ave. and so on to the sewage disposal plant.

The subdividing company is also giving the city possession of the 50-foot strip of the west end of Weller St., north of the hospital, thereby providing a traffic outlet toward Wallace Drive.

DRAFT AGREEMENT

A motion by Ald. A. B. Burrows, seconded by Ald. Rehill, assents to the Westbrook Company project, including the application for the laying of a sewer, and also that an agreement be drafted between the company and the city corporation. This is one of the important expansion undertakings by the council of 1953. Its effects will reach in the south to the opening of Borden St., south of Lansdowne St., and between Monaghan Road and Erskine Ave.

Some further development is likely to be seen north and south of Sherbrooke St., probably to the extent of the draining of the low lands in that area and their occupation.

Finally, it promises conversion of Hilltop into a residential section, and will bring into the city at least, as now contemplated, the residences on the west side of Monaghan Road south of Jackson Park, and including Mount St. Joseph.

Girls Given Checks Before Swim Lessons

Approximately 130 girls are being given medical examinations by the department of health before their participation in the YMCA and YWCA Learn-to-Swim program.

The program, which is under the direction of Miss Roselyn Stone and Fraser Wade, physical directors of the Ys, will start on May 4.

Mr. Wade reports that he expects about 80 boys as well to take part in the program.

The program is open to the Public and Separate School students in the city.

Farmer Injured By Bolting Team

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—Arthur B. Stephens, 67, was seriously injured just before noon hour on Monday when a team of horses which he was driving bolted and he was dragged a considerable distance over rough ground. He was rushed to Campbellford hospital where X-rays revealed a broken left hip and fractured right wrist. Dr. C. A. Bright attended the injured man and he was later rushed to Belleville hospital by Bennett's ambulance.

Mr. Stephens had been drawing in a load of baled hay at his farm on the English Line, about one mile south of Campbellford when several bales fell off the load, frightening the team. The horses bolted, throwing Mr. Stephens off the wagon and he was dragged a considerable distance over the rough ground before being able to free himself

Mrs. Stephens, who was working in the yard nearby, saw the accident and summoned help for her husband.

Five Rotarians Head For Paris Convention

Peterborough Rotarians bid farewell to five of their members Monday who are leaving soon for Europe to attend the Coronation and the Rotary International Convention to be held in Paris in May.

The five were Mayor Hugh Waddell, Ross Dobbin who is attending the Coronation in his capacity as president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, Harley Keefer, and Charlie Cummer, official Rotary convention delegates, and Gordon Monkman, who will be attending the convention and also visiting several Rotary Clubs in England.

Meeting Fails To Settle Strike At Quaker; "Situation Stalemated"

Plant At Saskatoon Still Tied Up
Union Charges Breach Of Faith
As 4 Loaded Feed Trucks Driven To Lindsay

A meeting between top Canadian union and company officials Monday afternoon failed to bring any settlement in the strike, now entering its seventh day, at the Quaker Oats Co. plants in Peterborough and Saskatoon. An estimated 565 production workers—435 of them in this city—are now on strike. Fred Dowling, Canadian director of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL), and Reginald Faryon, Canadian president of Quaker Oats, conferred Monday afternoon in Peterborough.

"The situation remains completely stalemated," Mr. Faryon said today.

A union strategy conference has been planned for Wednesday in Toronto. Clarence Lyons, UPWA Saskatchewan staff representative, Bill Beggs, UPWA Eastern Ontario representative, and Mr. Dowling will review the strike situation. Probably another approach will then be made to the company to see if the deadlock can be broken.

BREACH OF FAITH

Earlier union officials accused the Quaker Oats Co. of a breach of good faith when it was learned that at least four company trucks loaded with mixed feeds had been driven out of the city from the bus barns on Cricket Place early Monday morning.

William Beggs, United Packinghouse Workers of America staff representative for Eastern Ontario, said that the company had promised prior to the strike called by the union's Local 293 last Wednesday that there would be no shipments made from the local plant.

The trucks had been loaded prior to the strike and placed on jacks in the bus barns where it was understood that they were to remain for the duration of the strike. A section of the barn was rented by the Quaker Oats but was not picketed.

President William Triggs of Local 293 said that the trucks had apparently been removed from the jacks and driven out of the city between 3 a.m. and 5 a.m. Monday by drivers brought in from outside the city. He said he received a telephone call at 7 a.m. telling him of the incident.

The vehicles were apparently not driven over the Hunter Street bridge as they were not seen by pickets on duty outside the plant. But Mr. Triggs was handed a note on the picket line Monday morning from a farmer near Omemee, who said that his son had seen one of the trucks being driven towards Lindsay on Highway 7, at about 6 a.m. He gathered that the truck was loaded because it labored in low gear going up a hill near the farm.

CREEK HIGH AGAIN

Jackson Park creek was flowing Monday almost in freshet height and volume and colored a chocolate brown indicating the content of good land washing away from agricultural country.

Board Favors Allowing Fuel Oil Tanks

Permission to Douglas MacPherson to use the McColl-Frontenac tanks on Ross St. for the storage of fuel oil was recommended to the council Monday night by the board of works. All the members were present, with Ald. P. J. Angelsey presiding.

The acceding motion by Ald. Norman Graham was seconded by Ald. Gordon Farquharson.

Mr. MacPherson outlined to the board his side of the acquiring of the tanks which McColl-Frontenac are vacating as an effect of the new distributing east-west pipelines along the Lake Ontario front.

"Adequate storage of fuel oil is today an important community asset," he said. "In 1946-7 there was more or less a fuel oil famine, only because there was then insufficient storage capacity in Ontario. Eighty per cent of the fuel oil in this province has to be stored for winter needs. In that situation the new pipeline is going to be a big help. During the last six years fuel oil consumption has increased 400 per cent, and at that rate by another few years possibly every other house will be heated by oil."

30 YEARS AGO

Mr. MacPherson said the tanks on Ross St. were erected 30 years ago. They are of rivetting construction, and for that reason couldn't be put underground.

Top U.K. Opera Team Ditch Holiday For Calgary Stand

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON (CP)—Webster Booth and Anne Ziegler, Britain's top man-and-wife operatic team, will ditch a well-earned holiday to fly 8,800 miles to a one-night stand in Calgary.

Calgarians can thank a long-standing friendship between the British couple and Harold Ramsay, former British Broadcasting Corporation organist who founded the Calgary Choral Society under the sponsorship of the Calgary Kiwanis Club.

Ramsay said wistfully in a letter describing a musical play he is producing: "I only wish you and Anne were free."

The couple immediately gave up plans for a three-week holiday in France and will appear in the opening performance May 9 of "Merrie England," a Tudor production well suited to the Coronation of the second Elizabeth. They will be the only professionals in an otherwise all-Canadian cast.

BUSY SINGERS

Calgarians will be the more appreciative of Ramsay's success because the Booths have leading roles in this country's Coronation summer entertainment plans.

The Calgary appearance will be one in a series of "Merrie England" performances. The first in the United Kingdom is scheduled to begin June 1 at Newport, Wales. One of the biggest will be at the country home of Sir Harold Wernher at Luton Hoo, Bedfordshire.

Bulldozers have processed three acres for a vast open-air stage that will hold a cast of 1,000, of whom 300 will be on horseback. Forty-one microphones have been installed to accommodate audiences of about 21,000 expected every day in a week-long festival starting June 8.

It will be Miss Ziegler's first trip to Canada. Booth last visited the country in the '20s when the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company toured North America.

Bensfort News

A large number of friends and neighbors recently assembled in Centerville Hall to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Otis Burns and family who are moving to Quebec. Arthur Beebe read the address and the presentation of a chrome kitchen set was made by Messrs. Earl Wilson, Russell Cruse, William Moncrief and Percy Gainer.

Among those who attended the 16th annual convention of the Peterborough Presbytery were: From Bensfort: Mrs. L. Harris, Mrs. F. Buckham, Mrs. R. Whittington, Mrs. C. Barnard, Mrs. W. Moncrief, Mrs. W. Lackey, Mrs. J. Wood, Mrs. A. Dawson, Mrs. W. Patton, Mrs. R. Atcheson, Mrs. H. Larmer and Mrs. R. Perrin. From Bailieboro: Mrs. H. Howson, Mrs. H. Fallis, Mrs. A. Watt and Mrs. H. L. Yarr.

Mrs. Dawson Rutherford and Mrs. Harold Tate are spending a few days in Sudbury this week.

Suggest Method Using Waste, Halts Pollution

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian and United States engineers were told Monday of a method of using waste liquors from sulphite pulp mills, which at present cause stream pollution.

Two New York engineers, Arthur Pollak and Robert S. Aries, read papers describing the method at a joint conference of the Chemical Institute of Canada and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

They said about 60 sulphite pulp mills in the U.S. and Canada dump juices left over from the digesting process, polluting streams. Instead of dumping them, they said, the liquors can be burned and the ash left can be used again in an adaptation of the method used in kraft mills.

QUALITY UNIMPAIRED

The two engineers also said the use of the ash does not impair the quality of the pulp and in fact there is some evidence that such a pulp has advantages.

H. G. Joseph of the Ontario Paper Company of Thorold said waste juices can be used for the production of high-grade ethyl alcohol—something similar to the alcohol made from grain and molasses.

Every year, he said, Canadian mills throw away 250,000 tons of sugar from which 28,000 gallons of ethyl alcohol could be produced. It was an encouraging picture of Canada's raw material reserve.

Coronation Cocktail Contest Being Held

LONDON (CP)—An official Coronation cocktail, picked from Commonwealth suggestions, is the aim of a contest sponsored by the United Kingdom Bartenders' Guild.

Nearly 400 recipes have been received so far, including several from Montreal where ex-guild members are plying their trade.

"The winnre will have to be something smooth and original," a guild spokesman explained. "We are checking the entries against our list of 8,000 cocktail recipes to make sure they aren't copies."

Order New Trial In Cattle Theft

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario appeal court Monday ordered a new trial for Clara Medwedowsky and Morris Boyman of Brockville, convicted of the theft of 35 cows and two horses.

The animals were the property of a partnership between Clare Medwedowsky and Aaron Bojman. The case arose over the sale of the cattle which Bojman said was unauthorized. When the two were charged they claimed they had acted on legal advice, but the trial judge had refused to allow the lawyer to give evidence.

Williams' Plane Crippled

IN KOREA (AP)—Capt. Ted Williams, former Boston Red Sox slugger now flying a jet for the marines, Monday brought his fighter-bomber home safely after it had been hit by Red anti-aircraft fire. The marines said Williams' plane sustained minor damage when flak hit the left-wing-tip tank. Williams was unhurt.

Williams was among marine pilots attacking the Red port city of Chinnampo on the west coast.

DRIFTING DUST—In a scene reminiscent of the dry and dusty days on the prairies during the '30s, sifting dust inches up on the wheels of a wagon on the farm of Jack Brown at Headlingley, Man., 18 miles west of Winnipeg. Many southern Manitoba farmers are delaying seeding in the hope they soon will get needed rain.

CMA Brief Sharply Criticizes United States Trade Policies

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association today accused the United States of closing her doors against a "wide range" of Canadian manufactured goods and suggested the government apply brakes on her post-war program of handing out tariff concessions.

The association, representing about 6,700 manufacturers turning out 80 per cent of Canada's factory-made goods, outlined a 10-point trade-expanding plan to the Senate trade committee, but emphasized that countries other than Canada must take the initiative if world trade is to become freer.

In an 11-page brief presented by president G. K. Sheils of Toronto, the association said that sterling-area import restrictions have led to the loss of overseas markets for many Canadian manufacturers and these, in turn, have found the U.S. a poor substitute.

"It is obvious that the U. S., while quite willing to admit Canada's raw materials to her markets, does not show the same willingness to admit a wide range of manufactured goods."

In another part of the brief, the association added:

"In the U. S., the tariff structure, import quotas and prohibitions and the involved administration of customs have been designed and used to ensure, in that highly industrialized nation, that American industry is not subjected to serious competition from Canada or from abroad.

"The evidence of past years leaves no doubt that further action by Canada to give a larger share of a relatively small domestic market to imports will be totally ineffective in changing these restrictive policies in other countries. Instead we must look for more positive measures by other countries which will progressively result in greater freedom in the international exchange of goods."

HAS STRONG FAITH

But the association said it has strong faith in Canada's industrial future and the eventual restoration of peaceful and prosperous world trade. Other association suggestions included:

1. A further relaxation in corporation taxes to encourage construction of more plants and equipment.

2. Study of ways of keeping more of Canada's raw materials in Canada to be turned into finished goods by home industry.

3. A possible halt in Canada's post-war tariff-cutting program.

4. Closer trade relations with the British West Indies.

Full House Enjoys Scout Variety Show

LAKEFIELD—(ENS) — A full house enjoyed the third annual presentation of the variety show given by the Lakefield Scout Troop in Memorial Hall on Friday evening. This show, made up entirely of local talent, was under the direction of Eldon Johnston.

Akela Tom Last's "Gold Pack" contributed a rhythm band number, accompanied at the piano by Patty Jakins. The "Silver Pack", under the guidance of assistant cub leaders Connie Orr and Bette Millage presented a skit of the old West complete with western costumes, six-shooters, villains, a hero and a heroine.

The Scout contribution consisted of an Indian fire-making demonstration using fire-sets. Scouts Bob Williams and Bob Vallance operated their own sets in speed competition while Nico Van Western stood by with fire extinguishers, just in case. Williams was almost successful as the volume of smoke be generated amply testified.

William Milder and members of the Koomen family played several numbers on harmonicas and concertinas.

Laughs for the evening were provided by a group of black-faced boys, whose activities almost drove the master of ceremonies, Chester Lilley to distraction. These strolling players were Eldon Johston, Tom Payton, Stanley Burger, Mel. Kingdon and Perce Archer. Bill Shepherd added many laughs to the show with novelty numbers. Mr. Johnston and Mr. Payton played several numbers on the trombone and euphonium, accompained by Mrs. J. A. Arnott on the piano. Mrs. Reg Doubt played for community singing.

The door prizes, a hamper of groceries donated by Bill Sheppard and a chicken, were won by Mrs. Frank Edwards and Tom Hatton.

Ask Coronation Day Be Paid Holiday

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Labor Council (CIO-CCL) Monday night asked that Coronation Day be designated as a paid holiday by employers.

The Council also called on Labor Minister Daley to request that firms give their employees the day off with pay.

Several delegates reported that their employers had already met unions' requests on this point.

Business Reports Continue To Be Cheerful

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Generally cheerful words continue to come from Canadian business reports and statements.

Rhys M. Sale, president of Ford Motor Company, Windsor, noting the company's 50th anniversary:

"Ford of Canada had 17 employees in its first year, 1903, and the total salary role, including the salary of the general manager, averaged only $230 a week. Now our wage and salary payments average well above $1,000,000 a week."

H. H. Rogge, president of Canadian Westinghouse Company, Hamilton, whose company also is marking its 50th anniversary:

SURPRISIING GROWTH

"The size of our plants, and the number of people and machines needed, is sometimes surprising even to us. The organization began with a single small plant in Hamilton, containing only 10,000 square feet of floor space, with about 90 employees.

"Today we have 10 major manufacturing buildings, located in four different cities, with a total of more than 2,250,000 square feet of floor area. In addition, we have more than 25 office, service and supply buildings throughout the country.

"There are more than 11,000 employees and our annual payroll totals more than $36,000,000."

Says Selfish Interests Prevent Extra Power

TORONTO (CP)—Selfish interests in the United States blocking the St. Lawrence power project are denying North America electrical energy equal to a working force of 56,000,000 workers, Robert Saunders, Ontario hydro chairman, said Monday.

Speaking to a joint conference of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the Chemical Institute of Canada, Mr. Saunders said Ontario's vast expansion of the last 14 years was possible only through a comparative increase in electrical power.

He told the U.S. delegates that Canada was asking only that their country name an agent to take over power development on the U.S. side of the border.

LONDON (CP)—Britain's public libraries did more business last year, despite competition of television. The report showed about 340,000,000 books were borrowed, an increase of 26,000,000.

Amendment Rejected On Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate booted out of the way Monday a proposal to substitute federal control for the states' ownership provisions of the submerged offshore lands bill.

It voted 56 to 33 to table a federal control amendment offered by Senator Clinton Anderson (Dem. N. M.).

Advocates of state ownership of the oil-rich offshore areas hailed the ballot as an indication that eventually the bill will be passed by an even greater margin with no important changes.

After rejecting Anderson's amendment, the Senate approved an amendment by Senator Irving Ives (Rep. N. Y.) which would assure continued recognition of the New York state boundary in Lake Ontario as the international line with Canada.

Ancient Methods Used To Make Copper Articles

SANTA CLARA DEL COBRE—In pre-Spanish times the Tarascan people were noted for their copper work and today, high on a mountain above Patzcuaro, the copper town of Santa Clara carries on the tradition. Practically all the 6,000 inhabitants are engaged in making copper articles.

No matter what street you wander along you hear the clang as the tools beat out and shape the copper. All the factories are home factories. Fathers train their sons and the secret of their technique is handed down from generation to generation.

People come from all over the world to try and learn the process which gives their products such a beautiful sheen. Their methods are old and their tools clumsy compared with modern methods.

SALESMEN COME

The three Puleco brothers live side by side in Santa Clara and each has his own factory, turning out slightly different articles. Salesmen come to the town to get their supplies. Pots are sold by weight and several salesmen I saw left with loads of about two dozen pots, jugs, vases, cooking utensils etc., strapped to their backs.

The factories, built around a courtyard have one section roofed over, but no walls. Here a small charcoal fire burns, pumped with an antique hand bellows. The ware are shaped from flat sheets of copper. Monday the raw material comes from the mines and Tuesday they prepare the sheets. The rest of the week is devoted to manufacturing.

The day I was there they were making a very interesting kettle. It was the size of a big washtub and after it was shaped it was put into the fire until it was hot. Then it was removed from the flame. While it was held by one man, five others under the direction of the maestro proceeded to make the bottom the same width as the top. This is most intricate.

NO WRONG MOVE

Each man has a tool something like a pick in size and appearance and the five men were swinging those at the same time in that narrow space and not once did their picks tangle. Sometimes there may be as many as 8 to 10 mallets operating in that same confined space. But so accurate are the artisans that no one ever gets mixed in the rythmic beating.

A small boy of 8 or 10 was being taught how to pump the bellows. Another man was putting the finishing touches to a vase before the final polishing. The owner of this factory had eight sons employed there.

When the copper is ready for the final polishing, it is put into the fire until red hot. Then it is lifted out and put in a pile of manure with special straw and covered over. When it has cooled it is taken out with a perfect sheen. The natural chemicals in the manure and straw produce better results than the modern chemicals used by industrial firms. People around Patzcuaro keep their copper shining by cleaning it with lemon covered with a little salt.

At the second shop there were eight men and boys sitting near the fire making perfectly formed copper rivets and handles for pitchers. In the third they were shaping plates and vases.

Will Not Interfere In Death Sentence

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Sheriff H. Thompson of Port Arthur said Monday there will be "no interference" in the death sentence of George Hladiy, scheduled to be hanged today for murder.

He said he had received a telegram from Justice Minister Garson, ordering the execution to be held as planned. Hladiy was convicted of killing Josef Panok last summer in the railway yards at Fort William.

At Hladiy's trial, police said the two men had gone to steal grain from freight cars and an argument followed. Hladiy was charged with strangling Panok and dumping his weighted body in a river.

On Saturday the justice minister commuted the death sentence of Edgar Veley to life imrisonment. Veley, convicted of the January shooting of district farmer Wilfred Miller, was scheduled to be hanged along with Hladiy.

Denies Taking Clerk On Political Tour

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent in the House of Commons Monday denied a claim by Howard Green (PC—Vancouver-Quadra) that he took along J. W. Pickersgill, clerk of the Privy Council, on a "political" tour of the West last summer.

Mr. St. Laurent denied he was on "political" tour when the $15,000-a-year civil servant accompanied him part way on his western trip.

When he was engaged on "political campaigns or political voyages," the prime minister said, he did not take the clerk of the Privy Council with him. He recognized that would not be proper.

No Argument Here

TIMMINS (CP)—The civic fathers have to deal with many petitions from property owners for sidewalks. The petitions are passed on to the town engineer for his observations. This week they received a one-man petition for another sidewalk. This time they didn't ask the town engineer for advice. The lone signature on the petition was his.

Approve Civic Budget

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—City council Monday night approved the 1953 budget of $11,387,847 and a 60-mill tax rate which is the highest in the city's history. The budget, recommended by board of control, was passed without debate at a brief session. Last year's tax rate was 57 mills.

Duguid Arrives In Toronto Under Guard

TORONTO (CP)—Harry Duguid, No. 8 on the RCMP's list of most wanted criminals, arrived by plane from Vancouver Monday under heavy police guard and was later charged with the $15,000 armed robbery of a Toronto branch of the Dominion Bank in March, 1943.

Duguid, 38-year-old former plastics manufacturer, was arrested in Vancouver for a theatre break-in. He is also wanted on a charge of robbing the Stamford branch of the Imperial Bank of $19,000 in 1947 and for breaking out of the Welland county jail while awaiting trial for the Stamford robbery.

Heavily shackled when he appeared in court, Duguid was remanded without bail until May 4.

MURDER SUSPECT

A murder suspect, Henri Seguin, was also brought from Vancouver with Duiguid. Seguin, who was taken to Kingston penitentiary, faces a charge of shooting Leonard Hurd, 41, a business man, whose bullet-riddled body was found Aug. 16, 1952, in a cab at Maxville, 20 miles north of Cornwall. Police believe he was robbed of $800.

Seguin was arrested at Williams Lake, B.C., Dec. 16 after he was wounded in a gun battle with police. He was arrested following a bank holdup and sentenced originally to five years for the attempted murder of the manager, Leonard Hillier, the Crown appealed the sentence, which was increased to 20 years.

The two men were brought to Toronto by inspector Robert Wannell and a corporal of the Ontario provincial police. Few of the plane's passengers were aware that police and prisoners were aboard.

U.S. Air Force Fires First Silver Bullets

By C. YATES McDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Air Force has fired its first "silver bullets" in an effort to get what gunfire hasn't bagged in Korea—a live Communist pilot with a flyable MiG-15 or other modern Soviet warplane.

In offering rewards to Red pilots who land their planes on Allied airfields, the United Nations command has come up with a jet age version of an accepted tactic in the gaudy era of Chinese warlords.

The announced price scale for the first man and aircraft is $100,000 and for each subsequent pilot and plane, half as much.

Senators generally applauded the plan, although fear was expressed that the psychological warfare move might backfire.

Chairman Leverett Saltonstall (Rep. Mass.) of the Senate armed services committee said in an interview he regarded the offer as a bold stroke.

WORTH TRYING

"Any step, however unusual and unprecedented, that leads in the direction of a satisfactory solution of the war in Korea is worthwhile and should be tried," he said.

Senator Wayne Morse (Ind. Ore.) said the offer furnishes "another example of taking the initiative in demonstrating to the people behind the Iron Curtain that the western nations are seeking only peace and to bring the war in Korea to an end without bloodshed."

But Senator John Sparkman (Dem. Ala.), member of the Senate foreign relations committee, said he wonders if the psychological warfare move might boomerang if no Communist pilot takes up the offer.

"What happens then, do we lose face and a Communist morale booster" he asked. "I don't want to be in the position of criticizing, but I hope the high command has thought this through and weighed all the risks."

Senator William Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) said he regards the $100,000 price tag on the first delivered jet as "a good bargain just on a business basis."

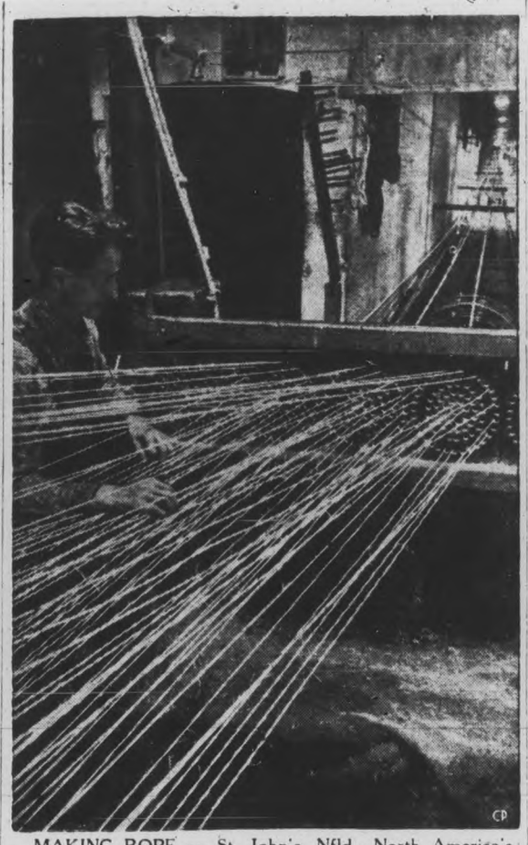
No one here knows how the Russians figure the cost of a MiG-15, but its nearest U.S. counterpart, the F-86, runs to about $230,000. And the cost of training an American pilot is nearly $60,000.

ORIGIN OBSCURE

The origin of the term "silver bulets" is obscure. Some old legends had it that persons with charmed lives were immune to lead bullets, but could be killed with silver ones.

In China, the term took on a special meaning. It was applied to the idea of buying what you couldn't—or didn't want to risk—winning by fighting. More than 2,000 years ago, according to legend, a Chinese emperor bought off the chieftain of an invading horde by sending him a harem princess daughter.

Not so many years ago entire Chinese armies have changed hands for less than $100,000, and the "defeated" general usually got a high sounding title thrown in for palmed off, of course, as his face-saving good measure.



70 Rings Stolen Two Youth Charged

TORONTO (CP)—Donald Munroe, 21, a baggageroom employee at nearby Malton airport, and Eugene S. Crouse, 21, both of Toronto, were arrested Monday on charges of stealing 70 diamond rings.

The rings, on their way to retail dealers across Canada by air, were valued at $4,500.

Police said the thefts occurred during March and April and that Munroe had five of the rings in his possession when arrested on a downtown street.

Parts of the present church at Lindfield in Sussex, England, were built between 1220 and 1260.

MAKING ROPE — St. John's, Nfld., North America's oldest city, is believed to have the only "rope walk" in Canada. Dating back to the early days of the Grand Banks fisheries, this old system of hand-making rope is still preferred by east coast fishermen. Rope-maker Tom Walsh adjusts the tension on the 24 strands of sisal being pulled to form three ropes on the quarter-mile rope walk.

Now Wiring Human Brains To Help Banish Bad Pain

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Human brains are being wired inside to produce tiny shocks to banish terrible pain or to treat mental illness.

Two to eight electric wires are planted as deep as three inches inside the brain. Any pair of wires can be hooked to a machine to carry a slight electric current through chosen parts of the brain. The currents seem to dynamite hormones into action.

The wires have brought one bedridden woman freedom from the incessant pain of hopeless cancer, Dr. Robert G. Heath, professor of psychiatry and neurosurgery at Tulane University Medical School, said today.

She has not needed morphine for six weeks, is up and about.

Thirty mental patients have had the brain wiring in the last three years, but Dr. Heath declined to discuss those results now.

He described this significant new attack upon pain to science writers ending a tour sponsored by the American Cancer Society. He stressed that the work still is preliminary.

HOLES IN SKULL

The wires are implanted through two little holes made in the front, top part of the skull. A fluoroscope machine guides the surgeon in putting each wire at selected spots. The brain end of each wire has a tiny bulb or electrode.

The outside ends of the wires are soldered to sockets, which are incorporated into a big head bandage. There is no discomfort. The wires can be withdrawn anytime later.

Any pair of wires can be used either to record brain waves electrically, or to send the currents from one electrode to another through part of the grey matter.

Dr. Heath showed a dramatic movie of pain relief won by the woman whose cancer had spread through her pelvis. Shots of morphine brought relief for only two hours.

But as soon as the current—two milliamperes or 2,000ths of an ampere—was turned on, her pain was gone.

The treatments kill her pain for a week or 10 days, then she has another electric stimulation.

COMPLETE DRY WALL CONSTRUCTION SAVES TIME . . . MONEY!

NEW *MASONITE TEMPERED PRESDWOOD EXTERIOR SIDING

AND *TEN/TEST ASPHALT PROTECTED INSULATING SHEATHING

It's smoother . . . stronger . . . permanent! The permanent exterior siding in panels of 12", 14" and 16" wide by 4' and 8' long. No waste, no splits, no sap. Harder than oak. Won't rot or decay. Fits snugly without gaps. Nails hold securely. It will outweather the weather and outlast the framing. Takes less paint and holds it longer. Tests for years have proven long life, lasting appearance and definite economy of this improved siding.

It's rigid, bracing insulation! Greater insulation in 3/8" thickness as the large panels cut down on joints and reduce cold infiltration. Faster applications as 4' x 9' panels can be easily handled by one man — reducing nailing, fitting and sawing to a minimum. There is less waste, for even cut-off pieces can be used at eaves and under windows. No open knots or split ends—a sound sheathing. The large panels cover greater studding area and ensure a stronger, more durable structure. A money-saving innovation!

Available in 3/8" and 1/2" thickness. Comes in natural color Tempered Presdwood that requires priming and paint finish...or surface primed ready for final paint finish.

Remember, this asphalt protected TEN/TEST Insulating Sheathing repels water moisture, but still allows free passage of vapour for the prevention of condensation. It builds stronger, warmer, economical—well insulated homes.

WITH *IP. BIRCH HARDWOOD PLYWOODS

It's rich . . . lasting . . . beautiful! The attractive, velvety surface and rich graining of IP. Birch Plywoods make them the accepted choice for interior wall panelling of discriminating home owners. Many individual wall treatments can be realized with these smooth, rich grained plywoods. So bright when applied in natural finish — so distinctive when stained to simulate any wood treatment. Won't check or craze — the finish will last indefinitely.

Cardigans Trimmed, Made To Match Cotton Dresses

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—At long last, British manufacturers are giving attention to an article of wear that is almost a British tradition.

They're pepping-up the cardigan—that also-ran of women's wear that has changed only slightly throughout years of fashion variation.

For the first time, cardigans trimmed and tailored to match cotton dresses will be on sale this summer in the big department stores. Checked gingham dresses teamed with boxy cardigans, the round neck and straight front edge trimmed with matching gingham, will cost around £10.

PIPED NECKLINES

The same price will cover camisole-necked dresses in glazed prints with neat waists and full skirts. These are teamed with dark cardigans fitted to the waist, the V-shaped neckline piped in dress material.

For too long, British manufacturers have relegated cardigans to the shelves of inconspicuous garments meant to "go under" something else.

This was their first place in the scheme of fashion, but women today want smart cardigans to go with the neatly-styled tub-frocks that can be bought at the lowest prices.

WILL BE POPULAR

The "new" cardigans bring an elegance to every-day cottons, filling a long-standing need for those who can't afford couture models. There is little doubt of outstanding sales popularity when the number of lines increase and prices drop.

A winner with the smart girl on a dancing or cocktail date would be a style shown recently in Paris. Made to cover "all that needs covering," it consists merely of two long, lacy woollen sleeves joined at back.

It seems that sales persistence has, for once, won the day. Each year since the war, fashion writers in newspaper articles have bemoaned the sloppy look of the old cardigans "that blossom each year with the hawthorns." Despite plenty of fashion tips on the latest smart boleros and jackets, at reasonable prices, women stuck to the cardigan.

"It's so handy," is the general reply to all criticism.

Silver Cross Chapt. To Donate A Croupette

A coupette is to be donated to the Civic Hospital by the Silver Cross Women of Peterborough it was decided at the regular chapter meeting Monday evening at the YWCA. Considerable discussion preceded this decision, over which president Mrs. A. S. Williams presided.

Excerpts from the new letter of the National Chapter, read by Mrs. A. Fitzgerald, included wording of the cable sent by national president Mrs. P. H. Ludlow to Queen Elizabeth II extending sympathy in the death of Dowager Queen Mary. Also given were details concerning the Air Force memorial at Runnymede, England, to be unveiled by the Queen in September. Next of kind of all who are commemorated will receive separate invitations to attend this ceremony.

Five boxes ready to be sent to men in Korea were reported by Mrs. E. Pruner. Mrs. J. H. Coones reported on flowers sent to ill and bereaved members. Floral tributes placed in the chapel at Civic Hospital the past month were from Mrs. S. Forsythe, Mrs. F. J. Leether, Mrs. A. G. Morrow, Mrs. F. W. Burnham and Mrs. F. M. Craig.

Treasurer Mrs. John Allen included the amount of proceeds of the spring tea in her report. The secretary's report was by Mrs. N. Fee.

DOROTHY DIX:

Bride Takes Advantage Of Neighbor's Kindliness

DEAR MISS DIX: This may sound like a silly problem but it is bothering me a lot. Seven months ago a bride of 21 moved into the neighborhood, and we became friendly. Since she didn't have much household equipment, I offered to lend her my things, and let her use my washing machine, etc. Soon we were having lunch together on the days she used the washer, and that has now become a taken-for-granted custom. Originally, I thought she would buy some of these household things as she went along, but now I discover that she is more interested in getting money into the bank than she is in purchasing equipment. She has never made an attempt to pay for electricity or water used in the washer, nor made any effort to repay, in any way, her use of my other things. I'm getting a little tired of it now, and am beginning to think she's taken advantage of me.

Of course, I realize that I was the one to offer my things in the first place, and I also realize that the girl is very young and perhaps hasn't learned to give as well as take. I'd hate to hurt her feelings, as I really like her, but I also hate to be imposed upon.

JULIA V.

YOU OR YOUR POSSESSIONS

ANSWER: Only you can decide whether the satisfaction of not being imposed upon or the girl's friendship is worth more to you. On your choice depends your future actions. There's no doubt but that the girl is taking some advantage of you, but her youth and inexperience may account for her apparent thoughtlessness. Perhaps her present finances won't permit the purchase of major household equipment, or perhaps she's putting money in the bank for that purpose. Taking all these possibilities into consideration, you must make up your own mind whether you are being cultivated merely for the use of your possessions or whether friendship comes first with her and your generosity second.

My frank opinion is that you are being "taken over" to some extent, though I'd like to give the bride the benefit of any doubt. Make sure of your ground before taking steps to stop the borrowing. If you do come to the conclusion that the magnet is your possessions more than yourself, put a "not in use" sign on your household goods.

DEAR MISS DIX: My 18-year-old daughter has been going steady for three years with a young man who is now 21. What worries me is that everything he tells her is a lie or an exaggeration. He's a good worker, good looking and has a nice disposition, but he cannot seem to overcome this bad habit. He doesn't even seem to mind when he's found out in a lie. Both my daughter and I have spoken to him about it, but to no avail. He's careful around us, but outside he goes the limit. Some of his tales are absolutely fantastic. My daughter really loves him, but what chance has she of a good marriage with him?

A WORRIED MOTHER

ANSWER: There may be disadvantages to a marriage with this boy, but they certainly won't include boredom! His culpability can be judged largely by the type of lying he does, why and where he does it, and if he injures anyone by it! He sounds to me like a dreamer who likes to entertain folks with his tall tales rather than a mean person who lies for the sake of hurting others. Naturally, if the latter is the case, I would advise a quick and permanent end to the friendship, but apparently the former instance is nearer the truth (if truth can be mentioned in this connection). If the boy weaves stories for the entertainment or amusement of others, you and your daughter will just have to adjust to his imagination.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 28 years old and am looking for a beautiful young lady to keep house for me. You have helped other people out; can you help me?

P. S.

ANSWER: I think a "Help Wanted" ad is what you should use. Beautiful young ladies are more apt to be looking for handsome providers than for housekeeping jobs. What, if any, salary do you have in mind?

FUNCTIONAL AND DECORATIVE addition to modern interiors is the room divider which separates living and dining areas and has storage space on both sides of the base. This two-piece divider of birch finished in a wheat shade, has a shelf that slides out on either side. Open shelf section on top is not joined to base.

Dividers Make New Homes Better

Latest edition to the growing list of double-purpose furniture is the two-faced divider of cabinets and shelves which can serve two rooms at a time.

They're wonderful for the new ranch type houses with open "living areas" instead of wall-enclosed rooms.

The divider doubles as storage unit and as screen between guests in the living area and a dish-laden table in the dining area.

I find also that they can fit usefully into older homes. For example, in the 25-year-old home I live in, the front door opens directly into one end of the living room. A divider placed at this end partially screens the entrance to create the illustion, at least, of a foyer without cutting down the size of the living room.

Another spot where a room divider makes use of wasted space in the older home is the wide square or arched opening between living and dining rooms.

Because a divider must be finished on all sides and involves extra cabinet work, it costs more than comparable chests or cabinets which can be pushed against a wall to hide a roughly finished back. On the other hand, some come in two sections—a cabinet base with an open shelf top so one can split the purchase to fit a budget.

To give you an idea, one new modern divider in solid birch has a five-foot long base with book shelves flanked by two closed compartments on each side which sell for about $160. The separate one shelf top cost about $70. One thing I like particularly about this unit is a sliding shelf that gives extra serving space in the dining area or desk space in the living area .

Another modern silvery elm divider wraps all its advantages up in one piece for about $300. This one has open and closed shelf space which can be reached from either side, a drop front desk on one side, a plastic-topped hinged serving shelf o nthe other. Thanks to a realistic designer, the shelves are roomy enough to take a stack of Sunday papers and thus help free the room of customary clutter.

You can go on up in price to $500 or beyond if your budget can stand the rarified atmosphere.

If modern furniture does not suit you, what about early American? A new colonial maple divider has traditional hardware, simulated wood pegs and simple sturdy lines. Six cupboards alternate with open shelves on top and the base boasts drawers, cupboards and shelves which give a lot of storage space in one unit.

The warmth of natural oak plus the decorative effect of drawers faced in striped British oak makes a divider six feet long that's able to blend with traditional or modern. All you need is money in the bank and plenty of floor space.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Tips For Newlyweds When Buying Food

My little private-eye jaunt through the grocery store certainly struck a knowing note among you readers.

But there are so many young people in this audience that it is not quite fair to criticize shopping habits—for some of the purchase-choices that new wives make are mistakes—but they are mistakes of inexperience, not indifference.

I wonder now if I was too strong in my criticism. Naturally I didn't mean to criticize you who are my friends. But, if such spot-lighting makes you more nutrition-conscious, and helps you stretch your food dollar to better advantage, then I have accomplished my purpose — tactless as I may have seemed.

After World War I I knew a girl who was in charge of a relief station where relief coupons were doled out to heads of families in a large Canadian city. She was professionally trained as a dietitian, but became a social service worker by choice. After the day's work was done she would suffer agonies over the diets of her reliefers. I can hear her yet bemoaning their white bread,—jam-and-tea routine, eaten every morning noon and night.

At heart she was a crusader and used to dream of the wonderful system whereby poor mothers could learn what their families needed to nourish them, then be taught how to cook it, and then by some miracle, how to acquire the money (but not from the government) to purchase the necessary provisions.

Thank Providence that the number of Canadian folk on relief is at a minimum and employment is high.

But still there are girls who write to me who have to make their food dollars stretch to the last squeezed cent, and who care very much about the nutrition of their young and loved ones.

It is to these girls that these buying tips are directed today—not to you seasoned buyers who know exactly what you want and what's more can recognize it when you see it.

This is for that bewildered pair of drooping young lilies who lean on one another at the meat counter: She says What meat will I buy for Sunday? He says I dunno — What was that red meat with the streaks in we had last week? She says Oh that must have been ham —or was it bologna?

You know the type. Marianne calls them "completely clueless". She ought to know—she's on the verge when it comes to buying meat! How can I say such a thing about my own precious one?

MEAT BUYING TIPS

Why settle for Blue Brand Beef when you can have Red Brand for the same price?

The price of meat is no indication of its food value. For instance because of the demand for it calves' liver is very high-priced, but pork liver when bought very fresh runs it a close second for flavor and has an extra dividend for it is a richer source of iron, and costs about half the price. The edible portion of spareribs is very low when compared to an equal weight of pork loin. Often when the butcher is cutting up and tying boneless roasts he has to trim away pieces of lean meat. These are packaged as stewing beef or veal and sold as specials at many meat counters. These are good buys. When buying beef look for firm, smooth, well-marbled lean meat with small flecks of fat through it of a cherry red color. Veal should be fine-textured, firm and of a light grey-pink. Lamb shoud be fine-grained and dull pink in the lean portion,—the fat should be firm, creamy-white or ever so slightly pink. Pork should have a moderate layer of firm white fat, and be relatively fine-grained in the lean, firm and light grayish-pink.

When you buy ground meat of any kind—hamburg, ground beef, ground veal, ground lamb or any of the sausage products, which are usually mostly ground pork,—use them as soon as possible, or freeze them at once if they are to be held for any length of time. You see all of those cut surfaces of ground meat have been exposed to the air, and will spoil much more rapidly than uncut meat.

That is the end of the lecture for today—but don't worry—I'll be back. You can't get rid of me that easily.

Apsley Deaconess Shows Pictures At St. Luke's

A large gathering of the St. Luke's members of the WA and the GA was in the parish hall Monday evening to hear Miss Mabel Jones, deaconess at Apsley, describe her work previously in the Arctic at the Indian School of Aklavik. She was introduced by Canon W. J. Gilling who told of the work she is doing in Apsley.

Miss Jones delighted with her colored camera pictures showing every phase of life in the Arctic village, magnificent vistas of the Mackenzie River and delta, colorful costumes of the Indian and Eskimo natives, dog teams tripping across snow plains, children swimming in the hot summer, the bright Arctic flowers, crops of cabbage and lettuce, the beautiful Anglican cathedral and the modern hospital and Indian residential school and other aspects of the country. She also showed some colorful autumn scenes taken around Apsley. At the close Miss Jones was thanked by Mrs. R. G. Maniece.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of a life membership to Mrs. Maniece for "devoted service to the church and the WA". Presentation of the certificate was made by the rector and Mrs. D. H. Wyatt pinned on the gold cross, symbol of life membership.

Another presentation was of the badges won at the GA festival in Toronto April 11 by four girls of the GA, Helen Walker, Marilyn Vint, Diane Pearse and Beverley Pollock. GA leader Miss Anita Mason conducted this ceremony.

Afternoon Branch of the WA, of which Mrs. Wyatt is president, were hostesses on this occasion to the Evening Branch members and the GA. Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. H. Hamilton and committee.

WIN A C·C·M·BIKE!

NUCOA margarine gives away 5 BICYCLES EACH WEEK!

You'll be the envy of all the kids, riding a brand new C.C.M. bike! So, boys and girls, tell us in your own words why you'd like a new bicycle—and you've a chance to win! Every week, April 11th until May 16th, 1953, NUCOA will give away 5 new C.C.M. Standard bicycles! Yes, 30 brand new C.C.M. bikes!

HERE'S HOW TO WIN

1. Finish, in 15 words or less, the sentence "I'd like a new bicycle because . . .".

2. Write your entry on the entry form, obtainable from your grocer, or on a piece of plain white stationery, but each entry must be accompanied by the end-flap with the white square on it, or reasonable facsimile, from a NUCOA carton. Mail as many entries as you like (but each must be accompanied by the end-flap, or facsimile) to: "NUCOA", Post Office Box No. 36, Station "B", Hamilton, Ontario.

3. Contest is open to all boys and girls in Ontario, except families of employees of The Best Foods (Canadian), Ltd., or that Company's sales or advertising agencies.

4. There will be six weekly contests. Each contest closes on a Saturday, commencing April 11th and weekly thereafter. Entries post-marked after midnight each Friday will be considered in the next week's contest. Entries for the final contest must be received by Friday, May 15, 1953, on which date the last contest closes.

5. The five entries each week adjudged best in the opinion of a panel of judges will be awarded C.C.M. bicycles. The winners will be notified by mail within a week after the close of each weekly contest. Lists of prize winners available on request.

6. The judges' decisions will be final and no correspondence will be entered into regarding this contest.

WATKINS—In loving memory of Albert W. (Bill) Watkins, who passed away April 28, 1946.
No dead, but passed beyond,
This mist that binds us here,
Into the newer, larger life
Of that unclouded sphere.
—Ever remembered by mother, sisters and brothers.

WATKINS—In loving memory of our daddy, Bill Watkins, who died so suddenly April 28, 1946.
Beautiful memories tenderly kept
Of a daddy we loved and will never forget
Deep in our hearts
He will always remain
Till God in his time unites us again.
—Lovingly remembered by daughters Norma, Greets and Dianne.

WATKINS—In loving memory of my husband, Bill Watkins, who died suddenly April 28, 1946.
Just a memory fond and true
To show dear Bill
I think of you
Memories drift to scenes long past
Time rolls on but memories last.
—Lovingly remembered by wife, Wanda.

Brakes Catching Case Dismissed

A charge of careless driving against John Nichols of 479 Park St. was dismissed today in Magistrate's Court. The charge was laid following a single car accident April 4 on Highway No. 7, seven miles west of Peterborough.

PC D. K. Ross who investigated the accident, testified he found the Nichols car in a ditch on the highway. A nearby telephone pole was broken and a tree scraped. About 150 feet of tire marks showed the car had skidded sideways across the highway.

ON WRONG SIDE

Gordon Laplante of RR 2, Peterborough, was driving on the highway at the time of the accident. He said Nichols' car had been driving in its wrong lane, swerved to its correct lane and skidded sideways across the road into a telephone pole and tree. He said the car seemed out of control.

In court, Nichols attributed the car's actions to brake trouble. He said the brakes had recently been repaired but complained of having trouble with one catching.

On this argument, Magistrate W. R. Philip dismissed the charge.

Province Cuts

"This whole thing reverts back to the Buckhorn Road," he said. "All our bylaws are being cut by the department. The Buckhorn Road isn't necessary but the bridge has to built at Gannon's Narrows.

"Let the Suburban Area Roads Commission do their 3½ miles of road this year....we're paying twice—through the county for the suburban area roads commission and secondly through debentures. The Buckhorn Road is something that the average man in the east of the county—in Belmont and Havelock—will never see."

Reeve Griffith also said that the council could forget about relief by way of a rebate on a gasoline tax. He said he had recently been talking to George Doucett, minister of highways, and the ministe was dead against this measure.

The supplementary money bylaw for the financing of the Buckhorn Road is for $58,000. The county pay $14,000; the city pay $14,000 and the department pay $28,000.

The county decided to debenture their $14,000 so if the $16,500 is applied on this account it will make the issuing of debentures unnnecessary.

District Engineer Marston suggested that the county roads account may not be in such bad shape after all. He backed this up with a few figures.

True, the approved appropriation has been cut by $33,000, but there are some items of expenditure in the 1952 roads and bridges account that will not likely recur in 1953. Last year $20,000 was spent on new machinery (rebuilding the heavily damaged four-wheeled-drive truck, cost of the primary crusher, and the last payment by the Suburban Area Roads Commission on the motor grader). Another $7,000 was spent on overhauling machinery.

Moreover, the current account shows that $12,000 less has been spent in the first quarter this year than last.

"That makes $39,000," said Mr. Marston. "You will probably have an expenditure for maintenance of machinery but things are not so appalling as at first they appeared."

Clipped Car In Passing, Driver Fined

Convicted on charges of careless driving and having liquor, Thomas Kelly of Indian River was fined a total of $25 and $9.25 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp today.

Testifying on the charge of careless driving, Ray Pearson of Lake St. said Kelly's car had clipped his while passing the night of April 11 on No. 28 Highway, four miles north of Peterborough.

Kelly said a passenger had put his foot on the accelerator, forcing him to pass Pearson. The passenger then wrenched the wheel, making him hit the other car.

After striking the Pearson car, Kelly's vehicle travelled along the shoulder of the highway and slipped into a ditch before coming to a rest.

While investigating the accident, OPP Constable John Lacombe found a case of beer in the Kelly car.

Magistrate Philp fined the defendant $10 and $6.75 costs on the traffic charge and $15 and $2.50 on the liquor count.

Bd. Recommends

"The McColl-Frontenac business was in distributing gasoline directly to service stations. Mine is with consumers, and I want to obtain 100 per cent goodwill and co-operation of the neighborhood. If you allow me to locate there, this council can rest assured that you will get my fullest co-operation."

Mr. MacPherson said there was to be no filling of gasoline drums for the rural trade. Any drums around the place were there only temporarily. The company was gathering them in and intended to distribute them among other depots where they could be of use.

Ald. Farquharson ticked off some of the complaints of the neighborhood deputation that recently objected to this transfer of business before the council. Mr. MacPherson said there would be someone at the depot all the time, and such reported nuisance as the ringing of a call bell and so on would be eliminated.

NIGHT NOISES

"There were a lot of complaints about night noises," Ald. S. J. Black said.

"There is no need for night filling at all," Mr. MacPherson said.

Ald. T. D. Miller: "Have you bought or leased the place?"

"I have negotiations, but they are not tied up finally."

Ald. Miller suggested that a hedge be planted around the storage property.

"The deputation also complained about untidiness," Ald. Graham said.

"There is nothing that can't be tidied up," Mr. MacPherson said. "I assure that council that I'll make it as attractive as possible."

He agreed with the complaint that gasoline was more volatile than fuel oil, but said that he was not handling gasoline.

To Ald. Black he said he hoped to use all the tanks because storage was desirable.

HANG-OUT

Later in the meeting Ald. Black said the deputation of residents had complained that the place had been a hangout for rubby-dubbers, and unless the tank depot was fenced in properly it might continue to be a place of nuisance.

"Whatever was wrong in that regard may have been allowed to go on by some previous management," Ald. Rehill remarked. "Certainly drinking does not go with the fuel oil delivery business."

Mayor Waddell said the tanks were erected prior to the zoning of the area, and it would be difficult to make a change now. It has been a place of storage for 33 years.

Ald. A. B. Burrows said there was apparently an aroused opinion from the neighborhood "and those people should get more consideration than they have had so far". Some day it might be "an excellent residential area, and the time for any change is now".

Mayor Waddell said that building of houses in the 33 years had recognized the existence of the McColl-Frontenac tanks.

Ald. Rehill expressed doubt that the tanks could be cleared off based on his short experience on the planning board.

"The installation is worth a lot of money," said Ald. Farquharson. "If the council stopped Mr. MacPherson, the owners would stand a heavy loss."

"I doubt that they would take it," Ald. Miller commented. "They made their investment with the authority of the city."

Ald. Black said the tanks should be outside the city. "We told them they had to put the tanks underground."

It was explained on that point that only gasoline tanks could be ordered underground.

OTHERS TOLD

"We've been telling others to move," Ald. Burrows said.

The vote on the Graham-Farquarhson motion carried by 6-4.

A motion by Ald. Miller directed City Clerk Oturam to write Mr. MacPherson advising him that in view of the complaints from the neighborhood he do his utmost to improve every phase of the situation there. Some of the objections could be readily removed in cause.

It was proposed that the motion was not necessary, but that the letter be written to Mr. MacPherson, and also to Mr. Townsend of the deputation explaining the position of the council in dealing with a long established depot.

First Classic Of Turf Season Opens In Britain

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—They're off and running Wednesday in the first of Britain's 1953 racing classics, and there'll be plenty of kings and princes around to provide an atmosphere appropriate to Coronation Year.

Not flesh-and-blood kings and princes, necessarily. The regal touch will mostly be supplied by the nomenclature of horses such as Masai King, King of the Tudors, Prince Charlemagne and Prince Christian—all entries in the first big flat race of the season.

The event is the Two Thousand Guineas, a test for three-year-olds run over the straight Rowley mile at Newmarket. The other "classics" of the year are the One Thousand Guineas for three-year-old fillies, run at Newmarket Friday, the Epsom Derby and Oaks and the Doncaster St. Leger.

SURE OF VICTORY

The "Golden Guineas," won last year by French invader Thunderhead II, is usually a wide-open event, but this time north country folk won't hear of the possibility of defeat. Their faith is reposed in William Humble's Nearula, which if successful will be the first Yorkshire horse to win the guinean in this century.

Nearula easily defeated the best English colts and fillies in his two-yeas-old season and is likely to go to the post wednesday 2-to-1 favorite.

Among Nearula's opponents in the field of about 17 top three-year-olds will likely be the filly Bebe Grande, six times a winner as a two-year-old. South African sportsman J. S. Gerber, part-owner of the flying filly, has said she will contest both the Two Thousand Guineas and the One Thousand Guineas two days later—a tough, schedule for a thoroughbred which seems to be better at spring distances than at a mile.

Other contenders are the Aga Khan's massive colt Masai King, second favorite in the betting; the mystery horse King of the Tudors, which won the only race of his life like a champion but hasn't been seen out since; the Queen's horse Aureole, a sentimental choice, Prince Christian, owned by Lincolnshire farmer Frank Dennis; and Prince Charlemagne, a recent winner by eight lengths.

Mink Skins Stolen

NEW YORK (AP)—Mink skins valued at approximately $80,000 were stolen during the week-end from a fur broker's office, police reported Monday.

Car Takes To Air

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Edmund W. Mercer was driving along Monday when suddenly his car was lifted into the air. A man hole explosion had blown a heavy lid upward several feet just as Mercer's automobile passed over it. Mercer escaped with only a shaking. His car was damaged badly.

STARTING HOME—Alfred G. Vanderbilt's great grey Native Dancer (second from right) comes abreast Tahitian King (right) to start stretch drive and a victory in $123,750 Wood Memorial at Jamaica track Saturday, with Eric Guerin aboard. Tahitian King is piloted by Hedley J. Woodhouse and finished second, four and one-half lengths behind. Others are Magic Lamp (left), Jack G. Westrope up; Invigorator (second from left), driven by David Gorman, third; and Jamie K., ridden by Conn McCreary. Native Dancer, unbeaten in 11 straight races, paid a skimpy $2.20, $2.10 and $2.10 for $2 across the board.

Demarco Wins 10-Round Bout With Savoie

MONTREAL (CP)—Paddy DeMarco of Brooklyn Monday night strengthened his position as a top contender for the world lightweight boxing crown, winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Armand Savoie of Montreal, Canadian lightweight champion.

It was the same Savoie who recently won a split decision over world-champion Jimmy Carter in a non-title fight and who was touted for a shot at the crown. But when DeMarco had finished with him, even the partisan home-town crowd didn't dispute the decision.

As one Montreal sports writer put it, "from the looks of things last night, DeMarco could take Savoie easily any time."

After the Carter-Savoie bout, Carter's manager, Willie Ketchum said he favored a title match between the two, apparently ready to ignore National Boxing Association and New York commission demands that Carter take on George Araujo of Providence.

CAME OUT LOSER

It was against such a background that Savoie, at 137, went in against DeMarco, 138, and came out the loser.

DeMarco, tough and rugged, threw too many punches for Savoie, continually crowded him and gave the rangy Montrealer little chance to cut loose with his sharp-shooting rights.

It wasn't until the fifth that the Canadian champion got through and took a round with hard right-hand uppercuts and sharp, straight lefts. Savoie broke loose with what looked like a terrific left to the jaw in the sixth, but it didn't seem to bother the aggressive Brooklynite much.

DeMarco's powerful right hand swings gave him the advantage in the eighth and ninth and Savoie took the 10th when DeMarco was content to coast on an obvious lead.

Pick Fighters To Enter Boxing Finals

HAMILTON (CP)—A selection committee began the task of picking a contingent of fighters to go to Montreal for the Dominion amateur boxing finals after the Athletic Association Union zone eliminations were held here Monday night.

Bob Richards of St. Catharines won the heavyweight class by default. Elmer Gelzin scored a unanimous decision over Jerry Hamilton of Welland to take the light-heavyweight class.

Danny Saunders of Hamilton won the welterweight division with a knockout over Joey Wellman of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Joe Hogan knocked out Bob DeVallier of Sarnia to win the lightweight class.

Garry Williams of Hamilton scored a unanimous decision over Jerry Wilkinson of Hamilton to win the middleweight honors and Jim Hurley of Brantford won the bantam class with a split decision over Don Churm of Brantford.

Eddie Beattie won the feather-weight division and Maurice Labelle of Sarnia won the flyweight division, both by default.

Elmer Gelzin, 165, won unanimous decision over Jerry Hamilton, 163, (3).

Frick Warns Ball Clubs To Cut Out Card Games

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick, taking official cognizance of clubhouse games for high stakes, issued a stern warning to all 16 major league clubs Monday against gambling and association with gamblers.

Frick's warning was hailed by club officials and managers who promised that every possible step would be taken to comply with his edict. All insisted, however, that no gambling took place on their clubs.

In a bulletin Frick ordered posted in all clubhouses, the commissioner called attention to the "evil of permitting card games among your players where the stakes are high." He said he had information that some players were losing more money than they can afford.

SEEN IN JOINTS

Frick also charged that players have frequently been seen in "gambling joints operating within a stone's throw from the park," and warned that players or club employees who are found to be gambling will be declared ineligible at once.

"Responsibility for stamping out this evil (gambling) rests squarely on the shoulders of the manager and this office will accept no alibis in cases that are brought to our attention. . . ."

Frick made it plain, however, that he knew of no case where a player was found to be gambling, other than card playing.

Nine Canadians Sing With Choir

LONDON (CP)—Nine Canadian singers—five women and four men—will sing with the Westminster Abbey choir at the Coronation, it was announced today.

The nine, all now in Britain, are Canada's contribution to the group of Commonwealth artists invited to join the abbey choir for the Coronation.

The singers are: tenors Ernest Rosser of Hamilton and Robert Edy of London, Ont.; baritones Edmund Hockridge, formerly of Vancouver, and Naydn John of Toronto; sopranos Simone Flibotte and Clare Duchesneau of Montreal and Dorothy Allen, Sackville, N. B.; contraltos Jean Watson, formerly of Toronto, and Mary McCallum.

The list of Canadian singers was drawn up by the Canadian high commissioner in London, Norman Robertson, for Dr. William Mckie, abbey organist and director of music for the Coronation.

The abbey's great choir normally consists of 400 men and no women.

Young Singers Give Pleasing Concert

Two outstanding young Canadian artists—Miss Joan Hall, mezzo soprano of Winnipeg and Donald Garrrard, bass baritone of Vancouver — presented an extremely enjoyable and creditable performance at the Brock ballroom Monday night.

These two soloists, who were winners of the past year's nation-wide radio program, Singing Stars of Tomorrow, were assisted by Rex Battle, noted Canadian conductor and concert pianist, at the piano.

The only disappointing aspect of the evening was the size of the audience. Not more than 150 people came out to hear these young artists, who already are well on the way to successful musical careers.

Miss Hall, who has dramatic talents as well as a beautifully rich and free singing voice, was superb in the two arias, O Don Fatale from Verdi's opera Don Carlos and Seguidilla from the opera Carmen by Bizet.

POLISHED PERFORMANCE

The polished performance which this singer showed in these two arias was consistent in all her selections. Her voice was always under control and came through to the audience clearly and naturally at all times. Particularly noticeable were her lovely diminuendos.

Miss Hall's choice of selections included Morgen and Zueignung by Strauss, The Daisies and Sure on the Shining Night by Samuel Barber, Shoes by Manning and In the Silence of the Night by Rachmaninoff. She came back to sing Loch Lomond as an encore.

Mr. Garrard also has a well-disciplined and well-trained voice. His tone had a vibrancy that gave real feeling to his singing and never became excessively dark and heavy, which is too often a failing of bass baritones. He is a little behind Miss Hall in confidence on the stage. And his performance would have been much more effective if he had performed completely from memory. Music and notes are usually distracting both for the performer and the audience. However, these are only minor faults which no doubt will disappear with experience.

Mr. Garrard's program included The Earl King by Schubert, Die Mainacht by Brahms, Widmung by Schuman, La Calunia from The Barber of Seville by Rossini, Little Jack Horner by Diack, There is a Lady by Bury, Lord Randal by Cyril Scott, Because I Was Shy by Lyell Johnston. For an encore he sang Open Road, Open Sky.

DUET PERFORMANCE

The two vocalists rounded out their program with a duet performance—L'Amour Toujours by Friml and Tell Me Pretty Maiden by Stuart.

Mr. Battle's piano selections brought variety to the evening's program. He also acted as master of ceremonies, and his relaxed manner both on stage and at the piano gave the evening a pleasant and intimate informality.

He opened the program with a piano transcription by Busoni of Bach's Prelude and Fugue in D. Following intermission he came back to play three selections—The Cat Fugue by Scarlatti, Jeux d'Eau by Ravel and Waltz in A Flat by Chopin.

Mr. Battle is a competent pianist and his playing was well-applauded by an appreciative audience. He also proved himself a sympathetic accompanist.

Monday's concert was sponsored by the Peterborough Lions Club.

Mendell Braund Always Faithful —Major Roberts

In its forthright terms of spiritual militancy, the Salvation Army bade "farewell to a soldier, his warfare o'er" at the funeral service in memory of Mendell R. C. Braund Monday afternoon.

The Simcoe St. Temple was crowded with Comrades of Peterborough Corps and the other friends of the life time he had spent among them, silently endorsing the tribute of Major H. G. Roberts in his words: "Our Comrade was the essence of faithfulness. . . . to the principles of the Army and his God."

Bandsman Braund was for years the drummer of the senior band and as mourning symbols of his absence from its ranks his drum, "the bell of the Army," muffled in black crepe, was placed at one side of his casket on which his bandman's cap rested on crossed drumsticks. Against the floral background stood Color-Sergeant Norman Carr, his head bowed througouht the service, and the flag of the Army loosely furled on its upright staff.

The band at one side of the platform under the direction of Gerald Routley and the Songsters' Brigade at the other appeared to be in full attendance.

Major Roberts was assisted by Col. H. C. Ritchie, retired, and Corps Sergeant-Major Arthur Wells, and Bandsman Frank Robinson spoke of the life and work of Mendell Braund in contributing his share to the progress of Corps.

CHIEF USHER

"I first met him when he was quite a young boy," Mr. Robinson said. "Through the years I observed his life to young manhood. One thing I would like to recall out of that life was his place amongst us as chief usher. We all remember his personal greeting at the front of the hall, his unfailing kindness to older people who needed assistance to their seats, his sincere handclasp and his "God bless you" to young and old. Those were simple things, but they will remain long in our memories of him. We will also miss his rhythmic beat on that drum, our church bell, calling to worship. And he would want to sing "Keep in step with the Master." Mendell Braund was a good friend and a good Salvationist, because he was born again and a true Christian."

Major Roberts said the death of Mr. Braund had left a vacant place in the Corps, but his influence would remain, his cheeriness not only when going with the crest of the waves but also in times of difficulty.

Major Roberts spoke of the hope of Christians in the words of Jesus to Mary and Martha: "I am the resurrection and the life."

"To the many friends and comrades of Mr. Braund who are here today, his voice has ceased, his testimony will be heard no more. To those who are left the memory of his life will be a talisman calling us to renewed endeavor for God and righteousness. Remembering the high and noble principles that actuated our Comrade we will rededicate our hearts and lives to this the noblest cause of all, the cause of Jesus Christ."

In a light drizzle of rain the band marched in the van of the funeral procession part of the way to Little Lake Cemetery, and made the rest of the journey in cars. At the graveside it played its last music of dirge for the tall friendly bandsman who had been so long their bass drummer. The committal prayer was offered by Major Roberts.

The pallbearers were: Ben Smith, Gerald Routly, Ronald Routly, William Jones, William Lowell and Wilfred Boorman.

Edmonton Flyers Win Championship

EDMONTON (CP)—The rags-to-riches Edmonton Flyers' captured the Western Hockey League championship Monday night by routing Saskatoon Quakers 9-4.

When league president Al Reader presented Flyer captain Jimmy Uniac with the President's Cup it marked the end of Edmonton's long climb from the bottom of the eight-team loop in the early season to the Cinderella team of the playoffs who were not to be denied.

The charges of Bud Poile, who took Flyers to their first professional hockey championship of modern times in his Edmonton debut, swept the series from the defending titleholders four games to two.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lloyd Stinson has been elected CCF leader in Manitoba, it was announced today following a week-end meeting to draw up a CCF platform for the June 8 Manitoba election. He succeeds William (Scotty) Bryce, member of Parliament for Selkirk. During the last session of the legislature, Mr. Stinson was CCF house leader. He represented Winnipeg South.

Libel Suit Filed

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—A $5,000,000 libel suit has been filed by mayor John V. Kenny against former mayor Frank Hague Eggers and a printing company. The suit, filed here Monday, charged that Kenny was libeled by statements which said he was lax in fighting proposed fare increases on the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad, which links New York and New Jersey. These tatements, Kenny claimed, were made by Eggers and printed by Walter Scott of the Scott Printing Company.

Man Convicted As Drunk Driver

LINDSAY—(ENS)— A Leaskdale, Ont., salesman, Percy Hill, 40, was convicted Monday in police court of drunk driving. He was sentenced to seven days in jail with court costs of $15.50 or an additional 15 days.

His license was suspended and his car impounded for three months.

He was charged after an accident Saturday night on Kent St. W. According to Constable Percy Mark and Ross Bailey, Hill was driving behind another car driven by Robert Deyell of Lindsay.

When Deyell slowed down to make a right hand turn into the entrance of the Ross Memorial Hospital, Hill attempted to pass him on the right and the cars collided. There was about $75 damage to the Deyell car and $25 damage to the Hill car.

110TH ANNIVERSARY — The Ottawa Citizen, daily newspaper born in the horse-and-buggy era before Confederation, is celebrating the 110th anniversary of its founding with the completion of a new $2,000,000 wing. These three men, backed by a skilled staff of scores of others, help put out the morning and evening editions of the paper. Left to right: R. W. Southam, assistant publisher; Vincent Pask, chief news editor of the morning edition, and Marshall Yarrow, managing editor.

$2,000,000 Wing Marks 110th Birthday Of Southam Chain's Ottawa Citizen

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa Citizen, daily newspaper born in the horse-and-buggy era before Confederation, today celebrated the 110th anniversary of its founding with completion of a new $2,000,000 wing.

A special 160-page edition, filled with stories and pictures of bygone days, rolled off new presses capable of producing 45,000 papers an hour.

News carriers were given bonuses to bring their friends and carts along to help distribute the anniversary edition which compares with a normal edition of 36 pages.

STARTED AS WEEKLY

One of Canada's oldest newspapers, the Citizen, with a combined morning and evening daily circulation of 60,000, was born as a weekly entitled the Packet when Ottawa was a lumbering village called Bytown.

The Packet appeared first in 1844, just 17 years after Bytown was formed and 23 years before Confederation. It was published by William Harris, an Irishman, who operated in a small office on George street, a site now occupied by vegetable gardeners and produce merchants in lower-town Ottawa. Publisher Harris followed the Reform party and wrote scores of biting editorials.

The Packet went through difficult times. Mechanical equipment was rudimentary, circulation small and advertising revenues meagre. After two years Mr. Harris sold out and later became Crown land agent in Renfrew county.

LATER PUBLISHERS

Then followed a procession of publishers, most of whom played prominent parts in Bytown's historic progress.

One of them was Henry J. Friel, Montreal-born newspaper man who became Bytown's last mayor and one of the first mayors of the new city of Ottawa when the community switched its name in 1855. Four years earlier the Packet had become the Citizen.

It began twice-weekly publication in 1859 and six years later started daily editions. During the transition the paper had changed location and politics. It now was situated in a "hole-in-the-wall" office in central Ottawa on Sparks street a block from its recent location on the busy shopping street between Metcalfe and O'Connor. It supported the Conservative party.

At the start of the century the Citizen was a morning paper only. It had a daily circulation of 1,800 publishing from a flat-bed press capable of 900 papers an hour.

Then came the turning point in the paper's career. In 1897, a 29-year-old Hamilton man, Wilson Southam, took over the paper He ordered a new press which could boost production to 10,000 papers an hour, transferred the paper to a new building and went into the evening as well as the morning field.

In three months the combined circulation jumped from 1,800 daily to almost 6,000. Mr. Southam persuaded leading advertisers to transfer ads from the front to inside pages at a 50-per-cent increase in rates. And the paper became independent and liberal in politics.

He erected the first building in Ottawa specifically built to house a newspaper—the Citizen's present site. For almost a half-century Mr. Southam directed the paper's affairs until his death in 1920 when his brother, H. S. Southam, the present publisher, took over.

The Citizen is one of three daily papers published in the capital. The others are the Ottawa Journal and Le Droit. It is a member of the Southam group of newspapers which includes the Vancouver Province, Edmonton Journal, Calgary Herald, Winnipeg Tribune, Hamilton Spectator and the Medicine Hat News.

The original forested area of Canada has been estimated at nearly 2,000,000 square miles.

Sign Contract At Westclox

Negotiations begun last year between Local 570 I.U.E. and Westclox resulted in signing of a new contract Friday.

A number of points were agreed upon such as liberalization of qualification for vacation pay — changing the existing hospital and surgical plan from an insurance company to Blue Cross and Physicians Services—weekly pay instead of bi-weekly etc.

A general wage increase across the board of 6c per hour, effective March 30, together with a retroactive 4c per hour from December 1, 1952 to March 30, 1953, was a highlight of the contract.

Jos. E. Wirtz, International Representative of the International Union Electrical & Machine Workers, and J. H. Vernor, Executive Vice-President and General Manager of Western Clock Company, Limited, issued a joint statement expressing gratification that the contract had been successfully negotiated.

While a conciliation board sat upon the case, no recommendations resulted, the company and the union having arrived at an agreement.

Academy Rejects Bust Of Churchill

LONDON (AP)—The Royal Academy has unanimously rejected a bust of Prime Minister Churchill that was commissioned by the Queen but declined today to give its reason for the action.

A spokesman explained that the academy never discusses its rejections, adding: "Once we started explanations we would never stop."

The work is one of three of the prime minister made by Oscar Nemon. The Queen's order was Nemon's first major commission in Britain.

The busts each depict Churchill in different vein. The one submitted to the Royal Academy shows him with a grim, challenging expression.

If it receives royal approval the bust will have a place of honor in Windsor Castle. The academy's action, however, means the best will not be included in that body's Coronation Year exhibition.

Cousin, Nephew In Festival At Stratford

When the Shakespeare festival opens at Stratford, Ont., in July, two Peterborough residents will be on hand as more than disinterested spectators.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Crowe, of 611 Gilmour St., are looking forward to seeing two of their relatives take part in the festival with such noted British performers as Alec Guiness and Irene Worth, under the direction of Tyrone Guthrie.

Mr. Crowe's cuosin, Randolph Crowe, will shortly begin rehearsals at Stratford for the two plays which make up the six-weeks festival, Richard III and All's Well That Ends Well.

Starting his professional career as a singer, he played in a production of the opera "Hugh the Drover" and some time ago gave a concert in Peterborough. He later switched to the legitimate theatre and has appeared in several plays in the United States. He uses the stage name of Norman Roland.

NEPHEW TOO

Also appearing in the festival will be Robert Goodier, of Montreal, a nephew of Mrs. Crowe, who played a leading role in the Royal Canadian Navy's show, "Meet the Navy," during the Second World War.

Mr. Goodier, who recently starred in the Canadian Players' production of "Nina" at the University of Toronto's Hart House theatre, is frequently heard in CBC dramatic productions from Montreal under the direction of Rupert Caplan, including "Way of the Spirit" in which his wife has also been heard.

Mrs. Goodier, who uses the professional name of Eileen Clifford, also plays the title role in the radio serial "Laura Limited."

Daily Dusting

YEARS of medical research sponsored by the Ontario Mining Association may have found the answer to silicosis, the disease which attacks the lungs of miners exposed to silica dust. Curiously enough, the treatment consists of breathing very fine aluminum dust directly into the lungs; the aluminum renders the silica particles harmless. The treatment has been adopted in gold and other mining areas in Canada and throughout the world.

Aluminum, long used in hospital kitchens, today serves the medical profession in many ways —from aluminum foil for covering serious burns, to aluminum acetate for medical dressings, to aluminum blenders for the preparation of sterile biological products. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan)

Plan Nucleus For Hospital

TORONTO (CP)—Plans for early construction of a 400-bed group of buildings at London as the nucleus for large mental hospital for Western Ontario are among construction jobs scheduled for the province, Works Minister Griesinger said Monday night.

The minister, speaking in a provincial affairs series broadcast on the CBC, said the biggest single job on hand is completion of the Ontario Hospital and school at Smiths Falls for mentally defective persons. The first 900-bed unit was in use and the second was nearly finished.

The department planned improvements to the Ontario Agricultural College and the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph. Provincial police buildings were being constructed and work on new headquarters would begin this year at Ignace, Chapleau, White River, Sioux Narrows, Missinabe and Long Lac.

A 500-bed group of buildings is being constructed at Kingston for mental cases, the minister said.

Canadian Paintings Exhibited In Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—An exhibit of paintings of 22 cities of Canada by Canadian artists oened here Monday night before an audience of prominent government officials, diplomats, art critics, society leaders and Cuban artists.

The exhibit consists of 50 paintings, and its tour of leading capitals of Latin America and Europe is estimated by art critics to cost $500,000. Sponsoring the exhibits are the Royal Canadian Academy of Art and the House of Seagrams.

First showing of the works was in Ottawa, and the paintings were flown here from San Juan, Puerto Rico, first stop on the Latin American tour.

30 Summer Cottages May Fall In Lake

PORT DOVER (CP)—Some 30 summer cottages bordering the crumbling cliffs one mile west of here are in danger of a 100-foot plunge into Lake Erie if present erosion assisted by heavy rain continues.

Thousands of tons of rock, clay and trees have tumbled into the lake during the last few days as the water which has gnawed away the cliffs for years makes rapid headway.

Three summer cottages on the edge of the cliff are in danger. One of them, owned by Mrs. George Hewson of Brantford, is on the brink of the cliff.

Finds Moon Causes Tides In Upper Atmosphere Too

By FRANK E. CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Discovery that the moon causes "tides" in the upper atmosphere as well as in the oceans was reported Monday by a U.S. government scientist who said it offered new aid to international radio communication.

Declaring "high" tides of electrons take place twice a month high above the earth, due to lunar attraction, Dr. A. G. McNish of the national bureau of standards said commercial and military radio broadcasters transmitting over long distances could take advantage of the new finding in this way:

At certain times of the month, corresponding to the lunar atmospheric "tides," they could utilize additional "channels" of radio communication at high frequency ranges without fear that these very short radio waves would be "lost" in the outer atmosphere.

EXTEND FREQUENCIES

He said the new finding could extend by 25 to 30 per cent the number of useable frequencies now employed in long range international broadcasting. The scientist explained that high-frequency, short radiowaves are good for achieving distance, but the higher the frequency, the more subject the wave is to absorption in the upper atmosphere.

But he added that the atmospheric "tides" provided by the moon result in dense layers of highly-excited electrical particles which could reflect back to the ear radiowaves that at their times in the month might escape into space.

He told about it in a report to a joint meeting of the International Scientific Radio Union and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Ottawa Rejects Road Conference

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has rejected, for the time being at least, a request for a federal-provincial conference on defence highways, partly because such roads do not rank high on its defence timetable.

The conference was requested by Premier Manning of Alberta March 28 and again April 10. His letters and replies by Prime Minister St. Laurent were tabled Monday in the House of Commons for A. F. Macdonald (L—Edmonton East).

The Trans-Canada Highway Association (Yellowhead route) last year proposed a Winnipeg-Vancouver military-civilian highway, to be paid for by the federal government. Gordon Taylor, Alberta highways minister, said in a Feb. 11 letter to Resources Minister Winters that provincial roads are built for a maximum load of 20 tons while even medium tanks weigh 40 tons.

American PoW Says Chinese Slew Most of 800 Wounded

TOKYO—(AP)—A repatriated American soldier today said Chinese troops ruthlessly sprayed 40 truckloads of wounded U.S. soldiers with burp guns, killing most of the nearly 800 helpless, screaming men. Then the Reds bayoneted many of the survivors, Pte. Tully Cox, 20, of Altona, Ala., told newspaper men in Tokyo Army Hospital. Cox, double amputee, was asked if he considered the mass machine-gunning premeditated murder. "That is what you'd call it," he said quietly. Cox was with the U.S. 7th division during a retreat through hordes of Chinese Reds Dec. 2, 1950. He was one of about 20 men guarding the 40-truck convoy of wounded.

"The Chinese climbed up on the trucks and sprayed burp guns into the wounded. Then they bayoneted them. The wounded were screaming. They coudn't do anything."

Cox, only 17 when captured said two buddies amputated both his feet with a pen knife at a Red prison camp they called Death Valley. It is 30 miles north of Changjin reservoir.

FEET SMASHED

One of his feet had been smashed by a Chinese mortar shell and a rifle bullet cut through the bone of the other leg.

Two buddies helped Cox make the march from the ambush to Death Valley.

"The Chinese shot Americans who couldn't walk," Cox said. "I can't figure out why they didn't shoot me."

At Death Valley, he said, his buddies "took the remainder of my feet off. My feet were frozen and had turned black. I passed out a couple of times. There were two guys there to hold me. It was about 40 below zero.

"There were no medics at all, and my life depended on it. I was pretty well on the road to death. I can't remember what I thought of during the operation. It lasted 20 or 30 minutes."

During the five months he was in Death Valley, Cox said, there was no medical care and not enough food and "I lost 60 or 70 pounds."

The Chinese operated on Cox in the fall of 1951, after he was transferred to camp No. 1 on the Yalu river. They sewed up the stumps of his legs, amputated just above the ankles.

Satellites Arm As Peace Drive Continues

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA (AP)—Any "peace offensive" now under way in East Europe is being accompanied by signs of bigger war preparation than ever behind the Iron Curtain.

Rather than indications of peaceful intentions, Western diplomats on duty in the Soviet-bloc countries report there are many signs of a deliberate intensification of military effort.

Both Czechoslovakia and Poland have announced big increases in their military spending for 1953 since Moscow extended the olive branch a month ago. Diplomats expect other satellites also to raise their budgets for guns, planes and troops soon.

14,000,000 TRAINED

An estimated 14,000,000 of East Europe's 80,000,000 people are either under arms or receiving semi-military training in schools and factories.

Vast sums of national budgets, diplomats believe, are being channeled from non-essential expenditures to the development of war industries.

The armament and training of "security forces," which upplement by millions the 1,125,000 men in the satellite armed forces, is uninterrupted.

A week ago Czech Finance Minister Jaroslav Kabes presented a 1953 budget doubling last year's expenditures for defence and internal security.

In the debate which preceded approval of the budget on April 23, deputy O. Burda disclosed the country's military plans. He said: "Now that the reorganization of our army is essentially completed, the way is open for further growth of our military power. Our civilian defence must be built up even more with the support and active participation of the masses.

U.S. Tornadoes Cause 5 Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—Stormy weather whipped across wide areas of the central part of the United States again today in the wake of Tuesday's tornadoes and thunderstorms which resulted in the death of five persons and injury to several others.

Texas was the hardest hit by the blustery spring storms. Five persons were killed at Kilgore when lightning exploded an oil storage tank, spreading flaming oil over a city block of 15 homes.

Tornadoes struck at two small Texas communities, at Helotes near San Antonio and Smithville, in the central part of the state. Eight to 10 persons were reported injured at Helotes and three at Smithville. Several houses were damaged.

Northeast storm warnings were posted on Lake Superior and southeast warnings on Lake Michigan.

Blowing dust was reported from west Texas with gusts up to 60 to 65 miles an hour.

Flying Car Spells Fine

TRENTON (CP)—An RCAF officer's automobile became airborne recently and the incident cost the driver $68. Evidence was that the car operated by FO. Glen Parslow, 24, skidded on wet pavement, struck a curb and took off, finally making a pancake landing on its roof. FO. Parslow pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving.

Insanity Plea Expected From Christie

LONDON (AP)—Defence counsel, at a magistrate's hearing, today laid the groundwork for an insanity plea for John Christie, a mild-mannered trucking clerk charged with the murder of four women in Notting Hill's "house of horror."

By closely questioning a physican for 40 minutes, defence counsel Derek Curtis-Bennett brought out that Christie did not smoke or drink and had said he had refrained from sexual intercourse with his wife for several years. Her body was one of those found in the house.

Dr. Mathias Odess, Christie's physician since 1934, testified that the tiny bald man was very nervous and suffered from poor health.

The doctor said he did not regard Christie as "a very neurotic man." He had never examined him to determine if he was insane.

TO CALL 14

Dr. Odess could not recall that Christie ever told him of being gassed in the First World War and did not remember the 55-year-old defendant being knocked down by a car and having two operations.

The prosecution planned to call 14 witnesses today. Nineteen witnesses were heard a week ago. The hearing will determine whether Christie is to be bound over for trial.

Christie was arrested in the streets of London after a country-wide manhunt. He is accused of murdering the four women in his drab London flat. The prosecution contends the women died between last Dec. 14 and Feb. 27.

The body of Christie's wife was found under the floorboards on the front room. The partly clothed bodies of three young women were found in a sealed up pantry of the house.

Parade, Fight, Stop

Princeton Students Stage Melee In Practice Blackout

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—A practice air raid drill wound up with 1,000 Princeton students staging a three-hour melee in this college town's streets Tuesday night.

The air raid blackout was scheduled by local civil defence officials for 9:30 p. m. At the same time campaign managers in a campus election had scheduled a "riot" for their candidate.

When the blackout ended, the students started a parade. A fist fight broke out between an expelled student and a proctor, one of the campus police.

City police got involved in the hassle and a patrolman was taken to hospital with cut hands suffered when he went through a plate glass window.

The expelled student, Tad D. Hammond, was booked on charges of disorderly conduct.

The marchers proceeded to the railroad station for the avowed purpose of derailing a train. When they got there they merely blew the train's whistle a few times and left.

They staged a mass invasion of a local theatre, disrupting the showing of a movie. At one point they marched on Westminster choir school chanting "we want sex."

The parade route was marked by a trail of overturned garbage cans, mailboxes and signposts.

Dean Francis Godolphin issued an ultimatum that broke up the student mob. Standing in the square across from the campus Godolphin said, "any man not back in his dormitory within two minutes will be liable to disciplinary action." The square was clear two minutes later.

Rescue Crews Dig Down For Two Men

Spurred By Slim Hope That Air Source, Timbering Saved Pair

KIRKLAND LAKE—(CP)—Hope became fainter today for two miners trapped by a rockburst 4,900 feet down in the Wright-Hargreaves gold mine.

Rescuers digging down toward the trapped men since Monday night have gone "about halfway" through an estimated 50 feet of rock, said Alex Harris, spokesman for a group of eight Kirkland Lake district mines.

Rescue crews continued to dig downward towards them, spurred on by the slim hope that mine timbering and a source of fresh air could have saved the lives of Leo Murray, 25, and Leon Wojcechowski, 39.

But the rescuers, working in shifts in a cramped area about five feet square, had little hope to go on. When they shouted in an effort to evoke some response from the trapped men, their voices only echoed back from the rock-walled cavern; there was no reply.

ROCK SHATTERS

With 200 other workers, who escaped, the men had been drilling from the manway, a vertical tunnel used by miners to climb from one level to the next. Tremendous underground pressure shattered the rock around them at 7:55 p.m. EDT Monday with a jar that jolted Kirkland Lake, a Northern Ontario mining city grown used to shocks from subterranean cave-ins.

Usually, however, the tremors stem from rockfalls in unused sections of the mine workings and the accidents injure no one.

Wives of the two men were not notified until 12 hours after the accident.

Alex Harris, mines spokesman, said Tuesday night officials decided against telling the women earlier because it was hoped at first the men could be removed safely almost at once.

SLOW, RISKY JOB

Harris called the rescue operation a slow, dangerous job. It involved lifting the smashed rock, mixed with broken bits of a ladder, by hand into the bucket of a hoist which hoisted it to the level above.

"The rescue is from the top, rather than from the level below the accident. Working from below might mean that the men would be mangled when the rock below them was pulled away.

"There is very little hope they are alive."

Murray's 18-year-old wife said Tuesday night she felt sure her husband, a native of Fisherville, Que., still survived. But the wife of Wojcechowski, a Polish immigrant who was a wartime prisoner in Germany, was convinced her husband was dead.

Vietminh Kidnap Enemy Recruits

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Communist-led Vietminh troops raided a Vietnamese soldiers' training camp in the heart of the Red river delta today and kidnapped 350 Viet Namese recruits.

The young Viet Namese had been mobilized for a two-week military instruction course in the Nam Dinh camp, 50 miles southeast of Hanoi.

A French Army spokesman said the raid, after midnight, apparently was carried out by the Communist-led Vietminh with "complicity of the civilian population" of Nam Dinh.

The Viet Namese seized were part of those mobilized in the Viet Namese government's drive to put 54 commando battalions into the field against the Vietminh by the end of this year.

Vietminh raiders were reported to have remained within the Nam Dinh area for some time. They pulled out around dawn, then fired mortar shells into the city of 50,000 people.

French Liberated

MOSCOW (AP) — Fourteen French civilians liberated by the North Koreans were only a few hours away from Moscow today aboard the Trans-Siberian Express. They are expected here early Thursday morning. The French embassy is completing final arrangements to receive them and speed them on their way to France.

Horse-Borne UK Admiral Goes Overboard When Mount Mistakes Starboard For Port

LONDON (Reuters)—Five of Britain's top admirals went riding in London's Hyde Park Tuesday morning to develop a little horse sense for the Coronation.

British cavalrymen piped them onto their horses at 7 a.m. and did their best not to smile as they cantered off on distinctly uneven keels.

"One of these admirals shouts 'port' to his mount," a cavalry corporal said. "And when the horse leans to starboard the admiral goes overboard."

The five seamen, led by 60-year-old Admiral Sir Roderick McGrigor, first sea lord, will have to manage their mounts in the Coronation procession on June 2. They will ride near the Queen's state coach as it winds its way from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey

That is why they have signed up for this course with the Royal Horse Guards, Britain's top cavalry regiment.

They are doing about as well as sailors usually do on horseback, and the cavalry people have picked the gentlest possible mounts.

The Horse Guards issued a pleasant communique about their maritime pupils. "The admirals ride very well," said horse guards training officer Capt. William Richey. "They have had no trouble with their mounts."

But one Horse Guards sergeant said: "Some of the admirals sway in the saddle like they were aboard ship."

Reds Would Send Balking PoWs To Neutral Land; Bargain To Settle Future

MUNSAN—(AP)—Communist truce negotiators suggested today that 50,000 Allied-held war prisoners who do not want to go home be sent to an unnamed neutral country in Asia. The Reds also agreed to bargain on the time needed to determine their future. "I think we made some progress," said Lt.-Gen William K. Harrison, chief UN negotiator. "At least they are not adamant on the time prisoners are to be held in custody." While the Communists did not name a neutral, there were unofficial reports the Reds would nominate India. Observers predicted UN negotiators would agree. The Communists have rejected Switzerland as a neutral.

At the end of a 64-minute session at Panmunjom the three major points of dispute appeared to shape up like this:

1. The Communists indicated they were ready to bargain on the length of time needed to decide the disposition of prisoners refusing to go home.

2. There appeared to be room for compromise on the Communist nomination of an Asian country as the neutral state and the Allied nomination of Switzerland.

WON'T BACK DOWN

3. The Communists showed no sign of backing down on their insistence that unwilling prisoners be shipped to the neutral country. The Allies were equally firm in their demand that the prisoners be kept in Korea while their fate is decided.

On the last point, a possible compromise was a suggestion to ship Chinese prisoners to the neutral country and to keep the Korean prisoners in Korea.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il said: "We are prepared to nominate an Asian neutral nation for the purpose of putting under its custody those prisoners of war not directly repatriated and hold consultation with your side about this matter."

Nam added that since "your side feels that the time involved is too long, we consider that although an appropriate length of time is entirely necessary, the specific length of time, however, can be a subject of discussion."

NO REAL SOLUTION

Harrison told correspondents the actual time the unwilling prisoners would be in custody was not as important as the fact that their ultimate disposition, under the Communist proposal, would be delegated to a political conference.

"There's no real solution to the problem if it ever gets to a political conference," Harrison said, because the prisoners then would have to accept repatriation or continue indefinitely in captivity.

Break Imminent In Deadlocked Armistice Talks

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO (AP)—There were signs today that a break might be imminent in the deadlocked armistice talks at Panmunjom.

After three days of no progress the Communists indicated they were getting ready to nominate their choice for a neutral country.

President Syngman Rhee of South Korea said he would agree to send to the neutral state some 15,000 Chinese who have rejected communism.

Most observers predict that once the Communists and United Nations command get together on a neutral country to administer further screening of 50,000 Chinese and North Korean prisoners who have refused repatriation, the rest will be easy.

It will take time to work out the many details, but none should present a major stumbling block.

TWO BIG ISSUES

The big issues still facing negotiators are:

1. Naming a neutral country.

2. Deciding whether prisoners who have renounced communism will be sent to the neutral country or turned over to the neutral's custody in Korea.

The Communists indicated they will nominate an Asian country as the neutral state.

So far the major choice in Asia has been India. Although United Nations spokesmen won't comment officially, it was thought India would be acceptable.

The main point here seemed to be, would India take the job?

UN STAND FIRM

On the second issue, the United Nations was firm on its stand that the North Koreans who have refused repatriation should remain in South Korea.

"It's fantastic," a high UN command source said, "to believe the

Mau Mau Death List Totals 270

LONDON (AP)—Kenya's fanatical Mau Mau killers have murdered 270 persons and wounded 166 more, Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton told the House of Commons today.

Lyttelton said up to April 14 the Mau Mau had killed 255 Africans, three Asians and 12 white civilians and members of the security forces.

The 166 wounded include 153 Africans, four Asians and nine whites.

Security forces, arrested 82,840 Kikuyu tribesmen, released 8,975 of them immediately and another 38,947 after screening.

A further 28,912 were screened and tried, Lyttelton said, and 6,006 persons are in custody awaiting trial.

The security forces shot 430 persons while resisting arrest or after being challenged to stop, he added.

Had No Intention Of Wrong-Doing Dewar Tells House

OTTAWA—(CP)— Austin Edwin Dewar damatically resigned his Commons seat today and said he will leave it to the people of his Qu'Appelle riding in Saskatchewan to decide whether he should be re-elected. A packed Commons chamber saw the stocky, blue-suited member deny any "intentional wrong-doing" in exchanging cheques with contractor Harvey Lunam of Regina and then say that he will place himself in the hands of his constituents in the next general election.

Then he turned and walked out of the chamber, the first member to go under these sort of circumstances in 21 years. In 1932 the late George Burpee Jones, a former minister in the Conservative Bennett government and member for Royal, N. B., resigned after his merchandising firm was accused of selling goods to the Indians, a practice frowned on because Indians are wards of the government. Mr. Jones was re-elected in a by-election and later became a senator.

COMES AS CLIMAX

The Dewar resignation climaxed a storm whipped up by articles in the Toronto Telegram which said in a Regina story that Mr. Dewar had cashed cheques totalling $71,000 from Harvey Lunam, a man whose firm has had a number of federal government contracts and did not complete some of them.

Mr. Dewar said he and Mr. Lunam exchanged cheques from 1948 to 1951 because he wanted to help out an old friend who once helped him buy a hotel. But he stopped this when he realized that the combination of being a member and of exchanging cheques with a contractor "might create false impressions."

He denied any intentional wrongdoing or having profited either from Lunam's firm or from the federal treasury.

But even as he wheeled and walked out of the chamber he has sat in for four years the opposition indicated the storm may not be over.

"NOTORIOUS FAILURE"

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, surprised Prime Minister St. Laurent by informing him that Mr. Lunam did not carry out a contract in 1948. Mr. Drew labelled Mr. Lunam "a notorious failure" in completing contracts and urged that a parliamentary committee probe government contracts which Mr. Lunam has not fulfilled and which have left subcontractors and others holding the bag for thousands of dollars.

$1½ Million Loss As Flames Sweep Oil Plant

MONTREAL (CP)—A raging fire Tuesday night swept through a $3,00,000 oil plant threatening an industrial and residential section of Notre Dame street east for more than six hours.

The spectacular blaze which at times shot flames 200 feet into an overcast sky wrecked the three-storey Montreal headquarters of the Canadian Oil Company.

L. Y. Reed, the plant manager, said it will be impossible to estimate damage until an inventoy is taken. Unofficial estimates of damage varied between $1,500,000 and $3,000,000.

The fire, discovered by a watchman, burst from the laboratory section of the oil company's plant about 6 p. m. and kept fire-fighters and oil company chemical squads on duty until early morning.

No loss of life in the fire was reported. Two firemen suffered slight injuries.

200 FIGHT FLAMES

Two hundred firemen fought to keep the flames from a tank farm, storing thousands of gallons of naphtha, gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil, built around the plant.

A light east wind helped the fire-fighters by blowing the wall of flame from the nearest tanks, a stone's throw away.

A series of about 50 minor explosions occurred while the plant burned.

During early evening the firemen's main fight was to keep the blaze away from tanks close to the plant building storing 150,000 to 200,000 gallons of explosive naphtha gas. At their height the flames were within 80 feet of the tanks.

Families in dwellings within a quarter of a mile on each side of the plant were evacuated as a

Seguin Preliminary To Start Within Month

CORNWALL (CP)—Crown attorney R. P. Milligan said today preliminary hearing of a murder charge against Henri Seguin, 27, of Cornwall will likely be held at Alexandria, 25 miles northeast of here, in late May or early June.

Seguin, charged with the murder of Maxville business man Leonard Hurd last Aug. 16, is in Kingston penitentiary serving a 20-year sentence for attempted murder at Williams Lake, B. C. He was flown east from Vancouver on Monday.

He was captured at Williams Lake after a gun battle with police following an attempted bank holdup.

$6 Billion Aid Budget Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and his top advisers have tentatively approved a foreign aid budget calling for slightly more than $6,000,000,000 for the coming fiscal year.

Responsible officials who reported this today said the national security council, top foreign policy planning group, laid out a program of that size at a White House meeting Tuesday.

The final figure to be asked from Congress for the year starting July 1 has not been finally determined. A program ranging between $6,100,000,000 and $6,300,000,000 now is in prospect, said these officials.

The White House is drafting a special request to be sent to Congress within a week.

Perish The Thought!

UK Commons Committee To Probe Report Lady MP's Caught Snoring In Rest Room

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill ran into the first test of his gallantry in his new role of a knight Tuesday and he didn't come out completely unscathed.

It was admittedly a tough challenge for the old warrior—trying to smooth out a row among three women members of the House of Commons.

The issue:

Were two of the women legislators caught snoring in the parliamentary rest room for ladies?

Mrs. Patricia Ford, a fledgling Conservative member from Ulster, touched off the dispute with an article appearing under her name in Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express describing her experiences during her first week in the House.

She told of coming across two veteran women Labor members—Mrs. E. M. "Battling Bessie" Braddock and Dr. Edith Summerskill "stretched out on beds and both snoring" in the ladies room.

"Battling Bessie," a husky 210-pounder who represents the tough dockers of Liverpool in Parliament, shouted: "It's not true."

She demanded a showdown.

Mrs. Ford, tall, dark and attractive, humbly apologized Tuesday before the full House with the explanation: "I realize I have been guilty of an indiscretion. I can only repeat how deeply distressed I am."

Mrs. Braddock accepted the apology "wholeheartedly"—but she wasn't satisfied to let principle of the matter rest there.

Should the privacy of the parliamentary ladies room be bantered about in public?

Sir Winston said: "There is a very long tradition that in minor matters of decorum an apology—ful, frank and wholehearted—is accepted with generosity by the House."

Sir Winston said he was not prepared to support a motion putting the issue before the House committee on privilege, contending "it is below its proper level of kindly and generous behavior."

This set off a full-fledged political fight with the men getting into the act.

Clement Attlee, Labor party leader, said Sir Winston "misapprehended" the issue.

"The House is perfectly willing to accept the apology," said Attlee. "The point here is with regard to this newspaper which in our view is taking advantage of the inexperience of an MP."

Sir Winston said since "no further vindictive process or protest" was being made against Mrs. Ford he was "withdrawing" from the fight.

The House then voted to refer the issue to a committee on whether to investigate further.

Committee Plans Special Report On Lottery Law

OTTAWA (CP)—A House of Commons committee studying a general revision of the Criminal Code decided Tuesday to make a special report to the House on the question of changing the lottery law.

The committee left the subject over for later consideration along with capital punishment, whipping and the definition of insanity under the code.

Expectations are the committee will recommend that a special commission be set up to deal with these three—the members decided earlier against specific recommendations on them—and it may include lotteries as a subject of commission studies.

The proposed consolidation of the Criminal Code as adopted by the Senate leaves the lottery law substantially unchanged. It provides two-year penalties with some exception such as small church raffles.

ADMINISTRATION "FARCE"

W. J. Browne (PC—St. John's West) said Tuesday administration was a "farce." Give-away programs could be heard on the radio every hour, and Mr. Browne wondered if they were exempt from penalties.

However, he expressed the view that lotteries for charity might be exempt.

F. D. Shaw (SC—Red Deer) said he thinks that eventually the lottery issue will have to be settled by the Canadian people in a plebiscite.

Discussion over proposed changes in the habeas corpus law—for the release of prisoners detained wrongly—provided a split in the committee, but eventually a series of government-proposed changes in the existing law was approved.

At present, a prisoner may get a writ of habeas corpus from any trial judge—even though turned down at first by some—but he cannot take his case to an appeal court.

The amendments will allow him to go to only one trial judge, but provide that a higher court must hear an appeal in seven days.

Blame Low Pay For OPP Quitting

TORONTO (CP)—Farquhar Oliver, house leader of the Liberal group in the Ontario legislature, issued a statement Tuesday saying resignations from the Ontario provincial police force are on the increase.

"It has come to my attention that 20 or more men have resigned since April 1," he said, blaming the police salary scale. He said a provincial constable drawing the maximum salary of $2,860 a year plus a cost-of-living bonus of $420, received $495 less than a first-class constable on Toronto's city force who would get $3,775.

Steel Price Rise Gains Momentum

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel price rises are gaining momentum, The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, says today.

The publication says the "outlook is for a series of increases affecting most producers and several products over the next several weeks."

Extra charges on carbon steel bars and on hot and cold-rolled sheets were raised this last week by some producers, while one boosted base prices on rails by $6 a ton and track accessories (including tie plates, joint bars, and track spikes and bolts) by $3 a ton, Iron Age reports.

Steelmaking operations this week are placed at 100.5 per cent of rated capacity, up one point from last week.

Ice Still In Lakes Of Fort Frances Area

FORT FRANCES (CP)—Boats are plying a few of the bays in Rainy lake, but the main body of ice remains.

Lake levels throughout the boundary area are low after a dry autumn, light snowfall and below-normal spring rainfall. There will be little run-off to fill border lakes as in ordinary years. The level of Rainy lake has been dropping recently.

Say Communists Influenced PoWs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. defence department said Tuesday night "a small group of soldiers who have shown symptoms of having succumbed to Communist indoctrination" while captives of the Reds, are being flown to Valley Forge Army Hospital, Pa., for mental as well as medical treatment.

The announcement did not specify the number, saying only that "they represent only a part of the returned prisoners to be treated at Valley Forge."

Nor did it specify how long the men would be held for such treatment. A spokesman said this would depend on the need for treatment. The department said families of the men "will be encouraged to visit them."

The department pointed out "that the soldiers had suffered many privations and great danger while under Communist control and consequently, might have been more susceptible to Communist influence than they would have been under any other circumstances."

Over-Eager Robber Blows Profits to Bits

WINNIPEG (CP)—An over-enthusiastic safecracker blew up his expected profits Tuesday night in Fort Garry, 20 miles north of here.

Police said a tubular safe in the Searle grain elevator was found blown today but the thieves evidently used a charge which destroyed the safe's contents.

A company official estimated the safe contained almost $2,000. Half-burnt money and twisted coins were strewn on the floor when the robbery was discovered. The official said he doubts any money was taken.

Communists would insist on moving those North Koreans from Korea. They are Koreans. They have said they don't want to go back to North Korea, but they want to remain in South Korea and be assimilated by that country."

Rhee, at a press conference, said the same thing, then added:

"Let's divide all of the prisoners held by the United Nations into two categories:

"1. We will agree to Red demands and send the 15,000 Chinese who have renounced communism to a neutral nation for further screening.

"2. But the 30,000 or more North Koreans who say they never want to see the place again will remain in South Korea to be turned over to the neutral country."

NO SPEED EXPECTED

The deadlock was about to break, it seemed, but there was no indication that an armistice in Korea would be reached with any speed.

After a neutral nation is named and its exact jurisdiction decided, the delegations have to hammer our decisions on:

1. Will the neutral state have total jurisdiction over the prisoners?
2. How many teams are there going to be trying to influence them to go home?
3. How many observers will be on hand to watch the teams?
4. Who provides for the teams? Who provides for the observers?
5. Where will be the final line of demarcation dividing he two opposing forces?

Lindsay Invites Countryside To Celebration

LINDSAY—(ENS)—All schools and organizations in Victoria and Haliburton county and even Ontario, Durham and Peterborough counties have been invited to share in the monster Coronation ceremony at Lindsay's Kawartha Park on June second.

Plans for the celebration of the Queen's crowning were made last night at a meeting of a special committee chosen for that purpose. Jasper Forman was chairman of the meeting. A religious, patriotic service will be held in the morning of Coronation day, with the Legion, Scouts, Guides, reserve unit and other organizations taking their places around a platform, where special services will be conducted.

It is expected that the Rev. P. C. Reeds, Padre of the Canadian Legion post, will direct the devotional part of the service, and the committee will try to obtain the services of some outstanding speaker, possibly Col, Sidney Lambert, VC, to feature the program. It is planned that the Oath of Allegiance such as is taken by public servants at the Queen's accession may be repeated by the crowd.

PARADE THROUGH TOWN

Following the service, a monster parade will form and proceed east on Kent Street from the park, turning at Lindsay Street and dismissing in front of the town hall. Three bands at least will take part in this parade, and others are invited to join. Alderman Bruce Maidens is Parade Marshal.

In the evening a children's program will be held at the Lindsay exhibition grounds. Races, under the direction of the Public and Separate Schools and Recreation Director, Bill Mitchell, will be held, before public singing, directed by Professor Fletcher, music director of the schools.

The Kinsmen Club of Lindsay has consented to move the annual Victoria Day fireworks show to Coronation day, and will present it following the singing. The final event of the program will be a Boy Scout beacon fire, which will signal the end of the Coronation celebration for Lindsay.

The committee will also look into the planting of a Coronation tree in Kawartha Park as part of the morning service. They will approach the Chamber of Commerce to obtain the co-operation of the merchants on decorating the stores. This morning, chairman Jasper Forman extended an invitation to any organizations in the Lindsay area, including Haliburton county and parts of Ontario, Durham and Peterborough counties, to join in the service which is expected to be the largest gathering in Lindsay since the turn of the century.

Toronto Prices Up In Early Trading

TORONTO (CP)—Stock market prices continued to advance in early afternoon stock market trading today.

Industrials led the gains and base metals followed while western oils were also strong. Golds rose despite weakness in a few leaders. Volume for the first three hours totalled 3,183,000 shares.

Uraniums weakened and New Brunswick base metals slipped. Northern Ontario rare metals gained.

Industrials were strong in papers, utilities, steels and miscellaneous issues and constructions, refining oils and manufacturing companies also rose.

Senior golds rose. Juniors and holding companies advanced.

Higher-priced base metals were strong and most other issues also gained.

Western oil gains ranged to about 30 cents.

safety measure. Firemen ordered families to leave and stay "some distance from the scene."

Flames shot as high as 200 feet into the air when explosions and a high, whipping wind fanned them.

The flames and billowing black clouds of smoke were plainly visible to residents in south-shore communities across the St. Lawrence Many persons watched the fire from vantage points on high buildings in central Montreal, at least three miles from the plant.

TEMPORARILY BLIND

One fireman, Lucien Gravelle, 21, was temporarily blinded by oily soot. Another, unidentified, suffered slight burns.

After three hours Divisional Fire Chief Alexandre Ouellette said all hope of saving the plant was abandoned. He said the fire would be under control "when it burned itself out."

The fire was believed to have started in the plant's laboratory. It spread rapidly to grease and oil storage sections at the rear of the plant.

Other large industrial plants in the area, including those of the Canadian Car and Foundry, General Electric, Dominion Glass and several others, had their fire staffs standing by in case their establishments were threatened.

A trained crew from Imperial Oil Company stood by with new chemical equipment in the event the tanks exploded.

Plant officials declined to estimate damage until they are able to enter the plant.

Eden Undergoes Surgery

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden underwent a second operation today. The foreign office announced that his condition is satisfactory. Fluid, causing jaundice was removed.

Had No Intention

Mr. St. Laurent rejected the committee proposal and said the best way for sub-contractors to get money owed them by Lunam is through use of the courts. He said the government contracts awarded Mr. Lunam were given him on the usual lowest-tender basis.

He said Mr. Drew's statement was the first suggestion that the Lunam firm had not completed contracts in 1948.

KEPT TO STATEMENT

Meanwhile Mr. Dewar told reporters he doesn't want to say anything further beyond his statement. He said he will be in Ottawa for several days cleaning up his desk and that he will then head West to his riding.

Standing of the Commons now is: Liberals 183; Progressive Conservatives 48; CCF 13; Social Credit 10; independent Liberal 1; independent 4; vacant four.

Besides Qu'Appelle the other vacancies are in Victoria, B. C., Toronto Danforth and Cape Breton —North Victoria in Nova Scotia.

The 40-year-old member, who lists himself as a contractor in the Parliamentary Guide, rose at the opening of the morning session on a question of privilege to discuss articles which appeared in the Toronto Telegram and which first bared the exchange of cheques with Lunam.

EXPLAINS DEAL

He had known Lunam for years and in 1945 Lunam had advanced him money to help buy a hotel. This was repaid in 1947 when the hotel was sold.

"Subsequently, I accommodated Harvey Lunam by exchanging cheques with him. This was one of his methods of financing when he was hard pressed for funds to meet his obligations. All these cheques were honored by the banks. . ."

For three years Lunam gave him cheques "and I gave him covering cheques . . . I received no benefit and suffered no loss from these transactions. I did it to help an old friend."

As Mr. Dewar completed his statement, Speaker Ross Macdonald said he will ask the chief electoral officer to have a writ issued for a by-election in the Qu'Appelle constituency.

PCs NOT SATISFIED

But the opposition showed it was not satisfied with the resignation of the Liberal member alone. Both George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and John Deifenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) suggested it was the government's responsibility to do something for the numerous sub-contractors and suppliers who lost some $200,000 through Mr. Lunam's insolvency.

Mr. Drew said Mr. Lunam did not carry out a contract in 1948 and this had to be taken over and completed by the Great West Life Insurance Co.

Mr. St. Laurent said he was surprised to hear this. It was the first time he had heard such a suggestion, he said. Later he asked if the contract was a federal one, but Mr. Drew said he had made no suggestion that it was.

Mr. St. Laurent said the best way for the sub-contractors and unpaid suppliers who lost money in the Lunam contracts to proceed was through the Bankruptcy Act.

He recalled that several of the contracts awarded by the public works department to the Lunam Construction Co. have not been completed. These would be taken over and completed by the government.

UP TO COURTS

It would not be up to the public works department to decide what unpaid firms should get priority payment. That would be better for the courts to decide.

Mr. Drew then questioned Mr. St. Laurent as to whether he was aware that Mr. Lunam was a "notorious" failure in completing contracts. The 1948 episode with the Great West Life was a case in point.

"This is the first suggestion that this contracting firm had failed to complete contracts in 1948," said the prime minister.

He said the Lunam company had obtained the government contracts because it had submitted the lowest tender and had in all other ways complied with the regulations.

The government, he said, would have been under "severe criticism" if it had departed from its traditional rule of awarding contracts to the lowest tender. There were some departures, it was true. There was one not long ago.

But in the cases of departures the matter is brought before the Cabinet and the Cabinet was extremely reluctant to make any change.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the crucial question under consideration was not that Mr. Lunam had submitted the lowest tender but the fact that a number of firms dealing with him had been unpaid to the extent of $200,000. The Lunam company had debts of $200,000 and no assets whatsoever.

"Isn't it right that the government do something to protect honest suppliers?" he asked.

Government Won't Become Major Landlord—Winters

OTTAWA—(CP)—The government has no intention of becoming a major landlord or mortgage holder. Resources Minister Winters, in charge of housing, made this reply Tuesday to suggestions from opposition parties that the government foot more of the bill for Canadian home-owners.

The House of Commons spent almost the entire day debating the housing problem.

At the end, it gave third and final reading to a bill increasing to $750,000,000 from $450,000,000 the amount of federal funds for home-building loans; widening provisions for federal aid in slum clearance; enlarging the loan powers of private loan companies, and enabling Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a government agency, to make supplementary advances on home construction loans.

MORE FOR MORTGAGES

Government critics, including David Croll, Liberal member for Toronto Spadina, contended mortgage companies are trying to put the squeeze on the government for increased interest rates. More mortgage money should be made available for home construction and if the loan companies wouldn't do this, the government should.

Mr. Winters said the government has faced up to the housing problem and added: "I think it would be poor policy if the government were to step in in a direct way so that most of the homes would be built by the government."

Critics said there is a backlog of between 750,000 and 500,000 dwelling units. Mr. Winters said he could not supply an accurate figure, but about 100,000 would be a likelier number.

320,000 SHARE

Though 320,000 families in Canada—nine per cent of the total—shared accommodation, about two-thirds did so voluntarily. Besides, 169,000 dwellings lacked either toilet or bath.

Mr. Winters admitted some housing is so bad it is almost uninhabitable, but said 32,651 new units were under construction at March 31 compared to 23,45 on the same date last year. At the same time, loan companies had increased the amount of mortgage money available.

The CCF moved amendments to the bill that would have enabled CMHC to make loans direct to builders instead of through finance companies and at not more than two-per-cent interest compared to the present 5¼ and to go directly into construction of low-rental housing. The amendments were ruled out of order by the Speaker.

City Council Bids Mayor Bon Voyage

Members of the city council and heads of civic departments extended cordial wishes of "bon voyage" to Mayor Waddell Tuesday afternoon on the eve of his departure for the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth. They requested His Worship to convey their felicitous concern to Mrs. Waddell, who is accompanying the Mayor. They leave Peterborough Thursday night, and will cross on the Franconia.

The farewell was arranged by Ald. Syd Black, chairman of the reception committee of the council, with the serving of sandwiches and coffee in the Mayor's parlor.

Ald. T. D. Miller, who will be acting Mayor, paid a tribute to Mayor Waddell as one of the most gentlemanly members in the history of the council, whose incumbency had increased the public respect for the dignity and office of Mayor. Ald. Miller said the friends of Mayor Waddell and Mrs. Waddell would be with them in their absence.

JUDGE PRESENT

Judge John de N. Kennedy thanked the council for inviting him to be present and said he joined with the civic representatives in their pleasant send-off to His Worship.

Mayor Waddell thanked the assembly for their kind thoughtfulness and sentiment of goodwill and said, "I am sure of one thing —that is we shall be happy when we set out on our return for Peterborough, because it is always a pleasant prospect to be coming home."

His Worship said he would be two days in Peterborough, England, May 16 and 17, and was looking forward to meeting the municipal heads of that city, including Aldermen Martin and Chamberlain and their wives who had come to Peterborough for the opening of the City Hall. He also has engagement with Harmar Nicholls, MP, who was here last summer.

Magistrate Philp was present as a guest of the council. Among the first to arrive were Fire Chief Ralph Leonard and Assistant Chief Stewart Foster. A fire alarm whisked them off before the council appeared from a committee meeting. Fire fighting duty prevented them from returning.

Lindsay May Build High Level Water Tank

LINDSAY (ENS)—The Lindsay board of water commissioners had a short special meeting Tuesday when W. B. Redfern, contractor for the new filtration plant when it is built, met with the board to consider the matter of another storage tank, previously proposed for the east ward area.

Mr. Redfern heard the opinions of the board on the matter and agreed that a storage tank would be a good idea. Provision for an underground reservoir had been made in plans for the new plant. he said, but a high level tank might be better in case of emergency and would serve the same purpose.

Mr. Redfern agreed to return to the board with his findings in the matter, including an estimate of the cost of a tank, of different sizes in various parts of the town. The site chosen by the board is on the old Presbyterian cemetery in the east ward. Following the meeting Tuesday, members of the board and Mr. Redfern drove to various spots around the town choosing sites where his engineers would take levels in determining the best spots for the tank.

Obituary

MRS. PETER COLLINS

Living in Brooklyn, New York, for the past two years, Mrs. Johanna Collins, formerly of 506 Water St., died Tuesday after a lengthy illness. Born in Peterborough she was the daughter of the late Dennis Garvey and Catherine Sheehan and the wife of the late Peter Collins.

Mrs. Collins obtained her education in Peterborough and was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral, the Catholic Women's League and the Altar Society.

Surviving her are: daughters, Mrs. H. Hallstedt (Esther) of Brooklyn, Miss Clotilde Collins of Toronto, Mrs. John O'Brien (Josephine) of Peterborough; a son, Lambert of Peterborough; sisters, Mrs. C. Allen and Miss Martha Garvey of Lakefield, Mrs. A. Gronder of Toronto; brothers, Leo of Port Arthur, Frederick of Toronto, James and Joseph of Peterborough, and Timothy of Lakefield.

The funeral will be held from the Anglesey funeral home to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass Saturday at 10 a.m. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

ARBITRATION HEARING

The arbitration hearing between Thomas Hughes, Bell Avenue auto wrecker, and the City of Peterborough is continuing before the arbitrator, Judge John de N. Kennedy. The difference of opinion over the value of the land, expropriated by the city for the building of the $650,000 Kenner Collegiate, resulted in arbitration proceedings beginning two years ago before the late Judge S. L. Smoke. As a preliminary he ordered $28,600 to be paid into court by the city. The city had offered $24,000. On Monday the hearing began, and at noon today Adam Sands, real estate valuator, was being cross-examined after already being a day and a half in the witness box. The hearing is continuing.

ONE CHIMNEY FIRE

The city fire department made one run before noon today. That was to the home of Mrs. Victor Brennan, 73 Parkhill Rd., where a chimney fire had broken out. A handpump extinguished the flames and there was no damage.

The official Allied spokesman, Col. Milton B. Herr, declined to comment when asked whether India was acceptable to the United Nations command as the neutral power. He also had no comment to the same query regarding Burma or Pakistan.

The negotiators will meet again Thursday.

Meanwhile, the UN command returned to the Communists Wednesday another 500 sick and wounded North Korean prisoners. It said 500 more would be returned Thursday, including 375 civilian internees. These will be the first Communist civilians freed since the exchange of disabled captives began April 20.

W. Indies Agree To Federation, Two Stay Aloof

LONDON (AP)—Envoys from Britain's far-flung West Indian possessions agreed Tuesday on federation for the strategically-vital area informed British sources said.

The sources said that delegates, who have debated the federation plan for two weeks here, expect to issue an agreed report today which will probably go before the West Indian legislatures for action some time this fall.

So far, the sources said, defence, foreign affairs, exchange control, and customs would be in the hands of the federation's central government.

TRINIDAD CAPITAL?

Location of the central government was not disclosed but informants said it would probably be in Trinidad.

Still holding aloof from federation are British Guiana, rich diamond and bauxite producer in South America, and British Honduras on the east coast of Central America.

Delegates to the London conference came from Trinidad, Barbados, Jamaica, and the Leeward and Windward Island groups. Honduras and British Guiana sent observers.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 17-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Tuesday's noon rate was 98 17-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.77 7-16, against $2.77⅝.

Forbid Erection Of Used Houses In Cobourg

COBOURG (ENS).—A bylaw prohibiting the erection of used houses in Cobourg, pending the passage of the zoning bylaw, was passed by council. This is to protect the owner of a surperior type residence from having an inferior house built next to it, thus lowering the value of his property.

Another bylaw transferred the fire alarm system owned by the town to the Bell Telephone Co. who will maintain it and charge the town for each alarm.

Councillor H. Richardson said he had some complaints from storekeepers about a man who sold coffee, confectionery and tobacco in the factories, competing with stores near the fatcories who had enjoyed that business before. Council took the attitude that so long as the man paid his license and business tax, he was free to conduct his business.

A petition from residents in the neighborhood of Richardson Transport complained that the noise of the trucks at their depot during the night spoiled their slumber. Mayor Burnet added that the trucks had also damaged town property in the vicinity. It was left to the police committee to have a talk with Mr. Richardson to see what could be done to remedy the situation.

Seek Bailey Bridge For Plowing Match

COBOURG— (ENS)—Officials of the international and world plowing matches hope to have a Bailey bridge erected across White St. creek to assist car parking during the matches.

Mayor Jack Burnet told Tuesday's council meeting that he had attended a recent meeting of the grounds and roads committees of the matches and it had been decided to ask Dr. Fred Robertson, MP. to see if the Department of National Defence would set the bridge up.

Councillor Jeff Rolph said town police would co-operate with provincial police during the plowing matches.

The mayor said that 70 provincial police were on duty when the match was held at Carp and more could have been used.

Change Parking Fines

COBOURG (ENS). — Council agreed with the suggestion of Councillor Jeff Rolph that the fine for violation of parking meter regulations should be eased a little. At present a violator has 24 hours in which to pay one dollar, but after that he is automatically, if found guilty, subject to a fine of $10, and costs. Council decided to change the amount to a sliding scale of $10 down to $3.

Eastern Star Installation Attended By 300

CAMPBELLFORD— (ENS) — The installation of the Order of the Eastern Star took place Monday as Wellington Smith, Worthy Grand Patron, Ernest Burgess, Associate Grand Patron and other Grand Chapter officers conducted the ceremony of institution. There were more than 300 present from chapters in this district and beyond.

Officers installed for the Campbellford chapter were as follows: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Marguerite Burgis; Worthy Patron, Harry Burgis; Associate Matron, Mrs. Irene Brady; Associate Patron, Wm. Brady; secretary, Miss Pearl McComb; treasurer, Mrs. Alma Wallace; associate conductress, Mrs. Marjorie King; chaplain, Mrs. Marjorie Pierce; marshall, Mrs. Barbara Steele; organist, Mrs. Frances Nicholls; Adah, Mrs. Florence Hopping; Ruth, Mrs. Gertrude Cochrane; Esther, Mrs. Marion Smith; Martha, Mrs. Eileen Hazell; Electra, Mrs. Margaret Nicholas; warden, Mrs. Greta Ames; sentinel, Miss Claude Fairman.

BANQUET HELD

The Evening Auxiliary served a banquet in St. John's United Church. Harry Burgis acted as toast master and William Brady proposed the toast to the Grand Chapter to which Mr. Wellington Smith responded.

The toast to the Campbellford chapter was proposed by Mrs. Evelyn Hadley DDSM, and a fitting response was made by Mrs. Marguerite Burgis. Mr. Percy Melville toasted the vistors with Mrs. Doris Hornsby of Havelock responding.

In the evening, the officers of Trenton chapter conferred the degree with Thelma Sagar, Worthy Matron, and V. Newton, Worthy Patron, presiding.

The Campbellford chapter received gifts from Evelyn Hadley, DDGM, and from the following chapters: :Starlight, Port Hope; Lakeside, Wellington; Prosperity, Havelock; Quinte, Ameliasburg; No. 155, Belleville; Minerva, Belleville; Colborne, Madoc; Peterborough, Picton, Tweed and Trenton.

Mrs. Marguerite Burgis and Mr. Harry Burgis presented the beautiful altar and pedestals made by Mr. Lyle Hartford. Mrs. Marguerite Burgis accepted the gifts on behalf of the chapter.

Vincent Perdue

DOWNEYVILLE (ENS) — The funeral of the late Vincent Perdue was held from his late residence on Monday morning to St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, where requiem high mass was sung by the Rev. Vernon Perdue of Huntsville, nephew of the deceased, and was largely attended. The Rev. Fr. Lynch of Ennismore and Father Kaye were in the sanctuary.

Pallbearers were Robert Sullivan, Bill Perdue, Austin O'Neill, Albert Sullivan, Alvin Perdue and Stephen Sullivan.

The prayers at the grave were said by the Rev. Vernon Perdue and Fr. Kaye. Burial was in the family plot in St. Luke's cemetery.

Among those from a distance calling at the home of the deceased were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guiry, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Guiry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilbert, Stephen, Albert, Austin and Urban Sullivan, the Rev. Simon Perdue, CSB, and Sherman Perdue, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. L. Quail of Alliston, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. John Crowley, Mr. Dave Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hunter and Edgar Patterson, all of Lindsay.

SURRENDER DOCUMENTS—Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the Canadian chiefs of staffs committee, presents to Burgomaster de Niet and the municipality of Wageningen, Holland, a copy of the surrender documents signed by the German General Blaskowitz May 5, 1945, at Wageningen. It called for the surrender of all German forces in the Netherlands and North-west Germany to the First Canadian Corps at that time. He was made an honorary "burger" of Wageningen during a visit to the municipality several years ago.

Would Use Plant Of Dye Works

COBOURG (ENS)—The Industrial Commission has asked the Bradford Dyeing Association to make its local plant available to some other industry if it does not intend to reopen it.

"We could have had two Old Country firms here last year if we had had a building available," Town Counoil was informed Tuesday by Mayor Jack Burnet, who termed closing down of the plant a disaster.

"It certainly is in the nature of a disaster because many worked there almost all their lives. While some of the employees will be able to find work elsewhere, for some it will be very difficult," his worship said.

"I understand the company is going to grease the machinery and leave it there—set it up in mothballs, as it were—until it can be used again. There is not enough work for both the Cobourg and Montreal plants.

"It is not hard to get another industry when you have a building for them to occupy. We don't know when the company will reopen."

Phillips Opens Kingson Fair

KINGSTON (CP)—Health minister Phillips Tuesday officially opened the annual Kingston spring exhibition here as more than 4,000 persons crowded the Community Centre to look at the exhibits.

Dr. Phillips told his audience of the work being done throughout the province in cancer research through experiments with radioactive isotopes. He said Kingston would soon be one of the leading research centres due to the advanced work being carried out at Queen's University and the new National Research Council laboratories here.

The exhibition, sponsored by the Kingston Kiwanis Club, is the largest of its kind in Eastern Ontario. Exhibitors from Ottawa, Belleville and Brockville as well as Kingston occupied most of the booths, but there were displays from as far away as Collingwood, Ont., and Terrebonne, Que.

James Down

ROSENEATH—(ENS)—Funeral service for the late James Down, 89, was held Monday at the home of his son-in-law, John George, with the Rev. J. R. Wheeler in charge.

Pallbearers were his grandsons, Trevor Brown, James Beatty, Neil George, Lorne Skinkle, Everett Adams and William Beatty.

The many floral tributes were carried by Hilton Down, Don Cameron, Earl Brown, Aubrey Down, Walter Eddy, Leslie Down, Gerald Taylor, Floyd Brown and James Sayles.

Relatives and friends were present from Cobourg, Gore's Landing, Norham, Warkworth, Fenella, Oak Heights, Campbellford and the Roseneath community.

Mr. Down is survived by three daughters: Mrs. John George (Edna) and Mrs. Rae Brown (Elsie) of Roseneath and Mrs. Earl Skinkle (Ethel) of Norham; two sons, Edgar and Roy, Roseneath, and a brother, Joseph, Roseneath. His wife, the former Annie Brown, died eleven years ago.

Interment was in Macklin's cemetery, Bethany.

Millbrook Minister Speaks At Cavan

CAVAN (ENS)—The Rev. Margaret Butler, Millbrook, was guest speaker Sunday afternoon at the Easter thankoffering service in the United Church. She chose as her text, "Feed My Lambs".

She spoke of the need of strong support from the church and Women's Missionary Societies in helping to further missionary work.

The regular choir with Fraser Car at the organ led the singing. There was a good congregation.

Parking Tickets 1,603 In March

Police issued 1603 parking tickets during March, as compared with 536 in the corresponding month last year and 350 in 1951. This information in City Clerk Outram's report to the council verifies intimations of a burst of activities by the authorites, presumably in an effort to remind car owners at the end of the winter that there was still some automobile bylaws in the municipal vault.

Receipts from the street meters were $168,563.11 from May 12, 1947, to the end of March; and the city square meters contributed $20,325.66 during the period from July 21, 1951.

Parking meter receipts for the month were: $2,879.78, as against $2,578.07 in March last year.

Total receipts at the office of the City Clerk for March were: $9,211.89, as follows in detail — licenses $820.75; police court receipts $1,776.88; miscellaneous $2,421.25; rest room money $41.95; street parking meters $2,879.78; city square meters $1,271.28.

Melville Hamblin Zone Head

Melville Hamblin of Norwood has been elected the new zone commander of Canadian Legion Zone F5 which includes the two Peterborough branches, Lakefield, Havelock, Norwood, Millbrook, Hastings, Warsaw and Apsley.

Mr. Hamblin succeeds Cy Hopkins of Lakefield who has held the office for four years.

Other zone officers who were elected for a two-year term were: Walter Chappell of Lakefield, deputy zone commander, and Frank Hurley of Peterborough, sports officer.

The 100 delegates who attended the semi-annual meeting in Norwood Sunday accepted the invitation of Millbrook to held the next meeting in the new Millbrook hall. The district meeting and elections will be May 3, this coming Sunday.

Definite Policy On Subdivisions Not Yet Settled

COBOURG — (ENS) — The question of the extent of the town's obligations regarding subdivisions came up again at town council but a definite policy still remains to be drawn up.

It was decided to get more information on how housing subdivisions are dealt with in other municipalities of size comparable to Cobourg.

The matter will likely be dealt with at a meeting in the near future. Council felt that perhaps a completion of the subdivision regulations might require a seperate meeting.

So far council has come to an agreement on two clauses. First, in opening up a subdivison; new or existing, or in resubdivision, the owner must provide a street allowance 66 feet wide.

The owner of a subdivision, it is set for in clause 2 must make the necessary improvements on these streets, such as alignment and grade, to the satisfaction of the town before deeding the streets over to the town.

Still to be approved is clause 3, which provides that the owner of a subdivision must construct all roads, sanitary sewers, storm sewers, boulevards, curbs and gutters, within the subudivison at his own expense and according to town specifications. Detailed drawings of proposed work must be submitted to the town engineer for approval before it is undertaken.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM J. KELLY

HAVELOCK — (ENS) — Mrs. Fred E. Post has received word of the death of her father, William John Kelly, 67, at his home in Oakland, California.

Born at Preneveau, Belmont township, Mr. Kelly was the son of the late Daniel Kelly and Margaret O'Neill, pioneer residents of that district. He received his education at the Preneveau School and at the age of 20 years went to the United States. He returned for a time, part of which he spent in Western Canada. Then he went to the U. S. A. for the second time finally settling in California.

A pensioner of the Southern Pacific Railroad Co., he had been in ill health for several years which resulted in him being superannuated earlier than he would otherwise have been. He suffered an attack of 'flu, followed by a stroke three days before his death.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Marcella Tait of Stratford; five sisters, Mrs. Bert Hubble (Ethel), Wabowden, Man., Mrs. Ephraim Desroaches (Lily) of Courtney, B. C., Mrs. Fred E. Post (Bernice V. Jane) of Havelock; Mrs. Annie Miller of Los Angeles, Cal., Mrs. Wycliffe Winn (Juanita) of Cincinnati, Ohio; and three brothers, D. Oliver of Kenora; Garnet of Port Alberni, B. C., and Cecil Kelly of Trenton.

Iron In This District

The spectacular mining developments in Labrador, along Lake Superior and in the west and north-west dwarf the mining industry in this Peterborough area. Yet it is not unimportant. North of Lakefield, at Stony Lake, is the only nephaline mine in operation in Canada. It successfully processes and exports large quantities of this rock product for the entire ceramics industry of the continent. Various types of mining are carried on, and have long been active, east of the city, especially in the Marmora-Madoc area. At Madoc, for instance, is one of the most important talc mines in Canada. Iron mining was dormant for years, until several large companies became interested in the deposits around Marmora, and The Bethlehem Steel Corporation was first in the field to revive iron mining there.

* * *

The Ontario Deputy Minister of Mines, speaking in Peterborough on Monday, predicted a large increase in iron mining in Eastern Ontario and was particularly optimistic about operations now being carried on at Marmora. Drilling began in 1950. By next year the company will be ready for production. The Deputy Minister said that an estimated twenty million tons of ore can be mined as an open pit operation. This is not small business.

* * *

The Ontario Department of Mines has been actively exploring various southern Ontario regions for iron, making assays, and interesting the industry in the possibilities. The Deputy Minister reported other deposits in this area, one near Campbellford. "Ontario is in the iron ore business and we're going to be in the iron ore producing business for some generations to come". This is a pretty firm statement. Our iron is therefore not a flash in the pan, but a valuable and continuing source of employment and profit. Its effect is already apparent in the shops and jobs at Marmora and Madoc.

While Peace Beckons, War Flares

Peaceable words and events in Korea and around the European Iron Curtain have distracted attention from a massive, seething Asiatic peninsula. This is the land mass on the east side of the Bay of Bengal which comprises Burma, Thailand (Siam), Malaya and Indo-China. In all four countries death, rebellion and war stalk, but especially in Indo-China. There the Red scourge is most menacing and there western interests in containing Communism are threatened to the point of extinction.

France has long been suzerain over Indo-China, but the war relaxed her hold. Since the war some of the best blood of France has been shed in long, bitter fighting to maintain French influence there and keep the Communists out. Viet Nam is the pro-French force and government; Viet Minh the Communist.

Viet Nam is really one of three federated states in Indo-China. The other two are Laos and Cambodia, primitive constitutional monarchies. The new republican state of Viet Nam was established in 1945-46, with French compliance. Its first president was Ho Chi Minh, founder of the Indo-Chinese Communist party. The French government withdrew recognition very soon, war broke out in 1946 and has continued ever since. The French reinstated Bai Dai (former emperor) as chief of the puppet state. His return was recognized by Britain and the U.S.A. in early 1950, a week after the Soviet Union recognized Ho Chi Minh's Communist regime (Viet Minh). Thus the international cleavage is complete in Indo-China, on the familiar Korean pattern.

What makes the rift dangerous is that the war may spread in area and international commitments. The country is far more strategically important than Korea, and the Communists have been driving the French and Vietnamese into bloody corners. Viet Nam of course borders Laos and Cambodia. They in turn border Burma and Thailand. In the north, Indo-China has a common front with Red China. From that front and from the east the Communist Viet Minh forces (with so-called armies of liberation) suddenly thrust speedily and strong into the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Laos. It is the first Communist advance into new territories since the attack on Korea.

This unfertile and sparsely populated little kingdom, friendly to the French and with few Communist sympathizers, cannot itself be the main target for the new invasion. There are richer prizes than its conquest—Thailand and Burma frontiers; and, south, the Malay States. Therein French, British and American interests are linked.

The French have been sustaining the Indo-China war pretty much alone, and at heavy cost. American money, but little material and no men, have been available. The U.S. has finally recognized the strategical importance of the war which the French have been fighting for so long. Military material and supplies are now being rushed to help the French whose backs are to the sea.

What has all this to do with Canada? Well, Canada is in Korea, as a result of U.N. and western intervention there to meet a Communist invasion of South Korea. Last week the first Communist invasion since Korea of western-suppported territory began. If this latest Communist push should threaten Siam and Burma, these two countries would need more than military missions and material assistance to withstand the Communist attack. An appeal would be made to U.N., and, as in Korea, military intervention would be required. As one observer has said this week, the area which covers Malaya is far too important strategically and economically to the West to be abandoned, and it is recognized that the Chinese minority in Siam and the existing Communist Party in Burma make both countries highly vulnerable.

It must be remembered that while the Chinese are supporting peace overtures in Korea they are supplying Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's forces with thousands of tons of military supplies. So also, are the Americans supplying the French and Viet Namese in Indo-China. The situation is neither pretty nor placid.

Air Mail Is Expensive

On Tuesday we reprinted on this page an editorial from the Ottawa Citizen which discussed the high air mail rates paid by business firms on letters and parcels shipped abroad; it was suggested there that an air parcel post be developed and a rate established for second class mail sent by air.

Without in the least disputing the high cost of air post to business firms, we should like to add that it is even more expensive to individual citizens who use the blue forms upon which stamps are printed and which cost ten or fifteen cents each. It is reckoned that there are between 150 and 180 of these to a pound—that is to say the Post Office receives $15 for a pound of these forms at the ten-cent rate, or $22.50 at the fifteen-cent rate. If the Post Office pays $4.83 a pound to send these air mail, the profit must be a high one. Of course it costs the Post Office something to handle the forms, but surely not enough to require this heavy airmail rate?

As we have said many times in these columns, a trustworthy, quick and efficient mail service is one of the marks of a civilized modern state; our Canadian postal service, although we have criticized it in matters of detail, is upon the whole a very good one. But it is also necessary that the mail service should be as cheap as it can possibly be made. Everybody uses it, and there is no good reason for it to show a profit; it is enough for it to cover its costs and take care of normal expansion. It looks as though the air mail rates in Canada were higher than they need to be, and if this is not the case, we should like to hear from the Postmaster General, speaking in Parliament, as to why they must be kept at their present level.

72 Parties

Italy is entering elections for its two chambers, and so far the number of parties and movements putting up candidates is seventy-two. This confounding of confusion does not seem to disturb Italian voters; it is just a tempting array of hors d'oeuvres. The chief courses are the Government party of the Centre, the Communist-led extreme Left, and the amalgam of Fascist-Royalist extreme Right. However, the side dishes could be such a glut that a simple voter would swallow them and leave the main spread for sharper tastes; for the Communists, for instance.

There are actually two Communist parties. There is Togliatti's orthodox Communist party. There are also the "Nenni" Socialists, who, pretending to be different from the Communists, are of the same breed. Signor Nenni kept watch at Stalin's coffin in Moscow at the same time as Palmiro Togliatti. On every occasion for the last several years the two parties have acted in unison. A vote for a Nenni Socialist candidate is therefore a vote for Communism.

If the multiplicity of parties can secure enough ballots from voters slightly off the middle of the road, then the real Centre party of Premier Gasperi may find its strength insufficient to keep on the road at all. It would then be vacant for the extremists, Right or Left. Communism in Italy has not nearly the numerical strength it had five years ago; only by manipulation could it secure power. The great number of parties now offering candidates must be comforting to the Communists.

In March 1,461 people in Ontario died of heart disease, which is still our greatest killer by far. Perhaps we should have a provincial drive to make the siesta an Ontario habit.

THE AMERICAN SCENE

Spoils, Gold And Shrimps

By ALASTAIR BUCHAN

TWENTY YEARS is a long time to be out of political office and the Republicans can be pardoned for not fully comprehending the situation in which they had come to power again. One of the most galling facts which they have discovered is that most of the top official positions in the various Government departments and agencies are now classfied under civil service regulations and their occupants cannot be removed except for incompetence.

This is a complete change from the days of the 'twenties when the Republicans were last in power. Then it was the custom to change even the office charwoman with a change of administration. Republican Cabinet ministers and senators have found to their dismay that there are only about seven or ten positions in each department which can be used to reward political faithfuls. Instead of being pleased that the United States now has something approaching a professional civil service (though it is by no means as powerful as the civil service in Britain or any Commonwealth country) they have been loudly complaining that the outgoing Administration has played them a dirty trick by hanging a lot of Democrats around their necks. Even this is an unproved assertion for the suburban counties of Maryland and Virginia adjoining Washington whose population is largely composed of Government servants, voted strongly Republican in the last election.

MOREOVER, the attempts which have been made to oust some senior officials have met with strong opposition. When the Secretary of Commerce required the resignation of the head of the Bureau of Standards for refusing to give the Bureau's endorsement to a compound for improving the life of car batteries, the American scientific profession raised a storm of protest at this interference with the objectivity of scientific appraisal that the Secretary was forced to back down. And similarly rumblings have been heard in the Press and elsewhere at the replacement of the Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, a very important conservation job, by a public relations expert, and the Director of the Office of Territories which administers Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico by a leading Republican journalist.

Perhaps the traditional American "spoils system," which worked well enough in an age of violent politics and relatively simple Government is having its last fling before giving way, through force of circumstances, to the principle of a fully professional civil service which alone can handle the complex administrative problems of modern government.

IF ANYONE thinks that America is no longer the land of golden opportunity which once lured thousands of European immigrants to its shores, they should consider the story of Mr. Leon Jolson. Mr. Jolson and his wife arrived here from a Nazi concenration camp in Poland six years ago with six dollars between them. He earned his first money repairing sewing machines in New York's teeming garment district, opened a small shop selling second-hand sewing machines and started to import Necchi sewing machines from Italy. Mr. Jolson's enterprise was so great that these imported machines became very popular and he is now the president of a multi-million dollar company which assembles and sells them, and has a network of over sixteen hundred dealers.

As typically American as the fact of his sky-rocketing success is the fact that he has now created a $250,000 foundation to promote "better understanding between races, creeds and nationalities." Clearly the fine tradition of Carnegie and Rockefeller, of barefoot boys who made a fortune and then gave most of it away to aid humanity, has not been killed by high taxes or the welfare state.

RADIATION is such a frightening word in its association with atom bombs, that it is pleasant to discover that it is being used to help the suburban gardener. At the Brooklyn Botanic Gardens a tall, intent scientist named Peter Nelson is to be seen marching about the grounds holding a gadget like an aluminium croquet mallet over the delicate new buds of garden shrubs. The mallet contains radioactive phosphorous which emits beta rays. Dr. Nelson hopes that by bombarding the buds with these rays, he can increase the chances of cross breeding and the creation of mutations. The object is to try and develop stable dwarf species of magnolia, cherry, crab-apple and the common trees and shrubs, so that the average small suburban house owner can fit more of them into his restricted garden space. This must be the equivalent— in the atomic age— of beating swords into plough shares.

✧ ✧ ✧

AN ANNOYING aspect of the progressiveness of American technology is its tendency to take the romance out of the country's colourful livelihoods. One of the most engaging songs in recent years was called "Shrimpboats are a-coming, their sails are in sight" which described to a delightfully catchy tune the women of the Louisiana bayous (creeks of the Mississippi delta) waiting for their men-folk to come home with their boats and nets full of shrimp Now the University of Miami has discovered that shrimps can be caught electrically by attracting them to the pole of a weak electric current and then stunning them with a stronger one. But perhaps this seemingly prosaic process will have its own romance for its inventor is called Dr. Idyll and his laboratory is at Coral Cables, Florida.

WASHINGTON is not famous for the charm of its climate. It has a mild, yet muggy winter and the most abysmally awful summer of any capital city outside the tropics; the thermometer rises up into the nineties in June and stays there until the middle of September and it is humid, clinging heat which frays the temper and wilts the collar. But from the middle of March to the middle of May there is no more beautiful capital city on earth, for its provides the backdrop to a pageant of flowering shrubs that can have few equals anywhere in the world.

The spring starts in March with a fiesta of forsythia, not the pale, straggly plant of English suburban gardens but enormous bushes of yellow flowers which look like a firework exploding. On the heels of the forsythia comes the famous ring of Japanese cherries, around the Tidal Basin and the Jefferson Mounment, which are like pale pink lace (they were the gift of the Japanese Government some twenty years ago and were discreetly rechristened "Korean Cherries" during the war but have now reverted to their proper name). Following them come the Judas trees, the purplest purple that any artist's palette could devise, flowering currant lilac, the ebullient native double cherry and the magnolias. As they begin to wilt the azaleas appear, bank upon bank of scarlet, magneta and white bushes round every suburban house. Almost every street corner has its dogwood tree, a mass of delicate cup-shaped white or pink flowers, that flutter gently in every breeze.

In a week or two our brief glory will be passed. The hordes of tourists who come each year to see the spring here will have retreated to their native Michigan or Missouri, and Washington will again be just the place to which one pays taxes and no longer the most beautiful city in the world.

'IT TAKES TWO TO TANGO'

Rose Martin and The Colonel

(WALL STREET JOURNAL)

THE poet tells us that there is a destiny that shapes our ends— and sometimes it gets right down to no starch in the shirt-tail. If there had been starch in the shirt-tail as well as in the cuffs and collar the shirt wouldn't have been done well and the Colonel would never have found Rose Martin. And Rose Martin today might still be living as a waif in China instead of as the adopted daughter of the Colonel who wants to bring her home.

The story of Rose and the Colonel is a story of a strange destiny. The Colonel is Luther A. Burbank who comes from a small town in Iowa and who in 1946 was stationed in Kunming, China.

One day his shirts came back from his laundry different from the way they usually came back. They were neat and properly starched and beautifully pressed, and this surprised the colonel for it had been his experience that Chinese laundries in China were not nearly as good as the Chinese laundries over here.

It surprised him so much that he asked to speak to who had done his shirts, doubtless to pass a little cumshaw to the same sewsew girl. It surprised him even more when he saw who had done them; it was a 10-year-old girl living with his laundress.

"She did not appear to be Oriental, at all though living as Chinese," the Colonel recalled. He investigated and learned that Rose Martin was the daughter of a British sailor lost at sea aboard the Drake in 1939, three years after her birth. Her mother, he learned, was also believed to have been English. She died while Rose was a baby. No relatives could be located.

Colonel Burbank and his wife took the child home and adopteid her. Now they are asking the Congress to let them bring her into this country. We hope it will.

There are a lot of morals that may be drawn from this story. Rose Martin knows that what's worth doing at all is worth doing well, even shirts.

And the Colonel knows that beauty is much more than skin deep; sometimes it is all mixed up with generosity and kindness and a person's soul. Kunming in the 1940's was full of waifs. Yet the Chinese laundress who herself had little to offer cared as best she could for a little English child, a stranger in the land, unknowing but not unloved.

Unlearned Lesson Of Transplanting

(MONTREAL STAR)

COMFORTABLY remote as we are from New Zealand, so that the idea of hungry grizzly bears roaming its mountains and forests is not of personal concern, we are encouraged to note that the idea will remain just that. Belatedly enough, people are waking up to the fact that one runs risks in trying to improve on Nature's distribution of wild life.

Strangely, the suggestion came from one who might have been expected to know better, the editor of a well-known sports magazine. He might have been expected to be wiser for two reasons. He is said to be a native of Australia, bedevilled for years by the progeny of a pair of imported rabbits. He is a resident of New York City, like many North American cities pestered nearly to death by imported starling. For sportmen's fun, he would have New Zealand turn loose a few of the world's most dangerous wild animals. New Zealand authorities have been wise enough to say, "No, thanks."

There have been enough experiments of this sort to prove how unpredictable their consequences can be. North America has Europe's starling and what a blessing it would be if we could hand back the whole noisy, messy lot. Australia has someone else's rabbits, millions upon millions of them, eating grass which sheep and cattle could put to better use. Australia also has thousands of acres of land infested with the prickly pear, which someone dug up in Texas thinking it would look pretty in his garden down under. That "debt" is being repaid by the water hyacinths clogging waterways in the Southern States. Europe has North America's muskrats; we recall reading a menace to canal banks.

However, a safer place than New Zealand to drop a suggestion along this line could hardly be found, where it was sure to be caught before it had time to hit the ground. New Zealand originally had no land animals, but settlers took care of that, and the rats and weasels they introduced, and dogs and pigs that went wild, helped take care of a great many of the unique types of bird once so numerous. Deer were introduced for sport, and are now almost as great a nuisance as Australia's rabbits, pests to be slaughtered by professional hunters to protect pasture land for cattle.

It is strange but true that it is easier to exterminate a swarming species like the passenger pigeon, or the buffalo—or, if you prefer, the bison—in its proper habitat than to control a transplant. It is surprising, too, that there are still people unaware of transplanting's capricious effects. One would have thought that every Australian knew about boomerangs.

The boxer outclassed, failed to comply. He recoiled from an attack and clutched despairingly at a ring post.

"Not with that, you fool!" shouted his second; "you'll oe disqualified."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Remember me, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people: O visit me with thy salvation . . .

Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt; they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies; but provoked him at the sea, even at the Red sea . . . They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the saint of the Lord . . . They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image . . . They forgat God their saviour, which had done great things in Egypt . . . They joined themselves also unto Baal-peor, and at the sacrifices of the dead. Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them. (Ps. 106:4, 7, 16, 19, 21, 28, 29.)

Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not into the way of evil men . . .

My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart. For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh. (Prov. 4:14, 20-22.)

Letter To The Editor

SOME HOTEL.

Sir, Well, here I am back in Peterborough again, after spending two weeks as a guest at a Government institution. No you're quite wrong! It wasn't the "Pen." It was the "vets" pavilion; and the hotel was Hotel Dieu at Kingston; and to give it its due, it turned out to be a very good place in which to loaf away a few carefree days. Breakfast in bed! Pretty nurses and all that kind of stuff.

The trouble started when I reported to the Peterborough clinic with a pain in the belly. This is no new thing for me— I have been having pains in the belly for the last thirty years and expect to have them for thirty more. Anyway, the Doc., realizing the gravity of my condition decided it would be much nicer for both of us if I went and died a long way from Peterborough as he already had his hands filled with patients, whom he imagined were in a far worse condition than I.

My appointment was for three weeks hence— April 7., 2:30 p.m., Richardson building, Princess Street, Kingston. Government departments don't as a rule work very fast and it sometimes works to the disadvantage of the taxpayers, for during that three weeks interval, I was able to stage a comeback and was almost as good as new the day I was admitted. Explaining things to the Doc. didn't help either. The information on my papers said I was a sick man. Therefore, I was sick and they proceeded to give me the works—X-ray, blood tests, etc., which had the depressing effect of making me feel that my time had really come and I began to feel very sorry for myself wondering who would come to the funeral and sorry now, that I had not accepted all the invitations that I could have at my friends' funerals.

The hungrier I got the more depressed For the Nuns that run the place (God Bless 'em), decided that any eating being done around the place wasn't going to be done by me, and all I got for the first three days was milk on the hour and by the hour. And me an engineer in a dairy where milk flows like waters of the Otonabee.

But I only had one scrap with them, and that was about the matter of tea drinking. Having drunk a matter of ten to fifteen cups a day for the last forty years, to be cut off, was like dragging the life raft from under a sinking sailor. But they were adament and so was I and for the next two weeks we played a game called surprises. It was surprising how many times they caught me drinking tea. But my final triumph, was when I elected myself offical snackmaker of the 8 p.m. lunch which consisted entirely of tea and toast.

Which shows that they should know better, ulcers or no ulcers than to deprive an Englishman of his tea.

County To Deal Directly With 19 Road Workers

Peterborough County Council in their capacity as employers are having trouble with their labor relations. Specifically, with their 19 permanent county road employees.

After considerable discussion Monday afternoon here's what the county council decided:

1. By passing a special bylaw they exempted themselves and their employees from the provisions of the Labor Relations Act. This means they don't have to enter into collective bargaining relations with the employees if they don't want to.

2. Approved a recommendation from the county roads committee that lessens the hours of work, increase holidays and generally improves the working conditions for county employees.

3. Agreed that the present staff is too large and should be cut. No specific figure was mentioned but Deputy-Reeve David McIntyre suggested it could be as much as a third.

4. Requested the suburban area roads commission to adopt a scale of wages for their workmen similar to that paid by the county council.

POLITE HINT

After a polite hint from Ewart Marston, district engineer of the Department of Highways, it is likely that the county roads committee will drop the post of works superintendent except for special construction jobs. This post was just created at the March session.

Reeve Willard Waterman, chairman of county roads, said that an attempt had been made by an unidentified union to sign up the county employees.

"There is only a small number of employees," said Reeve Waterman, "and the committee felt that they were able to deal with the employees directly rather than having outsiders interfering."

He said there had been a general meeting called with the employees and their grievances were heard. Later a five-man employee committee was set up and made a report.

NOW WORK 60 HOURS

Reeve Waterman quoted the committee as asking for a nine-hour day with a 45-hour week alternating with a 54-hour week. At present the employees work 10 hours a day, six days a week—a total of 60 hours a week.

The men are estimated to earn an average of 85 cents an hour.

The five-men committee also asked for every other Saturday off, two weeks' vacations with pay after five years' service, and all statutory holidays off. At present they get only one week holidays.

Mr. Waterman said that at the general meeting the men were unanimous in wanting a pension plan, but this was not proposed by the five-man committee.

Following are recommendations of the county roads committee which were accepted by the whole council:

1. Employees get every other Saturday off with pay.

2. Two weeks' vacations with pay after five years' service. One week to be taken in summer and one in winter (winter is defined as in the period November 1 to March 31, thus including the hunting season).

3. A nine-hour day during the slack season, November 1 to March 31.

4. Statutory holidays on Christmas, Boxing Day, New Year's, Good Friday, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, and one other statutory holiday, making seven in all.

2 VOTE AGAINST

Only two members of council voted against passing the bylaw which permits the county to avoid bargaining with its employees under the terms of the Labor Relations Act. They were Reeve William C. Grant of Lakefield and Reeve William E. Griffith of Belmont-Methuen Township.

Section 78 of the Labor Relations Act says: "Any municipality ....may declare that this Act shall not apply to it in its relations with its employees or any of them."

"Do the employees understand what advantages they get under the Ontario Labor Relations Act," asked Reeve Grant.

Reeve Waterman said he didn't know.

"Have they expressed the desire to deol directly with the county rather than through the Ontario Labor Relations Act," asked Reeve Grant.

"No, they didn't say that," said Reeve Waterman.

"Was anything said about union at the meeting," asked Warden Ernest Leeson.

"No, there was no mention of a union," was the reply.

The bylaw was then put to a vote, with only Reeve Grant and Reeve Griffith, a former railwayman, dissenting.

West's Farmers Have It Good Senator From B.C. Claims

OTTAWA (CP)—A British Columbia Liberal senator Tuesday entered a Senate free-for-all debate on the international wheat agreement to complain about Western farmers "living the life of Riley."

The intrusion of Senator Thomas Reid was an unheralded turn of events as Prairie senators swapped diverging opinions about whether it is or isn't a good idea for Canada to join an international wheat agreement among 41 countries to put a floor of $1.55 a bushel and a ceiling of $2.05 on wheat. Britain has declined to sign the pact.

He was fed up, Senator Reid indicated, with farmers talking about their hard lots when the hard life they pictured existed 50 years ago. There were lots of farmers on the Prairies who left there to live the life of Riley, presumably in B.C.

"God knows," he said, "we pay them enough for their wheat."

What he'd like to know," said the fisheries-expert senator, is what it costs to produce a bushel of wheat?

The answer, said Senator Norman Lambert (L—Ontario), acting government leader and a man who spent years on the Prairies associated with the grain business, is that no two people have ever been able to agree on the production costs of a bushel of wheat. There were too many differences in climate and soil.

Senator Reid took one final crack. Would $2.05 a bushel give a reasonable profit, he asked.

Senator Lambert said he'd rather somebody else would answer that one. Nobody did.

The chamber ratified the agreement.

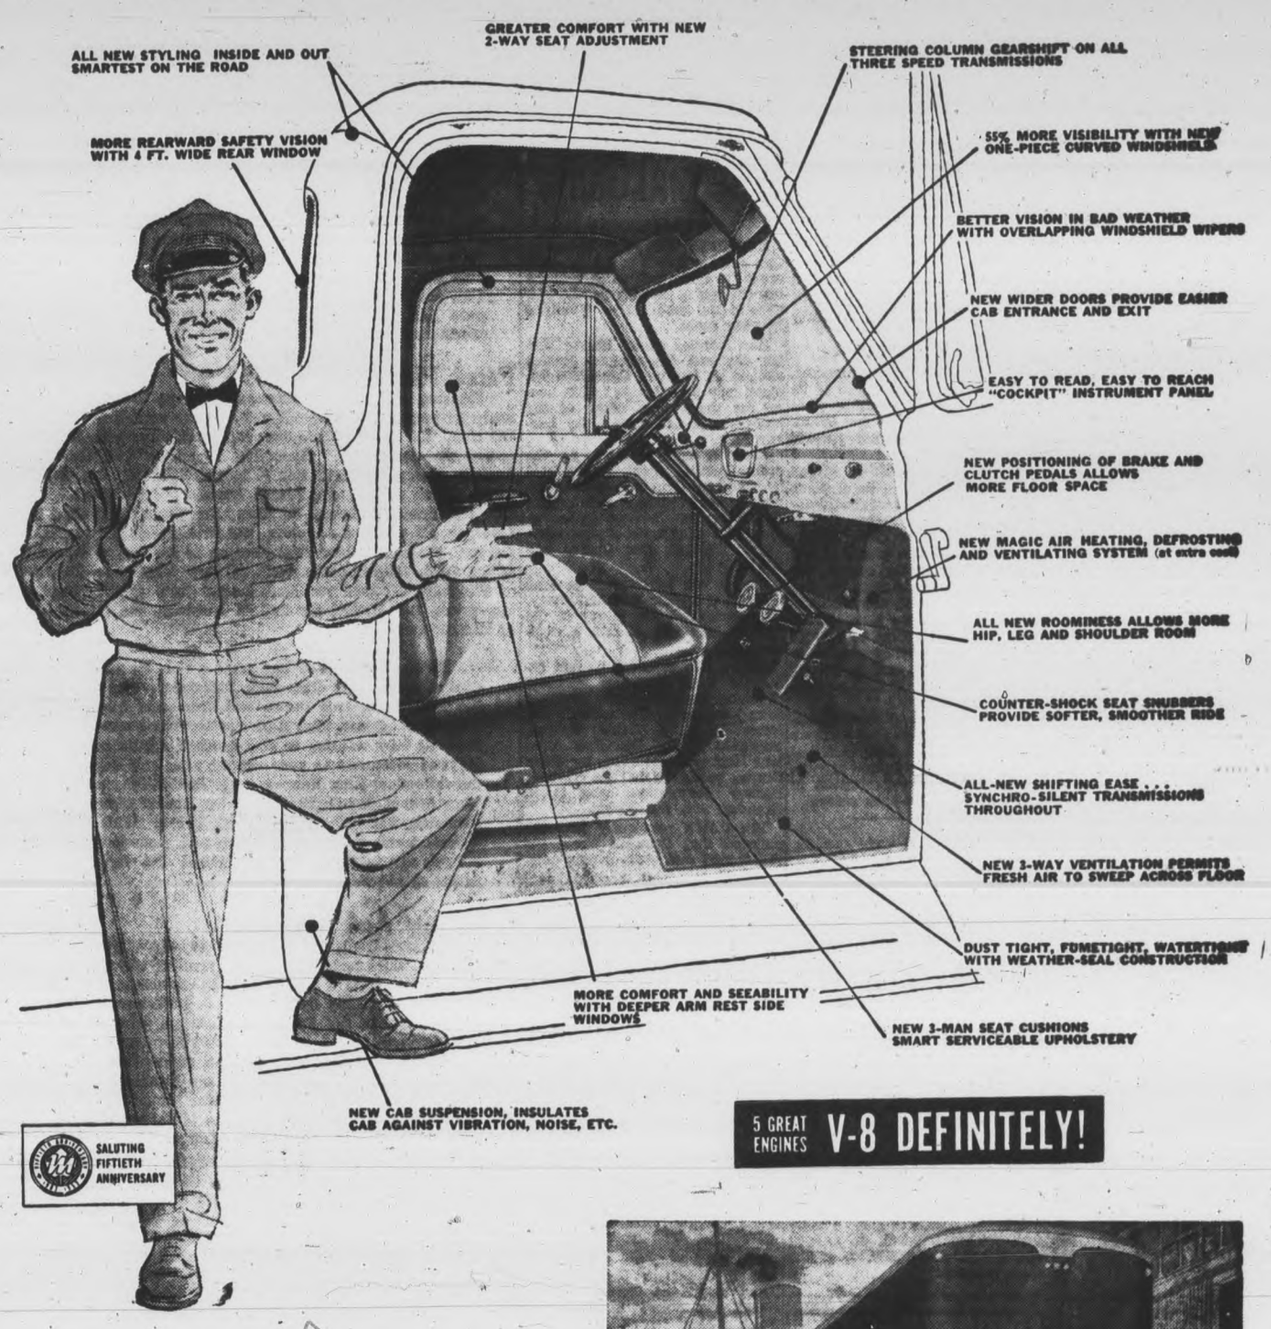
Compares Way Of Life In Russia, Canada

LAKEFIELD—(ENS) —Speaking on the subject of Communism, James Fraser, chairman of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Young Adult Society of the United Church on Sunday evening at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Keller. A discussion period followed the talk.

Mr. Fraser discussed the comparative rights and privileges of the individual in Canada and in Soviet Russia and told of the ways in which Communism gains a foothold in a country. The leaders of this movement are trained for years and no trick is too foul for them to try. Their first step is usually through labour unions where they cause unrest and dissention.

"Christianity is here to stay", said Mr. Fraser in conclusion. "That is our best defence against Communism. There is a definite upswing in the Christian religions in Canada. Each one must be constantly aware of the threat of Communism to our way of life and we must fight it wherever possible."

Introduced by Donald Hendren, chairman of the Lakefield Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Fraser was thanked by Neil Wood.



The vice-president, Archie Stewart, presided for the meeting, and the treasurer, Mrs. Keller reported bank balance to be $160.81.

Dr. L. O. Bailey gave a resume of the Book of Revelations and Mrs. W. H. Tonge led community singing with accompaniment played by Mrs. R. Maidment on the piano-accordion.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Some time ago we wrote Jack Adams inquiring what he thought of the Peterborough boys who took in the three-day puck tryout school in Detroit over Easter weekend. The manager of the Wings replied the other day, his letter in part saying: "Kindly accept my apology for not writinig sooner but Tommy Ivan and I have been out in Edmonton watching our farm club play, only returning to Detroit this past week. Our junior tryout camp was very successful. Your Peterborough kids looked exceptionally good, and we are hoping to have them on our junior 'A' club next season. "There you are, boys, that's from the big boss. Better keep in shape for that trial camp at Sault Ste. Marie in the early autumn.

In the off-season for hockey, Ted Naish would like to see two puck meetings held here. Ted has been a keen follower of the PMHA setup for some years and knows the score. One meeting he suggests would be that of officers, coaches and managers of the PMHA all the way up, the purpose being to standardize the coaching of the kids in the various sections of the association. This would be in line with what pro farm systems do, so that future prospects aren't being taught wrong or perhaps not taught much at all. It's well worth considering. Also, Ted's other constructive suggestion.

Let's Iron Out Wrinkles

It is to have a joint meeting of officials of the Petes, IOOF juniors and the PMHA to agree on players moving up. When they should step up, what deadline should be set, what replacements might be made, how to stop raiding a minor club late in the season, what monetary return might be made, and so on. A lot of angles there needing ironing out. Also, should these players participate as well in TVL or shop hockey? What about boys wanting a release to go with another minor team? Should a player be kept back if good enough to move up? If a player rides the bench for so long, is he entitled to a release to play for another club? Many of these knotty problems could be worked out at such a joint meeting. But who will call it?

Our congratulations to Kingston Goodyears upon capturing the OHA senior "B" championship over Woodstock recently. It is a worthy feat by a scrappy squad which always did it the hard way. Kept losing the first game or two every series but kept battling to ultimately win it all. As Mike Rodden writes: "They operated against stronger opposition in their own group than they did in playoffs against Toronto Lyndhursts and Woodstock. At the finish of the group race they were in third place deadlocked with Belleville, 14 points behind the potent Oshawa Truckers and only three ahead of the fast-closing Petes." Yes, Johnny Carr-Harris drove them through Belleville, Oshawa, Toronto and finally Woodstock. They're worthy champs and worthy representatives of our senior "B" group.

Petes Plan For 1953-54

Figuring on having the summer to line up prospects and be all ready for puck action next fall, the Petes re-organized at a meeting last e'en. Ed O'Toole takes over the presidency, with Ray Tanner named vice-president. Executive committee comprises: Johnny Russelle, George Bennett, Ken Kingston, Ed Foley, Jim Ellis, Roy Lewis, Frank Jopling and Lionel Browne. Life members of the club are: Frank Buckland, Ed Riley, Ben Swartz and Fred Scates. Later, they'll choose a secretary, treasurer, coach and manager. By the way, Frank Buckland now steps up to the first vice-presidency of the OHA, following the death of Stew MacTavish. Tory Gregg of Wingham becomes president, Lorne Cook of Kingston second vice-prexy, Bill Hewitt remains as secretary, and George Dudley of Midland treasurer.

PMBA (minor ball) has namd a steering committee of Chairman Pat Calladine, Jack Billingsley, Wimp Borland, Joe T. Gatfield, Jack Bacon, and Recreation Director Alex Sinclair as advisor. They'll be meeting this weekend. Meantime, all boys wanting to play baseball should register tonight at seven. Go to your nearest park and register with the following: King Edward Park, Jack Billingsley; Queen Mary School, Joe Gatfield; Inverlea, Arnold Olmstead; and Riverside, Pat Calladine and Jack Bacon. 'This hoped to operate teams in peewee, bantam and a section including midgets and juveniles. Service clubs of the city may assist in the sponsorship.

Ed. O'Toole Chosen Prexy Of Puck Petes Of 1953-4

Eddie O'Toole last night was elected president of the Peterborough Hockey Club, entered in OHA senior "B" competition, at the annual re-organization meeting held last night. He suceeds Benny Swartz, last year's head of the club. Other officers chosen for the 1953-54 season were: Vice-president, Ray Tanner; board of directors, Lionel Browne, Frank Jopling, Roy Lewis, Jim Ellis, Ed Foley, Ken Kingston, George Bennett and Johnny Russelle.

NAMED LATER

The secretary, the treasurer, coach and the manager are to be named at a later meeting. Life members of the club are: Frank Buckland, Ed Riley, Ben Swartz and Fred Scates.

Reports for the 1952-53 season were presented and general plans for next hockey campaign discussed at the annual session. It was felt that the team made a fine showing in the late stages of the strong group race last season, but difficulty in getting good players out at the start of the schedule had meant too late a start for the Petes. This is expected to be rectified before another campaign gets under way, and a strong squad should be iced late next fall.

The executive was streamlined to some extent, with real workers on the present list. They will not be idle during the summer months in putting the organization in shape for the next puck season.

Emms Sees Few Changes In Second Game

By AL VICKERY

BRANDON (CP)—The Memorial Cup scene switches to the Brandon arena tonight, but there will be few changes in the players who took part in the first act at Winnipeg Monday night.

Hap Emms, whose Barrie Flyers captured the opening contest against St. Boniface Canadiens 6-4, plans only one change in his lineup for the second game of the best-of-seven Canadian junior hockey final.

After a stiff workout at the arena Tuesday night, Emms said he would use Orin Carver as an extra forward in place of defenceman Ken Robertson, leaving the easterners with only three rearguards—Larry Thibault, Don Cherry and Ralph Willis.

Carver will help carry the load up front if captain Don McKenney, who suffered a leg injury in the opener, isn't able to take a regular shift.

Emms also reported he had requested that the series alternate between Brandon and Winnipeg from here on in. The request was forwarded to W. (Baldy) George, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, by Terry Gregg, president of the Ontario Hockey Association, who is in Brandon with the Flyers.

The CAHA previously had announced that Brandon would get the second and sixth games only.

Canadiens, who arrived here about four hours after the Flyers, passed up the opportunity to work out, preferring to rest.

Manager Larry Desjardins said the only possible change in the Habs' line-up would be replacing defenceman Bob Jasson with Ron Heindl. Jasson, who came up to the juniors from the juvenile Canadiens in mid-season, suffered a leg injury in the first game.

Desjardins continued where he had left off after Monday night's game in his gripe against the style of hockey in the East-West finals.

"If the Flyers want to play it rough, we can too. But the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association has persecuted us all year for those same tactics. . . Being big is detrimental in Manitoba. They always favor the little, both the fans and the referees."

The fiery manager also claimed that if Canadiens played in the same league as Barrie all year round, the Flyers wouldn't even finish a close second.

The game gets under way at 9:30 CDT as Brandon remained on standard time while Winnipeg went on daylight.

Oxygen Sniffers Win 5-2 With Penticton

KITCHENER, Ont (CP)—Penticton Vs drank their apple juice. Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen sniffed oxygen.

The result: the Dutchmen defeated the Vs 5-2 in the opening game of the best-of-seven Allan Cup finals here Tuesday night.

Penticton coach Bill Carse put his boys on an apple juice diet during the playoff season and for the last two months coach Bobby Rafferty has had his Dutchmen taking draughts of oxygen between stints on the ice..

Carse said after the game he thought the heat of the arena might have had something to do with his team's third-period collapse, but it appeared that Don Johnston's tripping penalty at 8:32 of the third was the turning point. While he was off the Dutchies snapped a 2-2 tie with two quick goals.

7,353 WATCH

A capacity crowd of 7,353 saw the western and eastern senior champions skirmish through a scoreless first period. Then at the 25-second mark of the second period, Grant Warwick golfed a long rebound past Kitchener goalie Keith Woodall.

Within five minutes Dutchies' right-winger Jack McKenzie slapped in two three-way passing plays to give the East a 2-1 lead. At the 16:50 mark Willie (Scrap Iron) Schmidt tied it with a rising backhander.

The third-period tie-breaker came from Al Buchanan and then Harry Psutka clinched it with the fourth Kitchener goal. Clare Martin finished it off with a screened shot.

Dressing room comment didn't flatter referees Vic Lindquist and Lorne Lyndon of Winnipeg. Both teams complained that too many rough moments went unnoticed.

The series was officially opened when mayor W. A. Rathbun of Penticton dropped the first puck. The second game will be played here Thursday night.

TOP SPEED SKATERS—Edgar Dame of Revere, Mass., and Barbara Marchetti of Berkley, Mich., are the 1953 North American senior indoor speed skating champions. The championships were held this year in Edmonton, first time they had been held in Canada in more than 20 years. Dame broke three records and won four of the six senior men's races. Miss Marchetti led the senior women's competition throughout.

Four IL Teams Open Home Season

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Four International League baseball teams come home for opening-day games today—three in Canada, the other in Buffalo.

Montreal Royals play host to Rochester Red Wings, whom they whacked 17-4 opening day a week ago in Rochester, Syracuse Chiefs visit Ottawa Athletics and Springfield Cubs are in Toronto for the Maple Leafs' opener. In Buffalo, the Bisons play Baltimore Orioles.

The Royals are scheduled o start the same pitcher, Ken Lehman, who whipped the Red Wings last week. Rochester is expected to start with Ralph Beard, a right-hander who won eight and lost 11 for Columbus Red Birds last season.

OTTAWA HOPE

At Ottawa, the cellar-dwelling Athletics will be trying for their first win against a team that is only half a game behind the league leaders, Buffalo and Toronto. The Chiefs have won two and lost one of their three games so far this season.

There will be a downtown parade ending at city hall before Toronto takes on Springfield. Mayor Allan Lamport will be presented with a baseball cap and the players will be introduced to board of control members.

Later, at Maple Leaf Stadium, Don Johnson will go to the mound for Toronto. The Cubs' starter is expected to be rookie George Long, winner over Johnson in Springfield.

Baltimore's main problem will be its pitching. The Orioles have several promising youngsters, but none as yet has shown his stuff, and their starter will face the powerful Bisons.

Remember When

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Jack Blackburn, the great boxing manager and trainer, was buried 11 years ago today. He developed Joe Louis from an awkward amateur into the world's heavyweight champion in less than three years. Louis, who held the title from 1937 to 1949, was in the uniform of a private in the United States Army at the funeral of his mentor.

TERRIERS HOLD WORKOUT

GALT (CP)—Despite threatening skies and a cold wind, John Russian, manager of Galt Terriers of the Senior Intercounty Baseball League, had his crew out for a workout Tuesday. Thirteen players appeared in the two-hour drill. They included pitchers Othello Strong, Felix Henry, John Lipka and southpaw Bruce Schroeder; infielders Russian, Andy Turolski, Neil McDonald and Ed Fasiska, and outfielders Vern Kaiser, Bill Mansfield, Wray Upper, Al Kelleher and Gene Kemp.

OHA VICE-PREXY — Frank Buckland has stepped up to the first vice-presidency of the Ontario Hockey Association by acclamation, while Tory Gregg of Wingham becomes president, following the death of President Stew MacTavish of Oshawa. Mr. Buckland of Peterborough has long been connected with hockey since his coaching days here in the middle 30s. He is a life-member of the Petes' senior "B" club.

Phillies Top Batters

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies today boast the highest major league team batting figure. The Phillies are hitting a collective .315 with 127 hits in 403 times at bat.

ON STARBOARD TACK—International Class 1 designs jockeyed for positions off Hamilton during best-of-seven series in competition for the Amorita Cup, symbol of yachting superiority between the United States and Bermuda. Bert Darrell's Teaser, foreground, was second in this heat in which Bermuda maintained its lead with Westra, skippered by George Ingram.

Yankees Trip Browns 7-6, Bounce Back To First Place

By JOE REICHER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball was recovering from a hangover today following a wild and wooly night. The Browns and Yankees engaged in a free-for-all at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis and the fans bombarded the players with pop bottles and beer cans. After order was restored, the Yankees tripped the Browns 7-6 to regain the lead in the American League.

St. Louis Cardinals snapped the Phillies' eight-game winning streak 6-5 as the Redbirds' Peanuts Lowrey came through for the fifth straight time in a pinch-hit role. Lowrey singled home Enos Slaughter with what proved to be the winning run in the seventh inning.

Bobby Shantz pitched and batted Philadelphia Athletics to a 3-2 triumph over the Indians. Shantz spun an eight-hitter and drove in two runs to end the Indians' five-game winning streak and knock them out of first place.

FOUR HITS AGAIN

Washington outfielder Jim Busby racked up his second straight four-hit day but it failed to prevent the White Sox from nipping the Senators 5-4. Cuban Mike Fornieles, traded by Washington last winter, earned the decision.

Southpaw Kenny Raffensberger of Cincinati tried for the 20th time since 1944 to defeat the Dodgers in a starting role—and failed again. Preacher Roe hurled the Brooks to a 5-1 triumph. It was Brooklyn's 32nd success over Raffy in 40 decisions.

New York Giants collected 11 hits and drew four walks off right-hander Max Surkont but scored only one run as Milwaukee Braves whipped Leo Durocher's darlings 4-1. The Braves made only six hits but four went for extra bases.

OLDIE IN RELIEF

Dutch Leonard, at 43 the oldest player in the National League, retired three Pittsburgh batters in a brilliant ninth-inning relief job to preserve Chicago Cubs' 5-3 victory.

The Yankee-Brownie free-for-all developed when St. Louis catcher Clint Courtney, an ex-Yankee, singled in the 10th, tried to stretch it into a double and slid hard into Phil Rizzuto, upsetting the Yankee shortstop.

Then Yankee players closed in on Courtney, who just the inning before had the ball knocked out of his hands by Gil McDougald who slid home for the potential winning run. Courtney's glasses were knocked off on the play at the plate.

Courtney, after the game, told one sportswriter it was pitcher Allie Reynolds who hit him first at second base. Next came McDougald, followed by Billy Martin and Bob Cerv. It first appeared from the press box that Martin had struck the opening blow. Another writer said Reynolds missed on his punch.

BENCHES CLEAR

By this time, both benches were cleared of players and all were around second base taking part in a general free-for-all.

The game was delayed 17 minutes as numerous fans among the 13,463 cash customers began hurling missiles, most of them directed at Yankee left fielder Gene Woodling, their nearest target.

It took an appeal from St. Louis manager Marty Marion over the public address system to quiet the fans.

The slugfest overshadowed a couple of outstanding feats by Yankee players. In the third inning, Mickey Mantle lambasted another prodigious home run that travelled an estimated 500 feet. In the ninth, Reynolds replaced Johnny Schmitz with the score tied at 6-6, the bases loaded, only one out and fanned Roy Sievers and Bob Elliott.

Move Mickey To Shortstop?

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel of New York Yankees, concerned over his mounting infield problems, said Tuesday he might switch Mickey Mantle to shortstop.

The New York World-Telegram and Sun, in a story by Dan Daniel, quoted Stengel as asking:

"Suppose one of these days you found Mickey Mantle playing short for me? Mind, this Mantle shift is nothing in the immediate future. I believe it will be another month before all of us know exactly where we stand."

"Suppose Rizzuto failed to hold up and I sent Mickey to short with Irv Noren playing centre against righthanded pitching and Bill Renna against southpaws? Wouldn't that lineup give opposition pithers plenty to worry about?"

Maybe Heat Beat Penticton Says BC Coach

KITCHENER (CP)—It may have been the heat in the Arena that caused Penticton V's third-period collapse Tuesday night, coach Bill Carse said after the first Allan Cup final game, which Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen won 5-2.

But he also pointed to a penalty to Don Johnston during which Dutchies scored twice, as the big break for Kitchener.

Dutchmen's coach Bob Rafferty had no comment beyond a pleased smile.

Neither team was happy about the officiating of Vic Lindquist and Lorne Linden of Winnipeg. Both complained that the officials let far too much rough stuff go unpenalized.

The series was officially opened when mayor W. A. Rathbun of Penticton dropped the first puck.

Between periods he presented mayor Bruce Weber of Kitchener with a Penticton button, a case of apple juice and a case of apples. At the end of the game 5,000 Okanagan apples were given away at the gates to fans leaving the rink.

Weber, in turn, presented Rathbun with a case of Waterloo county apple juice and a container of pigs tails for which the district is famous.

Ty Cobb In Hospital With Heart Ailment

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Ty Cobb, former major league baseball star, entered hospital Tuesday to rest from what hospital attendants said was a heart ailment.

They reported Cobb was in "fair" condition.

Cobb came to Twin Falls for the opening of the Pioneer League baseball season here last Friday and has been visiting friends here since. Cobb formerly operated a bottling plant in Twin Falls.

Fourth Of Girls In Eire To Die Unmarried

DUBLIN (AP)—One girl out of four must expect to die an old maid in the Republic of Ireland, a government census disclosed today.

It said only 75 per cent of all colleens now find husbands, against 87½ per cent in 1841. Many of those who do marry have to wait until middle age.

The percentage of unmarried adults of all ages at the end of the census completed in 1951 stood at 67.4 for men and 45.6 for women —the highest in the world.

Meanwhile the percentage of young, productive Irishmen and Irishwomen continued to sink and the percentage of over-65s to rise.

In 1946, the 15-44 age group comprised 43.1 per cent of the population. At the end of 1951 it was down to 41 per cent.

But the number of the elderly, which stood at 201,000 in 1941, reached 316,000 in 1951, or 10.7 per cent of the population.

Ireland's population loss because of emigration from 1946 to 1951 totalled 120,000 including 51,000 men and 69,000 women.

The Republic's population at the end of 1951 was 2,958,878, compared with 6,532,000 in 1841.

Fear No Invasion

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China's armed forces now are so strong that "supported by the U.S. 7th fleet, we have no fear of (Communist) invasion," Maj.-Gen. William C. Chase said today in a speech commemorating the founding of the U.S. military assistance advisory group May 1, 1951.

Finds Fast Way To Relieve SCIATIC PAIN

"For a long time I was just about useless from sharp sciatic pain in my right hip and thigh," writes Mr. Kenneth Dauphinee, 32 Atlantic Ave., Halifax, N.S. "Despite all the things I tried, I showed no improvement. Then my wife got me some T-R-C's and from the first dose I got longed-for relief. After taking T-R-C's for a short time, I no longer needed them and have not had an attack for years."

DARK STAR WINS TRIAL

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dark Star from the Cain Hoy Stable of Harry F. Guggenheim qualified handsomely Tuesday for the Kentucky Derby Saturday by pulling away in the stretch to win the $15,300 Derby Trial. He crossed the finish line four lengths ahead of second-place Money Broker, with Spy Defense another three-quarter lengths behind for third. Thirteen Derby hopefuls started.

Jockey Henry Moreno was aboard Dark Star. It was only the Guggenheim colt's fourth start of the year.

The Churchill Downs track was termed "fast" for the trial.

Dark Star's time of 1:36 for the mile was excellent, as he sailed under the wire ahead of the G. and G. Stable's Money Broker, winner of the $100,000 Florida Derby.

Spy Defense, from the Dixiana farm of Charles T. Fisher, got third money by a scant nose over the highly-regarded Royal Bay Gem, property of Eugene Constantin Jr., of Dallas.

SUSPEND COACH COOKE

WATERLOO (CP)—Bun Cooke, coach of Waterloo Siskins, was suspended Tuesday from the Ontario Hockey Association Junior B playoffs.

Action by the OHA followed Cooke's attack Saturday night on referee Jim Crombie after the official had ejected him from a playoff game against Weston Dukes. The OHA will hold a meeting Friday to deal with the case.

WOULD CHANGE PARK NAME

ST. THOMAS (CP)—The St. Thomas Baseball Association Tuesday favored changing the name of Pinafore Park to Emslie Field.

The change was considered to honor the memory of Robert D. Emslie, for many years dean of National League umpires.

Emslie, who came to St. Thomas in the 1890s, made his home here. He was a moving spirit behind many teams in the city following his retirement.

Emslie started his career as a pitcher and from St. Thomas he broke into professional ball with Baltimore. Later he turned to umpiring.

FIVE BOXERS CHOSEN

HAMILTON (CP)—Five Southwestern Ontario amateur boxers were chosen Tuesday to represent their zone in next week's Canadian boxing finals at Montreal. The selections followed Monday night's elimination rounds here.

Elmer Gelzin of Hamilton was elected the light-heavyweight candidate; Gary Williams of Hamilton, middleweight; Danny Saunders of Hamilton, welterweight; Jim Hurley of Brantford, bantamweight; and Eddie Beattie of Hamilton featherweight.

Blames Comments For Dismissal

CHICAGO (AP) — Sportscaster Tom Duggan Tuesday blamed his comments on the Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight title bout May 15 for his second dismissal in two months by the National Broadcasting Company.

The radio and TV commentator was fired Monday, NBC said, because he failed to submit broadcasting material for advance clearance.

Duggan said in a story copyrighted by the Chicago American that two NBC officials told him his remarks on a Sunday night telecast were damaging to the gate receipts of the Marciano-Walcott fight at the Chicago Stadium.

"They said the National Broadcasting Company was in effect a co-promoter with the International Boxing Club in the staging of this fight and they could not tolerate any criticism of it," Duggan wrote.

"My television remarks of last Sunday concerned jocular references to Walcott's age, the ability of Marciano and the $50 price of ringside seats."

NBC had no comment on Duggan's remarks.

Nearula Wins Guineas Newmarket Classic

NEWMARKET, England (AP)—Nearula, top three-year-old, won the Two Thousand Guineas classic race today. Aureole, Queen Elizabeth's colt, finished fifth.

The Queen was in the stand at historic Newmarket's mile course to see the star of her personal 10-horse stable finish behind Nearula, the filly Bebe Grande, Oleandrin and King of the Tudors.

Sixteen horses were in the field.

Nearula was the 13-8 favorite to win the £14,000 ($39,200) race. Aureola was a 100-6 choice.

Charges Press Caused 'Chaos'

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—President Jose Maris Velasco Ibarra accused Ecuador's press Tuesday night of creating "chaos and confusion" in the country. He spoke shortly after five persons were arrested in demonstrations touched off by government closure of two newspapers and the jailing of six news executives.

The president spoke to a group of pre-government supporters gathered in front of the presidential palace. He also assailed labor unions and the Federation of University Students. Representatives of both groups were prominent in the earlier demonstrations.

The government also disclosed the arrest of Jorge Mantilla, an assistant publisher of Quito's El Comercio—one of Ecuador's largest newspapers. Mantilla is a member of the press freedom committee of the Inter-American Press Association.

There was no indication of the charges against Mantilla, who protested Sunday to Velasco Ibarra against the closure of two Guayaquil newspapers, La Nacion and La Hora.

In shutting the two newspapers Saturday, the government accused them of trying to incite a rebellion. The owner of the papers, Simon Canarte, his general manager and three editors were jailed.

Akihito Visits Queen's Palace

LONDON (AP)—Crown Prince Akihito of Japan paid a courtesy call today at Buckingham Palace where he signed the Queen's visitors' book.

The 19-year-old future emperor, wearing black coat, striped trousers and carrying a black homburg, was received by Britain's marshal of the diplomatic corps, Ma.-Gen. Guy Salisbury-Jones. He was escorted first to the sovereign's visitors' book and then to that of Queen Elizabeth, which he also signed.

Akihito will be received personally by the Queen on May 5 after she returns to London from Windsor Castle.

Akihito's visit to the palace was his first formal call in the British capital. He arrived here Tuesday from Southampton following his trip from New York aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Ottawa Soldier Dies In Korean Warfare

OTTAWA (CP)—A Korean casualty list today reported that Pte. Alexander Louis Gray of Ottawa, a member of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, has been killed in action.

It was the only name on the list. Pte. Gray was the son of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. J. Gray of Ottawa.

Today's list, No. 178, brought to 1,323 total casualties so far suffered by Canadian troops in Korea, including 250 dead, 960 wounded, 87 injured in action, 10 missing and 16 captured.

In addition, the navy has reported three dead and three injured in action and the air force has reported one missing.

UK Investigates Desecration Of 'Long Barrow'

MARLBOROUGH, England (Reuters)—The government today sent an expert here to investigate the disappearance of a grave 4,000 years old, 60 feet long, 20 feet wide and four feet high.

Local historians blame administrative red tape and bungling for "this wicked thing." British newspapers, always sensitive about historical treasures, have given the incident wide publicity.

The grave was a "long barrow," a bronze-age burial mound invaluable as a source of information on early Britons.

Its disappearance was reported last Sunday, when two local historians took a party of tourists to view it.

LEVELLED BY BULLDOZER

Where the barrow had stood, they found the land neatly levelled by a bulldozer.

Tuesday farmer J. E. King confessed to the desecration, but pleaded ignorance.

King said he had cleared the area last summer, in preparation for growing grain. He said all he knew was that it had been used as a cattle pen, and had become overgrown with bushes and infested with rabbits.

George Todd, owner of the land, said he knew nothing of the barrow, either.

Museum officials said the area had been scheduled for preservation as a national monument. As such, there would be a penalty for anyone knowingly damaging it.

L. V. Grinsell, curator of antiquities at Bristol Museum, who discovered the loss, said the long barrow had been almost destroyed. All that was left, he said, was the stone burial chamber itself, below ground.

TAKE SERIOUS VIEW

The works ministry, responsible for national monuments, when told of the damage, said: "We take a most serious view. These barrows are the earliest remnants of our civilization and there are only a few of them."

The ministry expert will try to find out why Todd knew nothing about the barrow. Landowners usually are given detailed maps showing the position of such curiosities on their property.

The long barrows, scattered throughout Western England and Ireland, are first cousins to the pyramids of Egypt, where such burial mounds first were used. They were introduced to Britain about 2,200 B.C., and were built until about 1,800 B.C. Smaller round barrows were used up to the end of the Saxon period in Britain, to about the 10th century A.D.

The barrows comprise a long, narrow mound of earth, covering a series of stone-walled burial chambers. They were used mainly to bury tribal chiefs.

Writer Completes James Biography

NEW YORK (CP)—Leon Edel, a scholarly newspaper man who was educated and has worked in Canada, has just completed the first phase of what he hopes will be the definitive biography of Henry James, the 19th century American novelist and playwright.

The latest book by Edel, who is considered the foremost authority on James, is "Henry James: The Untried Years, 1843-1870" (published in the United States by J. B. Lippincott Company).

Edel's book, out today, is described by the author as "a portrait of the artist as a young man." It traces James from his boyhood through the days of the Civil War to the establishment of his early reputation as a write. Edel considers that the novel in English with James.

Edel, now 46, was born in Pittsburgh and received his early education in Yorkton, Sask., and McGill University.

Edel now is working on the second phase of the James biography which he expects to finish in 18 months.

Cambodia Premier Wants Land Free

PARIS (Reuters) — Cambodian Premier Penn Nouth today warned France she must give his country more independence to insure against a revolution if the advancing Vietminh Communists reach the Cambodian border.

He also appealed to the United States and other Western powers, bluntly warning that the Communists now threaten to seize all of Indo-China.

Cambodia is one of Indo-China's three associated states.

Penn Nouth, who is visiting the French capital, said France should give Cambodia the independence which Britain granted to India and Pakistan.

Cambodia lies south of Laos state, of which the Vietminhese have seized two-thirds in an offensive little more than two weeks old.

5 Members Initiated By Legion Auxiliary

BONARLAW (ENS)—The Ladies' Auxiliary to Branch 237, the Canadian Legion, Marmora, held a special meeting with an attendance of 26. Five new members were initiated.

The president, Mrs. Dave Wellman, presided. Several applications were accepted. Plans were made for the zone rally in Wellington May 27. The bus will leave Marmora at 3 p.m.

A bake sale and afternoon tea will be held May 30 on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Campbell. Mrs. Clayton Bedore, social convener, will choose a committee to make the arrangements. Lunch was served.

MORE TROUBLE FOR BRITAIN?—Newsmap indicates where Iran is reportedly massing troops along its southern coast, opposite the three British-protected islands of Tunb, Abu Musa and Sirri. Iran has long claimed the islands, together with oil-rich Bahrein Island, farther north. Britain recognizes the sovereignty of the Sheikhs of Trucial Oman over the three islands, and any invasion of the sparsely populated bits of land, used mainly for grazing, would presumably involve Britain.

Both Parents Must Consent To Religious Change: Judge

NEW YORK (AP)—A judge says a four-year-old child's religious affiliation cannot be changed unless both parents consent.

In a case described as unprecedented in New York courts, Justice Jacob Panken ruled Tuesday in children's court that Dennis Glavis, 4, is Jewish, not Roman Catholic.

Panken said the boy shortly after birth was circumcised according to the tents of the Jewish religion, with the consent of both parents. Last September the father had the boy baptized into the Roman Catholic Church, but the judge said this was done without the mother's consent.

The justice added that since the boy is not old enough to reason for himself the circumcision, which took place first, must take precedence over the baptism.

Panken's ruling was, in effect, a decision against the boy's father, John Glavis, 50, who had sought to have the child removed from a Jewish foster home.

Glavis is a member of the Greek Catholic Church, which recognizes the Pope. His wife, Gertrude, 39, is Jewish. The two are not living together.

Hunters Fined

TORONTO (CP)—Fines totalling more than $3,600 were paid in Ontario during March for breaches of hunting and fishing laws. The lands and forests department said the offences included illegal moose hunting, killing deer and muskrat out of season, carrying loaded firearms in cars, hunting without a licence and angling with more than one line.

Eight RC Bishops Endorse Red Manifesto

BUDAPEST (AP)—Eight of Hungary's 11 Roman Catholic bishops today endorsed the Communist government's recent manifesto put forth as a platform for the parliamentary elections May 17.

Missing from the bishops' pastoral letter to Hungarian Catholics were the signatures of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, now serving a life term in prison, and Joseph Archbishop Groesz, who is serving a 15-year prison sentence.

They were convicted in 1949 and 1951, respectively, on charges of treason against the Communist government.

The pastoral letter also was not signed by Joseph Beteri, bishop of Vat. No explanation was given.

Their vicars signed for Cardinal Mindszenty and Archbishop Groesz. The assistant bishops signed for Msgr. Beteri.

The letter requested Hungary's Roman Catholics "to do their duty as citizens" at the elections and approved the government's peace policy and promises of economic and cultural progress contained in the election manifesto.

Familiar With Ocean's Floor But Has Never Been Under Water

CALGARY (CP)—The floor of the ocean is as familiar to Dr. Maurice Ewing of New York as the floor of his living room, yet he has never been under water in a diving suit.

Dr. Ewing, director of Lamont Geological Observatory at Columbia University, is internationally known for his marine studies. He is on a lecture tour of North America, speaking to various geological and geophysical societies.

"In my business diving is just a stunt—like sitting on a flagpole," he says.

Dr. Ewing makes all his marine studies by instruments, including some methods used by oil geologists on the Canadian Prairies. It was his work in oil exploration while a student at the University of San Antonio which led him from the plains of his native Texas to the plans underlying the sea.

WHERE SEA MEETS LAND

He had always wondered what happened at the "splice" between the land and the sea and when he found out later his observations left him more puzzled than ever.

In general, he found there were two kinds of splice, one typical of the Atlantic ocean, the other typical of the Pacific. Land fell gradually in the Atlantic to meet the sea while in the Pacific coastlines were more abrupt and often an arc-shaped line of islands was thrown into the sea.

Dr. Ewing doesn't know what caused these arcs but the fact is they are common in the Pacific and so rare in the Atlantic that one geologist insisted the Carribean sea must actually be a part of the Pacific ocean. That would make the West Indies, rather than Central America, the original dividing line between the two oceans

One of the important recent discoveries was that erosion occurred on the ocean bed just as it did on land, although at a much slower rate.

SUBMARINE FORCES

Geologists have long been puzzled by the extreme flatness of the ocean floor, Dr. Ewing says. Mountain-building forces operated under the sea as on land and there was a chain of mountains running through the Atlantic similar to the Rockies and Andes combined.

However, in other areas it was possible to travel hundreds of miles over the ocean without finding a difference of more than six feet in the floor's elevation.

Dr. Ewing says water currents continually remove sediment from the steeper slopes and hold the material in suspension. This sediment travelled for miles over the ocean floor and finally was deposited in the deeper slopes.

One question Dr. Ewing has answered for himself is whether or not sunken ships remain suspended half-way down. He says a ship will sink until it eventually strikes the bottom, despite water pressure.

Canadian Troops Try Out Machine-Gun

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IN KOREA (CP)—Canadian infantrymen here are trying out a new machine-gun.

If tests are successful the British-made Patchett machine-carbine will replace the unpopular Sten gun in the Canadian Army. It will become the personal weapon of section leaders, certain soldiers in the infantry section, signals linecrew men and others now using the Sten.

While tests in the 25th brigade were ordered by army headquarters in Ottawa, where reports will arrive shortly, the weapon also is being tried in other brigades and battalions of the 1st commonwealth division.

Of the 55 now with the division, 16 are being tested by Canadians. Each of the three infantry battalions has five, and the 16th is with WO2. George Maguire of Ottawa, the brigade's senior armorer.

USED BY UNDERGROUND

Complaints about the Sten were rife during the Second World War, when it was produced primarily as an inexpensive machine-gun for underground fighters in Europe.

It found its way into Allied use when the service rifle proved unsuitable as a personal weapon for soldiers with certain jobs and the Sten was readily available.

Its defects are notorious. Cheaply built, it is not machined. Since the slightest jar can set it off when loaded and cocked, it is unsafe. It feeds badly and is not likely to "be there" when the soldier needs it. Its barrel bulges easily, and it "jumps" as it fires, reducing accuracy.

ALL-METAL GUN

The Patchett is described as the "perfect paratrooper's weapon."

It is all metal, weighs 8½ pounds with its 10-inch, knife-type bayonet, sling and loaded magazine.

In firing the Patchett, the right hand grasps a conventional pistol grip, the left holds the cooling jacket.

It can be fired either from the shoulder, using sights adjustable for 100 and 200 yards, or from the hip. If desired, the butt can be flipped under the barrel and locked in position for shooting from the hip.

Magazines are slightly curved and have a roller-bearing platform which feeds the ammunition smoothly.

No tools are needed to strip and reassemble the Patchett. Its own parts are designed to serve as tools.

"NUMBER ONE WEAPON"

Tests in the brigade are at the half-way point. Maguire, better known in Ottawa as a hockey player, says:

"From the preliminary work-outs we all think it is a number one weapon.

"It looks like a machine-carbine and fires like one. Its appearance alone gives the soldier confidence, which he hasn't got in his Sten.

"It's well balanced, feels good in your hand or shoulder, and has a negligible recoil.

"On single shot it is very accurate, while on full automatic it has a nice spread of fire in the target area with little tendency to lift or jump.

NOTABLE FEAT

"Of 2,600 rounds I've fired so far there's been only one feed stoppage. That's good in a machine-carbine, believe me."

Brig. Jean Allard, the brigade's newly-arrived commander, personally tested the weapon before coming to Korea.

He told The Canadian Press his only criticism was that the most comfortable position for firing the Patchett placed the thumb directly over the muzzle.

He said a thumb guard could be devised to remedy that.

House Committee Opposes CCL Views On Broadcasting

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor's views on relations between the CBC and private broadcasters found some opposition Tuesday night from members of the House of Commons committee on broadcasting.

The members took issue with the stated opinion of the 370,000-member CCL that Canada should have a single nationally-owned radio system, or at least a continuation of the present set-up with private broadcasters kept as an "ancillary" part.

That view was put forward by Dr. Eugene Forsey, research director, and Donald MacDonald, secretary-treasurer of the CCL, during committee questioning after they had presented a 7,000-word brief on Canadian radio and television.

The brief was critical of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, to which most privately-owned radio stations belong.

"DRASTIC"

The labor body said the C.A.B. had put forward two "drastic alternatives" to the present policy of CBC control over broadcasting.

One was to treat broadcasting like the publishing business, which meant "handing it over to whoever gets there first with the most money," or having broadcasting controls written into the laws, which the brief said would be an impossible situation.

The CCL didn't want these controls to pass out of the hands of the CBC board of governors because broadcasting now had "more than enough of the motive of private gain."

"The motive of private gain is responsible for these repeated assaults on our public radio and television system."

During questioning by committee Dr. Forsey said that if private broadcasters did not fulfil their "ancillary" function in a national radio system "we should get rid of them."

WANT UNEMPLOYMENT

Tom Goode (L—Burnaby) said the CCL meant that private broadcasters in his area of southern British Columbia should go out of business, putting their employees out of work.

Mr. MacDonald said that any displacement of employees need only be temporary. Dr. Forsey added that although the CCL supports a nationally-owned broadcasting system it is willing to go along with the present system as long as no change is made in the secondary status of private broadcasters.

Mr. Goode also took issue with one part of the brief dealing with a letter written by CBC officials to its employees several days before a vote which approved the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (CIO-CCL) as bargaining agent.

The CCL brief said that "for sanctimonious and slimy sinuosity, this letter can have few equals in the long history of employers' efforts to beat unions."

Mr. Goode asked that the CCL strike out those words. Mr. MacDonald declined, and said they express the CCL view that the letter was meant to influence the outcome of the vote.

Surfeit Of Sweets

TORONTO (CP)—Three boys told a court they finished off 50 pounds of maple buds and then swore off chocolate for life.

The boys, all under 14, appeared in Juvenile Court Monday on charges of breaking into the Rowntree Chocolate Company and making off with the maple buds.

The boys told the court: "We'll never eat another chocolate."

They were remanded a week for mental examination.

Sent To Training School

KITCHENER (CP)—Two 15-year-old boys were committed Tuesday to a training school when they appeared in Juvenile Court on 51 charges of breaking and entering and petty thefts. Forty-three of the offences were committed here, five in Waterloo and three in Galt.

Traffic Deaths 1,010

TORONTO (CP)—A total of 1,010 persons were killed on Ontario highways last year. The Ont. department of highways said that was 61 more than died in accidents in 1951. Property damage in 1952 totalled $19,457,858, more than double that in 1943.

Extend Week Closing Date Of Festival

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—Interest in the Stratford Shakespearian Festival this summer has been "overwhelming," says Tom Patterson, festival general manager.

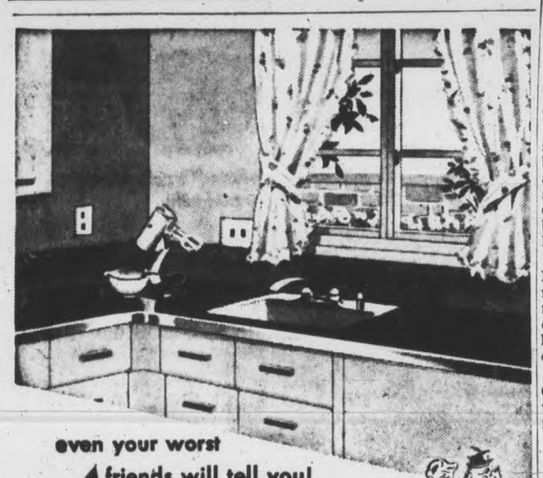
"We have been forced to extend the closing date a week—to Aug. 15—and there is a possibility that if the response continues we may go an additional week."

Letters from many parts of the United States have been coming in requesting details of the festival, which will be unique at least in North America. Requests for ticket reservations and for hotel accommodation have been received so far from about 20 states and most of the Canadian provinces.

The festival will present Shakespeare's "All's Well That Ends Well," and "King Richard III," on alternate nights starting July 13. Alec Guinness and Irene Worth of the London stage and films will be starred. Productions will be staged by Tyrone Guthrie assisted by Cecil Clarke of London's Old Vic Theatre.

Drama critics from a number of U.S. newspapers and magazines are asking for reservations and interest is growing in colleges, particularly teachers' colleges.

Construction of the festival theatre has been started. Theatre, stage, costumes and sets have been designed by Tanya Moiseiwitsch, famed English artist. The theatre will combine the elements of original theatres of Greece, Rome and Elizabethan England. Audiences will sit on three sides of it.



Costumes for "All's Well That Ends Well" will be in semi-modern dress with the women's costumes following fairly closely Empire and Victorian period designs. Men will wear modern formal morning and evening dress

Thomas Hall, QC, Succumbs To Heart Attack

COBOURG (ENS)—The death occurred here Tuesday of Thomas F. Hall, QC, in his 70th year.

He was born at Exeter, Ont., but had lived in Cobourg for the past 68 years. He practised law here until last October when he became ill. He recovered but last week suffered a heart attack and yesterday succumbed to another heart attack.

He was educated at Queen's University and Osgoode Hall and was called to the bar in 1908, later opening an office in Cobourg.

He was married in 1916 to Edna Elizabeth Pringle of Cobourg who died in 1951. Surviving are two daughters, Sarah and Elizabeth of Cobourg.

The funeral will be on Thursday with interment in Cobourg Union cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Derry escaped with severe burns after attempting to rescue the children.

Adjudicator Cites K-W, Goderich

GODERICH (CP)—Praise for the work of Kitchener-Waterloo and Goderich little theatre groups was expressed Tuesday night by adjudicator Henri de Menthon of London Little Theatre in performances at the sixth annual drama festival here.

Kitchener - Waterloo presented "The Happy Journey," a play by Thornton Wilder. It was directed by Elizabeth Devitt.

Mr. de Menthon especially praised the work of Kay Ireland who was cast as 'Ma Kirby, the person around whom the plot revolves.

"The Monkey's Paw," by W. W. Jacobs, was the Goderich group's production.

Skin Eruptions

Here is a clean, stainless, penetrating antiseptic—known all over Canada as MOONE'S EMERALD OIL—that dries right in and brings swift sure relief from the itching and discomfort.

Not only does this healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds but boils and simple ulcers are also relieved.

In skin affections the itching of Eczema is quickly relieved. Pimples—skin eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Salt Rheum, Itching Toes and Feet and many other itching skin affections.

MOONE'S EMERALD OIL can be obtained in the original bottle at any modern drug store. Satisfaction or money back.

CAB Asks Speed In Expediting Private Video

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Association of Broadcasters today urged that the government speed up announced plans for allowing private television stations to operate in areas now reserved for the CBC.

In a brief prepared for the Commons broadcasting committee the C. A. B.—of which most privately-owned radio stations are members—renewed its plea for a body other than the CBC to regulate broadcasting in Canada.

The brief noted that last month Revenue Minister McCann, who reports to Parliament for the publicly-owned CBC, announced that "in due course private stations will be permitted in areas covered by CBC stations and the CBC may establish stations in some areas originally covered by private stations."

CONGRATULATE OTTAWA

The brief congratulated the government on its television policy and Dr. McCann's announcement.

Private TV stations have been licensed in Hamilton, London, Sudbury and Windsor, Ont., Quebec City, Saint John, N. B., and Sydney, N. S. The CBC has stations in Montreal and Toronto and plans to open others in Ottawa, Vancouver, Winnipeg and Halifax.

The brief said another 17 private radio stations have applied for television licences, or intend to apply this year, in areas where such applications are permitted.

Eight more intend to apply late this year or in 1954 and a third group of 11 have plans well under way and will submit applications as soon as they can prepare technical and other data.

14 MORE TO APPLY

"When present government policy is fully implemented and applications are permitted for centres now reserved for the CBC, a fourth group of 14. . .will submit television applications. . .

"We suggest that present government policy be expedited as quickly as economic factors will allow and that the telecasting form of broadcasting also be subject to the operations of the independent regulatory board which we have proposed.

"We would like to urge also the earliest possible announcement of the regulations under which Canadian television stations are to operate."

The C. A. B. said a "separate regulatory body" would:

1. Establish the proper degree of regulation in the public interest.
2. Encourage the continued development of service by both the CBC and privately-owned stations.
3. Bring regulations into line with parallel and similar situations in Canada and the rest of the free world.

The brief said the C. A. B. has no desire whatever "to affect adversely the CBC or its existence or the service provided by it."

LEAVE CBC FREE

The CBC should be left free to concentrate on broadcasting without also having to exercise regulation over the broadcasting field.

"Nobody should act at the same time as both controller and competitor, nor as both judge and litigant, nor as both judge and prosecutor," the C. A. B. brief said.

The brief said the suggestion has been made that a separate regulatory body would lead to "infiltration of United States influence."

It said that "it is obvious that the opinion of the separate regulatory body supported by the weight of public opinion would have as much or more power in preventing such a possibilty as the CBC now has."

BC Ballet Shows Quality

OTTAWA (CP)—The British Columbia Ballet Company, which is presenting one-third of the works at this week's Canadian ballet festival here, Tuesday night showed it has quality as well.

Both audience and critics gave an ovation to Mara McBirney's "The Atom" and applauded Heino Heiden's "Pygmalion," his third ballet of the week.

Praise—the only award in the non-competitive festival—went also to the Francoise Sullivan duo from Montreal which presented "Le Combat" and to the Classical Ballet of Ottawa for "Sonata" by Nesta Toumine.

"The Atom," a story of evolution, war and the atomic age, brought special praise to the Vancouver group.

The Ottawa Journal critic, Richard Coates, termed it "a tense, dramatic and visually exciting dance work" and Lauretta Thistle, critic for the Ottawa Citizen, said it was "an audacious and exciting new ballet."

"MOST EXCITING"

The conflict between the atom, danced by John Dennis, and war, represented by Ray Moller "is probably the most exciting scene yet created in Canadian ballet," Mrs. Thistle wrote. ". . .All the dancers perform as if they themselves had tapped some new source of power."

"There is no question," wrote the Journal critic, "that so far in the festival the British Columbia dancers have dominated the scene not only by their dancing, which is particularly strong and rhythmical, but also by the choreography, which is imaginative and unexpectedly fresh and invigorating."

Both Ottawa critics praised the three ballerinas in "Pygmalion"—Betty Pope, Rosemary Deveson and Jacqueline Ivings. And both said it was the best of the three works by Mr. Heiden seen so far.

DANCE 'LE COMBAT'

Montreal's Francoise Sullivan and Roger Labee danced "Le Combat," the medieval story of the battle to the death between pagan woman warrior Clorinde and her lover, the Christian knight Tancrede.

The Journal writer found Miss Sullivan "a tall attractive dancer who has a very definite feeling for the dramatic possibilities of this ballet and . . . makes the most of them."

The Ottawa group's "Sonato" was "full of sensitive phrasing and ingenious patterns," the Citizen critic wrote, although the company seemed nervous and not at its best.

The Journal writer described it as "an abstract work of pattern and intricate movement which sometimes looks deceptively easy, but which in fact is a difficult work to dance."

No matter what type of truck you require there's a DODGE "Job-Rated" Truck

THAT CAN DO YOUR JOB BETTER

Here's why

A Dodge "Job-Rated" truck can do your job better, more economically because every Dodge truck is "Job-Rated" at the factory to fit specific jobs.

Every unit that supports the load — frame, axles, springs, wheels, tires — is engineered right to provide the strength and capacity required.

Every unit that helps move the load — engine, clutch, transmission, propeller shaft, rear axle — is engineered right to meet your particular operating conditions.

In addition, because all Dodge trucks have shorter turning diameters, they're easier to handle and save you time. Test the truck that's built to fit your job — a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck.

All Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks mount standard bodies perfectly.

Hastings WA Reports Selling Of Quilts

HASTINGS—(ENS)—Mrs. W. S. Way was hostess Wednesday to Group 2 of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church with 24 members present. President Mrs. Arthur Beamish presided.

Mrs. Gordon Faux was convener for the worship. The scripture was read by Miss K. German from the 13th Chapter of Corinthians. Mrs. A. Forde gave the topic and Mrs. W. Beeck closed the worship with prayer. It was reported the travelling apron held $10.00 instead of $8.90 as previously recorded.

Cards of thanks were read from Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. George Pickens. The quilt committee reported one quilt sold for $15.00 and the quilt top donated by Mrs. Brown sold for $7. The project, a hope chest, has met with good response and now has many articles, which will be on sale later.

A committee to arrange for a Coronation Tea June 17 on the lawn of the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hess were: Mrs. J. M. Baker, Mrs. C. Oliver, Mrs. B. Trotter, Mrs. A. Beamish, Mrs. A. Poole. The program included: definition of a boy by Mr. Wallace Orr and Meditation by Mrs. M. Rymerson. Mrs. Faux played a selection on her harp. There was a reading by Mrs. Fallis. Mrs. A. Beamish has offered her home for the May meeting. Committee in charge will be Mrs. F. Cnoate, Mrs. Myenhuis, Mrs. D. E. Scriver, Mrs. William Fleming and Mrs. James Essex.

Mrs. Robert Collins was the winner of a contest.

Lunch was served by the hostess and committee in charge. Mrs. A. Beamish extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. Way for hospitality.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Suggest Six-Layer Dinner For Special-Purpose Menu

OVEN MEAL

Pineapple Juice
Six-Layer Dinner
Shredded New Cabbage and Carrot Slaw
Quick Chocolate Cake with Pete's Orange Frosting
Coffee

DIRECTIONS

The reasons for choosing this menu may not be obvious.

Some of you girls want to prepare meals in advance. The six-layer dinner may be assembled in the morning (or in the case of career grils the evening before) and kept in refrigerator until baking time, and then put in controlled oven and left to look after itself until dinner time.

The cake may be baked at the same temperature as the casserole. But it must be done during the first hour if it is to be cool enough to frost before you announce dinner. We put orange frosting on it. Pete's the frosting man. He took over once I had the cake out of the oven.

SIX-LAYER DINNER

It is the blend of flavors in this dish that adds to its attractiveness. Please don't start adding carrots and turnips. The only addition you can make that will not change the flavor is green beans.

In a large casserole which has been generously buttered put in this order 2 cups sliced or diced raw potatoes, 2 cups chopped celery (some leaves may be included), 2 cups ground beef or hamburg, 1-3 to ¾ cup finely chopped or sliced raw onions, 1 cup minced green pepper (these may be replaced with green beans but flavor is not as good), 2 cups canned tomatoes (or 2½ cups sliced peeled raw tomatoes when in season). As you arrange these layers, salt and pepper them, using 2 teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper in all. If desired top may be sprinkled with ½ cup buttered crumbs. Bake uncovered at 350 deg. Fahr. for 2 hours. These amounts will serve six generously.

SHREDDED NEW CABBAGE AND CARROT SLAW

This is a delicious and healthful spring salad if shredded as finely as possible at the last minute. Use 3 parts cabbage to 1 part shredded carrots. Moisten them with your favorite dressing. We like mayonnaise or French Dressing with a little garlic and plenty of paprika.

QUICK CHOCOLATE CAKE

(no milk)

Sift together 2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1¾ cups sugar, 1-3 teaspoon baking powder, 1¾ teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cups cocoa (or a little less) into a large bowl. Measure 2-3 cup soft shortening (good quality) and spoon this over the dry mixture. Measure 1 cup water and add to it 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour a little more than half of this water over the shortening and dry mixture. Now beat it hard for 2 minutes. This is best done by hand, but may be done in your beater. Now batter should be quite smooth. Add remaining water and 3 whole eggs. (When I say whole eggs to my youngsters they are liable to take me at my word and drop them in shells and all for the laugh, but you know better.) Now beat for 2 minutes longer. Have ready 1 large pan 8x8x2 inches or 13x9 inches buttered and paperlined and butter again or 2 9-inch layer tins. Pour into prepared pan or pans. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. Large pans require 40 to 50 minutes; layers 30 to 35 minutes. Cool on cake rack. When cold frost with

PETE'S ORANGE FROSTING

Grate the rind and squeeze the juice from 1 small orange. Cream 2 tablespoons butter and gradually add 2 cups sifted icing sugar, alternately adding the orange juice as you beat. Add the grated rind. If this needs a little more liquid to make of spreading consistency add a teaspoon or so of water. For special occasions you may want to further decorate and flavor this by drizzling over orange frosting 2 squares melted bitter chocolate. Looks lovely and has plenty of flavor. This cake keeps well.

Circus Lion Free None Injured

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—A lion roamed for 30 minutes among 2,500 spectators when wind tore down a circus tent during an animal act here Tuesday night.

Eight persons were injured by the falling tent, but none by the lion, Sheriff Pat Berry said.

The lion was one of eight entering the main arena of the Diano Bros. circus through a wooden passageway from a truck when the tent began to sway. Seven of the animals scampered back to the vehicle, but the eighth bounded to freedom among the crowd.

As the canvas whipped to the ground, spectators flung aside purses, coats and hats and crawled over fallen bleachers and poles to escape the tent and the lion.

"Women and children were screaming and hollering all over the place, said state trooper Glenn Minton. "It was one of the worst scenes of confusion I've ever seen."

Sheriff Berry said the animal was lassoed "between 30 and 40 minutes" later and dragged to the truck without harming anyone.

Air, Ground War Quiet In Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Allied and Chinese divisions virtually sat back on their own muddy battle lines again today in a lull probably resulting from the renewed armistice talks.

There were only light patrol clashes on the eastern front. Two South Korean raider patrols cracked into North Korean troops in darkness. The South Koreans estimated 22 Reds killed in one fight and 16 in another.

In the air, heavy clouds and rain grounded almost all Allied attack planes.

Payless Months Made Soldier Go AWL

FORT ORD, Calif. (AP)—A court martial review board has agreed with Pte. Earl Jones, 33, that 20 months without pay is enough to make a man go AWL.

A Fort Ord spokesman said Tuesday that a dishonorable discharge imposed on Jones last month has been rescinded and his sentence of six months in prison is being suspended.

Jones, a veteran of 9½ years service, went AWL from Fort Bliss, Tex., last June. He said he hadn't been paid for 20 months because of a mixup in records and was having a hard time supporting his wife and child.

Enlistments Add 954

The navy enrolled 325 for a net gain of 162 to 15,546; the army 827 for a net gain of 150, and the air force 958 for a net gain of 542 officers and men.

Unveil Plaque To Memory Of 66 Killed In 1903 Alberta Rock Slide Disaster

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—Pioneers and government officials gathered today for the unveiling of a plaque commemorating a tragedy that 50 years ago today—April 29, 1903—snuffed out the lives of a known 66 persons in less than two minutes.

The plaque, erected by the Alberta government, stands in a boulder-strewn valley under the shadow of Turtle mountain where 70,000,000 tons of rock thundered down the mountainside in what became known as the Frank Slide.

A wedge of limestone 1,300 feet high, 4,000 feet wide and 500 feet thick smashed into the valley at 4:10 a.m. and all but wiped out the small Crow's Nest Pass coal mining town of Frank, about 88 miles west of here on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

At least 66 persons—there may have been many more—died under boulders weighing thousands of tons. Two miles of the valley were covered with boulders—some as big as large houses. Homes were crushed and an entire mine was buried along with a railway siding.

The slide filled the area to a depth of 100 feet in approximately 100 seconds.

Eighteen miners were working the night shift at the coal mine but 16 survived, although the entrance to the mine was buried under the slide.

Two of the 18 working at the mine entrance died under the avalanche. The others made their way to a point near the surface and clawed their way through 36 feet of solid coal to daylight.

Hero of the disaster was a CPR brakeman, Sidney Choquette, who was aboard a freight train that was westbound from Frank

The train crew looked back to see the rock crashing into the valley. Choquiette made his way through the rubble to the east side of Frank where he flagged down a passenger train which would have smashed into the slide.

Frank was born Sept. 10, 1901, with the opening of mining operations at the foot of the mountain. The mine employed about 300 men at the time of the disaster and produced more than a thousand tons of coal a day. The town had a population of more than 600 in 1903.

Today, Frank—since moved to a new townsite—has a population of 200.

The slide didn't completely destroy the town. It pulverized the eastern and northern sections but left the rest unharmed. However, geologists said that continuing mining operations were undermining Turtle Mountain and other slides would occur.

The scene today is virtually unchanged from 50 years ago. Turtle Mountain still towers in the background and bears the ugly gash where the limestone ridge broke away.

Indians Don't Seek Vote, Legislature Told

TORONTO (CP)—Many Indians don't want the right to vote in federal elections because they feel it would mean heavier income taxes, Maj. D. M. MacKay, director of Indian affairs for the Canadian government, said Tuesday.

He told an Ontario legislature committee on Indian affairs that Indians can vote in provincial elections without affecting their income.

To get the federal franchise, Indians must pay full taxes on income. Without the vote, they pay taxes only on income earned off the reserve.

Welfare Minister Goodfellow of Ontario said Indians can have the municipal franchise without affecting their incomes.

Casualty Lists Show 1 Missing, Nine Wounded

OTTAWA (CP)—A Korean casualty list Tuesday included one officer and eight men wounded in action and one man missing in action, believed captured. The last previous list was issued Monday.

The army list brought to 1,322 total casualties so far suffered by Canadian troops in Korea, including 249 dead, 960 wounded, 87 injured in action, 10 missing and 16 captured.

The navy has reported three dead and three injured in action and the air force has reported one missing.

Missing in action and believed captured is Pte. Howard Harvey Brooks, whose next-of-kin is his father, Robert H. Brooks of Regina.

An army spokesman said Brooks had been captured since the Commonwealth division went back in the line about two weeks ago. He was not one of those recently disclosed to be prisoners of war who previously had been reported missing.

The list:

Wounded in Action

Kitson, William John, 2nd Lieut., PPCLI; Rueben Allen Kitson (father), 71 King St. W., Bowmanville, Ont.

Uses For Nickel Increasing Chairman Of Inco Declares

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

TORONTO (CP)—Uses for nickel will continue to grow, Dr. John F. Thompson, chairman of the board of International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., said today at the company's annual meeting.

"For many years," he said, "the company's basic belief has been that nickel is one of the fundamental metals of the modern world and that the number of places in which it can be used is limited only by our imagination and our will to seek them out."

Dr. Thompson, in a statement regarding copper, mentioned increasing competition for aluminum stainless steels and similar metals.

"My experience with this type of competition is that in the long run good development and sales efforts on any one commodity tend to expand the markets for all."

"Development of markets for copper in the coming years will be helped greatly by the high cost of production, maintenance and repair, and the consequent economy resulting from the use of more permanent materials."

In 1952 International's deliveries of nickel totalled 249,000,000 pounds up 5,000,000 pounds from 1951—or more than 75 per cent of the nickel used by the free world.

International's deliveries of refined copper were 234,300,000 pounds, close to 1951 figures, Canadian consumers taking 55 per cent of production and the remainder going to the United Kingdom, the United States and continental Europe.

Growing nickel markets include stainless steel. "Increases in nickel consumption have been especially marked in the United States where in 1952 the stainless steels required more nickel than was consumed in any other single field."

Although mining of open pits in the company's operations in Ontario's Sudbury district had been expected to be completed by the end of this year, "it now has been determined that it will be practicable to mine more ore from the surface than we had previously anticipated, and, therefore, the life of the pits will be somewhat extended."

Investigation is still in preliminary stages at Mystery lake in northern Manitoba, "and all that has been determined is the presence of a large low-grade nickel deposit, non-commercial under present conditions." However:

"Exploration is being actively pursued to determine the extent of the deposit and to search for possible enrichment of ore grades."

CCL Claims Stand On Code Seriously Misrepresented

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor said Tuesday its stand on a proposed Criminal Code amendment dealing with penalties for strikes against utilities and transportation has been "seriously misrepresented."

In a letter to the House of Commons Criminal Code committee, made public by the Congress, it said the CCL opposes illegal strikes and does not ask that they be not penalized.

The CCL's complaint arose from committee discussion Monday of a code clause, which as originally proposed by the government in the revised code, provided five-year penalties for breaches of contract which among other things impede public utilities service or the running of trains.

"SAVING" CLAUSE

To meet labor objections, the justice department later proposed a "saving clause" exempting work stoppages that occur after "all steps provided or contemplated by law have been taken through negotiation, collective bargaining, conciliation and arbitration."

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada agreed to this clause. The CCL objected to the part dealing with "all steps" provided by law and suggested either deleting that or adhering to the existng law, which has lighter penalties for the offences.

Justice Minister Garson Monday described the CCL proposal as giving protection to "wildcat" (illegal) strikes.

Donald MacDonald, CCL secretary-treasurer, said in his letter to the committee that he wanted to "state definitely that the CCL proposal would not do anything of the sort."

"The law of Canada and of every province," he continued, "already provides penalties for wildcat or other illegal strikes. The government's proposed section would, as the minister himself admits, impose 'extra' penalties.

LIMIT PENALTIES

"The CCL is not asking that illegal strikes should get off scot-free. It is simply asking that they should be subject only to the penalties which Parliament and the provincial legislatures have already provided. . . ."

Mr. Garson replied to the CCL in a statement:

"In presenting to the committee the viewpoint of the CCL, I read to the committee letters which they had written to our officials setting forth their stand. I did this rather than attempt any interpretation of my own in order that the congress could not accuse me of having misrepresented their position.

"Seemingly, this precaution has been of no avail."

Add Potatoes

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Potatoes have been added to the Western Ontario cash crop day, which is to be held in North Aldborough Sept. 29, Murray McLean, organization president, announced Tuesday. Eight counties will take part in the 1953 competition. Other crops to be grown on two farms this summer are field beans, soya beans, husking corn and sugar beets.

Annexation Stops Short Of Parkhill Rd.

Reeve Willard Waterman of North Monaghan is correct in his amendment of the Examiner's report about the proposed annexation of North Monaghan.

The area considered by both the township and city councils does not pass beyond the bounds of Hilltop Farm. That applies to the exact scope of the present agreement as it takes shape, but conception of the possibilites in realty development on the west side of the city balk at the notion that part of the township is going to face on Monaghan Road south of Jackson Park, while other parts extends in depth over to the dividing fence of the Roper country, formerly Wallace farm.

MAY STRAIGHTEN

City Hall concern is fixed on the present actualities, but there is also thought of the probabilities of eventual desire for a straightening of the boundary between the city and township for practical puropses.

Someone else has raised a question as to whether the city should be considering a bypass highway through that west end property, as originally proposed in the Faludi plan. New housing has advanced far from western line of occupation of the city when the Master Plan was completed. That area of Hilltop Farm was out in the rural parts. Civic Hospital was not then planned.

A great deal of development has altered the aspect of that section of the city beyond the end of Charlotte St. and extending northerly to Weller St. and on to Parkhill Road.

INTENDED TO SKIRT

When the Master Plan was laid out and accepted, the bypass was intended to skirt the residential properties of the west end. Council is now proposing to build that highway through a community that has been greatly changed since the Faludi designing was generally approved.

Westbrook Company is offering the city the land for this so-called bypass highway, but instead of passing around the edge of the city it is laid through a new residential section, which Westbrook themselves are promoting. The word "bypass" suggested its intent of diverting through traffic from the centre of the city, and particularly the big trucks heading for or coming from Highway 28 in its Lakefield stretch, leading on the east beyond Apsley.

There is this development anomaly of the city proposing to route through a residential district traffic that should be deflected through rural spaces wherever possible. It appears to be an instance of Peterborough overtaking its planning, but not before it is too late to emend the plan in that bypass detail.

LAST YEAR'S Horticultural Society award winners started work recently on 1953 flowers, gardens and lawns with prospects of vieing again for the annual awards. Presented to outstanding amateur gardeners around Peterborough, the prizes provide incentive to improve home grounds and lawns. Top left, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Henry, winners of the award for improvement of grounds on the Scenic Drive, study a gardening book for helpful hints on further improvement. Top right, Harry Gabbutt tends a garden plant, although he plans to stress again his outstanding vegetable garden. Mrs. E. A. Kettle and her two-year-old daughter scan a seed catalogue. Mrs. Kettle will try again for the award for the outstanding garden and grounds of homes built since 1947. (Examiner Staff Photos)

Prize-Winning Gardeners Plan, Work To Win Again

The advent of spring and approach of summer marks a significant flurry of activity in homes and gardens across the country. Peterborough is, therefore, no exception as hundreds of amateur gardeners leap from their armchairs and desert their business suits for the great outdoors, backyard version.

Spurring them on to horticultural heights are prizes given annually to gardeners by the Peterborough Horticultural Society.

These awards are presented to gardeners who have excelled in flower and vegetable growing, home improvement, landscaping and other horticultural endeavours.

Once attained, the heights of success are not relinquished easily by the award winners.

Already some have spent cool afternoons and evenings rolling lawns, planting bulbs and coaxing buds.

Take for example Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Henry of 604 Sherbrooke St., winners of the award for improvement of home grounds on the Scenic Drive. Not content to rest on their laurels, Mr. and Mrs. Henry are planning to pave their driveway as a finishing touch on their already beautiful property.

Their award came last year as the result of a freshly painted house, a hedge, shrubs, expansive lawns, rock garden, vegetable garden and a brilliant rose arbor.

Eventually Mr. Henry may line his lawn along the curb with a flower bed; that, however, is in the future.

WEEDLESS LAWN

For her famous "weedless lawn" and flower beds, Mrs. E. A. Kettle last year won the award for the best lawn, garden and floral display on homes built since 1947.

Thus far Mrs. Kettle, a resident of 668 Gillespie St., has cleaned the weeds from her back yard, patched up the lawn and prepared her flower beds for planting.

As an added attraction to their grounds this year, the Kettles are installing a stone walkway in the back yard by the kitchen steps which will measure about four by four feet.

Mrs. Kettle's award came, no doubt as the result of her feeling for gardening. "I just love being out there." She gave no small credit for her success to the neighbours' children who carefully avoid the prize garden and flower beds.

20 VEGETABLES

The award for vegetable gardening has gone quite regularly to Harry Gabbutt of 633 Chamberlain St. Counting his varieties up, Mr. Gabbutt named 20 vegetables his garden yields to the kitchen table.

These include two varieties of beans, two of peas, two of turnips, three of onions, plus potatoes, tomatoes, beets, carrots, corn, radishes, melons, cucumbers, marrow, lettuce and cabbage.

One side of his 50 by 160 foot garden is devoted to vegetables, the remainder to about 100 varieties of gladioli.

Though he has never estimated just how much food he grows in one year, Mr. Gabbutt quotes his wife as saying: "It's an awful lot."

"It not only saves money," Mr. Gabbutt said, "but you have a better quality of vegetable when you grow them yourself."

As for advice to the aspiring grower, the award winner contended: "You'll find it a lot of hard work but it pays for itself in the end."

GEORGE GRANT HENDREN

George Hendren Boer War Vet Dies Suddenly

A Lakefield funeral director for 35 years George Grant Hendren of Chippewa St., died suddenly today at the age of 75 years. He was to have been admitted to the Peterborough Civic Hospital today for a minor operation.

Mr. Hendren was born in the village son of the late Thomas Hendren and Hannah Webster and, except for 14 years spent on a farm at R.R. 3, Peterborough, and in the city, lived there all his life.

As a young man he was a constable with the old Royal North West Mounted Police for five year stationed at Regina and left there with the Lord Strathcona Horse to serve in the Boer War in 1900. Mr. Hendren was one of th few Canadians appointed as a bodyguard to Lord Roberts while in service in South Africa. Always a crack shot, his home contains many fine shooting trophies that he acquired at Canadian matches.

50-YEAR JEWEL

Mr. Hendren was a member of Lakefield United Church and an honorary elder. He was presented with the 50-year Jewel of Clementi Lodge, A.F. and A.M. 313, Lakefield, and recipient of a 25-year Jewel of the Lakefield Branch of the I.O.O.F.

He leaves his wife the former Gertrude May Blewett, two daughters, Mrs. N. A. Brand (Ivah) of Winnipeg and Mrs. P. M. Young (Mary) of Sturgeon Falls and two sons, Ralph of Peterborough and Donald of Lakefield. There are two sisters, Mrs. Benjamin Hunter and Mrs. James Walton and a brother James, all of the village, and 12 grandchildren.

The body is resting at the Hendren funeral home and service will be held at Lakefield United Church on Friday at 2 pm. The Rev. W. H. Tonge, assisted by the Rev. G. F. Kelly of Northbrook, will officiate and burial will be at Lakefield Cemetry.

J. J. MENARY

J. J. Menary New CNR Agent

J. J. Menary of Toronto has succeeded Ed Ryan as city passenger and ticket agent for the CNR in Peterborough.

Mr. Menary entered the CNR service in Toronto in 1940 as a general clerk in the passenger department following his graduation from De La Salle College. From there he was moved to the baggage department in a clerical position for a number of years.

In 1944 he was transferred to the Sales department as a clerk for two years; and then as a ticket agent for seven years.

Prior to coming to Peterborough Mr. Menary was assistant supervisor of information at the Union Station for one year.

Mr. Menary's whole career with the CNR has been spent in Toronto up to his moving to Peterborough.

Time To Study Labor Law Results

TORONTO (CP)—Officials representing 20 unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor said Tuesday night Labor Minister Daley told them the Ontario Labor Relations Act has had a fair trial and the time is ripe for a study of its operation.

The 35 union leaders met the minister and complained that the act is too restrictive. The minister indicated that a complete review of the act will be undertaken by the government.

Officials of the Building Trades Union, representing 100,000 in the trade in Ontario, demanded that the building trades be excluded from the coverage of the act They said they wanted the right to return to the practice of direct negotiations and to strike if they failed to bring a settlement.

Name Stepmother, 58, Year's U.S. Mother

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A stepmother who successfully reared four motherless children has been named the American Mother of 1953.

The American mothers committee selected for its annual honor Mrs. Ethlyn Wisegarver Bott, 58, marking the first time in its nearly 25 years it gave the award to a stepmother.

Mrs. Bott is the wife of Dr. Anthony E. Bott and for 20 years has been mother to his four children—two sons and two daughters.

When she married Dr. Bott five years after the death of his first wife, his children ranged in age from 5 to 14 years. All four are college graduates.

Percy Bengough To Speak Here

Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, will be the principal speaker at a dinner here May 6, when the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council (TLC) mark their first anniversary.

The TLC have nearly 3,000 affiliated local unions claiming a membership of about 525,000 trade unionists.

Other speakers who have been invited are George P. Scholey, International Association of Machinists; A. F. McArthur, president of the Provincial Federation of Labor; Russell Harvey, AFL organizer and senior member of the Ontario Labor Relations Board; H. J. Sedgwick, Secretary of the OFL; Harry Simons, AFL organizer; Gordon G. Cushing, general secretary of the TLC; and Harry Finch, Canadian representative of the ITU.

The dinner will be in the Empress Hotel and 150 trade unionists are expected to attend. At present the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council have 16 affiliated locals, most of them AFL craft-type unions with a total membership of 1,000.

Fair Board Asks Police Patrols

Meeting Tuesday night in the Department of Agriculture Board Rooms, the Peterborough Exhibition Board of Directors decided to contact police regarding regular patrolling of the fair grounds throughout the year.

Thefts in the past and the possibility of recurrences in the future prompted the board members to act. They will ask for staggered patrols of the exhibition area.

With an eye to future revenue, the board moved to install an electric meter in the fair horse barns. The meter will be used to check on power costs among space lessees in the barn.

At present, horsemen rent stable space at a flat rate of $10 a season.

YMCA House Teams Presented Awards

The two Trojan house teams of the YMCA were presented Tuesday night with their trophies at the annual award banquet held in the YMCA.

Ken Kingston presented to Bev. Grove, captain of the Trojan basketball team the Dominion Life Trophy for house basketball, and Mick Magee on behalf of the Trojan floor hockey team accepted for the first time the new Canada Health Accident shield award.

Jim McClenaghan, general secretary of the YMCA presented to referee Fred Welford a gift in appreciation for the time he donated to refereeing the house basketball games.

Arena Adds To Surplus Could Repay City For Loan To Buy Ice Plant

Committee Builds Up Surplus To $16,574
Still Owes City $12,000
Of $24,677 Advanced For Refrigeration

The board of management of Civic Arena is financially set to retire its obligation to the city council for the purchase of the ice-making equipment, and show a credit balance. That fluid position was shown in an interim report to the council Monday night. In the operating account for the year 1952-53, the surplus is shown at $2,035.22. However, this amount will likely be reduced somewhat when remnant outstanding accounts are paid.

This surplus increases the surplus account to $16,574.91, likely to be slightly reduced in the final statement, against the $12,000 of the loan from the city.

To help pay for the refrigerating equipment, the city provided $24,677.52. At the present time, with that debt down to $12,000 the arena management could wipe out its indebtedness and still have several thousand dollars to its credit.

The final financial statement will be available after the board's concluding meeting of the season on the second Tuesday of May.

REPORT TO COUNCIL

This information was quoted to the committee of the whole council in board of works Monday night by a deputation of the management. They were reporting on their allotments of ice-time, rather than of the arena's financial standing. The attending group was composed of Perce Killingbeck, Stanley McBride, Jim Gillespie, A. J. Silver, treasurer, and Walter Smillie, manager. Mayor Waddell and Ald. P. J. Anglesey are also members of the committee.

Mr. Killingbeck said they were reporting on their policy of management of the arena, particularly in regard to the accommodation provided for minor hockey.

"There have been some criticisms of the committee in that respect," Mr. Killingbeck said, "and we wished to place the facts before the council to make sure that we have your approval and confidence. Only Mayor Waddell and Aldermen Miller and Anglesey were members of the council when the decision was made to put in ice-making equipment. We felt that other members should be informed of what we have been trying to do at the arena."

COMPLETE RETURNS LATER

Emphasis was not laid on the financial statement for the reason that the complete returns for the season are not at hand.

Mr. Killingbeck distributed copies of the time sheet with receipts from various groups, some of whom are not charged for use of the rink.

Minor hockey: practice hours 75, games 106½, total 181½ hours. Practice time was free; gross and net receipts $1,065.

Dep't Approves 8-Room Addition Queen Elizabeth

The Department of Education have approved an expenditure of $160,000 on an eight-room addition to Queen Elizabeth public school which was recently annexed by the city. This announcement was made at a meeting of the Board of Education's accommodation committee Tuesday night.

Queen Elizabeth, now a two-room school, will if present plans are completed become the board's third manual training and domestic science centre. It will serve public school children in the north end of the city. At present pupils in Grades VII and VIII from Queen Alexandra and Queen Elizabeth schools must travel to Central school for their manual training and domestic science.

The present centres are Prince of Wales, and Central schools.

NO PLANS YET

Plans for the addition have not yet been drawn up. The first step was to get the approval of the department. There is no arbitrary limit placed on the cost of constructing the school by the education department but they will only pay the 22 per cent grant on the approval figure of $160,000 for the eight-room school.

The addition should be completed by September, 1954, and will accomodate some 300 pupils.

Queen Elizabeth school is in the 1,200 acres of Smith township that were annexed Jan. 1 by the city.

Ingram and her committee were hostesses. Guest at the meeting was Miss Rachael Young of the Children's Aid Society who spoke about her work. She was introduced by Mrs. A. Smedmor and thanked by Mrs. H. Weston. A piano duet by Mrs. Ivan Morgan and Mrs. Percy Johnson was much enjoyed and Mrs. Johnson also played for hymns sung. President Mrs. O. J. Hayward, who is to work with the house committee on the remodelling, presided for the business. The secretarial report was given by Mrs. S. Malch and the treasurer's by Mrs. H. Wells. Miss M. Ellis reported from the Local Council of Women. Devotions were led by Mrs. Earl McNabb.

Adopt Red Cross Disaster Plan For Civil Defence

The Red Cross Disaster Plan is to be adopted by the Civil Defence Organization of Peterborough the local branch was advised Tuesday evening in a communication from Col. R. J. Bolton read at the regular meeting. At his request Mr. Bolton is to be advised that the Red Cross officers in charge of the plan are A. R. Jones, assistant director, and Bruce Payne, deputy assistant director.

An emergency blood donor clinic had to be held this month. The great number of calls for blood could not be filled by the regular clinics held at each hospital it was reported.

An appeal for information concerning sick people who would like to have Red Cross visitors was made by Mrs. F. R. Pope who is anxious to enlarge this service.

Many individuals donated clothing and household goods and the Branch gave all possible assistance to the Majeste and Post families when their homes were burnt this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Simpson Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Simpson of Lakefield road were celebrating the 50th anniversary of their wedding on Tuesday, and received floral tributes, cards and personal congratulations from many friends.

They also received a purse of gold coins which was presented by Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, accompanied by a book which contained cards of congratulation and written messages from each of the donors. Those contributing to the gift were largely members of the various organizations to which Mrs. Simpson belongs and has taken an active part in.

Mrs. Simpson is a life member of the Local Council of Women and has served as treasurer, corresponding secretary and archivist, and in the Life Members' Club she is the sunshine convener. She is a past president of the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association and held other offices in that organization. In her church life she is a member of the CWA and the Church Year of St. John's Anglican Church. She also enjoys the sociability of membership in the Golden Mile Club.

Since most of their friends live in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson received at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. G. Gunn, 429 Stewart St. They have another daughter, Miss Grace Simpson, who sailed on Friday for England to attend the Coronation. Present for the celebration were their five grandchildren and their one great-grandchild, 10-months-old Bobby Searle, son of their eldest granddaughter, Mrs. Donald Searle.

During the reception Mrs. Simpson wore a golden gardenia corsage, a gift from the Life Members Club. In the living-room was a bouquet from the Peterborough Horticultural Society in which Mr. Simpson was an early director, and there were many other bouquets from friends. One of their gifts was a coronation cup and saucer from Mr. and Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser.

Mr. Simpson was proudly displaying a crown design made of 50 pennies, one dated for each year of his married life. The pennies also show the heads of each monarch under which he has lived from Queen Victoria, in whose reign he was married, to Queen Elizabeth II. The latter forms the very top of the crown.

An anniversary cake was cut by the couple and served to their guests. Tea was poured in the afternoon by Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. R. G. Cottrell, and in the evening by Mrs. Wm. Addyman. Misses Anne Leahy and Mary Guthrie and Misses Patricia and Lorraine Gunn served.

Mr. Simpson was an electrician for many years, working in Ottawa, Valleyfield and Pittsburgh before coming to CGE in Peterborough in 1912. Shortly after that he lost the use of his fingers but regained it by working on a dairy farm in the district. Then he worked as draftsman for William Hamilton Foundry and after it closed he bought a small bicycle and machine shop which he moved to Lakefield in 1936 and where he still operates. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Simpson of Ottawa and his mother was widely known in her lifetime as the curator of the Bytown Museum and she served on the Royal Commission Historic Landmarks of Canada.

Mrs. Simpson was born in Hamilton, Sarah Sutherland Robertson. Her family movd to Ottawa and there she was employed in the Department of Agriculture office before her marriage.

Sweeting-Harrison

Lovely spring flowers and standards of ferns formed the setting for wedding at Mark St. church Saturday of Marjorie Jean Harrison, daughter of Mrs. Verna Harrison and the late Mr. Harrison of Peterborough to Ivan Ronald Sweeting son of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Sweeting of Lakefield. The Rev. B. S. Morwood officiated.

Wedding music was played by Miss Marylin Pomeroy. Before the ceremony and before the signing of the register Miss Gwenneth Pomeroy sang "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Wallace Harrison, the bride chose a gown of nylon taffeta with a full bouffant skirt covered with layered net. It was topped with a jacket of imported lace. Her fingertip veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones, and her bouquet was of talisman roses.

Mrs. Wallace Harrison was matron of honour. Miss Betty Henderson and Miss Yvonne Sweeting were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of mauve, green and yellow net and lace fashioned along the same lines as the bride's gown. All wore matching elbow length lace gloves and carried nosegays of 'mums.

Mr. Howard Harrison, also brother of the bride, was groomsman. Arnold Fitzgerald and Harold Sweeting were ushers.

Receiving in the church parlour after the ceremony Mrs. Fred Howson wore a gown of grey taffeta and black accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore navy silk crepe, a fur neck piece and navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

For their wedding trip to the United States the bride donned a navy crepe dress with white collar and cuffs, a pale blue wool topcoat and navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses.

On return they will make their home in Bridgenorth.

Home and School Association News

HASTINGS

HASTINGS (ENS) — "Fathers' Night" was held by the Home and School Association. "O Canada" was sung, with Miss Helen Stapley at the piano, and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

The president, Mrs. Whitred, was in charge of business. Mrs. J. G. Thompson reported on the piano for the new school. The committee will confer with the School Board. Roll call showed grade I in the lead with 20 points.

Mr. C. Scriver took charge of the program: Ted Walker sang a solo; Ross Burnham and his band played several mouthorgan selections; Learl Humphries and Paul sang "Tell Me a Story"; Trinity quartet, composed of R. R. Burnham, C. Scriver, F. S. Crate and L. W. Humphries, sang "Steal Away to Jesus" and "Whispering Hope."

Doug Thurston took the members on a tour of the four-room school erected by Mr. Mortlock. Refreshments were served by the fathers.

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

Annual meeting of Prince of Wales Home and School Association took place Tuesday evening with a good membership attendance.

First on the agenda was annual reports. Mrs. V. Ridley gave the treasurer's statement, and Mrs. P. Butler the secretary's survey of the year's activities, also a concise compilation of conveners and officers' work for the association for the year. Retiring president, Mrs W. E. Baggs, presided.

A summary of the convention of the Federation of Home and School was read by delegate Mrs. A. Pooley. Report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. C. Gilders. The following officers were elected by acclamation:

Mrs. A. M. Parker, president; Mrs. J. Morley, vice-president; Mrs. P. Butler, recording secretary; Mrs. V. Ridley, treasurer; executive members, Mrs. Stanley Adamson, Mrs. H. F. Ferguson, Mrs. A. R. MacGregor, Mrs. W. Turner, Mrs. J. M. Wishart.

Nominations were called for from the floor to fill the office of second vice-president and corresponding secretary. Nominated and elected were: Mrs. A. Ward Smith, vice-president, and Mrs. L. B. Martin, corresponding secretary. The new officers were installed by Mrs. Vert Reynolds, vice-president of Home and School Council.

Class-room choirs competing in the forthcoming Kiwanis Music Festival greatly delighted the audience with a selection of well rendered choral selections. Choirs were under the direction of Miss Jean Love and Mr. Gordon Currie, with Miss Musa Cox at the piano. A

Asks Liberal Women Group Forces Throughout Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. C. J. Embree, president of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada, Tuesday night called on Liberal women to organize their forces everywhere in Canada Without mentioning the possibility of an election this year, Mrs. Embree said Canada's present prosperity is a result of sound, carefully-worked-out Liberal policies.

Mrs. Embree was one of three Liberal women giving speeches prepared for the CBC's free-time political broadcast, the Nation's Business.

The others were Mrs. R. A Kinnear, president of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association, speaking from St. Catharines, and Mrs. Nancy Hodges, past president of the national federation, speaking from Victoria. Mrs. Embree spoke from Halifax.

Mrs. Kinnear said Canada's new greatness should be above partisan warfare. She then quoted a Scottish journalist who compared Canada today with Canada 20 years ago and said it now enjoys the highest standard of living in the world. That was a non-partisan viewpoint, she said.

Civic Affairs Grp. To Study Plans For Beautifying

"How Peterborough might be beautified" was the special topic for study at the meeting Tuesday evening of the Study Group on Civic Affairs. Mrs. J. A. Nornabell spoke on this matter to a large representation of the group and the guests at this meeting, about 20 members of St. John's Church Mother's Club.

Mrs. Nornabell paid tribute to the Parks Board for excellent work and pointed out also several places of natural beauty on the river. As an example of what could be done she used Stratford, explaining what has been accomplished there along the Avon river which now has 1,300 acres of beautiful park.

In closing she said, "Two things are needed: Citizens with vision and citizens with money."

Miss Margaret McCulloch voiced thanks to the speaker and then some discussion took place.

A committee was formed for the purpose of investigating what has been considered in the past and what can be planned for the future to beautify Peterboruogh. The committe, of which Mrs. Nornabell is to be chairman, will report at a future meeting.

Group president Mrs. T. J. Carley was in the chair. Reports on April City Council meetings were given by Miss M. Grady and Miss M. McIntosh and Mrs. J. E. Watters reported on the Board of Education Meeting.

Sacred Heart PTA Banquets School Winners

A banquet was given Tuesday evening for the pupils who have brought honor this year to the Sacred Heart School in winning school football and hockey honors and an oratorical contest. The dinner was given by the Parent-Teacher Association, with Mrs. B. Rogers the convener in charge, and was served in the new hall.

Head table guests were Monsignor P. P. Butler, Rev. J. G. Sullivan, Rev. E. G. O'Donoghue, Rev. J. Coughlan, Rev. J. E. Gaughn, Mrs. V. Flynn, Mr. P. Doherty, Mr. John Lynch and Mr. James Maloney.

Father Sullivan was the chairman and said grace, including a prayer for the Pope. Monsignor Butler addressed the 25 boys being honored, encouraging them in school sports and extra curricular activities. He specially mentioned Bill Maloney who for the second successive year has won the Monsignor Butler cup for the outstanding athlete of the year in school.

Mrs. Flynn presented rosaries to each of the players and oratorical winner Tommy Perry. These were gifts from the P-T A.

Mr. Doherty, coach of the Sacred Heart athletics, familiarized the guests with the cups displayed which included the senior and junior championships for hockey. He made special mention of three of the boys who are also on the Shamrock Bantam team which won the provincial championship this year. Mr. Doherty thanked the P-T A and the team members for their co-operation. He was presented with a gift.

Mr. Lynch, who is athletic coach of St. Peter's High School, congratulated the boys and stressed the need of body conditioning for advanced sports.

A film of an Argonaut-Ottawa football game was shown the boys by Mr. W. Farr.

ST. ANNE'S SCHOOL

St. Anne's Parent Teacher Association met Monday evening in the school. "Open House" was held earlier when a large crowd of parents visited the classrooms, inspected their children's work and discussed progress with the teacher.

For the regular meeting President F. Whaley presided. Minutes were read by Mrs. E. Harrison and the treasurer's report by Mrs. J. Paquette. A detailed report of the Easter convention was given by Mrs. S. Lucas. A unit constitution was presented by the secretary and was adopted. Nominations for a nominating committee were held.

Mr. Heribert Michel provided a delightful musical interlude at the piano and was joined for duets by Mrs. W. Smith.

Attendance prizes were won by Miss English's room, kindergarten and Miss Molony's room, grades 5 and 6.

Lunch was served by Mrs. W. Smith and her committee. Those serving were Mrs. T. Brioux, Mrs. F. Hickey and Mrs. J. Ronco.

DOROTHY DIX:

Boy Asks Girl To Write Neglects To Answer Letters

DEAR MISS DIX: I have known Jim for five years. While he was at home neither of us was very serious; we just went out in a crowd. Time came for him to leave and he is now in a government job. He asked if I would write to him, which I did, but he almost never answered my letters. Naturally, mine became very few—but still no response He has just come home after being away for two years, and soon will be off again. He got in touch with me and we went out, but the subject of his failure to write never came up.

I cared for him all the time he was away, which marred my chances of meeting or dating anyone else. Now, from our recent date, I fell he does care a little for me, but I can't be too sure. After our last date, he said he wouldn't see me for a week or two since he had some visiting to do. If I don't see him again before he leaves, should I continue to write?

SANDRA M.

BOY NOT SO INTERESTED

ANSWER: To come quickly to the point, I think the boy, by his thoughtlessness, has shown that he is not nearly as interested in you as you are in him. Of course, there's always the consoling possibility that he's restraining his emotions in view of the long absences entailed by his job. Perhaps he doesn't want to keep you tied down to promises while he's unavailable, but at least he should be fair enough to let you know why he's holding back. In view of his long impending absence, and the possibility that it will be wasted time for you if you settle down to awaiting him, I strongly advise that you try to find other interests. Don't wait unless he asks you to. Again, he may just be so sure of you that he feels you'll always be around whether he makes a commitment or not. This, too, is being very unfair to you and you seem like much too fine a person to be subjected to such inconsideration.

❖ ❖ ❖

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem is a complicated one, but I'll present it as simply as possible. My husband, George, and I have been married for three years. It was a second marriage for both of us, and we never got along too well. He drank quite a bit and was very mean. I worked to help pay the bills, but my efforts were not appreciated, and I never had any money for myself. With all this, I still loved him. Finally, however, after he left me several times, I sued for separation and got it. Since then I have had several dates, and have become interested in one man especially, whose name is Peter. I'm not sure if I love him, though. He doesn't call me very often, and, since I hate to be alone, would it be all right for me to accept dates with other men, or stick around waiting for Peter?

MRS. L. C.

ANSWER: It's plain to see that your dislike of being alone has led you into difficulties already, and is well on the way to produce more complications. There are worse things in this world than your own company, as I'm afraid you'll learn to your sowwer. The first thing you should iron out is your marital status. Before you are free to date indiscriminately, your divorce should be final. As for Peter, since he knew both you and your husband for several years, I rather imagine his insight into your turbulent domestic life would not incline him to step into George's shoes. You admit to some nagging and displays of ill temper, so I'm sure you didn't give Peter, or anyone else, the impression that you have the makings of a good wife. Stop concentrating so heavily on the idea of being out for a good time every night and see what you can do to straighten yourself out. Consultation with a clergyman or domestic counselor should show up your weak spots.

❖ ❖ ❖

DEAR MISS DIX: Don't you think that, at 16, I should be able to distinguish good boys from bad ones? My mother doesn't think so.

D. S.

ANSWER: You should be learning how to judge a boy, and this education is best done under your mother's tutelage. Adults, with years of experience in dealing with people are far from infallible in their judgments of others, so certainly a sixteen-year-old cannot be expected to be much of a judge. When you and your mother differ in your opinion of a certain boy, discuss the matter with her frankly and find out just what are her objections to him. In this way you'll have characteristics defined, and you will improve in your own analysis of people.

Thinks Women Growing Dumber

LONDON (AP)—Lady Astor said Tuesday women just seem to get dumber and dumber.

The tart-tongued Virginia-born former member of parliament discussed modern woman in a speech to the Fawcett Society, the organization which worked for women's suffrage in Britain.

Glamorous women, she said, make her sick.

"Women today take everything for granted. They have a dumbness about them because they do not know why we got the vote. The women's movement was never at a lower ebb than it is in the United Kingdom today.

"I really do think that never has the press printed more pictures of more absolutely dead women than it is doing today. I mean these mass-produced movie stars. The press has never used women in a most ridiculous way and yet we have magnificent women in this country."

"I know a duke's daughter who is working in the London docks, and she has never been happier.

"When the Queen was in the United States, Americans rightly described her as the type of woman every father wanted for a daughter, every man wanted for his wife, and every child wanted for his mother."

The real women of England, she said, are inspiring.

"Their courage is the most inspiring thing. All I am worried about is their little slip in their morals."

29,638 SKATERS

Total number of skaters was 29,638, of whom 17,570 were adults and 12,068 children.

"We came here to ask the council: is this the way you want us to operate," Mr. Killingbeck said.

"When you get into civic life, you can expect criticism, as we all do," Ald. Anglesey remarked.

Ald. Harold Rehill: "Do you think there is any greater demand for public skating time than has been given?"

Mr. Killingbeck: "We don't think so. After the hockey season ended, a little earlier than usual, we had more skating time. We put on extra skating nights, but people did not turn out then as we were expecting."

Information reaching the management, it was said, indicated that Kingston Memorial Centre had a deficit of $15,000.

"We came to answer any questions that you might want to submit and also to leave these figures with you," Mr. Gillespie said. "We thought you might take some time to go into them whenever you can."

Later in the meeting, after the deputation were gone, Ald. Rehill suggested that the Arena report be considered at the next meeting of the finance committee.

FAVORABLE REPORT

Sentiment of the council was that this "is a fair and favorable report." The information from the members of the Arena committee appeared to be ample, and the final audited financial statement would be forthcoming later.

A motion by Aldermen Dewart and Farquarson recorded the council's appreciation of their work and "our confidence in their management of the Civic Arena."

"This is one of the better run civic groups," was the tribute of Mayor Waddell, "and I think they are doing an excellent job. They may make an occasional mistake in judgment but they are repaying city for the investment in the ice-making plant."

Ald. Farquarson said he understood most of the minor hockey money was obtained from interested service clubs.

corsage was presented to Miss Cox by the children in the choirs to show their appreciation of her work as supervisor of music in the public schools.

Another feature of the evening was a showing of a beautiful color film, "Land of the Long Day," concerning life with the Eskimos during four months of summer on Baffin Island's Arctic shore.

When presenting Mrs. Baggs with an inscribed past president's pin, new president Mrs. Parker expressed the gratitude and admiration for the integrity and leadership she has shown during three years as president. A gift was presented to Mrs. Baggs by Mrs. W. Turner on behalf of the staff.

Mrs. E. J. Thompson thanked the outgoing executive for their work, and especially praised Mrs. J. Spearin, program convener, for the outstanding and stimulating program arranged during the year.

Attendance prize was won by Mr. G. Currie's class.

A social half hour followed the adjournment of the meeting, with Mrs. W. Pakenham and her social committee in charge.

Captured By Korean Tommy Gunners Death March Described By Reporter

By PHILIP DEANE
Correspondent of The Observer, London

On the morning of July 23, 1950, shells from North Korean howitzers were crashing into Yongdong, disintegrating building after building. The advanced headquarters of the United States First Cavalry Division were pulling out. Signal trucks and weapon carriers were roaring south, dodging the craters and occasionally disappearing for good in the flash of an explosion. Seven miles north-west, on the main road to Taejon, the 71st Tank Company, under Lieut. Bob Freeman, was covering the retreat, and this was the only force available to stem the tide of fifteen Red divisions pouring south.

Communist armour was reported moving to attack Lieut. Freeman's force. I left headquarters by jeep to cover the engagement. Three miles out of the town we came under sniper fire. We drove on. A few moments later our sump was pierced and the engine seized. We dived for the side of the road, followed by bullets. A blond GI —he could not have been more than eighteen — was hit in the back. He screamed: "Mama!" I crawled towards him. Blood was throbbing in torrents from his lips. I looked for his identity discs. He had none.

CRAWL TO FARMHOUSE

Fifty yards away three jeeps stood before a small farmhouse. We crawled the fifty yards through a shallow ditch, still followed by bullets. In the sunken kitchen of the farmhouse there were five GIs. They were not firing. Two others were dead: their bodies were being used as sandbags. Ray Rothermel and Slim Devorak, both eighteen, who had ditch-crawled with me, took charge.

"Draw a bead on those snipers and let them have it."

Shooting over the threshold and through holes punched in the flimsy mud walls, the GIs covered the enemy fire. One died, then another, then a third. The last, a tall, lanky child from the Middle West, was hit in the head. His brain poured from the hole in his temple, flies desecratingly crawled into his mouth and nostrils. Lying on the blood-soaked earthen floor, my face not ten inches from his, I watched him die: the dying lasted many minutes. "What's it all about?" he had asked me before he was hit.

Bullets like angry, humming wasps, skimmed over us. Sometimes one would hit the inside of the cast-iron rice pot and whizz around eerily like a roulette ball. The survivors' ammunition ran out. "Never mind," said Slim Devorak, "Bob Freeman will take us out when he withdraws. Hear his seventy-fives booming?"

A moment later the seventy-fives of Lieut. Freeman's tanks were silenced. Then both Ray Rothermel and Slim Devorak were wounded.

"Deane," said Slim, shot in the hip, "See my folks and tell them I was not afraid to die."

"Shut up!" said Ray, a bullet in his abdomen. "We're not going to die. Deane's lucky. We got out of Taejon with him. He'll get us out now."

I crawled out of the kitchen to one of the jeeps on the road. I tried the starter. The engine was dead. The next one was all right. As I jumped into the seat bullets hit the windscreen; it looked like a sheet of old mica in a kitchen stove. The car was facing the wrong way. If only I could turn it, get the kids in and drive like hell for Yongdong, we might make it, as we had done before when we ran the Taejon gauntlet. First gear, then reverse. Eternities passed. A bullet hit my right hand and I looked unbelievingly at the blood spurting out. One never believes this sort of thing can happen—"not to me." First gear, reverse, first again. Four tommy-gun bullets hit my left thigh. I could still work the clutch. At last the jeep was facing the right way. I called into the farmhouse, telling the two who were not wounded to bring out Slim and Ray. Bullets whammed into the engine and it died away. The tires collapsed. I crawled back into the farmhouse.

We lay there, our faces pressed to the blood on the floor, wincing helplessly as bullets missed by inches. We lay there numb and frightened, physically sick with our fright. Between the salvoes, weird, guttural shouts came from all directions. The shouts came nearer. It was three o'clock in the afternoon when two Korean tommy-gunners jumped into our refuge and ordered us to our feet. Slim and Ray couldn't do it. Blinking absurdly at each report, the two little enemy soldiers fired bursts into the wounded boys. Between the survivors and freedom there was now an impenetrable curtain, the steel of our captors' tommy-guns.

We were marched out onto the road, the three of us. First our watches were taken. Then our socks and shoes. We were stripped to our underpants. (The Koreans seemed to like T-shirts.) We were told to kneel and our hands were tied behind our backs with telephone wire. Six days earlier, after a local counter-attack, the G.I.s, stripped like us, their hands tied behind with telephone wire, had been found shot in the back of the neck, and all three of us knew it.

"It's awful to die so young," said one of the G.I.s. "I'm not nineteen yet. There's so much to do. So much I should have done, and didn't. So many people I've hurt, people I love, and now I cannot beg forgiveness."

They did not shoot us. Instead, they beat us, kicked us on the ground and shouted at us—insults perhaps, but we could not understand. When that was over we were marched to a command post on the top of a leafy hill. There were other prisoners there—six of them. Two were severely wounded. At dusk we were ordered to stand up. The two who were badly wounded were finished off, this time with a pistol. Their executioner did not aim well. It took too many bullets to kill those two G.I.s.

In single file, almost naked, our hands tied behind, we set off along goat paths, bare feet over loose stones. We marched. I stumbled. An American sergeant —his name was Frank, and I remember the wine-coloured birthmark on his cheek—was walking behind me. Pushing with his shoulder, he kept me from falling over the precipitous edge time after time. He was glad this was happening to him. The day he was captured he had received a letter from his wife telling him that she was getting a divorce, that she had sold the house and the car he had bought out of his savings as a soldier in World War Two. Frank loved his wife, and he wanted to die. He died, but nobody could have wanted that way of dying.

Because of my wounds I was raging with fever and the loss of blood accentuated my thirst. At dawn we stopped—for the first time—before a muddy pool, and the guard indicated that we could have a drink. Flat on our bellies, we drank and drank. A lazy water-snake, disturbed, slithered out into the grass. Then the march went on, through the day. Flies succeeded the mosquitoes of the night. The sun rose in a clear blue sky drilling into our uncovered heads. And out of the sun, screaming, United Nations jet-planes dived straight at us, spewing bullets.

Lying half submerged in a flooded rice paddy we were shaken by terror out of the daze into which we had been plunged by exhaustion and sunstroke. You feel so much more helpless when your hands are tied behind your back, when you are bleeding, when in every village on the route you have been beaten and kicked in the scrotum by inhabitants to whom you have been offered as a sitting prey by your Korean guards. The silver birds passed, but we stayed in the paddy. When the beat of our pulses no longer filled our consciousness we felt the thirst again. Rice paddies are fertilised with human excreta, but we drank, drank deep and dipped our burning heads in the stinking water. A shaggy, dusty buzzard dropped not six feet away from me and resumed the meal the pilots of the United Nations had interrupted. Under his claws was the half-eaten face of an American sergeant. We marched on.

Heads down, we were fascinated by grotesque lumps of oozing, purulent flesh that kept placing themselves rhythmically before each other under our eyes. It was a shock to realise that they were feet. Our feet. And then the planes came again, and we lay again in the excremental bilge, and we drank of it deep. Once we were given a basket of food. The food looked black. As we put in our hands the flies rose, and the food was white. It was boiled rice that had fermented. I could not keep it down.

MARCH ENDS

The march that had begun on Sunday the Twenty-third ended on Friday the Twenty-eighth in a small valley near Suwon. Here were the Communist Army headquarters. There was an interpreter who became excited when I told him I was a journalist. They marched me off to a small clearing and made me kneel. Standing before me was a man in jackboots, breeches and T-shirt. He had three "English - speakers" with him As soon as I answered the question of one interpreter, the second said I was a liar while the first translated to the interrogator. Then, immediately, the third interpreter asked another question.

First Intepreter: What plans have the Americans got?— You don't think they'd tell them to a journalist?

Second Interpreter: You're a liar!

Third Interpreter: When are the Americans going to counter-attack?—I don't know.

First Interpreter: You're a liar!

Second Interpreter: Describe to us the rocket the Americans have which "homes" on the aerials of our tanks?—I've never heard of such a rocket.

There were about a dozen questions, each more unanswerable than the previous one. It wasn't that one could not be "broken down" by this fastflowing third degree, but that one simply did not know the answers. Yet the interrogator persevered putting the same questions in different words, in a different order, faster and faster, through his three interpreters, interposing threats that he would use the pistol in his hand. One became obsessed with keeping track of one's previous answers.

I fell asleep and, from my kneeling position, dropped on to my face. I awoke with a sharp pain in my left side. I had to kneel again. This went on from sunset until the black sky had turned to blue again in the east. The cocks were crowing. I remember wondering, absurdly, if the cock-a-doodles were their answers to some interrogating fox.

At last it was over. I was put into a jeep and driven to Seoul. There, in a small Japanese villa, a flat-faced Korean in a Malenkov suit—buttons all the way up—tried to persuade me to broadcast over the North Korean radio, condemning the Americans. To make a broadcast, he said, was the only way I could let my wife know that I was alive. He preferred not to comprehend that I could broadcast such an assurance without accusing the Americans of atrocities. He persisted for a whole day, giving me the first taste of the "brain-washing" technique that was to be applied much more insistently later on. In the end he washed his hands of me. He handed me the bloodstained fatigues of a dead G.I., and a pair of rubber sandals.

"You are not co-operative," he said. "You will be taken to Pyongyang. They can deal with you there."

Governments Will Spend $415 Million On Roads

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian governments plan record expenditures on roads and highways this year.

G. W. Gilchrist of Ottawa, managing director of the Canadian Good Roads Association, said recently federal and provincial governments will spend $415,000,000. The greater portion of this amount—$382,000,000—has been budgeted by the provinces. The remainder is the federal government's share of the Trans-Canada Highway and estimated expenditures by municipalities.

The total does not include federal funds budgeted for park roads and military roads or money to be spent by private corporations for construction and maintenance of forest and mining roads.

Mr. Gilchrist forecast that this year will be the most active in road-building history and that provincial governments should be able to repair many of the existing deficiencies in their highway systems.

He said that if the nation is to meet the present critical inadequacies of highways and streets, the present record level of construction will have to be maintained indefinitely.

Current industrial activity and t rapid opening up of new areas in the north were creating a steadily expanding demand for roads to link the new areas of the country with the old.

"To provide our present requirements and to meet the need for roads that will inevitably occur as Canada expands will tax all our energies and resources into the foreseeable future," he said.

Construction of the Trans-Canada Highway, although behind schedule, would pick up a lot of momentum this year. By the end of the construction season the highway should be approximately half completed in the Prairie provinces. These three provinces expect to complete their sections of the highway on schedule by 1956.

Leading Papers Won't Publish

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador's leading newspapers refused to publish Tuesday in protest dailies and the jailing of five news against government closure of two paper men.

A spokesman for the newspaper publishers said the act was a "demonstration of solidarity and in defence of press freedom."

The government shuttered La Nacion and La Hora, both of Guayaquil, Saturday and seized their buildings. Jailed were Simon Canarte, owner of two newspapers; their general manager, David Huerta, and three editors.

President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra said the newspapers had "insulted and outraged" members of his government and had "incited to revolution against the government."

Newspapers not publishing today were El Comercio, El Sol, El Dia, Ultimas Noticias and La Tierra here in the capital; El Telegrafo, El Universo and La Prensa, of Guayaquil, and El Mercurio, in La Cuenca.

Patzcuaro Prisoners Chat With Pedestrians

By JEAN E. STENTON

PATZCUARO—Going to jail in Patzcuaro is no hardship for the wrong doer. Situated facing on the Zocalo, the building has huge windows opening on little iron balconies. The prisoners can stand at the windows and chat with passersby below; they have a grandstand view of all the traffic in the centre of town; and the plaza bright with flowers, trees and fountains is a most attractive outlook.

Friday is the big market day and the Zocalo is used as the market place. So the prisoners crowd to their windows and watch the colorful scene. There is fruit, pottery, straw mats and hats piled around and burros wandering aimlessly. Nobody hurries and the bright sun lends it a sleepy quality. A more pleasant place to be detained in would be hard to find.

The first university in North America, the College of San Nicolas, was begun in Patzcuaro by Don Vasco de Quiroga. It was later moved to Morelia and the building today houses the Museum of Popular Art and Archaeology. The exhibition rooms—a chapel with votive offerings, kitchens, dining room and others are furnished in 16th century style. There is a collection of nearly 400 old lacquer bowls. The intricate work is far more beautiful than anything produced today. There are also a number of fine masks displayed.

QUAINT TOWN

Patzcuaro's narrow, cobblestone streets lead up and down the hillsides and the houses that flank them are quaint reminders of Spanish colonial days. The majority of the houses are one story, constructed with overhanging roofs that furnish shade to the leisurely pedestrian. Almost every square in Patzcuaro has a fountain of unusual design. Three are remarkable: La Pila del Torro, Los Guajes and San Miguel.

Although Uruapan is better known for its lacquer work, the best pieces are now made in Patzcuaro. The Casa Cerda here turns out some fine pieces. The gold inlay work on some of the trays is beautiful and their colors are artistic and subdued. They use many of the patterns on the museum pieces. At Uruapan the art has degenerated considerably since it has been so commercialized. In the 17th and 18th centuries, Uruapan made wonderful lacquer objects.

The lacquer workers first cover the object with an overall color. When that is dry the design is cut into it and then the colors are rubbed into the design with the fingers. The finer work will sometimes have gold leaf put on over that again.

SENT TO HELP INDIANS

Patzcuaro was founded in 1540 on the site of the summer home of the Tarascan monarchs by Don Vasco de Quiroga who was sent by Charles V of Spain to help the natives of that region. The first Conquistadores had been so cruel that the Tarascans had either fled far into the hills or were reduced to abject slavery.

Quiroga was a lawyer who was given a special position in the church. When he saw the plight of the Indians he worked to win their confidence and improve their lot. It was he who gradually organized them into new villages and taught each village a handicraft. These handicrafts have been handed down from generation to generation so that today each place has some specialty in crafts. Quiroga fulfilled his mission so well that he was made the first Bishop of Michoacan and today "Tata Vasco" (Father Vasco) is still deeply revered by all the Tarascans in the Patzcuaro area.

The most important of the several interesting churches is La Colegiata, which was to have been the cathedral of Michoacan before the see was moved to Morelia. There is an important madonna here—Nuestra Senora de la Salud. It is made of exceedingly lightweight maize paste of yellowish color by the Indians, probably at the request of Bishop Quiroga, so it is about 400 years old. The Indians always used to make their gods of this material so they could be easily carried into battle or moved to safety. The nearby church of La Campania is said to have Bishop Quiroga's ashes preserved in its chapel. It was the first church to be built in Patzcuaro. Near it are the picturesque ruins of a very old convent.

Urges Britons Stand By Cause Of Peace

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today urged Britons to "stand by the cause of peace through strength."

Churchill told a convention of Conservative women "we must indeed look forward without fear to the trials of the future, confident we shall stand by the cause of peace through strength and of freedom maintained against all threats."

The 78-year-old prime minister deplored the tendency of Britons to drop the use of the word "Empire" in describing Britain's holdings abroad. "Empire," he said, "is a word of which we must never be ashamed. Wherever it has grown, British imperialism has meant steady progress for the masses of the people and the establishment and enforcement of just laws administered by impartial tribunals."

Anglican Men's Group Holds Final Meeting

OMEMEE (ENS)—The Anglican Men's Christian Fellowship group of St. Johns', St. James' and Christ Church, Omemee, closed their season's activities with a social evening which began with a turkey banquet.

Seventeen members and their wives motored to Pine Ridge Lodge, Bobcaygeon, for a dinner. President Alton Clarke was master of ceremonies. The Rev. Charles Richmond led in community singing with Ted Roos at the piano. The Rev. George Ball of Christ Church, Bobcaygeon, addressed the group.

Indict Toronto Man As Alien Smuggler

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A federal grand jury Tuesday indicted a 38-year-old Toronto man on four counts involving alleged smuggling of aliens into the U.S. from Canada.

He was Homer Mitilinellis, picked up by immigration officers April 14 and accused of trying to smuggle a woman across the border in a panel truck that had a false floor.

The woman, Christina Behtikontzah, 31, of Greece, was named with Mitilinellis in a two-count indictment which charged conspiracy and attempting to elude examination by immigration officers.

Mitilinellis was also indicted on charges of smuggling two men into the U.S. They were Thomas Pappas 22, and Evangelos Konduris, 32, both Albanians who lived in Toronto.

Hladiy Hanged For Panok's Murder

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—George Hladiy of Port Arthur was hanged at 12:30 a.m. here Tuesday for the murder of Josef Panok last summer.

Hladiy was charged with strangling Panok in the Fort William railroad yards after an argument while they were stealing grain from freight cars. He then dumped Panok's weighted body in a nearby river.

SHOCK WAVE HITS—These are some of the 2,400 troops who crouched in six-foot trenches at Yucca Flat, Nevada, as another test atom bomb was detonated. The light to make this photo was given off by the atomic fireball. Light and the shock-wave came at almost the same instant. The troops were dug in about 4,000 yards from the ground zero.

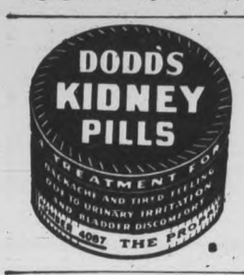
African Native At Home Has Pride, Dignity, Tradition

EDMONTON (CP)—Mrs. Edward Fawcett Wilkinson, who with her husband recently came to Edmonton after 12 years in Africa, says the African native in his own environment has pride, tradition and dignity.

It is the native living on the borders of industrial centres, losing his sense of heritage, who is baffled by an alien civilization and becomes the trouble-maker, she says.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson lived 12 years in the major cities of Africa. They grew up and attended school there, although both are of English birth. Mr. Wilkinson was a shift manager in various mines on the Gold Coast, and is familiar with employment problems of native labor.

LAND WOULD DETERIORATE



Speaking of the Mau Mau situation in Kenya, Mrs. Wilkinson says that if the Kikuyus ever succeeded in gaining possession of the rich plantation lands owned by the whites, the land would soon deteriorate under poor farming methods. She says that despite repeated instruction, the native will plow a hillside vertically rather than horizontally, and torrential rains wash the seeds down the furrows and the crop is lost.

Segregation is a problem among all people living in Africa—English, Dutch and natives, Mrs Wilkinson says.

KEPT FROM SCHOOL

The Boers or Afrikanders, who have maintained a bitterness against the English population since the days of the Boer War, do not permit their children to attend English-speaking schools, a detriment to the social, economic and political future of the country.

She says the Dutch Reformed Church maintains a strict code for its adherents not only theologically, but socially. For example, says Mrs Wilkinson, they take note of such things as bathing suits. Coverage is the dictum—over the shoulders and down to the knees.

Scientists Have New Antiobiotic

BERLIN (AP)—The official East German news agency ADN claimed today that a Soviet zone scientist in Jena has developed a antibiotic "as successful as penicillin or streptomycin." ADN called the drug xanthocillin.

It said the scientist, Dr. Werner Rothe of the Friedrich-Schiller University in Jena, had developed the new drug from a mold in experiments begun in 1948.

ADN said the new drug has been used on some 17,000 patients and had been found especially successful in treating injuries which had become infected. It has also reported useful in difficult stomach operations.

Xanthocillin is to be prepared on a mass scale for use in treating East eGrmans, the ADN report said.

Myth Destroyed, Clifton Webb Likes Children

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another Hollywood myth shot to pieces. Clifton Webb likes children.

"The report that I detest children is false," says Webb, famed for having crowned a moppet with oatmeal in "Sitting Pretty." "Of course, it would make better publicity if I did dislike them. There is no news in the fact that I adore children.

"I have always got along very well with them. I believe in treating them as equals; the worst thing you can do to them is to be patronizing. I can remember how as a child I hated people who looked down patronizingly and said, 'How are you, little boy?' Bah! I felt like kicking them in the shins.

TREAT THEM LIKE ADULTS

"It's best to talk to children as you would to adults. I don't mean that you should use four-letter words. At least not until they're 2½ or more."

He may like kids socially, but professionally it's another matter.

"If someone had told me before I entered this medium that I would be making every other picture with children, I would have spit in his eye," he remarked.

He admitted that the oatmeal flinging was what did it. After that epic, he was again cast as the know-it-all baby sitter, Mr. Belvedere. The climax came when he portrayed the father of 12 in "Cheaper by the Dozen."

Right now he's up to his waistcoat in Boy Scouts. He plays a scout master in a film called "Be Prepared." Webb may not seem like the scoutmaster type, but he portrays a TV producer whose programs are too highbrow for the kiddies. He takes over a scout troop to see what would appeal to the juvenile audience. All heck breaks loose, as you can imagine.

Psychiatric Cases Increase Declares Ottawa Professor

OTTAWA — Psychiatric cases are sharply on the upswing and would-be home-spun psychiatrists aren't helping the situation, Dr. Karl Stern said Tuesday.

In fact, the professor of psychiatry at the University of Ottawa told a luncheon audience of Parliamentarians, the untrained people who say "pull yourself together" and "get away from it all—take a rest" frequently make things worse.

Their advice often backfires on the person they are trying to help, the depressed or anxious or emotionally-maladjusted person who should really get professional help because his or her trouble is far beyond "commonsense, ordinary human wisdom."

Dr. Stern estimated that virtually every adult Canadian at one time or another takes on the mantle of the psychiatrist to try to help some member of his family or some friend. Frequently the aid is just what is not needed.

The man who is told to pull himself together should often really be advised to let himself go. He already has a feeling of guilt about something. The homespun help only increases it. The man who is told to take a change of environment, to go to some place to rest, frequently only adds to his internal suffering by going there.

Hold Mass Rites For Fire Victims

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont (CP)—Sorrowing relatives Tuesday attended a mass funeral for eight children burned to death early Sunday in a fire at their home near here.

There were but two caskets. The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Derry were in one. Three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trudel were in the other.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Derry attended the funeral. Both are confined to hospital here with severe burns, cuts and shock.

Capt. F. Smith of the Salvation Army and Rev. Charles Wocley of the United Suburban Church conducted the service.

E. Simons of the Ontario fire marshal's office arrived here Tuesday to investigate the tragedy.

Easy Lesson

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—Governor-General Sir Willoughby Norris, like a lot of others, finds trouble pronouncing some of the old Maori place names in New Zealand. A cabinet minister told him how to pronounce Maraeti, which occurred in the throne speech. Sir Willoughby got it right first time—"my right eye."

PCs Seek Review Of CBC Revenue

OTTAWA (CP)—Progressive Conservatives Tuesday sought unsuccessfully in the House of Commons broadcasting committee for an annual review by Parliament of revenues to be provided the CBC from taxes on radio and television equipment.

The committee voted 9-6 against inserting such a provision in a bill to enable the CBC to receive the revenue from the 15-per-cent excise tax on sales of radio and television sets and equipment.

Tom Goode (L—Burnaby-Richmond) and C. W. Carter (L—Burin-Burgeo) voted in favor of the proposal, sponsored by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton).

Mr. Fleming said it is unsound legislation to provide that this revenue goes to the CBC without any reference to Parliament.

Leo Gauthier (L—Sudbury) said there is nothing to prevent discussion of the CBC's use of the revenue in the Commons. Nothing also would prevent the broadcasting committee proposing an amendment to the Broadcasting Act if the project was unsatisfactory.

Mrs. Powell accompanied her husband on his visit.

Miss M. Jones Deaconess who has been in charge of St. George's Anglican parish for some months will terminate her term here May 31.

Chatham Man Shot By American Soldier

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Howard Morton, about 30, was shot early today several blocks from a restaurant after he and an unidentified United States soldier had engaged in an argument. Hospital officials said his condition was serious.

All police cars were dispatched to the entrance of the Windsor-Detroit tunnel and the Ambassador bridge in case the wanted man attempted to return to the U.S.

Witnesses to the fracas in the restaurant told police the soldier pointed a gun at Morton when he entered.

It was reported Morton was a recent resident of Chatham.

Eisenhower Plans Cut $8.5 Billion Off Truman Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower laid before congressional leaders today preliminary proposals to cut approximately $8,500,000,000 off former president Truman's budget. Lawmakers who sat in on the discussion at the White House said the tentative cuts would include a reduction of about $5,000,000,000 in Truman's proposals for military spending. Reductions of $1,800,000,000 in foreign aid, $1,200,000,000 in domestic spending and $250,000,000 in atomic projects also were discussed.

Eisenhower was said to have emphasized that the $8,500,000,000 cuts in the Truman $78,600,000,00 spending program for the year beginning July 1 are only preliminary and will be reviewed later. Truman figured defence spending at $46,300,000,000.

CLOSE TOO BALANCING

Truman proposed spending $2,700,000,000 for atomic energy and $7,861,000,000 on foreign assistance.

Lawmakers who attended the conference said they understood the proposed cuts would make it possible to come within $1,500,000,000 of balancing the budget, although tax revenues were declining and this figure might be larger.

Eisenhower was said to have laid down the principle that he intends to keep the security of the U. S. as the No. 1 consideration at all times.

As a forum for what the White House billed as a major pronouncement, the President chose his weekly press conference.

As a prelude, Eisenhower told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night there is "no excuse for a wasted penny." But, he added, he will never consent to cutting U. S. defences below the point of safety.

Third Reverse Announced In Indo-China

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Communist-led Vietminh troops sweeping toward the royal Laotian seat of Luangprabang captured another French-Laotian defence post today—this one only about 25 miles north of the town. It was the third reverse suffered by the defending forces in as many days.

The black-clad invaders of Laos—one of the three French-associated states of Indo-China—successfully stormed defences at Muongsung as the possibility increased of an all-out assault by the weekend on the residence city of aged, ailing King Sisavong Vong.

ANNOUNCE LOSS

The loss of Muongsung, in the valley of the Namhou river, was announced shortly after a French Army spokesman expressed cautious optimism about the general situation in Laos. He even went so far as to say "the situation is looking better," but he did not say why.

Improved weather has permitted French planes to bomb the invading columns with napalm, forcing enemy units to split into smaller groups.

Wednesday, however, the French command announced the loss of Bannambac, 40 miles north of Luangprabang. The day before, the French-Laotian post at Pakseng, 42 miles northeast of the royal seat, fell to the invaders.

French supply planes still rushed troops and war material from Hanoi to Luangprabang. The 6,000 inhabitants of the town joined French and Laotian troops digging ditches, stringing barbed wire and erecting other defence fortifications.

Promise MPs To Hear Data

OTTAWA (CP)—In a mild sequel to Wednesday's blowup over the Dewar-Lunam case, the Commons heard John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) press again today for tabling of information about award of government contracts to the Harvey Lunam Construction Company of Regina.

Works Minister Fournier said the information Mr. Diefenbaker first asked for in March should be coming to him from departmental officials today or Friday and will be tabled.

In the House Wednesday opposition members pressed for a parliamentary inquiry into award of the contracts and said Lunam's reputation was such as to raise questions about the public works department's acceptance of him as a competent tenderer.

Earlier Austin Dewar, Liberal member for Qu'Appelle riding in Saskatchewan, resigned his seat although denying there was any intentional wrongdoing in his exchanges of cheques with Mr. Lunam from 1948 to 1951.

Queen, Churchill Have First Wins

NEWMARKET, England (AP)—The Queen and Prime Minister Churchill had their first wins of the 1953 flat season at Newmarket today.

The Queen's four-year-old Gay Time romped home first in the £1,000 March stakes.

Churchill's Prince Arthur won £700 in the following race.

Dazed Suspect Gives Up Quietly

KENOSHA, Wis. (CP) —A 55-year-old man, dazed and incoherent, surrendered quietly to police early today, several hours after his estranged wife and her daughter-in-law were slain by shotgun blasts.

Myron Wickham had been hunted by a posse since the bodies of the two women were found Wednesday night in a drive-in restaurant the Wickhams owned.

Dead were Wickham's wife, Beulah, 51, and Mrs. Margaret Barry, 29, the wife of Mrs. Wickham's son by a previous marriage, Thomas Barry, 35.

Wickham was charged with murder of the two women and also of attempted murder of Barry. The son-in-law said he awoke to find Wickham pointing a shotgun at him. He said Wickham fled after he wrested the gun away from him.

Worried Mother Steals Pair Of Baby Shoes

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—Last Sunday a worried mother stole a pair of baby shoes for one of her three small children.

She did it, she told police, because for lack of shoes the tot was unable to play outdoors.

Today the world is looking brighter for Mrs. Patricia Morrison, 27.

She has a $100 cheque from actress Merle Oberon, and Miss Oberon's lawyer is to represent her when she appears for sentencing May 20. Mrs. Morrison pleaded guilty to petty theft charges Monday.

She also has received lesser sums of money from other well-wishers and the offer of a rent free home.

Caught In Act

VIENNA (Reuters)—Anton Hofmann, 46, known to police as one of the most expert safebreakers in the country, was arrested Wednesday night after opening a safe in the Rossauer police barracks here. The safe was full of money—police wages for the month.

500 PoWs Attempt Flee Train

Civilians Touch Off New Uprising On Hospital Train

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Five hundred sick and wounded Red prisoners threatened Allied guards today and started a short-lived escape attempt from a hospital train carrying them to Panmunjom for return to the Communists.

Col. Dee M. White reported some 50 North Korean civilians touched off the demonstrations Wednesday night by singing and waving flags during the trip from Pusan port to Munsan.

An unarmed guard ripped the flag from one of the Reds. He was quickly surrounded by other prisoners.

Two armed guards then pointed guns at the rebelling prisoners. A Red leader shouted:

ASKED TO PROTEST

"We are not afraid of your guns." The Red started toward the guards but the leader told them to stop and asked to protest about conditions aboard the train.

Col. White, a member of the transportation team in charge of moving ailing Reds to Panmunjom, said the Red leader demanded to inspect the train. He also signed a statement that the train guards "mistreated" the prisoners.

White said the singing and flag-waving continued until the train reached the unloading point north of Munsan this morning.

The 375 civilian internees and 125 North Korean soldiers filed out meekly for the ambulance ride to Panmunjom.

Strasser Permitted To Return Home

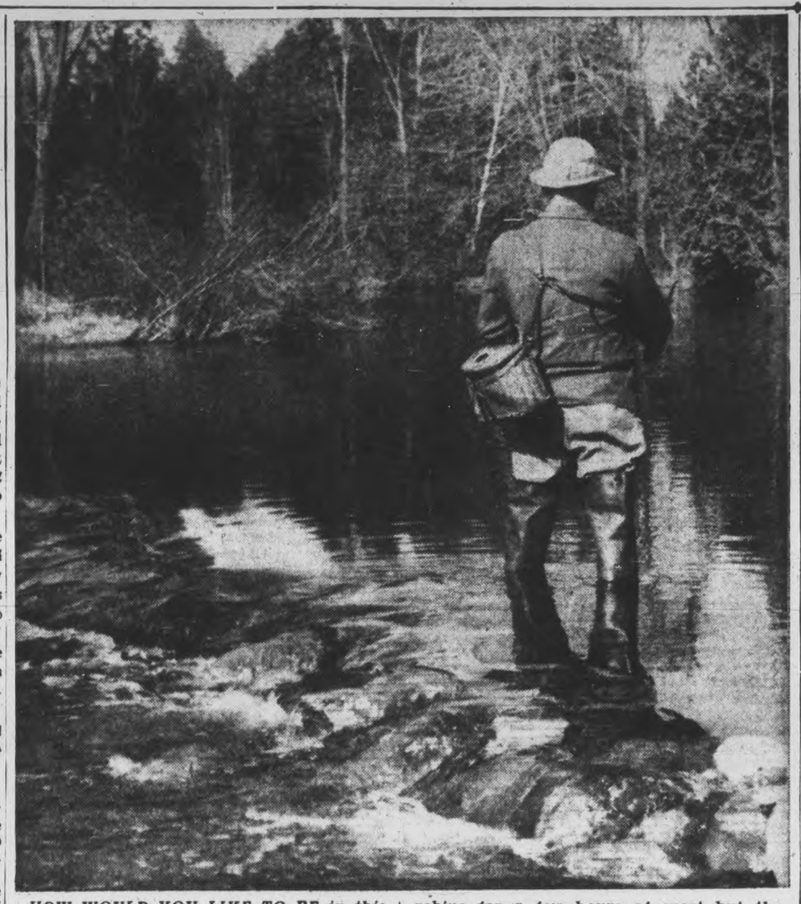
PARADISE, N.S. (CP) — Otto Strasser, his way cleared by a court ruling, intends to go back to Germany and resume a political career that was cut short 20 years ago.

His aim is a new party, the Rally for Germany's Renewal, with which he hopes to fill a "spiritual and economic vacuum" he claims the present government has done nothing to wipe out.

A German administrative court in Cologne Wednesday cleared the last obstacle barring the 55-year-old former Nazi from returning to his homeland. Over the opposition of the Bonn government, it ordered restoration of the citizenship Strasser lost after his Black Front staged an unsuccessful revolt against Hitler.

Strasser, now living in this quiet village in Nova Scotia's apple belt, says the German interior ministry now has to give him a passport unless an appeal is launched against the court's ruling.

Delegates Sign Federation Plan



LONDON (AP)—Delegates from five of Britain's West Indies possessions in the Caribbean area today signed a plan for federation with a capital at Grenada Island in the Windward islands.

The plan must be approved by the island legislatures and then by the British Parliament before it becomes effective.

Delegates from Barbados, Trinidad, Jamaica, and the Windward and Leeward Islands signed the draft. Two other British possessions, British Honduras and British Guiana on the mainlands of Central and South America had observers at the conference which drafted the federation plan but took no part in the deliberations and did not sign. The conference has been going on here since April 14.

Stretching in an arc of 1,700 miles, the islands embrace a population of nearly 2,500,000 and an area of about 7,700 square miles. The ultimate aim is to establish the federation as another British dominion.

Under the federation plan, there will be a 19-seat Senate and a 45-member House of Representatives. Seats in the House of Representatives will be allocated on a basis of 17 for Jamaica, 10 for Trinidad, five for Barbados, and 13 for the Windward and Leeward groups.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE in this fellow's waders? Hundreds of district trout fishermen will be, come dawn on Friday regardless of weather. Those who have to work through the day will rise with the robins for a few hours of sport but the heaviest pressure will come over the week end from Lake Ontario streams to Algonquin Park. What will fishing prospects be? Reported results will give the answer.

Crying Youth, 19 One Of Two Held In Slaying

MONTREAL (CP)—A frightened 19-year-old youth, crying in his bed when located by police, and a 35-year-old former waiter were held Wednesday for questioning in connection with the fatal shooting of taxi driver Andre Lorge.

Police identified the youth as Guy Fiset and the other man as Bob Laplante.

Police said the robbery and killing of Lorge, described by a fellow cabbie as a "quiet fellow who minded his own business," netted only $8.

Lorge, 44, felled by a bullet through the chest, was found Tuesday lying on a sidewalk at the downtown intersection of Wellington and McGill streets.

Police said they found that earlier another taxi driver was held up and robbed near where Lorge's body was found.

NO REPORT

A check back to police headquarters showed no holdup and robbery had been reported. Police said they then picked up cab driver Ralph Vincent who first refused to talk because he had been "literally terrorized" by the holdup men.

Police said Vincent put it this way: "I lost $15. I don't intend to lose my life."

Told that the men who robbed him might well be Lorge's killers, he made a statement when promised full police protection. He said

Chevrier Seeking Right To New Airline Routes In United States

WASHINGTON (CP)—Reopening of Canada's air agreement with the United States to give Canadian commercial airlines new routes in the U.S. was being sought here today by Lionel Chevrier, Canadian minister of transport. The minister scheduled a series of conferences with U.S. aeronautics branch officials on the question. He was here primarily for talks dealing with the St. Lawrence seaway-navigation project. As a major side issue to his discussions on the seaway, Chevrier planned to ask the U.S. government to open up the existing Canada-U.S. air agreement for the re-negotiation of new concessions on both sides.

For these negotiations, the minister had with him John R. Baldwin, chairman of Canada's air transport board.

NOTHING OFFICIAL

There was no official information on Canada's aims in opening the air agreement, but it is understood the Canadian government has a number of specific new routes, with terminals in Canada and the U.S., over which it would like to see planes of the government-owned Trans-Canada Air Lines operating.

One of these, it is believed, is on an important route from central Canada into the southern U.S. For this, the Canadian government would have to give something in return, but there was no information here on what it might be willing to trade.

The whole bilateral agreement is based on a series of swaps on air rights. Canadian commercial planes get concessions in the U.S. in return for reciprocal concessions in Canada.

For the moment, it is understood, the Canadian government is going no further than informing the U.S. that it wants to re-negotiate the air agreement. Canadian authorities were keeping up their sleeves both what they want and what they would be willing to give up for what they want.

Queen Approves Giving Coronation Medal To Special People In Commonwealth

LONDON (CP)—The Queen has approved a Coronation medal, her personal souvenir of the Coronation, it was announced today.

Individuals selected for the traditional medal in the United Kingdom will receive it shortly after the Coronation. The medals will be shipped in bulk to the Commonwealth countries for dispersal to persons chosen by arrangement with individual governments and at a time to be settled in each country.

Numbers of medals to be struck was not disclosed. There were 90,000 struck for the 1937 Coronation, of which 10,000 went to Canada. The Sovereign allocated 2,000 to each of the services of the United Kingdom.

The 1¼-inch-wide medals was designed by Cecil Thomas. An effigy of the Queen, crowned and robed, is depicted on the front. The other side of the silver medal bears the Royal Cipher, E II R, surmounted by the Crown, and the inscription "Queen Elizabeth II, crowned 2nd June, 1953." It will be suspended from a 14-inch-wide ribbon, dark red with narrow white strips at the edges and two narrow dark blue strips near the middle.

It must be worn on all occasions when decorations or medals are worn, affixed to the left breast. In precedence, it follows war medals, jubilee and previous Coronation medals but precedes efficiency and long service medals.

No individual member of the public can apply for it, it was emphasized.

Canadian government officials here said they considered it likely that allocation of the medals in Canada will be done from Ottawa.

Won't Complain About Reward

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill today rejected a Socialist suggestion that he complain to Washington about the American offer to pay Communist pilots who surrender with their jet planes in Korea.

"I am not going to make any complaints to the United States government upon the subject," Churchill told the House of Commons.

The prime minister hinted, however, that there might be doubt whether the offer was well timed in view of the prospects for a truce in Korea.

Labor member George Wigg asked if the UN command in Korea had consulted with the British government about the offer. Churchill replied:

"There was no need for any consultation and none took place.

Wigg said: "As this change of policy took place at the very moment when the whole world hoped a truce would come in Korea surely such a major change of policy should have brought about automatic consultation with Her Majesty's government."

Report Eden Has Comfortable Night

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, 55, "had a comfortable night" after his second gall bladder operation Wednesday within three weeks, a medical bulletin said today.

"The collection of fluid removed was due to a post-operative inflammatory complication obstructing the main liver duct," it said.

Eden had his first gall bladder operation April 12, but continued to suffer from jaundice.

Report From U.N. Inaccurate Pearson Declares

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today the Canadian government would not support United Nations rejection of all Asiatic countries in selection of a neutral country to supervise Communist prisoners of war in Korea who don't want to be sent home. However, he told the Commons, he has been informed by the Canadian embassy in Washington that press reports saying UN negotiators at Panmunjom have rejected any Asiatic country for that role "are not strictly accurate." His information was that no such stand was taken.

He was replying to M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, who asked about the press reports and about the government's attitude towards them.

NO SUCH STAND

(The Associated Press reported from Panmunjom Wednesday that the American head of the negotiating team said no Asiatic country would be acceptable because all Asian countries "are located very close to countries dominated by Communists and might therefore be subjected to Communist military, economic or political influence.")

Mr. Pearson's answer was that he had seen the report and had immediately asked the embassy in Washington to check it. He had been informed that no such stand has been taken.

If the report was accurate, the stand "would not have commanded the support of the Canadian government."

Officials Meet To Map Seaway Action

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canadian and United States officials looking for action on the long delayed St. Lawrence seaway-power project met today to discuss the undertaking and plan counter - moves against seaway opponents.

Transport Minister Chevrier and R. H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario hydro-electric power commission, headed a Canadian group attending the annual "Heartland" conference of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association and strategic meetings along with it.

Besides addressing the pro-seaway association, the Canadians were meeting with advocates of the waterway to map out action against opposition to a start on the project that have been developing here.

Apart from the prospect of seaway bills in Congress holding up a start on the basis agreed to by Canada and the U.S. in 1951, court action now is threatened by opponents in the event of a go-ahead signal from the federal power commission that has been considering New York state application to join Ontario in the power phase of the $750,000,000 job.

To work out counter-strategy, the Canadian officials were meeting privately during the day with John E. Burton, chairman of the New York power authority, officers of the association and others. In the Canadian group was R. A. C. Henry of Montreal, head of the transport department's special projects branch that has been doing seaway planning for the Canadian government.

The Canadians are anxious to go ahead on the basis agreed to in 1951 by Prime Minister St. Laurent and President Truman, with Ontario and New York sharing the $450,000,000 hydro cost in the international rapids section and the Canadian government building alone the $300,000,000 navigation system there.

Browns Catcher Heavily Fined

CHICAGO (AP)—St. Louis catcher Clint Courtney was held mainly responsible for Tuesday night's Yankee-Brown free-for-all brawl and was handed the heaviest of six player fines today by President Will Harridge of the American League.

For their part in the fracas at St. Louis, Courtney was fined $250; infielder Bill Hunter, also of St. Louis, $150; second baseman Billy Martin of New York, $150, and pitcher Allie Reynolds, first baseman Joe Collins and third baseman Gil MacDougald, all of the Yankees, $100 apiece.

The melee resulted when Courtney bowled over Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees in a play at second base.

Liner On Atlantic Has Engine Trouble

LIVERPOOL (Reuters) — The Cunard liner Ascania, 14,400 tons, reported today her engines were giving her trouble in mid-Atlantic.

She had been forced to reduce speed on her way to Liverpool.

The Ascania is scheduled to reach Liverpool Saturday from Montreal but now is not expected to arrive before Monday.

More than 500 passengers due to sail in her to Canada next Wednesday were told the sailing has been cancelled and they will be taken in other ships.

10 Forest Fires Extinguished

TORONTO (CP)—Ten forest fires were extinguished in Ontario during the last 24 hours, but three are still burning in the northwestern section of the province.

The three minor blazes are in the Kenora and Fort Frances districts. Officials of the department of lands and forests expect to put out the fires before nightfall.

The 10 fires extinguished Wednesday burned small patches of timber in the districts of Kenora, Sioux Lookout, Parry Sound, White River and Geraldton.

The department reported today that the forest fire hazard is medium throughout most of the province.

Aid For Economic Ills

Labor Congress Suggests NATO Banking Alliance

OTTAWA (CP) — The 500,000-member Trades and Labor Congress today proposed that North Atlantic Treaty countries create a banking alliance to help the free world out of its economic ills.

The labor body, in a 6,000-word submission to the Senate trade committee, said the banking alliance should be linked with the International Monetary Fund and formed out of capital subscribed by the 14 North Atlantic signatory countries.

At the same time the congress urged Canada to press for greater tariff-cutting powers in the hands of President Eisenhower under the United States Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act and for clarification of U. S. customs procedure and red tape which tends to hamper trade with the U. S.

The congress said it would not attempt to set out the full character and operations of the proposed banking alliance, but that it should be an institution "whose basic capital is subscribed by the signatories to the North Atlantic Treaty and whose lending capital arises from the uninvested net trading balances of the members."

Joint responsibility among North Atlantic countries for international investment would provide "real substance" to such trade and production programs as envisaged under the organization for European economic co-operation and the Colombo Plan and also would "create a new atmosphere of stability in world trade."

"In such an atmosphere further extension of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade would seem to have greater chance of success and to be of greater practical value to all countries concerned," the congress said.

Sweeps Top Prizes

Shirley Booth Judged Best Actress At Festival

CANNES, France (AP)—Shirley Booth completed her 1953 sweep of top stage and screen prizes here Wednesday night. She won the sixth international Cannes film festival title as last year's best actress.

The 45-year-old actress was acclaimed for her dramatization of the housewife in the movie "Come Back, Little Sheba"—the same performance that won her a Hollywood Oscar last month. She previously had won practically every award given for her stage enactment of the role.

"Sheba" also won the festival prize for the best drama of the 74 long and short films from 27 countries that have been shown here during the two-week-long contest. It tells the story of a reformed alcoholic. Miss Booth, starring with Burt Lancaster in the picture, plays the part of an alcoholic's garrulous wife.

Canada won first prize for animated cartoons in the short picture section with "Sports et Transports." Its English title is "The History of Transportation in Canada." It deals in a humorous way with the effect transportation has had on Canada's development.

The film has been playing at a New York theatre for two months and will be released in Canada shortly. It was produced by the national film board and its animators were Colin Law, Robert Verrall and Wolf Keonig, all of Ottawa. The producer was Thomas Daly.

Another American movie, "Lili," was named the best light comedy. It is the story of a young girl, played by Leslie Caron, who falls in love with a puppeteer. Hollywood's Mel Ferrer plays the male lead.

France took two grand prizes in the competition. A controversial French movie "Le Salaire de la Peur" (The Wages of Fear) won the top award for feature-length films and "Crin Blanc" (White Mane) took honors for short pictures.

Abandon Hope Of Saving 2 Kirkland Lake Miners

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP)—Hope was abandoned today for saving the lives of Leo Murray and Leon Wojcechowski trapped underground Monday night by a rockburst at the Wright-Hargreaves gold mine. Alex Harris, spokesman for mines in the district said that in the opinion of mine officials and doctors "all hope of the men being found alive has been abandoned."

However, work is still going on in an attempt to recover the bodies.

In the belief that both men are dead, rock on the chute side of the raise where the burst is believed to have originated is being drawn from below as well as from the manway on the 4,800-foot level. It is thought that the men were on the chute side of the raise when the explosion occurred.

CAN'T TELL EXACTLY

Mr. Harris said: "No one can exactly tell at which point in the raise or the sub-level stope they might have been at the time of the rockburst."

If the bodies are not recovered by this method, it is proposed to drive an incline raise upwards to the sub-level stope extending at an angle from the manway side of the raise.

Mr. Harris explained that the incline raise will "require tunelling through about 40 feet of solid rock."

The sub-level entry will allow recovery operations to be continued on a 24-hour basis.

At 7:55 p.m. EDT Wednesday night, the rescue operation had been in progress 48 hours. Grimly, tirelessly, it continued today. Daylight and darkness made no difference to it; the gloom underground was brightened at the working scene by the beams of spotlights on the miners' helmets.

Elsewhere in the Wright-Hargreaves workings and in the neighboring Lake Shore mine, some of the normal sounds of hard-rock mining were stilled. An order went out forbidding blasting until completion of the rescue effort, to ensure that no man-made shocks touch off rockfalls that might hamper the rescuers' work.

WAITING WORD

Meanwhile, waiting for word of the trapped men's fate were Murray's 18-year-old wife, who has a year-old daughter and is expecting another child shortly, and Wojcechowski's wife and 15-year-old daughter.

Murray was not Wojcechowski's regular working partner and only chance put the young man from Belleterre, Que., besides the former wartime prisoner of the Germans. Another miner had a sore back Monday night and Murray took his place.

Two Gunmen Admit Robbery

STRATHROY (CP)—Two gunmen held by police in Detroit, Mich., have confessed the armed robbery last week of an isolated Caradoc township general store, but will probably never be tried for the holdup.

Provincial constable Bob White said Wednesday night the pair, both Canadian ex-convicts, face charges of armed robbery, car theft and kidnapping in Detroit conviction on which would bring terms of 25 years to life imprisonment.

A third Canadian ex-convict was arrested with them but whether charges will be laid against him in Michigan or Ontario is not yet known.

Mrs. Ray Laughton, wife of a storekeeper on Christina road four miles north of Christina, was robbed at gunpoint of more than $70 and a quantity of cigarettes while alone in the store the night of April 22.

Constable White and two other provincial policemen went to Detroit and interviewed the men arrested there.

Suggest Committee To Promote Trade

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government was urged today to establish a committee to promote this country's international trade relations, policies and procedures.

The proposal was made by the foreign trade committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in a 2,500-word brief submitted to the Senate committee on trade, now studying ways to increase economic co-operation among member countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The brief, presented by a delegation headed by A. Maxwell Henderson of Montreal, said that until better economic relations within the free world are achieved, the interests of Canadian business cannot be intelligently planned and executed.

The brief added:

"It is herefore recommended that an official Canadian committee be established by the Canadian government charged with responsibility of promoting Canada's international trade relations, its policies and procedures necessary to bring prompt and effective results in the interests of Canadian business and the nation as a whole."

Luck Really Strained Cancels His Party

OSHAWA — Bricklayer Bill Quinn celebrated his 32nd birthday Tuesday, but he didn't think it wise to drive to his home town of Orillia for an evening birthday party. He said he had already had enough excitement for one birthday.

His "celebrations" started when he was aroused from a sound sleep to be told that his parked car had been hit by another car.

While laying bricks at the new General Motors plant, Quinn was burned about his back by hot steel which had dropped from a fellow worker's cutting torch. He required medical attention.

Later in the day, Quinn accidentally dropped a brick on a companion's shoulder, but the injury was not serious. Then Quinn nearly fell 25 feet to the ground from a scaffold when his overalls got caught on a protruding bolt.

"That was enough for one birthday," Quinn said. "I telephoned my family in Orillia and they had to be content to wish me a happy birthday over the telephone. The way my Irish luck was going, anything could have happened on my way home."

Nervous Passenger No Defence, Fined

Found guilty on charge of failing to stop at a through street, Mary Lawler of 309 Caddy St. was fined $10 and $2.50 costs in Magistrate's Court this morning. The charge was laid April 9 when Mrs. Lawler was alleged to have failed to stop at the intersection of Rogers and Hunter Sts.

In court Mrs. Lawler said she had been driving with a friend "who was a very nervous passenger . . . I had to take extra special care because she watched all the lights and signs."

Hastings Welcomes Rev. T. E. Kennedy

HASTINGS (ENS).—The Rev. and Mrs. T. E. Kennedy of the Hastings-Warkworth charge were entertained at a social evening by the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Mr. Wellington Chrysler acted as chairman and called on members of the congregation for a few words. The slide, "A Wonderful Life," was shown. Miss Bette Ryder sang two solos. Mr. Kennedy expressed his and Mrs. Kennedy's thanks for the welcome, and asked all for their support. He succeeds the Rev. J. M. Ritchie, now at Almonte. Mrs. Stanley Fife played a piano solo.

The tea table was covered with a lace tablecloth and centred with a bouquet of lovely flowers and silver tea services. Mrs. W. S. Fife and Mrs. W. E. Wilson poured tea and refreshments were served.

Wed 70 Years

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William H. McCormick observed their 70th wedding anniversary today without much fanfare. Mrs. McCormick, a native of Winchester, Ont., is 94 and her husband is 96. Her secret for long marriage: "You just trust God and go ahead," she says.

Grandma Has Triplets

DORENA, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Harry Parks, a 48-year-old grandmother, gave birth to triplet daughters here Wednesday. The triplets, born two months prematurely, already have a nephew. One of the parents' five other children, a 20-year-old daughter has a five-month-old son.

Says Farmers Too Poor To Pay Tax

OTTAWA (CP)—Percy Wright (CCF—Melfort) said Wednesday night a man's prosperity can be judged by the income tax he pays and most farmers in Canada pay none.

In fact, he said during an agriculture debate in the House of Commons, there is no economic group in Canada with so low a percentage of taxable income.

That, Mr. Wright said, was his answer to the bright picture of prosperity painted about Canadian agriculture by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

H. Q. White (PC—Middlesex East) said the government was sowing the seeds of another depression by its trade and agricultural policies.

MISS OPPORTUNITY

It did not grasp the opportunity of feeding the world's hungry; it had allowed inflation and United States embargoes against Canadian foods; and it was falling prey to the latest Soviet cold war tactics. Inflation and the loss of markets were playing Canada into the "Soviet trap."

As for the U.S. restrictions on Canadian trade, Mr. White suggested the Americans be told the "good neighbor" policy can work both ways.

New Device Aids Global TV

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The dream of global television may be brought to reality by the new midget crystal amplifying devices called transistors, an industry engineer told broadcasters today.

Neal McNaughten, manager of engineering for the National Association of Radio and television Broadcasters, said use of transistors in cables might make it possible to transmit TV programs across water gaps too wide to be jumped by microwave radio beams.

"The answer," he said, "lies in a submarine transistor cable using transistor repeater unit — smaller than a cigaret—to augment microwave relays between the continents of the world."

Network transmission of TV programs over long distances now is handled by two methods—microwave radio beams relayed between hilltop or mountaintop towers averaging 25 miles apart, and underground coalaxial cables. Neither method, however, will work over long water gaps.

MAY FREE PRISONERS

In Panmunjom the Allies warned the Communists today they might take a short cut through the snarled prisoner exchange problem by simply releasing 32,000 North Koreans who don't wan't to go home.

Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied negotiator, said that turning the prisoners free in South Korea would follow a pattern created by the Reds themselves. He also told the Communists to nominate a non-Asian country as neutral caretaker for 48,000 Communist prisoners who don't want to go home and made it clear the Allies would discuss little else until that's done.

In an unproductive, 51-minute meeting, Harrison said that choosing the neutral caretaker nation must come next. He added:

"All Asian nations are located very close to countries dominated by Communists and might therefore be subjected to Communist military economic or politicall influence."

The delegations meet again Friday.

NO CONCESSION

Harrison told newspaper men the Communists "talk a lot about concessions, but on the vital point of ultimate disposition of prisoners there has been no concession of any kind."

He repeated his contention that the Red proposals would indirectly force prisoners to choose between return against their will or endless captivity.

Meanwhile, Rear-Admiral John C. Daniel said liaison officers of both sides would meet Friday morning to discuss problems concerning exchange of disabled prisoners. He did not say what the problems were.

REPORT MORE WOUNDED

The Communists have said that 684 disabled Allied prisoners turned over last week were all the disabled they had. But those prisoners told of more sick and wounded Allied prisoners in North Korean camps.

The Allies Friday will have returned about 6,000 Red prisoners, almost 200 more than were promised.

The same problem that broke up the armistice talks last Oct. 8 remains:

Although it is agreed that prisoners who want to go home will be sent back immediately after an armistice, what of the 48,000 who refuse repatriation?

When the talks reopened Sunday, the Reds proposed to send unwilling prisoners to an unnamed neutral country for "explanations" about return to their homelands.

The Allies want to keep the 48,000 in Korea under control of a neutral state, and suggested Switzerland for the job.

Red negotiators rejected Switzerland and suggested an Asian nation without naming it. Many observers feel they had India in mind.

Harrison opeped the fifth day of discussion in the new series of talks by calling on North Korean Gen. Nam Il to name the Communist nominee.

The Weather

Peterborough Temperatures:

Try To Win DeLaval Workers

The International Association of Machinists (AFL-TLC) have applied to the Ontario Labor Relations Board for certification as bargaining agents for some 300 production workers at the DeLaval Co. plant.

Dan Dean, IAM staff-representative, said today, "At the moment we have more than 60 per cent of the eligible workers signed up and we are expecting more workers will do the same."

A hearing by the OLRB is expected late in May.

DeLaval has previously been a hard nut for union organizers to crack. The UE have been unsuccessful in two attempts to win the bargaining rights there and the IUE also failed in their organizing attempt.

Mr. Dean and another IAM staff representative, Pat McQuade, made the application after an intensive two-week campaign among the production workers.

If the IAM bid for certification succeeds it will be the third local industrial plant to be organized by an AFL-TLC union. Most of the unions in this affiliation are craft-type ones. There are two other AFL-TLC-organized plants in the city: Local 520 of the Printing, Paper and Specialty Union at the Canadian Nashua Paper Co.; and Local 685 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers at the Canadian Sealright Co.

3 Soviet Spy Rings Uncovered In Berlin

BERLIN (Reuters)—West Berlin police today claimed they had uncovered three Soviet spy rings operating in West Berlin and West Germany as a result of arrests announced Wednesday.

Senior police official said five persons arrested during the last five days on suspicion of spying had belonged to the three groups working independently of each other.

These groups had nothing to do with the group of more than 30 alleged Soviet spies arrested here and in West Germany earlier this month, he said.

Three of the arrested were West Berliners. The others, one man and a woman, came from East Germany. One of them was a former East German policeman who had fled to West Berlin and had been granted political asylum here.

two men, one younger than the other, hailed his cab in the uptown night club row and asked to be driven to St. Henri district where one of the men brandished a revolver, broke it to show it was loaded, and then took his money.

TOLD TO FORGET IT

Vincent said he was told: "Now just forget this ever happened. If you tell the police, we'll find you again and we'll kill you."

Furnished with a good description of the men by Vincent, police combed the district until they found a man who said he knew a former waiter by the name of Bob Laplante who fitted the description.

Then they were told the man planned to leave for Toronto. Picked up at a station, police said Laplante gave them Fiset's address.

Police went to the youth's home where they found him in bed—crying.

Concert Held To Raise Funds For Ice Plant

MARMORA (ENS) — Campbellford Citizens Band, under Don Bennett, assisted by a male sextette, "The Melodaires" from that town, and local talent, gave a concert in the Plaza Theatre, Marmora, Sunday evening to a large audience.

Promoted by the special events committee of the local artificial ice campaign, the duties of chairman were taken by Percy Gray Jr. In addition to the fine number of selections by the band, there were bass and cornet numbers by individual members. Two appearances on the program were made by the Melodaires who had Marian Twigg as their accompanist.

Marshall Sills of Campbellford played pianoforte selections. The local talent was supplied as follows: Jack Grant and his young son Allen furnished a number on the bones. A violin selection was played by Mrs. Vaughan Glover. Choir members of St. Paul's and St. Andrew's united for the rendition of "All People That On Earth Do Dwell" and the anthem "Consider and Hear Me" in which Mrs. Roy Frost took the solo part. Mrs. A. F. Fraser was at the piano and Canon J. M. Brownlie conducted. Seven-year-old Linda Meiklejohn contributed a song with her sister Barbara as accompanist. The Misses Barbara and Mary Meiklejohn played a pianoforte duet. Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Rundle sang a duet.

24-Hour Rebellion By Red Company

TAIPEH (AP)—A Chinese Nationalist news agency said today a company of Red troops and 2,000 civilians joined forces in a 24-hour rebellion against Communist forces in Inner Mongolia early this month.

The rebel forces killed more than 100 government officials and set fire to 11 villages at Talichen in Suiyuan province, the news agency reported. The agency said it got the report from underground sources in Peiping.

It said the rebels suffered heavy losses but some escaped to the mountains.

U.S. Captain Downs 12th MiG, Ties Record

SEOUL (AP) — Capt. Manuel Fernandez shot down his 12th MiG today in "the roughest fight I ever had" to tie the individual record for destruction of the Russian-built Red fighters over Korea.

The scrappy jet ace from Miami destroyed the MiG in a fierce air battle just south of the Yalu river boundary dividing Manchuria and Korea.

Fernandez tied the mark set last month by Col. Royal Baker of McKinney, Tex., who has gone home.

Ground fighting remained light for the fifth straight day.

Workshop Held On Child Welfare

Miss Helen DeMarsh, field supervisor with the Division of Child Welfare, Ontario Department of Public Welfare, is conducting a workshop at the Peterborough Public Library.

Representatives from Picton, Port Hope, Belleville, Oshawa and Peterborough Children's Aid Societies are attending. The subject of the workshop is case work in unmarried parent services.

The workshop is sponsored by the Peterborough Children's Aid Society.

OFF TO CORONATION

Mayor Harry Worton of Guelph left Wednesday for New York, accompanied by Mrs. Worton, to sail on the Queen Mary for Southampton on their way to London and the Coronation as representatives of the citizens of Guelph. Mayor Hugh Waddell and Mrs. Waddell are leaving tonight and will sail on the Franconia from Quebec.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 7-16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Wednesday's noon rate was 98 15-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.77¾, against $2.77 7-16.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO (CP)—Wholesale fruit and vegetable price changes quoted here today were: turnips, waxed $1.10-$1.25; cucumbers, two-dozens and 30's $3.25-$3.50; green onions, dozens 40.

Potato prices were unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans were weak and the rest of the market slightly easier at the opening today.

Selling entered soybeans following an agriculture department report showing stocks of soybeans in all positions on April 1 were the largest of record for that date.

Wheat started ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May $2.17⅜-½, corn was ½ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.56½-¼, oats were unchanged to ¼ lower, May 73⅞-74, and soybeans were ½ to 1¾ lower, May $3.04¼.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices moved narrowly in early trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

There was a moderate increase in offerings in the early stages prompted by fairly general moisture in the Prairie grain belt. Trade turned dull after the opening flurry.

There were a few export orders in barley. U. S. buying was concentrated on deferred months in oats. There was the odd processing order for flax.

11 a. m. grain prices:

Oats: May ¼ lower 73¾B; Jly ⅛ higher 71A; Oct. unch 71A.

Barley: May 1¼ lower 1.21¾A; Jly ⅝ lower 1.18A; Oct. ⅛ lower 1.17⅛A.

Rye: May ⅝ lower 1.42¼B; Jly ⅝-¾ lower 1.45; Oct ½ lower 1.48½B.

Flax: May ¼ lower 3.04B; Jly unch 3.07¾A; Oct. ¾ lower 3.10½.

Driver Hits Parked Car

Charges of careless driving and improper brakes were dismissed in Magistrate's Court this morning against John Flynn of RR 2, Omemee. The charges rose out of an accident April 5 on Reid St. involving Flynn and a parked car owned by Stanley Clark.

Evidence on the careless driving count amounted to a comment from Flynn, quoted by Clark that "I had no brakes." Flynn objected he had said: "My brakes weren't as good as they could have been."

Only evidence on the brakes charge was an observation by PC William G. Scott that the brakes appeared to be seized up when he applied pressure on them.

The accident occurred when Flynn drove up on a Reid St. sidewalk between a telephone pole and Clark's parked car to avoid a car which had suddenly cut Flynn off. There were no witnesses to the crash.

Body Recovered

STIRLING (ENS)—The body of Wilbert McFarland, 32, of Shannonville, was recovered from the Salmon River, where his boat swamped almost a month ago. His brother-in-law, Melvin McKenzie, and Leslie Reid found the body about 400 yards downstream from where the boat had gone down. Crown Attorney Dorman announced that there would be no inquest.

Prices Down Slightly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices weakened slightly in early afternoon trading today.

Industrials gained a small amount but base metals and western oils weakened. golds were mixed. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,991,000 shares.

Uraniums weakened but New Brunswick base metals held firm. Inspiration, a Northern Ontario rare metal prospect, dropped 75 cents in active trading.

Industrials gained on advances in papers, agricultures, foods, constructions and banks. Steel slipped.

Senior golds were unchanged but juniors showed some strength.

Higher-priced base meals gained but a majority of other issues weakened.

Western oils weakened as losses ranged to about 20 cents.

Captive Of Reds In Korea Attempt Made To Get Deane To Broadcast

BY PHILIP DEANE
Correspondent of The Observer, London

The ride of Pyongyang was in a truck filled with documents and handbooks captured in the United States Military Mission headquarters in Seoul. I sat at the back, squatting, on the bottom between piles of books. In each town or large village we stopped. The sub-lieutenant in charge of the vehicle shook hands ceremoniously with the headman, and the population was gathered. Then I was brought up to the fore. Speaking with jerky motions, almost screaming the monosyllabic sounds of this gutteral tongue, first the sub-lieutenant, then the headman, made long speeches, during which they frequently pointed at me. Each culminating climax invited screams from the crowd, who shook their hands in gestures I later learnt to recognise as menacing. They spat and slapped and kicked. A small child achieved great success with the crowd—he threw a handful of excreta.

One man—young, with spectacles, in a police uniform, whispered in English: "I'm sorry. I'm a Christian."

During the first night of the drive, the truck was capsized into a ditch. The little tommy-gunner in smelly plimsols who sat guarding me on top of the piles of books had his left thigh broken by the weight of the cargo. Because I had been sitting on the boards, between stacks of publications, nothing landed on me. I was only shaken. It was a deserted spot. The nearest village was miles away. I put the guard's leg in a splint. After that, the sub-lieutenant was kinder.

At dawn, gangs of villagers, in rags, arrived with straw ropes and spades. The truck was put back on the road. The driver working with a sledgehammer, and with remarkable skill, straightened one of the wheels, which had been buckled. We reached Pyongyang at 4 a.m. on Sunday, June 30, 1950. The truck drove up before the Ministry of the Interior. I was marched into a huge office with a conference table and an enormous desk, behind which sat a man in shirt-sleeves. Over him hung a poster with the photographs of the North Korean Government. His picture was on the right of Kim-il Sung's. This was Korea's Beria, the Minister of the Interior.

He waved me to the chair. The interpreter beside him started translating the questions, which were spoken in a quiet, even voice, while the unblinking, slanted eyes never moved from my face.

"What is your name? What is your age? What is your nationality? What is your profession? What idenification documents do you carry to prove your statements?"

"All my papers were taken from me at the front."

"What else was taken from you?" He took down a detailed list. "We are not savages," he said, "we are civilised people. All this will be returned to you in good time." (I am still waiting.)

Then, from a delicate Chinese jug, he poured out a cup of milk, and pushed it across the deck.

"Drink," he said. It was my first meal in a week. He produced a box of Havanas. He waited till I had smoked about an eighth.

"Who do you think started this war?" he asked.

"You attacked across the Parallel on June 25."

"Were you there?"

"No."

"How do you know, then?"

"I have interrogated witnesses, trying to trap them into contradictions. I have examined evidence, and it all points to the conclusion that you attacked."

He was silent for a moment, then poured me out another cup of milk.

"Drink," he said. Then: "This war did not start on June 25. It started a long time ago. For years now the South have been attacking us, and we have been repulsing their attacks."

"But this isn't just repulsing; this is conquering."

"They started that. You remember the time when they crossed the Parallel on the east coast and held a large part of our territory for days, until we drove them out with hard fighting. That was conquering, too. They also sent assassins and poisoners. They want to assassinate me." And the interpreter translated it, looking and sounding shocked at the thought that anyone should consider assassinating His Excellency.

"So," resumed the Minister, "we decided to terminate these provocations. Ours is a democratic Government motivated by the interest of the people. We want peace. That is why, when we were attacked on June 25, we counter-attacked on the 26th and crossed the Parallel with the purpose of eliminating the cause of all the trouble. What do you think of this?"

"I think your interpreter has a remarkable vocabulary." There was another pause before the conversation was resumed.

"You," he said, "are a member of a responsible profession. You have to think and reason, and then you have to understand life. You are not fooled by appearances because you have to delve deeply into things. You have read Marx, haven't you, and Engels, and Stalin? Well then, you must be able to realise what we Communists are trying to do. You have Dickens? You claim, I suppose, that you are an honest man. How can you reconcile intellectual integrity with what you must have seen going on around you—oppression, poverty, and lack of justice?"

"Dickens wrote one hundred years ago. Things have changed."

"I would expect such an answer from someone else, but not from a journalist. You can't make me believe you are fooled by appearances. Do you not revolt against the lack of justice in your country?"

"An English judge allowed Gerhard Eisler, a prominent Communist, to make good his escape from the United States, because there is no provision in English law punishing people for their political beliefs. Is that lack of justice?" The conversation went on along these lines for some time, quite amiably, then the tone changed.

"I see," said the Minister, "that I have made a mistake, you do not have the broad outlook of a journalist. Perhaps you are not a journalist at all. Perhaps you are a spy."

"Would a spy get himself arrested on the front? Would he not, rather, come in as some kind of peace delegate?"

"Perhaps to allay our suspicions he might try to come in the way you came."

"And how could I as a prisoner communicate information to the outside?"

"On your way up from Seoul you spoke to someone in English. Perhaps he was your contact."

"But what information could I have?"

"You are not to ask questions, you are to answer them. You had better prove you are not a spy."

The voice which was speaking these words in an unknown tongue was very quiet and even. I began to suspect that it was I who could not think logically, not my interlocutor.

"Do you know what we do to spies?"

At that time they shot wounded prisoners down; they treated the others in a way that hardly bears remembering. What would they not do to spies? I was very frightened.

"If you can prove your identity; if you can help us find out who you are in any way, then everything will be all right. We are not savages, we are civilized people."

It was very important for a frightened man to prove that he was not a spy.

"How can I prove it?"

"You can make a broadcast. We do not want you to say anything you would not write for your paper. We don't want you to tell the world what you have seen, and we want you to condemn the American atrocities, their unjustified intervention in a civil war, an dthe fact that all this is contrary to the United Nations Charter."

"But that is not reporting. That is expression of opinion. I can't do that. In any case my contract forbids me to broadcast for anybody."

"I see that you are making excuses. Perhaps you do not want to write a broadcast because you are afraid we might detect you cannot write, and therefore that you are not a journalist but a spy."

"Look, I'm tired, I'm simply exhausted. I can hardly understand what you are saying. Even if I made a broadcast now nobody would believe me, nobody would recognize my voice. Please, may I rest?"

"Yes," said the Minister, "you may. We will talk of this later. When you have rested and made your broadcast we shall give you medical attention. We cannot spare doctors. The bombing has caused so many casualties that we do not have enough medical staff. But after you make your broadcast, we shall find a doctor, I am sure. Your leg is infected, is it not? It would be a pity to lose it."

An incredibly ugly and savage-looking guard collected me from the Minister's office. I was sure he was going to be most unpleasant. He helped me solicitously down the stairs, brought out the towels and soap, and washed me when he saw I could not do it alone with one hand. Then he showed me a trellis-top table, covered me with a blanket and squatted beside me. My last thought before I went to sleep was that he looked like one of the Buchenwald inmates.

The name Buchenwald seemed to fit him, somehow. In the morning he woke me with a bowl of rice soup and looked on while I ate. Then he washed me again. There was an air raid and I had to go in a trench. I fell asleep. A small boy, hardly 10, came and woke me. He carried a piece of sacking which he folded and put under my head. Then he made the Sign of the Cross.

Golden Rule Lodge Holds Ladies' Night

CAMPBELLFORD — (ENS) — The Golden Rule Lodge held Ladies' Night in the Masonic Temple. About 250 members, ladies and guests, sat down ot a banquet served by the ladies of Seymour East Women's Institute.

W. Bro. Eugene King welcomed all to the affair and Bro. George Nicholls acted as master of ceremonies. After a sing-song with Fran. Nicholls at the piano, Bro. Gordon Whitehorne proposed the toast to the ladies to which Mrs. Eugene King responded.

Bob Cowell entertained with a piano solo and Wor. Bro. Hilton Beatty thanked the caterers for the fine dinner.

Next on the program was a trio by Marion Smith, Isobel Wallace and Anne Nicholls. Mr. Bruce Elmhirst entertained with two violin selections and Fred Palliser with two readings. The program was concluded with piano selections by Anne Nicholls.

Dancing was enjoyed by many of those in attendance and cards by the remainder. Winners of the birthday dance was Mrs. Don Bennett and the spot dance Jack Connor and Mrs. E. Steele. Winners at the bridge tables were James McMullen and Mrs. Effie MacDonald, and prizes for euchre went to Percy Oddie and Doris Heagle.

Find Scientist's Body

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A trooper checking parked cars Wednesday found the body of a German scientist who recently quit his job with the United States air force. He was identified as Norman A. Willich, 41. Authorities said he died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Brighter Britain With Canada's Help

The British people have had glum and heavy years since the war: continued rationing, restricted international credit, heavy taxes, and economic difficulties which successive governments have faced strongly by restricting food, clothing, travel and spending. Now their condition is the brightest it has been in a dozen years. Rationing is on the way out. Taxes have been reduced slightly. There is more freedom to travel and spend. A chief reason for this is the better international financial position the British have won, through their own exertion chiefly, but also through the tolerance and generosity of others. Canada, we think, has been very sympathetic.

* * *

Canada has tolerated British import embargoes against our goods and British controls of other sterling countries' purchases from Canada. Canada has accepted from Britain less than world market prices for her cheese, wheat and bacon. In addition, Canada has, by gift and loans, given Britain many millions of Canadian dollar credit. Let the British and the British Government examine Canada's most recent export and import figures. For the third month in a row Canadian exports have declined. Consider the figures for March. Britain bought in that month only $38,800,000 worth of Canadian goods and services. A year ago last March the figure was nearly twice as high. On the other hand Canada's imports from Britain increased last March by fifteen million dollars—to $37,600,000. While Canadian trade with Britain is almost in balance, it is not the sort of balance that is good for Canada's economy, which is built on a three-way trade balance, between Britain, the U.S. and Canada.

* * * *

We mention these matters in the hope that the brighter Britain of today may realize that some of that lustre is due to Canada, and that Britain will be willing and able soon to return to freer and the traditional trade with this country. Of recent years the U.K. has been closing one market after another to Canadian goods, on the usually reasonable excuse that she must. Canadian trade with Britain therefore has suffered, while Britain has given her business to Australia, Egypt, Russia, the Argentine and other countries, as well as tightening her own belt. Now that the belt is being loosened, Canada may reasonably expect Britain to soften her attitude to Canadian trade.

Why Does China Want Peace In Korea?

If the Western powers knew what reasons lie behind the Chinese and Russian moves towards agreement with them, they would know what confidence to put in the Red offers. But the western powers do not know the Red motives. They can only guess. They can only guess; too, whether China has influenced Russia towards peaceable actions, or Russia has influenced China, or whether the two tunes just happen to be similar.

China has not been defeated in Korea. She is still producing fresh divisions. She began a new spring offensive only a few days before her peace offensive. Her earthen fortifications at the border are untouched. Western observers in the Orient say that there is little real sign of economic strain in China as a direct result of the Korean war. It is true that North Korea has been completely ruined and her towns wiped out, but this is likely to be of small importance to China.

Two possible reasons for China's changed attitude may be advanced. One is her realization that United Nations troops cannot be driven out of Korea by a military offensive. The war is advancing China's Red interests not at all. The other possible reason is related to the first.

Small concessions (the exchange of prisoners, for instance) may lessen Western suspicions. A continued reasonable attitude might lead to an armistice in Korea. This would weaken the U.N. unity in Korea. A large garrison would still have to be maintained there, and South Korea would have to be entirely supported with western supplies and money. Several of the allied U.N. nations now assisting in Korea have little economic or political interest in the far Pacific. One of them is Canada. Such nations would be reluctant to maintain troops in Korea after a permanent armistice. Other nations, like France, have other places for their troops and money, which would be more urgent than in Korea if an armistice came. With less U.N. unity and less U.N. strength in Korea after an armistice, the way might be open for China to get by diplomatic and political manoeuvre what it has been unable to get by arms.

That is one reading of the motives behind China's new reasonableness. Another may be, quite simply, that China is tired of the war, is ready to call halt, and to take a reasonable place in the comity of nations.

The Citizen's Centenary

We have received and perused with keen interest the special edition of the Ottawa Citizen which celebrates the 110th anniversary of its founding and also its establishment in a fine new building which houses its mechanical operation. In addition to the regular paper there are six excellent supplementary sections, filled with interesting things.

A special edition of a newspaper, along these lines, is an important event for any city, because it invariably contains a great deal of local history, illustrated with pictures which have been collected from sources which are not accessible at other times. But such an edition in the capital city takes on a larger importance, for it is of interest everywhere in Canada. We were particularly taken with the sections which told of the growth of the Dominion buildings. We had not known, for instance, that the first Parliament Building was modelled upon the Oxford Museum, a startling adventure in Victorian Gothic, designed by Ruskin, which was built in 1855. We had noticed the resemblance between the Parliamentary Library and the similar wing of the Museum, but had not drawn any conclusion from it, except the simple one that Victorian architects liked such octagonal libraries, supported by flying buttresses, and often called the "Abbott's Kitchens"—for what reason we do not know. But Dr. Hubbard of the National Gallery has contributed some material on this subject which appears to us to mark a new trend in the criticism of architecture in Canada—a trend already well established in England.

We wish the Citizen every success in its next 100 years, and thank it for its careful, interesting and valuable supplement.

Is Fortune-Telling Harmful?

We hesitate to accuse the Kingston Whig-Standard of an illiberal attitude, but we are surprised by the sharp line it takes against fortune-tellers. Discussing the revision of the Criminal Code, a parliamentary committee was considering a clause which would make teacup readers liable to a fine of $500 or six months jail; several members thought this penalty severe, and it was amended to apply only when the fortune-teller practised for a fraudulent purpose. The Whig wants to know why the law does not protect gullible people against their own folly by outlawing all fortune-telling, and suggests that municipalities provide their own laws against them. The Kingston paper becomes quite angry on this subject.

If we are not greatly mistaken, it was less than two months ago that the Whig had some very sensible things to say about censorship, and took the line that if a man chose to read dirty books it was nobody's business but his own; public minding of other people's business then seemed to the Whig to be a repugnant thing. We suggest that the same argument applies to fortune-telling; if people want to have their fortunes told, is it anybody's affair but their own? They may be foolish; they may suffer from believing what they are told, but since when has it been against the law to be foolish? And if the law, and the Criminal Code in particular, is to make a crusade against human folly, which of us shall escape?

We think that the revised law is just. If a woman wants to pay a quarter to have her teacup read, and if another woman wants to take a quarter for doing it, what does it matter? Let the law hold its hand until the teacup reader attempts some kind of fraud which is provable and punishable. For nobody has yet shown, with complete conclusiveness, that all fortune-telling is fraudulent at all times.

Thieves Of Fish

Victoria County games wardens haled a man into Lindsay court for taking pickerel illegally. He was fined $25 and costs, we note approvingly. People who jump the gaff on the fishing season deserve to be punished. They are not usually persons so keen on fishing that their reels and rods can brook no further delay. They are usually just thieves of fish, getting an illegal haul before the real fishermen start, and more often than not they are inhabitants of the immediate area in which they have been fishing out of season.

These illegal takers of fish are bad actors. In the first place, they set a bad example to everyone else in the neighborhood and encourage lawlessness. In the second place, they take fish which are not theirs to take—not yet. It is very unfair to real fishermen. In the third place, they take fish when they are easiest to catch—and dishonour the sport. In the fourth place, they take the fish in their spawning season, and so deprive the lakes and streams not only of one fish but of all the others that would normally have followed the spawning season, given a chance. They also destroy the patient work of the Department which is attempting to restock the fishing waters.

A Resurrected Masterpiece

By PHILIP TOYNBEE

BOOKS, like the vegetation gods of long ago, often die only to be resurrected again; but it is unusual, in the case of books, for this dual process to be accomplished again within a period of twenty-five years. A century of gestation is usually the shortest period within which the corpse of a dead book can be expected to sprout into a living one. Yet The Man Without Qualities by Robert Musil (Secker and Warburg, 25/-) virtually died at its birth twenty years ago, only to be triumphantly reborn eleven years after its author's death.

✧ ✧ ✧

ROBERT MUSIL was born, into the minor Austrian artistocracy, in the year 1880, and he died in 1942. During his sixty-two years he wrote a few plays, a few stories, an essay or two, and a long unfinished novel in four parts. Most of his life was lived "normally"— that is to say, he had to earn his living in a haphazard way, academically and journalistically, and his serious writing was done in his spare time. But after the publication of the first volume of his long novel, The Man Without Qualities, in 1932, Musil acquired a small but useful following in his native Austria. During the middle nineteen-thirties he was supported in Vienna by the financial contributions of a few discerning and well-to-do admirers. His book failed to obtain any wide success, and when the Nazis were threatening Austria, Musil left for Switzerland with only a half-made reputation as the literary hero of a clique.

✧ ✧ ✧

HIS BOOK was then drowned, in Germany and Austria, under the waves of social and political disaster. There was not time for its leisurely analyses, no patience either with its pervasive irony or with its intellectual enthusiasms. And it is something of a miracle that two devoted admirers, Ethne Wilkins and Ernst Kaiser, having kept their eyes on this submerged book, have now finished it up and begun to translate it for the English reader. By one of those frequent oddities of literary history, The Man Without Qualities may become more renowned in its English translation than it ever was in its original German.

✧ ✧ ✧

CERTAINLY it is true that the first volume of this surprising work— there are three to follow— has been received with an almost unanimous enthusiasm by English critics. Musil has been compared, in literary importance, to James Joyce and Marcel Proust; he has been hailed as a belated saviour of the English novel, whose refreshing influence might suddenly prod our novelists into new ways of thought and imagination. In fact there has been a note of almost hysterical gratitude in the English reviews of The Man Without Qualities.

AND when I read this first translated volume I could not feel that this reaction was a surprising one. From the first page I felt that I was in the presence of a calm and authoritative writer whose certainty of aim and method was unlike anything in the contemporary English and American novel. There is no fuss here; there is none of that self-conscious striving for effect which is the curse of the modern Anglo-Saxon novel.

"There was a depression over the Atlantic. It was travelling eastwards, towards an area of high pressure over Russia, and still showed no tendency to move northwards around it." These opening sentences, though they reveal themselves as ironical a paragraph later, are not particularly encouraging. But as we read on we begin to realise, with a shock of delighted pleasure, that Musil is one of those writers who can afford to be boring when he feels like it. When he is dull it is because he means to be dull—the better to startle the reader with some sharp and original comment on life which clearly demanded, for its full effect, a cautious preparation.

✧ ✧ ✧

NOTHING much happens in this first volume. Ulrich, the hero (he is not allowed a surname) pays visits on various Viennese acquaintances; there is a good deal of conversation; an absurd campaign is launched to celebrate the seventieth-year of the Emperor's reign. The year is 1913, and there is admirable irony in the fact that the anniversary is to fall in exactly five years' time. The reader knows, of course, though the protagonists of the novel do not, that by 1918 Austria will be a vanquished and starving republic.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS NOT QUITE CLEAR why Ulrich is a man without qualities, since one could easily write that he is humorous, intellectual, courageous and a good hater. We can assume that even if Ulrich is not a portrait of his creator, he is a useful mouthpiece for Musil himself. And ultimately the value of this peculiar book lies in the subtle and luminous ideas about human life which are constantly being expressed in it. It is diffuse and yet organized, in the manner of the English Tristram Shandy, and it would be quite wrong to suggest that the events are simply an excuse for the propagation of the ideas. It is an integrated, minutely planned book in which every effect is calculated. Even the elaborate chapter headings, a parody of the long-vanished picaresque novel, are relevant and necessary to the total effect. "Ulrich's first encounter with the great man. In the history of the world nothing irrational happens, but Diotima asserts that True Austria is the whole world."

✧ ✧ ✧

IT IS DOUBTFUL whether quotation can do justice to the complex but articulate unfolding of Musil's mind, but here is a relatively epigrammatic passage on married life. "The destiny of these two spouses to a great extent depended on a dreary, though ordered stratification of thoughts that were not even their own but were part of public opinion and had changed with it, without their being able to protect themselves against the process. Compared with this dependence, their personal dependence on each other was only a tiny fraction, a madly over-estimated residue."

✧ ✧ ✧

THOSE who are bitten by the work of this extremely funny, extremely moving, extremely intelligent product of a vanishing Europe will look forward hungrily to the publication of the succeeding volumes.

"CAN'T EXPECT TOO MUCH AT FIRST"

The Queen's Beasts

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

WE had thought, after considerable recent spading in the vineyard of heraldry, that we had written enough about the historic signs and symbols surrounding the Coronation. But our discovery of what we called "The Queen's Beasts," including such strange creatures as the Black Bull of Clarence, the White Lion of Mortimer and the Dragon of the Tudors left us with the feeling that our duty was incomplete.

All the Queen's Beasts are taken from heraldic devices used by her Majesty's Royal ancestors. Models of them have been prepared by experts working in co-operation with the Garter King of Arms and on June 2 they will be placed in a Westminster Abbey annex. We imagine they will be a treat to see. In all their glory they are:

The Lion of England, bearing the present Royal Arms of England upon its shield. The Lion is to stand guard at the royal entrance to the abbey.

The Unicorn of Scotland, bearing the Royal Arms of Scotland.

The Falcon of the Plantagenets (silver with its wings outspread and beak and legs of gold), bearing upon its shield a falcon within a fetterlock. This was a favourite badge of Edward IV, and is shown upon his livery colours.

The Griffin of Edward III (golden, with beak and claws of red) bearing the badge of the House of Windsor.

The Black Bull of Clarence, bearing the Royal Arms of England as used from 1405 until 1603.

The White Lion of Mortimer, bearing upon its shield a white rose en soleil upon a field of the livery colours of the House of York.

The Greyhound of the Tudors, bearing a shield emblazoned with the Tudor rose.

The Dragon of the Tudors, bearing the arms of Llywelyn ab Gruffydd, which are now borne in pretence by the Princes of Wales.

The Yale of the Beauforts (a form of heraldic antelope in silver covered with golden spots, and with golden hoofs, horns, tusks and tail), bearing a shield emblazoned with a crowned portcullis on a field of the Beaufort liveries. The Beaufort badge was displayed by Henry VII, whose mother was Margaret Beaufort, a descendant of Edward III.

The White Horse of Hanover, bearing the English Royal arms as used between 1714 and 1801.

Senate And Margarine Tax

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

IN arguing against a proposal to have margarine added to the list of foods exempt from sales tax, Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader in the upper chamber, stated that the Senate should not attempt to be a budget-making industry. If it did, indeed it would be interfering with a function that properly belongs to the House of Commons.

Senator Robertson might well have rested his case there. He added, however, the quite irrelevant opinion that the tax saving might not be passed on by the manufacturer to the consumer. Has he such little faith in the workings of the system of competitive business enterprise?

To the extent that members of the Senate majority (on a non-party vote) were influenced by the consideration that it is not their prerogative to write changes into the budget, their decision was a correct one. Yet a good purpose has been served in raising the question. In the blunt words of Senator W. D. Euler, the real reason for margarine remaining on the sales tax list seems to be that the butter industry doesn't like competition from the vegetable oil product. Margarine is as much a staple food as anything else among the exempted items. That it continues to bear the levy is indefensible.

The Senate cannot alter this situation. The Commons can, and should.

NOW BE QUIET

Delighted by the patient courtesy of the policeman, the visitor to London had fired some dozen questions at him, with scarcely a pause to draw breath.

"Now tell me something about yourself," she added. "That little chin-strap you wear —what's it for?"

"That, madam," answered the arm of the law firmly, "so for holding our chins up after answering questions."

How Time Flies

APRIL 30

1923 The Board of Education decides to operate and maintain supervised playgrounds for six weeks this summer.

A dredge on the Trent Canal is destroyed by fire at a loss of about $4,000.

The city assessor commences his rounds for the season, starting in Ashburnham.

1933 James C. Morrow, on the North Monaghan council for 14 years, dies here at the age of 84.

The city council passes a bylaw naming June 10 as the date for starting daylight saving.

Russ Kitchen is elected president of the local Girls Softball League.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. (Isa. 1:18.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners? But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick . . .

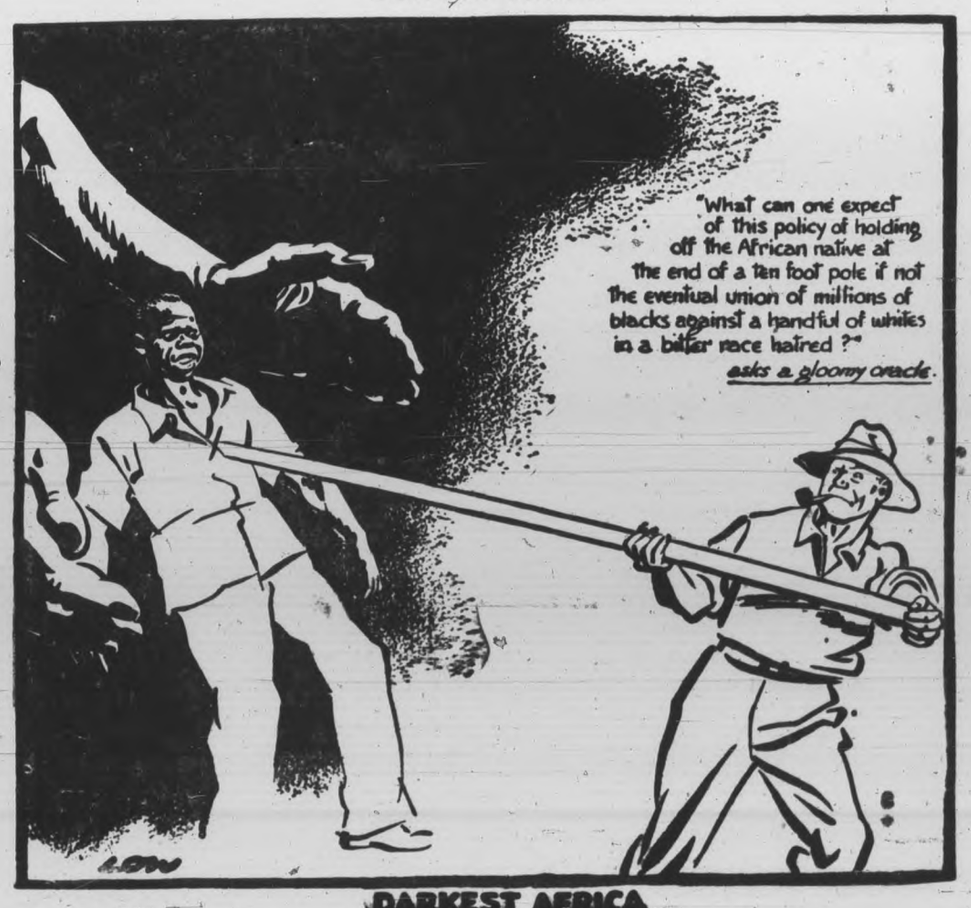
While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment. For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole. But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise, he said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to sorn.

But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose. And the fame hereof went abroad into all that land. (Matt. 9: 10-12, 18-26.)

Cars, Corners and Coroners



(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

Two news stories this week reported the death of three young men in Ontario, and six in Wisconsin who were killed when their cars "failed to negotiate a corner." Very frequently we receive reports of accidents in which people were killed or maimed because, these reports say, "the car failed to negotiate a corner."

The reports seem to imply that there was something wrong with the cars because they "failed" to negotiate a corner. There was nothing wrong with the cars. The fact is that in each case it was the driver who "failed." He "failed" to notice the bend in the road; he "failed" to drive within the limits of his headlights so that he could slow down sufficiently before reaching the corner, and most likely of all he "failed" to exercise simple, reasonable care.

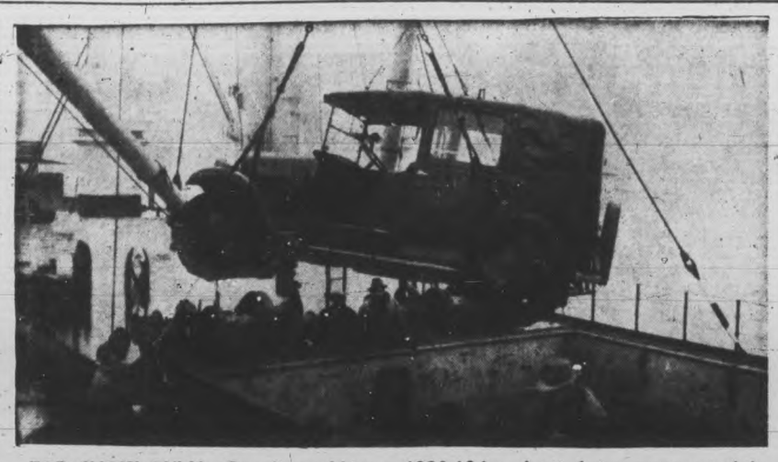
No car will "fail" to negotiate a corner if the driver is not a failure at his job. A car will always go safely around even the sharpest bend if a driver uses common sense.

A BRITISH OPINION

Cliff Waite Speaks Gilmour Church

Cliff Waite of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Farm Radio Forum was guest speaker at special service for farmers at Gilmour Memorial Sunday. He chose as his scripture reading the "Parable of the Sower." The Rev. W. Leaton led in prayer asking blessing upon laborers, cattle, machinery and seed and giving thanks for promising new seeding season. Mr. Waite chose as his topic "Preparing the Seed Bed." He explained the preparation of the soil necessary to planting the seed and likened it to our life on earth as seed, as preparation for eternity.

He spoke of the Farm Forum as a preparation of seed bed, where we come together, discuss our problems as neighbors. "That, he said, is the fruit of the community."



He spoke of the Folk Schools sponsored by these Forums. Here we learn to live together, receive wonderful opportunity to learn human brotherhood and thence a happier realization of God. He spoke of the lost souls among migratory workers of the forest, the mines, and the rivers. Workers spend their life among these people sharing their hardships to win them for God. They find traces of good in every soul.

"More Canadians die from being overfed than overworked," he stated. In Canada we have the problem of the surplus and there seems no visible way to get it to the place it is needed.

C-A-R-E is trying to help these people to help themselves. Many go to teach them. The barriers are great. In Ceylon they increased production five times by teaching the people to use simple tools. You can't preach religion to these people until you have built up their confidence, then, he said you can give them the testimony of Jesus and they will listen.

"We must pray for the people at the head of these organizations he said, and by so doing we have a feeling of sharing with them in this work and help to free this world of hate. Christianity is the only way to break down this barrier of hate and by preparing seed beds, we can more powerfully glorify our Father."

Mr. Leaton closed with prayer thanking God that the eyes of the agricultural people are open to the physical needs of the people.

FAST RELIEF OF PAIN

WITH HEAT THAT PENETRATES

InfraRUB—the amazing new greaseless analgesic cream that actually penetrates your skin in 12 seconds—relieves muscular soreness, nagging aches and pains with a speed and effectiveness never before possible!

Here is the InfraRUB secret! Scientists have known for years that a substance manufactured by the body is outstanding in the relief of pain. It acts quickly to open up or "dilate" tiny blood vessels in afflicted areas—provides deep warmth and relieves pain.

Now InfraRUB—and only InfraRUB—for the first time successfully combines this amazing pain-relieving substance with the remarkably penetrating Methyl Nicotinate. Methyl Nicotinate penetrates the skin in seconds—carries the pain-relieving substance deep down into areas afflicted by muscular strain, arthritis, neuralgia, rheumatism.

Remember—only InfraRUB contains this unique combination of pain-relieving substance and penetrant—so only InfraRUB can give you pain-relieving "heat that penetrates" for the fastest, surest relief possible!

Texans Capture Top Bout Against Bobo And Flan As Ref Does Taps On Pat

One should take nothing for granted, nor should one turn one's back on a villain—these two things Pat Flanagan learned the hard way last night in the Brock St. Arena. His slips cost him the deciding fall of the main pro mat bout, a tag team affair, the surprise fall going to Dick Raines over Flan at 11 minutes. The team winners, Lou Plummer and Raines, were booed plenty by disgruntled fans, while Bobo Brazil and Pat argued hotly with Referee Bunny Dunlop.

Flanagan appeared to have Raines pinned, but the latter shoved a leg over the bottom rope. Dunlop patted Pat's back to break up the hold, and Flan—thinking he had won—danced gleefully away. But Dick pounced on him from behind to bang him into the ropes and then pin his shoulders with a back-flip. Up to then the good guys had a big edge on the round.

EVENED IT UP

Raines also downed Flanagan in 22 minutes to even the bout up in the second stanza. He did it with a Texas bulldogging and back-breaking hold, having ample help from his corner mate, as the ref missed plenty. They mixed it up after the bell as the Texans kept working on the groggy Irishman in an effort to soften him up for the rest of the bout. They worked in relays earlier in their corner on first one and then the other, though both Pat and Bobo in turn whammed Lou and Dick around. Four were in the ring at times, and they dished up sizzling action, with everything going, including Bobo's cocoa conks.

The fastest fall in months was seen in the opening part of the main bout. After the grapplers' weights were announced—Lou at 249, Dick scaling 251, Brazil going 250 and Pat 231 — they were getting instructions in mid-ring from Dunlop when Pat objected to a tape elbow binding Raines wore, and which he used plenty later for rasping eyes. Plummer suddenly hit Pat in the stomach with his fist and nearly started a scrap before the bell. When the gong sounded, Flanagan tore out of his corner and caught the surprised Lou on the chin with a drop kick. The Texan fell and Flan pounced upon him for a quick fall in just six seconds. The losers were burned to a crisp but the fans cheered long and loudly. Before the bout the Texans passed out several gold-plated horseshe fobs to some kids and two nifty little trophies to girls. But the pair were still unpopular.

GOES TO DRAW

The semi-final went to a draw. When Man Mountain Dean coudn't make the trip, Abe Zvonkin replaced him and gave Steve Stanlee a busy time of it. They both played it rough and mean, shooting the works — including Abe's trick of trying to strangle Steve with a towel. The ref was caught underneath twice and he was ready to throw punches, too. Steve was a bit more popular in the hot going. They tangled again after the gong sounded to end the 30-minute tussle.

Bill Stack won the prelim in 22 minutes when Dunlop disqualified the villainous Firpo Szybsko for illegal tactics and general all-around meanness. He loved yanking big Bill's hair, the latter finally turning it on to bother his opponent with a flying leg scissors. Firpo was warned often for tossing Stack into the ring turnbuckles in speedy wrestling which kept the crowd yelling. Bill rode Szybsko once by his handle-bar moustache to draw applause. They tossed away the rule book to shoot the works later, shortly before the infuriated referee halted proceedings and awarded the bout to Stack, who drew a big hand.

Roger Wilson Judged Most Valuable

Defenceman Roger (Rocky) Wilson last night was voted the most valuable player of the Peterborough Oddfellows' OHA junior "B" team for the 1952-53 season and was presented with a trophy by Manager Glyn Edwards at the club's windup banquet in Coronation Inn at Lakefield. Almost all the players and the executive attended the enjoyable affair, arranged by proprietor Grattan Harris. The players did the voting on the most valuable player award.

All of last year's officers were re-elected in the expectation that the Oddfellows would again operate the junior hockey team here next winter, this decision to be made at a later date. Four or five of last year's players will be graduating, due to the age limit.

Following the dinner, the players were guests of the Centre Theatre to see a hockey picture, which they appreciated, while the executive sat down to a business meeting to clean up last season's business and discuss plans for the next campaign. Both Manager Edwards and Coach Doug Mortimer earlier had praised the fine team spirit of the players during the 1952-53 group schedule.

DO YOU OWN A CAR?

When the man who developed Bardahl Rad Conditioner brought his car to a garage for repairs, the garage owner phoned to ask him what on earth had he put in his radiator. He said that when they drained his radiator the water was so thick with dirt it would hardly pour. The Bardahl Rad Conditioner had removed rust, scale and dirt untouched by a popular brand chemical cleaner. The garage owner immediately placed an order for their own use. Since then hundreds of thousands of car owners in Canada and the United States have used Bardahl Rad Conditioner. If you own a car you should try it too . . . if your car is new it will keep your radiator in permanently new condition . . . if you have been running your car for a few years you'll be amazed at the dirt, rust and scale it will remove. Bardahl Rad Conditioner keeps radiators clean . . . eliminates rust formation which can insulate a motor, causing harmful overheating . . and it also lubricates and stops squeaky water pumps. Bardahl Rad Conditioner costs only 50c. Ask for it at your Service Station.

Penticton V's Planning Rough Play

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Penticton V's, the West's contender for its 21st Allan Cup, plan to forget their western goodwill and substitute a rugged bumping performance when they take the ice tonight against Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen for the second game of the Allan Cup final.

As put by Grant Warwick, one of three brothers with the British Columbia team, the V's are going to be "snarly and rough." Grant, a National Hockey League rookie award winner when he was with New York Rangers, says the eastern champions seem to want to play that way.

As usual Penticton coach Bill Carse, a man of few words, isn't saying much:

"We weren't skating the way we can nor were we bumping," he said in explaining the V's collapse in the third period of the first game Monday night when the Dutchmen scored three goals to break a 2-2 tie and go on to win 5-2.

V's MAD

Grant Warwick maintains the V's are mad because the Dutchies got the jump on them.

"We've always bagged that first game," said Grant who with his brothers, Bill and Dick, operates a flourishing Penticton restaurant. "That's the only thing that upsets us. We'll get them in the long run. But we'll play it a lot differently."

The Dutchies will "just play it game to game," said Bob Rafferty, the coach. "I'm glad we got the first one and we're not going to let up, not for a minute."

The eastern sharpshooters will have to be at their best. The V's have an outstanding goalie in Ivan McClelland of Timmins, Ont., who is tabbed to move up to the NHL eventually and take over the net-minding job with New York

MAY HAVE CHANGE

Penticton may have one line-up change tonight. Utility forward Doug Kilburn may be called on to handle the right wing chores on one line.

The Dutchmen will string along with the same players. Left-winger Maurice Leveque still is sidelined with an injury, but Paul Oliver has filled in for him capably, working well with linemates Doug Verity and Bobby Schnurr

The twin city fans of Kitchener and Waterloo are giving the Dutchies strong support and another sell-out crowd of 7,000 will be cheering them on.

A small band of 40-odd B.C. fans, who have come here by plane, train or car, have found it hard to get tickets. However, auditorium manager Bob Crosby is making an extra effort to satisfy them and they'll be squeezed in somewhere.

Sees Racing King Of Sports

NEW YORK (AP)—Horse racing, once the sport of kings, is threatening to become the king of sports in North America, the New York Times said today in reporting an attendance survey.

The Times said the survey showed attendance at running and trotting tracks booming while crowds are declining at major league baseball games and in such sports as basketball and football.

The paper, in a front-page story, cited these figures:

Last year 29,177,027 persons flocked to 77 major running tracks in the United States and Canada; an increase of 2,160,026 compared with 1951.

Last year, 16,703,590 attended the trotting races, making a total of 45,880,617 who came out to watch the horses go.

In those same two years major league baseball attendance dropped from 16,126,676 to 14,635,457 while minor league attendance declined from 27,625,529 to 26,305,328.

Ike Hildebrand, starry lacrosser here summers and ace puckist with Cleveland in the AHL, is an unanimous choice for right wing on the 1953 American Hockey League first all-star squad. Fine going, Ike. The Barons also had goalie Bower, defenceman Tommy Williams, and left-winger Ed Olson on the first team, Mathers of Pittsburg and centre George Fielder of St. Louis catching the other spots. Cleveland are AHL champs, and no wonder! Ike played lacrosse for New Westminster when they won the Mann Cup. He is one of the best of the championship Petes' gutted-stick crew. In hockey, wiry Ike has been around plenty in amateur and then professional ranks in both east and west.

A piece in the Calgary Herald says Hank Blade, who was born in Peterborough — son of the late Art Blade — won't be back next season as hockey coach of the senior Stampeders. The former AHL and NHL forward has coached the past few winters out west. The Calgary columnist comments: "We just can't help but wonder whether 'pressure of business' would have entered into the picture had the Stampeders been able to hold out another eight seconds in that final playoff game with Edmonton Flyers. However, Ray Hannigan came along and not only sank the Stampeders, but Hank Blade as well. It has always been our contention that a coach can only do as well as the material with which he has to work."

Off Record, Says Harry

Last week we wrote to Harry Thornton asking him more details of the game in which the local 1917 pucksters beat Montreal Canadiens in a challenge game. In Harry's reply, he says: "Our game with Montreal Canadiens in 1917 was very much off the record and was not subject to publicity of any sort, but I believe Josh Craig was present. Due to amateur regulations of that day it would have been very ill-advised for all concerned to give it any publicity. Jerry Coughlin was supposed to play with the 247th but his status was much in question, as were many others on the team, and later he reported to the pro teams." That's all Harry cares to say on the matter. He adds that he sees Babe Bogardis frequently, the former Petes' puckster living in Fort Erie and working for the Canadian government as an immigration officer.

* * * * * *

Pro mat season is drawing to a close down this way, but the merry matadors continue to supply surprises from their vast ring repertoire. Pat Flanagan thought he had Dick Raines pinned and took it for certain when Ref Bun Dunlop tapped him on the back. But Bunny was just warning him to break the hold, since Raines draped a leg over a rope. So Pat strolls away and the terrible Texan jumps him from behind to get the deciding fall. A nasty jolt to a number of fans, not to mention Pat and his partner, Bobo Brazil. Lou Plummer teamed up with Dick Raines. Steve Stanlee and Abe Zvonkin drew in the lively semi-final last even in the Brock, while Bill Stack won the prelim o'er Firpo Szybsko.

Tony, Frank or Jack?

As mentioned elsewhere, the Orfuns' grid executive is considering the applications of three first-rate football coaches for here during the 1953 autumn season. Tony Kotowski would like to return, Frank Gnup comes here this weekend to discuss the matter, and Jack Wedley of Toronto (former Argo ace) has written in about the job. The excellent showing of the Peterborough gridders in reaching the Canadian intermediate "A" final last fall has attracted the interest of a lot of football folk, including coaches. These latter would like to live here the year around, too. Club prexy Dr. Don Aitken will call another executive meeting for May 13 and the coach will be named at that time.

The IOOF-ers had a hockey windup dinner for the season at Lakefield last p.m., a right enjoyable affair. Though it isn't sure yet that the same club will operate the junior "B" puck team here next winter, it rather looks as if they will. In any case, they re-elected the slate of officers on that assumption. Manager Glyn Edwards and Coach Doug Mortimer praised the team spirit of the '53 squad, four or five of whom graduate now, and the players voted the most valuable player trophy to popular and capable Roger (Rock) Wilson, hustling defenceman. With some good Lakefield boys in the lineup in recent years, 'twas fitting to hold the "do" out there.

Chelsea Chalks Up 3-1 Soccer Victory

LONDON (Reuters)—Chelsea won its last game of the season Wednesday, winding up with a bad record but saving itself from relegation to the second division of the English Soccer League.

The Chelsea club pulled off a 3-1 victory over Manchester City, which itself was in danger of being dropped from the first division until last Saturday.

Derby County and Stoke City were not as lucky, and will be playing in the second division next year. Moving up to the first division are Sheffield United and Huddersfield.

Ike Hildebrand Unanimous All-Star Choice

NEW YORK (AP)—Ike Hildebrand, right winger of the champion Cleveland Barons, was the only unanimous choice for the 1952-53 American Hockey League all-star team and Guyle Fielder, St. Louis centre, was the first rookie ever to win first-team honors.

The all-star selections were announced today through the AHL service bureau. Each of the seven league cities submitted one ballot, listing three choices for each position, with five points being awarded for a first-place vote, three for second and one for third.

Hildebrand was the only one to poll the maximum of 35 points. Goalie John Bower and left winger Eddie Olson of Cleveland drew 31 points each. Completing the domination of the first team by the Barons, league and Calder Cup playoff champions, was Tommy Williams at defence.

Fielder and Frank Mathers, defence star of the runner-up Pittsburgh Hornets, completed the first team. Mathers polled 33 points.

The second team was composed of Gil Mayer, Pittsburgh, goal; Ed Reigle, Cleveland, Keither Allen, Syracuse, and Bill Juzda, Pittsburgh, defence; Kelvin Burnett, Syracuse, centre, and Bobby Solinger, Pittsburgh, and Lorne Davis, Buffalo, wings.

Allen, Juzda and Steve Hrymnak of St. Louis all polled nine points, but since Hrymnak had no first-place votes and the others one each Allen and Juzda will split the $200 second-team bonus. Similarly, Burnett edged out Jackie Gordon of Cleveland and Davis got the call over Zellio Toppazzini of Providence.

Each player named for the first team received a league bonus of $300 and a gold puck memento. Those on the second team receive $200 and a silver puck.

Three Good Grid Coaches Applying For The Job Of Piloting Local Orfuns

The executive of the Peterborough Orfuns' football club will name the 1953 coach at the next meeting, to be held in the YMCA a week from next Wednesday night. The officials are considering the applications of three good coaches, Tony Kotowski, Frank Gnup and Jack Wedley. The latter, former noted player for Toronto Argos, was reported weeks ago in the newspapers as going to coach Oshawa Red Raiders in this same ORFU intermediate "A" grouping, but he recently applied by letter for the coaching job here. Rumors are current that Oshawa will not operate this year, owing to financial difficulties.

COMES FOR TALK

Frank Gnup is expected here from Hamilton this weekend to discuss matters with club president Dr. Don Aitken. He is definitely interested in coaching Peterborough, but had held off the past month or more with the possibility of Queen's offering him the grid coaching post. He was considered first in line for it when Frank Tindall resigned, but it now appears as if Tindall will reconsider his resignation, at the urging of students, and remain at Queen's. Gnup proved a popular and capable coach here two seasons ago when he came in halfway through to handle the Orfuns when Leo Deadey left the club. Last year, Frank coached the Brantford senior ORFU entry. He is interested in getting a year-around job and living in Peterborough.

LIKES IT HERE

Tony Kotowski is the husky young American who coached the local Orfuns last year when they went all the way to Canadian football finals before losing out in Winnipeg. Tony was in for an interview by the executive at last night's meeting in the YMCA, and he said he would like to work and live in Peterborough, as well as coach again this fall. He will be getting married in another month and wants to settle here, even if he is not taken on as Orfuns' coach again. The executive decided to check into all angles, including the pay for their coach, and decide definitely two weeks hence.

Dr. Aitken conducted the meeting which dealt with plans for the season, including the booster club, formation of sub-committees, new rules, trophies, a coach, and the financial statement. Treasurer Dennis Fitzgerald read the latter, which showed a small surplus, though this will be eaten up rapidly by entry fees, etc., before any new equipment is purchased. The general feeling of the meeting was that the Orfuns would field a stronger squad than last year, that there would be a better grouping and keener competition, and that the club would have a larger following this year.

AHL ALL-STAR — Ike Hildebrand, who plays lacrosse for the Petes summers, and hockey for Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League winters, was the unanimous choice of all-star right winger on the AHL first all-star team this year. All seven clubs in the league voted for Ike in that first-string spot.

Steve Donoghue, great English jockey, capped his last season of racing by winning the classic One Thousand Guineas for the first time, 16 years ago today. Donoghue had ridden a Derby winner six times, and had at least two victories in each of the other three English classics—the Two Thousand Guineas, the St. Leger and the Oaks. Since his first race in Dublin 30 years previously, he had led the English jockey list 10 times.

Prisoner Of War Gets Interest In Horse

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—While Pte. Joe Picerno was a prisoner of the Communists in Korea he wrote his family at Springfield Gardens, N.Y., that more than anything else he'd like to have a trotting horse.

Now Picerno is coming home, one of the repatriated prisoners, and he'll have a trotter waiting for him.

William H. Cane, president of Yonkers Raceway, said today he's giving Picerno an interest in Sir Joseph, a five-year-old trotter training at Aiken, S.C. Sir Joseph will be shipped here May 12.

Long-Ball Hitting Sweeps Major League, Braves Score 3-2 Win

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the current rash of long-ball hitting in the majors continues, they're going to have to supply the bleacherites with outfielders' gloves.

Either that or the pitchers are going to start the old lament that the ball is being souped up again.

First it was Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, then Ed Mathews of the Braves, then Mantle again and now Joe Adcock of the Braves is in the derby for long-distance slugging. And the season is only two weeks old.

Mantle still holds the campaign record, his first homer travelling 562 feet. That probably won't be equalled for a long time to come.

But in the matter of accomplishment, Adcock's Wednesday off the Giants' Jim Hearn was the most notable wallop. It came with one on and helped the Braves to a 3-2 triumph.

SETS NEW FIRST

More important, though, it was the first ball ever hit into the centre field bleachers of the Polo Grounds during a regular season game.

The ball travelled 475 feet and Adcock, not noted as a long-ball hitter, probably was the most astonished bloke in the park.

"It surprised the heck out of me," he said. "I knew I had gotten good wood on the ball, but I never thought it was going to travel that far."

The hit came in the third inning, and the Giants eventually tied the game. As things turned out, the Braves had to win it in the ninth when Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm let loose a wild pitch. Adcock got to first base when Al Dark made a bad throw on his grounder. He stole second and advanced to third on catcher Sam Calderone's poor throw. Jim Pendelton went in to run for Adcock and scored on the wild heave.

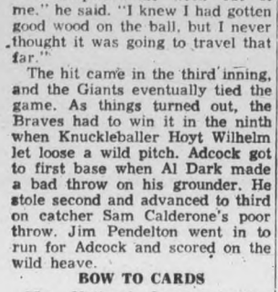
BOW TO CARDS

The National League-leading Philadelphia Phillies bowed at night to St. Louis Cardinals 1-0. Curt Simmons lost a three-hit heart breaker in the 11th inning when Bill Johnson doubled home Rip Repulski. The latter had reached first on an error.

Pittsburgh Pirates edged Chicago Cubs 4-3 to move into a tie for sixth place with the Giants.

The Dodgers defeated Cincinnati Redlegs 6-5. Redleg catcher Hobie Landrith let the winning run score on a passed ball in the ninth. Carl Furillo doubled, advanced to third on a sacrifice and tallied on the PB.

In the American League, Cleveland Indians gained a half game on the idle first-place Yankees when Early Wynn pitched them to a 2-1 decision over Philadelphia Athletics. The Indians now are one game behind the Yanks.



Bob Porterfield hurled Washington Senators to a 3-0 conquest over Chicago White Sox, yielding only five hits.

Boston Red Sox bombed Detroit Tigers 10-4. Sammy White drove in five runs.

The Yankees and St. Louis Browns were rained out.

Thinks Mathews Longest Hitter

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Adcock, who hit a 475-foot home run into the Polo Grounds bleachers Wednesday, says the longest hitter in baseball is his roommate, Eddie Mathews.

"I've read about Mickey Mantle's tremendous home run in Washington," the Milwaukee first baseman said, "but for my money Eddie hits the ball farther than anybody I've seen."

Since Mantle, New York Yankees' centrefielder, tagged that 562-footer in Washington, the tape measure has become a part of standard ball park equipment.

Adcock's blow landed in the 10th row of the left centrefield bleachers, the first ever hit into that part of the stands in a regular league game. It helped give Milwaukee Brewers a 3-2 victory over New York Giants.

Adcock said he saw Mathews, Milwaukee third baseman, pole a home run in Chicago that went 500 feet on the fly.

"It was the longest ball I ever saw anybody hit at Wrigley Field," he added. "It went clear out of the park."

Glasgow Captures Soccer Cup Final

GLASGOW (Reuters)—Glasgow Rangers edged Aberdeen 1-0 in a hard-fought game here Wednesday to win the Scottish Soccer cup final.

The teams tied 1-1 last Saturday on Glasgow's home grounds, forcing the replay. It was the 14th time the Rangers had won the cup.

More than 120,000 fans saw Billy Simpson boot the winning goal three minutes before half time. Aberdeen's fast-raiding forwards troubled the Rangers' defence, but were never able to drive through the tieing goal.

Toronto Clips Springfield 3-2 As Royals Upset Rochester

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It still is too early to predict who will finish where in the International Baseball League, but Montreal Royals and Toronto Maple Leafs appear to be headed in the right direction.

The Royals, in first place, hold a slight edge over Toronto in percentage points, having won three games in four starts. Toronto has a 5-2 record.

Each won its Wednesday contest as nearly 52,000 fans turned out to witness league openers at Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and Buffalo.

Lefty Ken Lehman came up with a masterful four-hit performance as the Royals edged Rochester 2-1. Ralph Beard, nicked for both Montreal runs, was charged with the loss.

TORONTO VICTORY

A record Toronto crowd of 22,216 —the previous mark was 21,938— saw the Leafs score a 3-2 10th inning victory over Springfield Cubs. Big Ed Stevens, Toronto first baseman, broke up the game with a triple to deep centre, scoring Bobby Wilson.

Right-handed reliefer Ray Shore, who took over from starter Don Johnson in the eighth, received credit for his second win of the season. George Long went the route for the Cubs.

Baltimore Orioles clouted four home runs to spoil Buffalo's hometown debut, routing the Bisons 8-4 before a somewhat too enthusiastic crowd.

A decision by Umpire Harry Holmes at second base, as Buffalo was staging a ninth-inning rally, touched off a rhubarb during which a small boy suffered a severe cut from a thrown bottle and several spectators were forcibly hauled from the playing field.

Rookie Bob Price came up with a brilliant five-hitter as Ottawa Athletics came from behind to down Syracuse Chiefs 5-2 before a small crowd of 4,000. It was the A's first win in three starts. Syracuse starter Jim Blackburn was charged with the loss.

HIS OWN HALL OF FAME—Mickey Mantle admires the bat and ball, photographs and newspaper accounts of his record 565-foot home run at Washington's Griffith Stadium. The evidence is there for all to see in main lobby of Yankee Stadium.

Barrie Clips St. Boniface 6-3 For 2nd Win

By AL VICKERY

BRANDON (CP)—Barrie Flyers have again proved it takes a 60-minute effort to beat them.

For the second straight game, the Flyers came off the floor in a third-period drive Wednesday night to wallop St. Boniface Canadiens 6-3 and take a two-game stranglehold on the Memorial Cup final. In the opener at Winnipeg Monday night, the Flyers counted four times in the final frame while holding Canadiens scoreless to walk off with a 6-4 verdict.

The teams return to Winnipeg for the third game of the best-of-seven Canadian junior hockey final Friday night, and manager Larry Desjardins of the Habs isn't quite sure what they have to do to win a game.

For slightly more than two periods, the western junior champions looked as though they had the match well in hand. Then suddenly they found themselves beyond striking distance.

COSTLY PENALTY

In the first contest, they tried to protect a lead and Hap Emms' Flyers skated them into the ice: Wednesday night, a costly cross-checking penalty to captain Syd White enabled Barrie to rap home three quick winning goals.

"You just can't give them a break," said Desjardins as he hustled his boys into a bus for an unscheduled and dreary 140-mile ride back to Winnipeg. Previously, the Canadiens had planned to return home in the morning, but as one down-hearted player said:

"Who the heck can sleep anyway after losing a game like that."

It was unfortunate that White will have to be tabbed as "the goat," for the bruising defenceman and his rearguard mates had played a terrific game up to that point, although directly or indirectly, they had been responsible for two other Barrie goals.

Ron Heindl was sitting out an interference penalty on one. Billy Short lost control of the puck in front of his own net and that resulted in another. But during the rugged contest the trio, along with Frank Holliday, had broken up many of Barrie's vaunted power plays.

TOUGH CLUB

Coach Hap Emms said "it was a nice one to win, but they're a tough club." It could have gone either way up to "that penalty."

Asked if he was satisfied with his team's performance, Hap replied he had seen them go better, but "maybe its this St. Boniface club's checking that is stopping us."

Hero for Barrie was slim centreman Johnny Martan, who scored three goals, including the equalizer after the Habs had taken a 3-2 lead early in the third period.

Tiny but stocky Tony Poeta, with two, and Skip Teal accounted for the others. Smoothie Orval Tessier helped on five occasions.

For the second time, hard-rock Garry Blaine, Canadiens' 195-pound right-winger, bagged two goals. Barry Thorndycraft added a singleton.

FIRST PERIOD LEAD

Blaine gave Canadiens a 1-0 first-period lead when he rifled in Len Thornson's rebound while his own team was short-handed. Poeta and Martan put Barrie ahead 2-1 before Thorndycraft deadlocked the score less than two minutes before the end of the second session.

Blaine sent the sell-out crowd of about 4,800 wild when he tipped in Thornson's backhand attempt early in the third period. Martan again put Barrie on even terms at 8:07.

After Canadiens had failed to capitalize on a penalty to Flyers' Larry Thibault, White was sent off for cross-checking Doug Mohns.

On a sustained attack, Teal, Martan and then Poeta banged in rebounds off goalie Hal Dalkie to send the game out of Canadiens' reach.

Davey Scores TKO Over Guiliani

DETROIT (AP)—Jabbing, stabbing Chuck Davey, seeking to replenish his pocket and pride, danced away from the bull-like rushes of Sammy Giuliani and scored a technical knockout over the game Stamford, Conn., youngster at the Olympia Wednesday night.

Referee Clarence Rosen called a halt to the lively scrap at 31 seconds of the 10th. Giuliani obviously was hurt. When the two previous rounds ended, Sammy, dazed and wobbly, walked to the wrong corner.

Fighting for the first time since his disastrous bout against Kid Gavilan, Davey was the dancemaster. He darted in, out and around the plodding Giuliani, and connected to the head and body as he pleased.

NARROW ESCAPE

For a while, though, it didn't look as if Davey would bounce back from the Gavilan shocker. He gave away seven pounds to Giuliani, 158 to 151, and the 20-year-old youngster made the most of it in early going.

Davey, who is engaged in an ambitious fight-a-month campaign to get back on top, found Giuliani's jaw almost any time he wanted but it was his blows to the belly that stopped the onrushing Giuliani.

LINE UP TITLE FIGHTS

QUEBEC (CP)—A Canadian Boxing Federation official said Wednesday the winner of the Canadian middleweight championship fight May 2 between George Ross of Halifax and Yvon Durelle of Baie St. Paul, Que., must defend the title within 60 days against Harry Poulton of Charlottetown, leading middleweight contender.

The official said Poulton, who lost a match at Calgary March 19 to Lou Lawrence of Vancouver, was picked on the basis of his general record in the ring. The CBF had previously said that Poulton had won the Calgary fight.

The Ross-Durelle match, to be staged at Glace Bay, N.S., was sanctioned by the CBF when the middleweight crown was lifted from Roy Wouters of Montreal for failing to defend it.

The CBF also sanctioned a 12-round fight May 16 at Brantford for the Canadian light-heavyweight crown between Gord Wallace, Brantford, and Clobey McCluskey, Dartmouth, N.S.

Wallace originally was matched against Billy Fifield, Toronto, but Fifield injured a hand in a fight. Winner of the title fight will have to defend against Fifield within 60 days.

The title became vacant when it was lifted from Eddy Zastre, who failed to defend it.

Army Publication Describes Drew As CCF Leader

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservative leader George Drew set Commons laughing Wednesday when he noted that he had been described in an army publication in Korea as the leader of the CCF party.

Further, Mr. Drew said, M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, had been described as the leader of the "Socialist party."

Mr. Drew said he took no offence at the references made in the Crown News distributed among Commonwealth division troops in Korea. It was reporting on proceedings in the Canadian Commons.

But the Progressive Conservative leader said he thought its report might be a bit more accurate as to the political makeup of the Canadian House.

COLDWELL "INTERESTED"

Mr. Coldwell rose to say he hadn't seen the publication. But when he got a copy, he would keep it "as a very interesting souvenir."

Defence Minister Claxton said perhaps he should apologize to both Mr. Drew and Mr. Coldwell, but his department had no responsibility for the publication issued by the Commonwealth division in Korea.

The Canadian news in the publication, he said, came from The Canadian Press and he was sure CP would not make the error referred to. He believed it must have been an error which crept in during transmission of the Canadian news.

Mr. Claxton added: "I will write a letter to the editor myself."

At this point Agriculture Minister Gardiner rose and without elaboration said that judging by "developments in the last Saskatchewan election I think the description is fairly accurate." He looked across at Mr. Drew when he said it.

Mr. Drew replied that it now was apparent why there was confusion when the minister of agriculture would make an interjection of that kind.

The Crown News is a mimeographed publication issued by Commonwealth divisional headquarters in Korea.

Oppose Separate Body To Regulate Broadcasting

OTTAWA (CP)—A request by private broadcasters for a separate body, other than the CBC, to regulate broadcasting today met with opposition from a CCF member of the House of Commons broadcasting committee.

R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon) suggested to T. J. Allard, general manager of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, that the request would reduce the CBC simply to a commercial rival of privately-owned radio stations.

The request was contained in a brief presented to the committee by the C.A.B. of which most privately-owned stations are members.

Mr. Allard denied that such a regulatory body would "reduce" the CBC's status. He said the C.A.B. believes it would enhance the CBC by relieving it of the burden of acting as a regulatory authority as well as a broadcasting operation.

SPAR ON CONTROL

Mr. Knight and Mr. Allard sparred for some time on the question of control of broadcasting. Mr. Knight suggested that it is in the nature of business to sell its goods to the people with the money to pay for them.

With parliamentary control of broadcasting through the CBC, there would be "at least some method of redress of this situation," he said.

Mr. Allard replied that the C.A.B. does not oppose control of broadcasting in the public interest. Freedom was interdependent and some limit must be placed on individual freedom to ensure others enjoyed some measure of it.

He said Mr. Knight seemed to fear that private ownership of broadcasting would bring it under control of those with the longest purses. There also was a fear that state ownership might bring it under control of those controlling the mechanism of the state and that it might reflect their opinions.

Mr. Knight said that did not answer his question. He wanted to know whether Mr. Allard thinks there is a better chance of getting both sides of a question known if there is no intermingling of commercial and broadcasting operations.

AGAINST IT

Mr. Allard replied that he does not believe that. There also was the possibility that state-owned broadcasting might have undue advantage to those in power. That was not the case with the publicly-owned CBC at present.

He said he also does not think that undue advantage is given "those with the longest purses" by private broadcasters.

Mr. Knight asked if Mr. Allard thinks it a good thing for one organization to control too many avenues of public opinion in view of the fact that 38 private radio stations are affiliated with newspapers.

AMONG BEST

Mr. Allard said that the 38 stations actually are among the best in Canada. One reason was that newspapers have a background that makes them particularly fitted to broadcasting operations.

Mr. Knight replied that "sometimes dictatorship produces good results in government too."

In its brief the C.A.B. urged the government to speed up its announced intention of allowing private television stations to operate in areas now reserved to the CBC.

The brief said "we should like to congratulate and commend the government on its present television policy."

This statement brought criticism from one C.A.B. member in Vancouver. George C. Chandler, president of station CJOR, issued a statement in Vancouver.

"The very fact that the C.A.B. has given such congratulations is a damning indication of the strong control over publication by radio and television that the government now holds," he said.

Adjudicator Busy

BROCKVILLE (CP) — Carman Milligan of Ottawa, adjudicator of the annual Leeds and Grenville Music festival, now in progress, said that he expected to adjudicate for at least 3,500 children, teenagers and adults before Friday. PM DRAWS BEAD—Prime Minister St. Laurent takes careful aim on a target at a "Frolic" in aid of the Ottawa Philharmonic Orchestra. The "weapon" is a water pistol. Mrs. St. Laurent lends encouragement.

Bostonian Heads C Of C In States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard L. Bowditch, Boston industrialist who started as a "trapper boy" in a coal mine 30 years ago, Wednesday was elected president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Bowditch is president of C. H. Sprague and Son Co., which produces and ships coal and oil, and the Sprague Steamship Co.

Outside of business, one of Bowditch's strongest interests has been fostering of relations between the United States and Canada. He has headed the chamber's U. S. section of the Canada-U. S. committee. Last year he was a chamber vice-president.

Bowditch started his career in a coal mine in Logan county, W. Va. As a trapper boy, he opened and closed the heavy doors separating mine compartments to let the miners and coal cars pass.

Janitzio People Work Hard But No Envy Or Discontent

JANITZIO—The people living on Janitzio Island are among the hardest working you will find anywhere. They work from dawn to dusk and no one will ever be found doing nothing. When everything else is done there are always the nets to mend or make. Men, women and children share the duties.

It is said that if a man sees his wife sitting doing nothing he suspects there is something seriously wrong.

The people of this island are proud Tarascans who live apart whenever possible, mingling as little as they can with others. Yet they are sociable.

Janitzio is the biggest island in the lake and dominates your view from the mainland. It is a hilly island with no trees and there is always an air of great activity along the steep, twisting, cobbled streets and at the lake shore. The houses which cling to the slopes are well constructed with projecting red tile roofs. One sees nets everywhere either drying or being woven. At the summit of the island is a huge statue of Morelos and decorated with episodes of the hero's life.

INVITED INTO HOME

A friend of mine who used to live on Janitzio proved an open sesame. Because of him the family of (Tata) Florentino Campos made me welcome in their home and allowed me to look around, a privilege not given to many outsiders.

It was a typical and busy household. The home consisted of two rooms, good sized. The terra-cotta kitchen is used as a kitchen, dining room and living room. The second room serves as sleeping quarters.

The people here live in perfect harmony because nobody on Janitzio has more than anyone else. They are all poor fishermen who spend their lives wresting a meagre living on their barren island. At Tata Florentino's home they had lovely pottery displayed along one wall from different sections around Patzcuaro. In one corner there was cotton ready to be woven into nets. In a dark corner is the characteristic Tarascan home altar decorated with flowers and an array of religious saints. The patron saint of the island is San Jeronimo.

GRANDPARENTS WORK

The 85-year-old grandfather and grandmother do as good a day's work as the rest of the family. The morning I was there, Mrs. Florentino was shucking corn by rubbing two ears together. She was assisted by a daughter-in-law. Another daughter-in-law and daughter were busy making tortillas while a fifth woman put the corn on to cook with lime to soften it. The corn for the tortillas is ground on the metates, the little three-legged tables about six inches off the floor. Everyone was sitting around on the petates, straw mats. Light came from the open door because there were no windows. Children dashed in and out and the occasional chicken. Yet everything was clean and neat. Outside the door a young man was working on making a net, and Grandpa and Grandma Florentino willingly agreed to show me how they operated the spinning wheel and wove the nets.

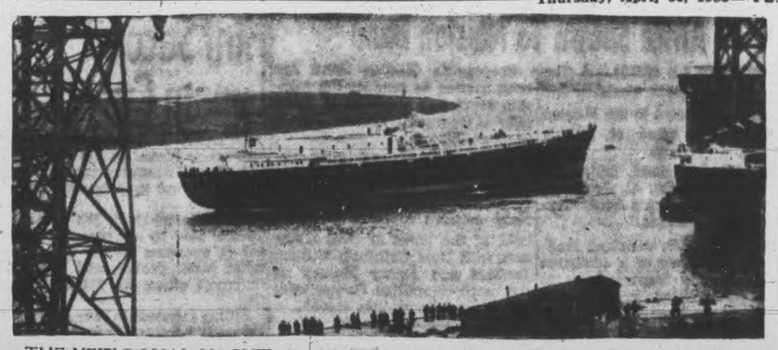
There was a big crowd around their home that day because a new house was being built and relatives from other parts had come to help in a special bee. They were fine people and most hospitable.

As we climbed to the top of the island to the village church, we saw the small white fish which are caught in the butterfly nets spread out on straw mats on the streets in the sun to dry. That way they keep indefinitely and there is a big demand.

GIRLS IN RETREAT

The church is a very old one and since the people of Janitzio are very devout they are much stricter in their religious observances than elsewhere in the Patzcuaro area. There was a huge crowd of women gathered around the walled entrance to the church. Everyone had a basket and was chattering in lively fashion. The young girls of the village had been in retreat for a week. Once a year they have to enter the church walls and remain there, separate from their families for one week before Holy Week. The mothers go daily with baskets of food for their children. The next day was to be a special fiesta when the girls returned home and most of the families were busy preparing chickens to be used for the occasion. The girls were released at 5 a.m. Sunday and the fiesta was in full swing.

Sundays the island is beautiful with all the fishing nets hung up to dry and walling the homes and yards like huge fences. Women in brightly colored skirts and blouses dot the piers as they wash clothes or work around the boats.



There is a cemetery beside the church which affords a perfect setting for the festival of the Day of the Dead (November 2). On the night of November 1, the women and children all dressed in their best clothes go to the cemetery carrying baskets of food, frames decorated with marigold, bread in animal forms and flowers. They sit at the graves and light candles for all the dead of the family while the men stand around the cross or the wall and sing Alabanza.

Family Together After 8 Years

TORONTO (CP)—The Rocha family, separated for eight years, was re-united Wednesday night.

Louis Rocha, his wife and their two young children, arrived at Union station and were met by his father, Estylito, and brother, Edward. The family had been sent back to Niagara Falls, N.Y., as they entered Hamilton.

The father had never met his daughter-in-law and had never seen his two grandchildren. The Rocha family was parted after service with the British army in India.

Louis said he doesn't know why immigration officials returned the family, but now he has been told he can have a three-month visitor's permit to Canada. They will return to their native Hong Kong after their visit.

Plan To Start Conestogo Dam During Summer

BRANTFORD (CP)—A start will definitely be made this summer on construction of the $5,000,000 Conestogo dam near Glen Allan, and the call for tenders will be issued shortly, E. F. Roberts, secretary-treasurer of the Grand river conservation commission, reported here Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, the conservation commission is proceeding with plans for the big project, and is making the necessary purchases of land at the dam site and in the impounding area.

Announcement was made in the House of Commons at Ottawa Wednesday that supplementary federal estimates include $1,000,000 towards the cost of the Conestogo dam.

The federal and Ontario governments have each agreed to contribute 37½ per cent of the cost, leaving 25 per cent to be borne by the benefitting municipalities.

Brantford, Paris, Galt, Preston, Kitchener, Waterloo, Elora and Fergus shared in the municipalities' cost of the $2,000,000 Shand dam built on the Grand river near Fergus, and opened in 1942.

TO CORONATION—A member of the Maliseet tribe in New Brunswick has reverted in rank from sergeant to signalman in order to represent Canadian Indians at the Coronation. Signalman G. J. Deedham, from the Devon reservation near Fredericton, is a member of the tribe which took an oath of allegiance to George III during the American Revolution. He enlisted with the Reserve Signal Corps after two years of active service.

Film Of Africa Shown To Mission Band

SPRINGVILLE (ENS).—A film "Africa—Its People, Customs and Homes" was shown to the Mission Band at the home of Debbie Darling.

The Mission Band, under the leadership of Mrs. C. Johnston, have been studying a book "Nyanga's Two Villages."

Mrs. Ken Hall, assistant leader, told the story of a Christian African family moving back to the non-Christian grandfather's village to do evangelical work.

The boys and girls repeated the 23rd Psalm in unison. Linda Northey read the "Meditation" and Mrs. Clifford Johnston led in prayer.

The peace report was given by Keith Johnston and Nelson Northey gave the temperance report, presenting a series of posters and telling a story illustrating each of them.

Springville Mission Band has been invited to conduct the worship service at the Mission Band rally at George St. Church, Peterborough, May 2.

Fourteen boys and girls answered the roll call with the recital of a favorite Bible verse. Next month's meeting is to be held at the home of Neal Cathcart with Neal Cathcart, William Junkers and Penny Murray as the lunch committee. Games were played and lunch was served.

Wins Fellowship

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Margaret Harris of Lakeside, a final-year English student at the University of Western Ontario, has been awarded a $750 fellowship for postgraduate study at the University of Toronto. The award is the James C. Cumming Fellowship awarded annually by Trinity College.

Hint Second Lunam Case

OTTAWA (CP)—An opposition spokesman hinted in the House of Commons Wednesday that another "Lunam" case may be developing in Ontario.

John Diefenbaker (PC — Lake Centre) said he has placed a number of questions on the Commons order paper dealing with the federal post office at Southampton, Ont.

"If my informants have given me the correct information, the answer to these questions, too, will reveal that a real shake-up is necessary in order to preserve, on the one hand the rights of government, and on the other hand, the rights of individuals in this country who deal with the government."

Mr. Diefenbaker has asked of the works department who the contractor was on the Southampton job; whether the project was completed; and if operations were not completed, whether all the subcontractors were paid.

German Court Gives Strasser Citizenship

COLOGNE, Germany (Reuters)—A German court Wednesday ordered German citizenship to be restored to Otto Strasser, one-time Nazi and founder of the "black Front" which opposed Hitler.

Hitler deprived Strasser of his German citizenship in October, 1935. Strasser's brother, Gregor, was assassinated in the "blood purge" of June, 1934.

Strasser now is living in Bridgetown, N. S.

The West German government has asked the court to refuse Strasser German citizenship. The government representative at the hearing said Strasser's return to Germany might bring about a new movement in West Germany with political aims similar to those of Hitler's party.

Church Council Explains Work

TORONTO (CP)—More than 1,200,000 pieces of literature, including books, leaflets and posters, were produced last year by the publications department of the Canadian Council of Churches.

This was made known Wednesday at the annual meeting of the council's Christian education department.

Other activities under ouncil auspices during the last year included the holding of a series of Maritime training schools for workers using such audio-visual aids as motion pictures and film strips and sponsorship of 1,070 vacation schools attended by more than 4,000 children.

Another report said 32,000 girls now are enrolled in Canadian Girls in Training groups and that there are 200 more groups this year than last.

Que. Cabinet Member Dies Of Heart Attack

ST. MARC DES CARRIERES, Que. (CP)—Hon. Bona Dussault, 71-year-old Quebec minister of municipal affairs, died Wednesday in this Portneuf county town.

Mr. Dussault, one of the veteran members of the Duplessis administration, died of a heart attack at home in the stone-quarrying and farming district of Portneuf.

Until 1947, when he reached a navigator's retirement age, Mr. Dussault was a federal government river pilot and took his regular turn guiding ocean-going vessels along the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Quebec.

Death ended the political career of Mr. Dussault during his fourth term as a member of the Quebec legislative assembly and member of the cabinet of Premier Maurice Duplessis.

"The Store That Makes a House a Home"

BATTLING BESSIE—Mrs. E. M. "Battling Bessie" Braddock, Labor member of Britain's Parliament, heatedly denies she has ever been caught snoring on a bed in the House of Commons ladies' room. The charge was contained in a published article written by another woman MP — slim, photogenic Mrs. Patricia Ford, a Conservative who took her Commons seat only last week.

YPU Presents Religious Play

WARKWORTH (ENS) — The Young People's Association of St. Paul's United Church won first place in the Cobourg Presbytery Young People's Drama Festival Thursday evening at Wooler over their competitors of Hilton and Stockdale; and will compete with other Presbyteries for the final. The "cup" is to be received at the Young People's convention this Saturday evening at Baltimore.

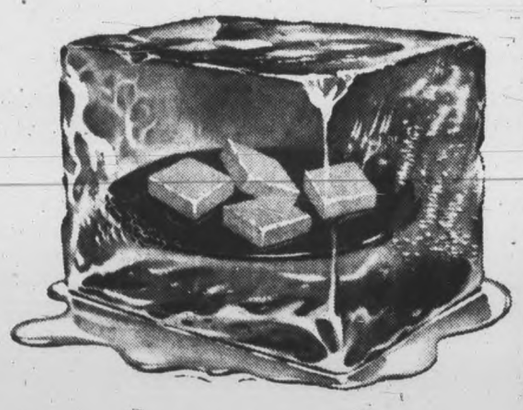
On Monday evening this week they presented their one-act religious drama, "Church Bells," in the town hall here to an appreciative audience, under the direction of Mrs. W. Grant Allen, assisted by Billie Isaac, sound effects and property manager.

Malcolm Laver, president of the Young People's Society, was master of ceremonies. Eleanor Calder sang "The Stranger of Galilee," accompanied by Garth Allen, pianist. Two junior vocal duets were sung by Lesle McCleary and Bryce Allen. Margaret Thompson gave a medley of trombone solos.

After the play, Ferne Killingbeck played a piano solo and Eleanor Calder sang two solos, and a duet was sung by the Misses Ida and Clarice Honey.

Those taking part were: Edward Thompson, Grace Young, Garry Huycke, Enid Huycke, Garth Allen, Ida Honey and Billie Honey.

Sunday in the Morrill home is a hectic day. If it were not for the ringing of the church bells nearby they would sleep on into the day. But the church bell awakens them and starts. Dad, Barbara, Mother and Stanley planning their activities. They have time for everything but church.



When Mr. Gladstone arrived to invite the family to attend the neighborhood Sunday service, they were shocked to think he would expect them to give up even an hour of their one day of leisure to go to worship.

Later real trouble came their way and then they recognized the wrong turn they had taken, in trying to find the road to happiness.

GANARASKA CAMP

Arrangements have just been completed for transportation of Scouts attending the Ganaraska Forestry camp this weekend. The bus will pick up those groups notified at the CNR freight office on Aylmer St. at 6 p.m. Friday evening. Scouters should see that their boys are on time. It has been reported that some 35 Scouts will be travelling by bus and that a group from St. John's will be travelling on their own.

1ST PETERBOROUGH

Group Chaplain the Rev. John Purser visited Friday and took the opening prayers and presented Bill Collinson, Joe Cunningham and Ken Murduff with their first year service stars and Ken McLaren with the Collectors badge. Ken also received his second star from Akela Stan Purser. In the Going up ceremony in which Bob Wagsterm, Ralph Cunningham, Bob Cumpsty and Ken McLaren left the Cub Jungle and stepped out on theh Scout Trail, Mrs. Wagster was present for the ceremony which took place in the large hall. Skipper G. told the story of Scouting. The Brown Six under George Boucher was winner of the honor pennant for the last month. Marked up were: Peter Ford, time; Bob Robertson, hopping; Grant Menzies, growing thrings; Bob Barber, Union Jack; Tom Lewis, signalling; David Forte, Ken Murduff, Chris Savers and Paul Nornabell, somersault; Bill Collinson, Skipping, Jamie Welsh, Model; Ken Murduff, Collector.

One of the main items of test in the Troop was that of sense training. Leslie Crump and Jim Parker completed their tenderfoot tests with bed making and knots and were invested as Scouts. Bob Wagster, Ralph Cunningham, Bob Cumpsty and Ken McLaren were accepted as Cub recruits into the Troop.

3RD PETERBOROUGH

Thirty-five Cubs were present at St. George's Church as Cubs prepared and passed tests: Bob Bennett, Wayne Kempt, Allen Keating, Don Hines, and David Farr, Union flag; Bob Bennett and Wayne Kempt, time; Joe Reid and Bob Wilson, book balancing; Art McLaren, Joe Reid and Roger Smith, skipping.

5TH PETERBOROUGHM

All Saints' Pack meeting opened with the grand howl led by Senior Sixer David Fletcher followed by inspection in the Six Lairs, this being taken by Assistant Cubmaster Ron Cameron, whose jungle name is Won-Tolla. This being the evening of the paper drive the Cubs were doing their part in raising funds tying up coat hangers and baskets.

7TH PETERBOROUGH

Stan McBride led in the open ceremonies of the Pack at St. Paul's at the last meeting at which Ron Earle was presented with his first star, while Jim Anderson and Barry LeRoy received their collector's badges.

8TH PETERBOROUGH

Spence Estabrooks was accepted into St. Andrew's Pack at the last meeting during an investiture ceremony. Inspection found the Sixes all tied up in points. After some games, the new Cub, Spencer Estabrooks, took the closing grand howl.

13TH PETERBOROUGH

Beaver Patrol won the competition cup by beating Cougar and Eagle Patrols by one point at Mark Street. A hike was held on Saturday. A race on knots was run off and Bunny Dorrington was first, Larry Huggins second, and Bob Dixon third. The following were invested: Bunny Dorrington, Jim Cullen, Bob Duncan, Angus Chalmers, Garry Nickson, Marcus Fowler, Lawrence Dack, Terry Evans, and Larry Huggins. Bunny Dorrington received his stripes as patrol leader of the Beaver Patrol. Larry Huggins received his stripes as seconder of the Beaver Patrol, as did Jim Cullen of the Cougar Patrol. Roy Pitchford of the St. John Ambulance Corps gave an interesting talk on first-aid.

KIBBLEWHITE ROVER SCOUTS

Bob Leach, former troop leader of the 5th Peterborough Scout Troop, and holder of the Queen Scout badge, and the "A" Cord, became a lowly Squire in our crew. Operation Kandersteg is now in full swing. As well as receiving definite promise of 20,000 handbills for delivery in the near future, several other projects are being undertaken as well. The Crew, aided by All Saints' Dramatic Club, will present a variety and fashion show on Wednesday evening, May 27, at 8:00 sharp, in All Saints' Parish Hall. Tickets for this presentation may be purchased from any member of the Crew. Last Sunday the Crew held its monthly Communion breakfast in the basement of All Saints' Parish Hall. Special speaker was Dr. J. N. Perry, president of our local association. Dr. Perry told the Cew some of the things he learned from various conferences he had attended. We had two visitors at the breakfast, Max Wilson, group committee chairman, and Skipper Kenneth Jakins, Seascoutmaster, Lakefield.

CORONATION CONTINGENT — Air Vice Marshal Frank G. Wait, left, Air Member for Personnel at Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters in Ottawa, inspects the 88 members of the RCAF's Regular Force Coronation Contingent at Rockcliffe Air Station near Ottawa. With him is Wing Commander Jack Watts, of Ottawa, parade commander who will head the group.

STUDY FLUORIDATION

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—A pre-fluoridation dental survey is being made among school children here in anticipation of fluoridation of the city's water supply, Dr. Ralph Connor, dental services officer, told the health unit. Fluoridation now is awaiting council approval.

Oldest Citizen Of Millbrook Mrs. J. Stewart

MILLBROOK (ENS). — Millbrook's oldest citizen, Mrs. James Stewart, died at her home here on Tuesday.

If she had lived until July 1 she would have celebrated her 98th birthday.

Mrs. Stewart was born in Cavan township, Mary Jane Evans, the daughter of James Evans and the former Mary Jane Collins. All her life was lived in or near Millbrook with the exception of 20 years spent in Peterborough.

Mrs. Stewart came of Irish pioneer stock as did her husband, who predeceased her in March of 1917. For the last several months Mrs. Stewart had been in failing health. Before that she was a familiar figure seated on her verandah where she enjoyed knitting, reading or visiting with passing friends.

Of her family of ten children seven survive: Mrs. John Cruikshank (Rachel) of Hastings; Richard N., of Toronto; Mrs. H. J.

MRS. JAMES STEWART

Armstrong (Maude) and Miss Crystal Stewart of Millbrook; Mrs. T. Hendry (Luella) of Peterborough; Mrs. D. A. Massecar (Florence) of Brantford, and Mrs. Alex. Sage (Edna) of Peterborough. Edward of Port Arthur, Henry of Vancouver, and Anthony, who died in childhood, predeceased their mother.

Surviving sisters include Miss Matilda Evans of Lincoln, Nebraska; Mrs. Maria Seaton of Monroe, Michigan, and Mrs. Alice Metherall of Vancouver.

There are 12 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

The funeral will be conducted by her pastor, the Rev. A. M. Butler of St. Andrew's United Church, from her residence on Union St., at 2 o'clock Friday. Burial will be in Gardiner's cemetery.

Contract Signed

HEIDELBURG, Germany (AP) —United States Army authorities said Wednesday night they had signed a $54,400,000 ammunition contract with the Italian Sigme Company of Rome. The officials said it is the biggest single order placed so far under the offshore procurement program the United States is carrying out with its NATO allies.

REV. L. R. POCOCK

Rev. L. R. Pocock New Minister In Cavan Parish

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The Rev. L. R. Pocock, B.A., will take up his duties as rector of the Anglican parish of Cavan on May 4. Mr. Pocock will be ordained priest in St. James' Cathedral in Toronto on May 3.

He has been curate at the Church of St. Nicholas, Birchcliffe, before his appointment to the parish of Cavan. He will serve all three churches of the parish, St. Thomas', Millbrook, St. John's, Ida, and Christ Church, Bailiebroo. He succeeds the Rev. A. A. Chote, now rector of St. Mary's Church, Richmond Hill.

Tree Program

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain, trying to utilize every acre of land, planted a record 61,632 acres of trees in the year ending Sept. 30, 1952. In the same period, she cut 45,622,000 cubic feet of timber. More than 120,000,000 young trees were planted, the government's forestry commission said in its annual report.

Actress' Family Can't Get Used To Screen Roles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Claire Trevor has won an Academy Award and a tidy fortune from playing fallen women on the screen but her family can't get used to the idea.

"I have some aunts and other relatives in the East," said the actress. "Very dignified people. They often write me and say, 'why can't they let you play nice girls in pictures, dear?' "

Her 83-year-old father feels the same way, only stronger. He was a conservative Fifth Ave. tailor to highbrow New Yorkers. He was taken aback when his daughter went on the stage.

He has seldom mentioned the fact that she was in the movies, much less the kind of roles she plays.

For a gal with such a conservative background, it's remarkable that Claire has been repeatedly cast as a woman of elastic virtue. She traces it back to her early days under contract to 20th-Fox.

ONE OR THE OTHER

"I either played the dashing girl reporter who cleaned up the town or the leader of a pack of gangsters," she remarked. "Then I played fallen women in 'Dead End' and 'Stagecoach.' That did it."

She almost escaped the type in the 1930s. After leaving Fox, she did a couple of films at Warners. The studio was high on her and wanted her to sign a term contract. The publicity department promised her a glamor buildup, advertising her as the "oomph girl."

"But I was afraid of term contracts after my experience at Fox," she said. "Nobody was enthused about me when I signed there, and the attitude never changed."

So she passed up the Warners deal, and Ann Sheridan got tagged as the girl with oomph.

Claire is back at the old stand in "I Ride Alone" with Randolph Scott. She plays a New Orleans belle who has worked her way up the river as a card sharp.

Claire, who won a supporting actress Oscar for playing the gangster's faded moll in "Key Largo," doesn't seem to mind being pegged in such roles. They are an actress' meat.

AMONG GRADUATES

George V. Orser of Campbellford will be one of 65 cadets representing the three services who will graduate from their first phase of service careers at the Canadian Service College, Royal Roads, Victoria, B.C., on April 30. Successful graduates will take professional training with their respective services during the summer. A greater majority will enroll at the Canadian Service College, in Kingston, for the second half of their four-year course.

PRIZE COMPETITION

Christopher Gledhill received notification today that he had won first prize in a competition sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers. Monetary value of the prizes was small; first prize, $35. The contest was to compose a piano piece suitable for piano students aged 12 to 16. Mr. Gledhill's composition, a short, bright piece which he named "Fiddle Tune," will be performed by him at the request of the Federation at their annual convention at the Royal York hotel July 9.

TO DUST MAIN ST.

Jaycees are going to sweep George St., between Simcoe and Charlotte Streets, Saturday, May 9, to spotlight "Clean Up" week. They are also planning a parade, and request that the Mayor and chairman of the board of works officially open the campaign. That will be an engagement for Acting Mayor Miller and Ald. P. J. Anglesey. Board of Works is willing to go along with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, but they are wondering about possible conflict of the sweeping act and the parade with Saturday traffic, and are asking Chief Constable Thompson for his view of the show.

City Property To Be Bought For Centre?

Land Not Identified Mayor Authorized To Make Deal

City council is prepared to buy property, not identified so far, but sounding much like a site for the Memorial Community Centre.

And merely as a surmise it might be the Dominion Woollens field at the corner of Monaghan Road and McDonnel St.

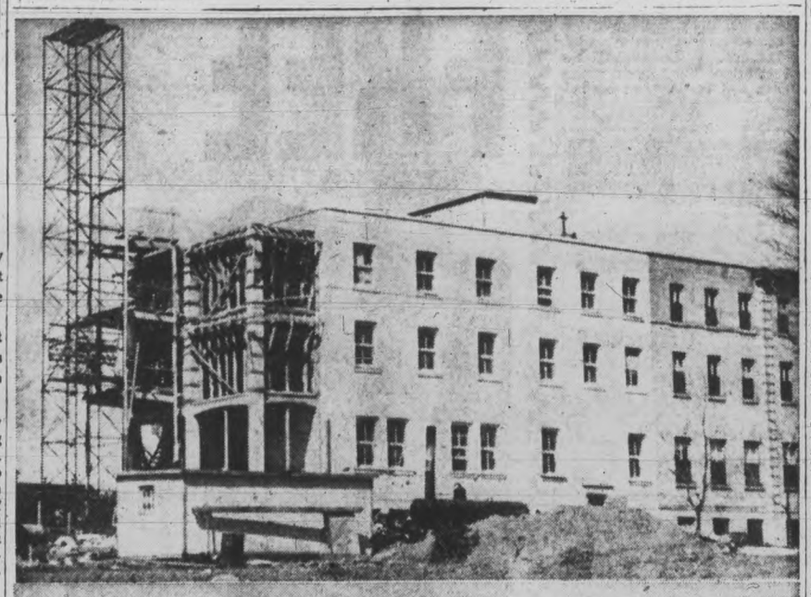
This is the indication of possibly approaching activity on that long dormant sector of the Centre. "That the Mayor be authorized to inform the owners of certain property located within the city of Peterborough that the City will purchase this property, and that the Mayor also negotiate the details of purchase of this property"?

This proposal is found in the report of the committee of the whole which was to have been presented at a special meeting of the council Tuesday afternoon. But that sitting did not take place.

However, the copy of the committee report came to hand, and this was its preamble: "Messrs. Jebson, Neal, Riley and Bradburn of the Memorial Centre building committee met with your committee and discussed various aspects and made certain recommendations in connection with the Memorial Centre."

The rest of the report is simply the recommendation as quoted above.

SUPPORT IN COUNCIL



The committee of the whole report was bound for the session Tuesday, and the important phrase there is "committee of the whole" suggesting that there would be substantial support behind it in council.

However, the committee Tuesday became wrapped up in deliberation of the salaries of heads of departments, leaving their invited guests waiting nearly two hours in the council chamber for the little party of farewell to Mayor Waddell. There has been recent rumors of action in securing property for the Community Centre, and in that connection the Dominion Woollens lands has been mentioned, in fact for a month or more.

Whether the council intends to proceed with this plan of purchase is known only at the city hall. No news has been given to the press, but this committee report emphatically asserts that "the city will purchase this property."

It may be that the council has considered in this stage other possible sites, such as Morrow Park, and also that its survey settles upon the west end field. Those phases are left to conjecture. If this committee report reflects the last hope, or something like that, it will be a great disappointment to the Peterborough Exhibition Board, and to various other agricultural interests whose cause prompted the deed of gift and the use of the park by the late Harold Morrow for agricultural purposes in memory of his father.

Some expressions during the last five or six months contemplated the prospect of disbanding of the Exhibition if the show facilities of the Centre were not obtainable for that property. Those agricultural promotion affairs have been mentioned before in regard to Morrow Park as a Centre site. It may be that the council has been informed conclusively and finally that the south end park is not available, and that attention is now turned to the Monaghan Road-McDonnel St. section of the city.

CONSTRUCTION NEARLY COMPLETED —The new Monastery of the Precious Blood on High St. and the addition to Mount St. Joseph Convent on Monaghan Road are nearly completed. The sod for both construction jobs was first turned early last fall. Workmen (top photo) add the finishing touches to the convent addition as they complete the balconies. The monastery (lower) is expected to be completed by July 1; a shortage of steel held up construction work there. —Examiner Staff Photo

Dep't Of Health Unable To Get Nurses

A scarcity of public health nurses is presenting a serious problem for the Peterborough Board of Health.

This problem was the main topic of discussion at a special meeting of the Board Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was called because of the imminent departure of Mayor Hugh Waddell and another board member, Dr. Ralph Honey, for the Coronation.

Dr. J. P. Wells, medical officer of health, said that four additional public health nurses and a supervisor of nurses were needed before pending agreements with the two city school boards can be carried out by the Department of Health.

RESIGNATION EFFECTIVE

At present the department is staffed with four nurses and is without a supervisor of nurses, following Miss Gene Clark's resignation which is effective today.

The required nursing staff to carry out the terms of the amalgamation of health services agreement pending between the Board of Health and the Board of Education, and also an agreement with the Separate School Board, is eight public health nurses and a supervisor of nurses.

Dr. Wells explained that the department had been advertising for nurses to no avail in Toronto and local daily papers and in the Canadian Public Health Journal since Easter.

TERMS APPROVED

The terms of the amalgamation of health services between the Board of Health and the Board of Education were approved by the health committee of the Board of Education at a meeting last week.

The teams still have to be submitted to the Board of Education and the Board of Health for their approval. If the agreement is signed the amalgamation will go into effect July 1.

At Wednesday's meeting the Board of Health authorized Dr. Wells to send a copy of the terms of this agreement to the Separate School Board. If this board signs

Quaker Workers Foresee Strike Of Month Or More

Preparations for a strike which they expect will last at least a month are being made by members of local 293 United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) who walked out of the Quaker Oats plant a week ago today in dissatisfaction with recommendations for a contract settlement contained in the majority report of a conciliation board.

William Beggs, UPWA staff representative for Eastern Ontario, said the question of whether or not the 435 production workers at the local Quaker Oats plant would get time-and-a-half pay for working Saturdays had become an important issue to unions across Canada. William Gunn, a past president of local 293, will be flown to Winnipeg where he will place the issues of the local strike before the UPWA biennial national convention which starts Monday.

Mr. Beggs conferred in Toronto Wednesday with Fred Dowling, UPWA national director, and Clarence Lyons, the union's staff representative for Saskatchewan, where 130 production workers are on strike at the Quaker Oats Co.'s Saskatoon plant.

SEEK SUPPORT

Mr. Dowling decided that the issues should be thoroughly studied by representatives of the entire union, Mr. Beggs reported, and financial and moral support will be sought from all UPWA members in both Canada and the United States.

It was felt that management all across the country was "out to stop the five-day week," Mr. Beggs said and added that union officials had been led to believe by reports that other feed and milling companies than Quaker were contemplating producing under the Quaker name in an attempt to break the strike.

Questioned about this report, Reginald Faryon, Canadian president of Quaker Oats, declined to comment today.

Mr. Beggs said it woud be a step backward in the labor movement to allow any union to work on Saturday for straight pay.

Young Artist To Present Organ Concert

Richard Ellsasser, renowned American organist, will present an organ concert in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Friday night.

One of this continent's outstanding young organists, Mr. Ellsasser is heard in concerts annually by nearly 200,000 people and is also gaining recognition through radio and television.

He has appeared in Hollywood productions and his extensive recordings have received widespread recognition.

One of the most interesting aspects of Friday's concert will be Mr. Ellsasser's improvisation on a theme which he will not see until he is ready to improvise. The theme for this improvisation will be submitted by Christopher Gledhill, organist at St. Paul's Church.

A composer as well as a performer, Mr. Ellsasser won the Levitt Award for his score to the ballet, Greenwich Village. One of his own compositions will be included in the program.

The proceeds from the concert will go to the Peterborough Kiwanis Music Festival.

Howden Ave. To Get Gravel, Sidewalks

Board of works crew is doing a double job of improvement on Howden Ave. Concrete sidewalks are being laid on both sides of the street between Monaghan Road and Park St., and the roadway is being gravelled preparatory to being finished with an oil top.

Other department work under way at present includes the grading and finishing of a service road in front of the apartments of Miller Construction Co. on the west side of Clonsilla Ave. from Victory Crescent at the north end to Sherbrooke St.

The cost of this job is being paid by Miller Construction Co. The service road is parallel to Clonsilla Ave. and is being laid for the accommodation of the occupants of the apartments. It was undertaken as an alternative to separate entrances from Clonsilla to each apartment, and is made possible by the wide frontage between the new buildings and the street line. The city pays for a narrow street intersection front at the north end of the property.

UE Wins Vote 63-62 At Raybestos

IUE Will Appeal Charge Electioneering During Blackout

The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Indep.) defeated the rival International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO-CCL) 63 to 62 in a representation vote held Wednesday among the production workers at the Canadian Raybestos Co. plant.

Local 527, UE, thus retain the collective bargaining rights for the 126 production workers at the plant. The IUE failed by two votes to displace them.

Joe Wirtz, IUE Canadian coordinator, said today that his union will appeal the result of the vote on the grounds that the UE were electioneering during the 72-hour blackout on propaganda.

Sixty-three workers voted UE; sixty-two voted IUE, and one worker at the plant refused to vote at all. Another man was ill in hospital.

If the one man who did not vote had instead cast his ballot for IUE the count would have been tied, 63-all. However the UE would still have retained the bargaining rights; according to the Ontario Labor Relations Act the IUE had to get a majority to win.

The vote was ordered by the Ontario Labor Relations Board after hearing an application for certification by the IUE on April 15. The original application was on March 20.

FILED CARDS

At the hearing David Lewis, counsel for the IUE, filed 66 membership cards from the bargaining unit of 127 workers. This indicated that a majority of the plant were IUE and only 45 per cent was necessary for the OLRB to order a representation vote.

In the time interval the IUE presumably lost the allegiance of four members, a sufficient number to change the result of the voting.

J. M. Flannery, OLRB examiner, was the chief returning officer, supervising the vote which was held in the Raybestos canteen.

The result had barely been announced when charges and counter-charges started all over again. The propaganda war was resumed, with both sides keeping in mind the possibility of a similar vote among the CGE production workers.

John Whalen, president of Local 527, UE, aimed the first verbal blow: "This is the fifth time in Peterborough that the IUE's attempted raids on the UE have failed. At Raybestos the workers have lost several weeks of negotiating time as a result of the raid but they are now calling on the company to begin negotiations in good faith."

"We are going to appeal the vote," said Mr. Wirtz, "on the grounds that the UE were electioneering during the 72-hour blackout.

STARTED POOL

"UE members were placing bets in the plant Wednesday afternoon. One UE steward started a 25-cent pool on the size of the expected UE majority. That's electioneering.

"There is additional evidence that we are withholding at present but it will be submitted to the Board at the proper time."

Dispute At Plant

Another industrial dispute between management and employees has arisen in Peterborough. Proposals from the production employees' works council at Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. were reported to have been turned down by C. B. Merrett, manager, at a joint meeting Wednesday afternoon. The works council, consisting of one man, Gordon Hume, and four women, are reported to have asked for a substantial wage increase; a reduction of the work week from 45 to 40 hours with no loss of take-home pay; and an improved vacation plan: three weeks vacation with pay after 10 years service and two weeks after three years. There is no union at the plant.

WaterproofFloor Being Laid At Post Office

The troublesome Jackson Park creek which runs along beside the new Federal building on Charlotte St. has finally ceased to be an obstacle in holding back the construction of the building.

According to construction men on the job there is only ten or fifteen feet more of concrete to pour before the basement walls are completed. The reason for the length of delay in laying the foundations was due to the numerous underground streams that lie under the building site.

DIFFICULT PROCESS

Pumps had to be kept going 24 hours a day to keep the water out when they were pouring the cement in the boiler room and coal bunker which is six feet lower than the basement. A special waterproof floor was layed for lower levels to ensure that no dampness would leak through and rot the reinforced concrete.

While the cement was being poured and hardening the temperature had to be kept at 65 degrees. This was done by covering the boiler room and coal bunker with tarpaulins and heating them with steam.

The basement floor is now being poured and should take some time before it is completed. There first has to be a subfloor layed and then the process of water proofing with tar coated matting. Finally eight-inch reinforced concrete will be laid.

Next will come the job of setting the forms for the concrete pillars which will support the first floor. One story at a time will be built like layers of a cake.

The sewage disposal tank is expected to be installed today and the boilers and their fittings put in Friday or the beginning of next week.

Crash Victim Dies After 7 Days

Husband Released From Hospital Day of Wife's Death

Mrs. Joseph Edward Wildman, 78, of Centre Dummer died in city hospital Wednesday of injuries received a week ago today when her husband's car rolled over in a ditch on the Dummer township road just north of the village.

Coroner Dr. Herbert Young said there would be no inquest.

Mr. Wildman, 80, was released from hospital Wednesday after being treated for bruises and shock.

Mr. Wildman was believed to have suffered a weak spell while rounding a curve as he approached Norwood. He lost control of the car which plunged into the ditch and rolled over.

NO PERMIT

Provincial police said that Mr. Wildman had no driver's permit. No charges will be laid.

Mrs. Wildman, the former Harriet Ferguson, was born on the 8th con. of Dummer township, daughter of the late Peter Ferguson and Wealthy Ann Ruttan. She had been a resident of Centre Dummer for 20 years and, with the exception fo 15 years in the United States, had spent the rest of her life in Dummer township. She was a member of Norwood Baptist Church.

Surviving besides her husband are a son Joseph of Indianapolis, Ind.; two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Wildman (Josephine), also of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Albert Rainey (Annie Joy), Winnipeg; a sister, Mrs. Phoebe Lindsay of Northern Ontario; a brother, William Ferguson of Grafton, seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The funeral will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. from the McConnell-Warner funeral home, Norwood, by the Rev. J. Bingham of Norwood Baptist Church and Mr. E. Johnston of Norwood Pentecostal Church. Interment will be in Norwood cemetery.

Policy On Schools Shortsighted—Charge

ORILLIA (CP)—Trustee Mary Temple of Toronto Wednesday accused the Ontario government of following a shortsighted policy in not providing adequate accommodation for new pupils flocking to schools throughout the province.

Speaking during debate on the new grant policy at the one-day conference of the central zone of the Urban and Rural Trustees Association, she said:

"This province is at the peak of prosperity and it seems a strange time to start crying that the wolf is at the door. We need the gymnasiums and auditoriums and special classrooms that the government will not pay us a cent on."

Trustees from more than 100 boards in the area bounded by Oakville, Huntsville, Peterborough and Lake Ontario attended the conference.

The people of Ontario are spending three times as much on liquor and twice as much on tobacco as they are on education, she noted. When such conditions prevailed it was a strange thing to cut the expenditures on education.

Dr. John Long, chairman of the new Metropolitan School Board, agreed with Mrs. Temple. He said the average man today had 1,000 more hours of leisure per year than he did in 1920, but leisure has become one of his greatest problems because he did not know what to do with it.

"These so-called fads and frills —physical education, home economics, industrial arts, music, art, camera clubs and the rest—supply the boys and girls with activities to use in their leisure time," he maintained. "Instead of decreasing their importance in the curriculum, we should be increasing it."

STRESS EFFICIENCY

Some people, he continued, are in favor only of subjects which give more efficiency.

"But, good heavens, we're efficient enough. We've got the H-bomb and the A-bomb and all sorts of other symbols of our efficiency. What we need is the knowledge of how to use our power and the things that give us character and a soul."

Frank Douglas, chairman of North York Township School Area No. 1, said the government's new policy hit North York a tough blow right between the eyes. Many new schools were needed in the mush-rooming area and the policy had been to include a combined playroom-auditorium which was used extensively not only during school hours but as a community centre at nights.

"A room of this sort is necessary in the education now demanded," he said. "Since the government won't help pay for it, it is necessary to further burden our already hard-pressed taxpayers. To leave these things out of the schools would be asking for a sharp increase in juvenile delinquency."

NOT ALL IN AGREEMENT

Not all the delegates were agreed on the subject. Percy Muir, business administrator of the York Township Board of Education, admitted that a shudder went over the whole education system in the province when the no-grant policy was announced in February. But after an interview with Education Minister Dunlop and department officials, he concluded that the policy was necessary, although undesirable.

"It's a short-term thing and as soon as they're financially able they'll restore the grants," he predicted. "The education debt in the province was getting too high. Unless there was some brake, they were afraid the municipalities might overspend. It was a bitter pill for us to swallow, but better than overstraining our credit and being forced into the position we were in during the depression."

C. R. Marchant, Weston board business administrator, saw nothing wrong with cutting down physical education. He said 90 per cent of all complaints received from parents about schools dealt with the emphasis on organized sports. Five times as much time was spent on physical education as on music, he said. Other things of more value than sport were being pushed by the wayside.

Truck Kills Boy

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Albert Briseboise, 9, a son of Mr and Mrs. Edgar Genest, died Wednesday when struck by a truck after he fell off his bicycle. Lowell Brazeau, 22, driver of the truck, said he had no chance to avoid hitting the boy. A witness said the front wheel of the bicycle struck the curb and the boy lost his balance.

Troops Sail For Coronation

QUEBEC (CP) — The largest group of Canadian armed forces personnel who will take part in the Coronation procession in June sailed Wednesday aboard the liner Columbia.

More than 200 officers and men of the Canadian Army active and reserve forces and the RCAF, headed by Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone of Salmon Arm, B.C., and Sqdn. Ldr. K. H. Running, Smiths Falls and Carleton Place, Ont., will form the main body of the Canadian marching contingent.

High ranking officers sailing today included Lt.-Col. Paul Triquet, VC, of Quebec, second-in-command of the army's reserve force contingent.

Charge Soldier Attempted Murder

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Charges of attempted murder and of pointing a gun were laid Wednesday against James Cooper, a United States soldier, in connection with the shooting earlier in the day of Howard Morton, 24.

Cooper now is being held by Detroit police for questioning before being turned over to police here.

Hospital officials said Morton, a former resident of Chatham, is in serious condition with a bullet wound in his chest.

Cooper was picked up at his Detroit home a few hours after the shooting occurred a few blocks from a Windsor restaurant, where Morton and a U.S. soldier argued minutes earlier.

Piano Record

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Frenchman Robert Sergil set a world's record here Wednesday. He played the piano—non-stop—for 256 hours. The old record, held by Heinz Arntz of Germany, was 244 hours.

Kitchener Chosen Winner At Festival

GODERICH (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Little Theatre was chosen winner of the sixth annual drama festival here Wednesday night for its presentation of Thornton Wilder's play "The Happy Journey."

Kay Ireland, who played the leading role of Ma Kirby in the Kitchener-Waterloo production, received the award for best actress.

Best actor, in the opinion of adjudicator Henri de Menthon was Roy Fleming of the Sarnia Studio Club, who starred in its production of "Through a Glass, Darkly," by Stanley Richards.

BEST SUPPORTING ACTRESS

Opal Lewis, who played opposite Mr. Fleming, was selected as the best supporting actress.

Honorable mention actress and actor awards went to Betty Wilson, Sarnia, and Gerald Eldred, Galt.

The Galt Little Theatre Group received the award for production of the best Canadian play, "Eros at Breakfast," by Robertson Davies.

The Sarnia studio club captured the award for the second best play.

In Military Hospital

TOKYO (CP) — Two disabled Canadian soldiers released by the Communists in the prisoner-exchange at Panmunjom last week are in U.S. military hospital here today. They arrived here with a group of U.S. soldiers from Kure. The two Canadians are L. Cpl. Paul Dugal of Quebec City and Pte. Arthur J. Baker of Montreal. Both are members of the Royal 22nd Regiment.

Student Pantie Raid

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Police were called Wednesday night when male students staged a "pantie raid" on Spencer Hall, University of Western Ontario women students' residence. The youths made off with a supply of assorted lingerie after setting off firecrackers and turning out lights. More than 20 of the male students rushed into the hall after someone answered the door bell.

67 People Drown As Motorship Sinks

BOGOTA, Colombia (Reuters)—Fifty-two policemen and 15 crew members were drowned when the 1,764-ton Colombia motorship Colombia sank Tuesday between Puertos Cupisa and Bahia Solano, the Colombian navy said today.

The policemen were on their way to replace the garrison at Bahia Solano, on the Pacific coast.

Coast guardsmen rescued 18 men and found that the captain, two engineers and the paymaster had reached the shore.

Wife Files Action Against Milford Haven

NEW YORK (AP)—The Marchioness of Milford Haven announced through her lawyers Wednesday that she has begun an "action" against her husband, David Michael Mountbatten, the Marquess of Milford Haven.

The lawyers declined to state its nature. The wedding of the 33-year-old Mountbatten and the 29-year-old American-born divorcee, Romain Dahlgreen Piere Simpson, was a brilliant Washington social event in 1950.

"The complaint has been served upon Lord Milford Haven's attorneys," a brief statement read. "Lady Milford Haven regrets that she has been forced to take this action and does not wish at this time to disclose the contents of the complaint."

Newfoundland Gains Surplus

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Finance Minister Gregory Power presented his budget to the Newfoundland legislature Wednesday, estimating a surplus for the coming year of $4,095,300.

Terming it the "greatest budget in Newfoundland's history," Mr. Power said the province last year had a surplus of $6,544,100, nearly $250,000 more than estimated.

The budget called for only one tax change, a five-cent tax on admission to all places of entertainment. The estimated yield is about $250,000 and will be used for cancer control.

Mr. Power estimated revenue for the coming year at $36,095,300 and expenditure at $32,048,800.

Breithaupt Opens Hospital Wing

KINGSTON (CP) — Lieutenant-Governor Breithaupt Wednesday opened the new $658,000 Angada children's wing at the General Hospital here.

Designed to serve sick children in eastern Ontario, the five-storey building has 81 beds and the lates' equipment.

The lieutenant-governor gave statistics showing the decline in the death rate of children during the last 50 years and said the new wing will "contribute greatly to improving still further the trend indicated."

It is another great and humanitarian step forward for Kingston and eastern Ontario, he said.

During the morning, he toured the Royal Military College and took the salute at a march past of first- and second-year cadets.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, April 30th—I bought a garden yesterday . . . at the B of M! Thanks to Personal Planning, I had saved just enough to realize one of my home-improvement dreams—a real landscaping job . . . something I'd put off for years. On my last trip to the BANK OF MONTREAL, I happened to mention to the manager that I was going to "blow" my savings. He, bless his heart, came up with a better idea—"Why not save your savings and buy your improvements with a low-cost B of M Personal Loan? In this way," he explained, "you keep your savings intact and pay back the loan in easy monthly instalments." I jumped at the idea, and in less than no time the deed was done. If you have home-improvements on your mind or any other major expenditure, drop in and have a chat with your nearest B of M manager. And, while you're at it, ask for a copy of the booklet, "Personal Planning". You'll find it makes good sense.

For You!—This Beautiful Coronation Brooch designed by a leading jewellery artist . . . and the cost?—just 50c! Its retail value is at least $1.50—and it "looks like a million", with its 3-dimensional, gold-coloured frame; royal red velvet lining; 25 simulated Diamonds, Emeralds, Sapphires, Pearls and Rubies and a guaranteed safety catch. So smart for your Spring ensemble—you'll feel like a queen when you wear it. And all you have to do to get yours is write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411-A Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—enclosing 50c in coins or stamps and only one boxtop—from Colgate Dental Cream, Halo Shampoo, Colgate Chlorophyll Toothpaste or Fab—for each brooch desired. Write now while this very special Colgate-Coronation offer lasts!

Here's A Recipe I know you'll like . . . Potato Pancakes, made with delicious FRENCH'S INSTANT POTATO . . .

¼ cup French's Instant Potato Powder
¾ cup sifted flour
¼ tsp. salt
4 eggs, separated
1¼ cups milk

Mix French's Instant Potato Powder, flour and salt. Beat egg yolks slightly, combine with milk and add slowly to dry ingredients, beating smooth. Beat egg whites stiff; fold into first mixture, form into cakes. Bake on hot griddle, turning to brown on both sides. Yield: about 2 dozen pancakes.

M-mmm!—wonderful! And that's just a sample from a 25c, 32-page illustrated cook-book called "Culinary Art"—that's yours for just 10c. Simply write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your copy.

Whoosh! It's not quite that quick—but there's nothing slow about the way babies grow. And it's wise, mother, to keep up with your baby's rapid growth by giving him nourishing, wholesome food made specially for him. First of all, he'll grow healthy and strong on Heinz Pre-Cooked Cereals. Then he can graduate to HEINZ STRAINED BABY FOODS . . . meat food products, vegetables and desserts—all expertly blended to give him needed nourishment. Pre-cooked, too, to suit his taste and tummy. Then, when he's a little older, he'll be ready for HEINZ JUNIOR FOODS. Your dealer has all of the Heinz Baby Foods. Look for them next time you're shopping.

Dresses Of Linen or crisp cool organdy . . . dresses in lovely pastel shades—or dark for town . . . they're all lovely and lightweight for summer wear. You'll want a gay summer wardrobe of Dame Fashion's prettiest . . . all of them beautifully fitted with LIGHTNING FASTENERS. Why Lightning? Because this famous zipper gives you exactly what you want in colour, size (Style No. 702 designed especially for dresses) and length. Because it has an exclusive, automatic locking device . . . all Lightning Fasteners lock where they stop. Yes, Lightning Fasteners are the zipper for you—and for me, too! They're the "finishing touch" that makes each costume look and feel right.

An Excellent Suggestion . . . from Mrs. Clyde Scott, mother of Canada's famous Barbara Ann. She suggests that you compare BLUE BONNET MARGARINE with any spread at any price. And, like Mrs. Scott, I'm sure you'll love Blue Bonnet's fresh, country-sweet flavour. You'll appreciate Blue Bonnet's nutrition, too. (No other spread is richer in Vitamin A!) And you'll certainly appreciate its economy. Use Blue Bonnet in cooking, on vegetables and meat and as a delicious spread for bread. It's so handy to use in its famous Yellow Quik bag for fast, easy colouring. So ask for Blue Bonnet and get flavour, nutrition, economy and convenience.

You'll Be his favourite wife when you succeed in keeping his shirts whiter than white. And success comes easily when you use Blue—for Blue does the best job of all in keeping clothes from turning yellow. You know you must rinse your wash to get the clothes clean, then simply put a dash of Blue in the water—to get them really white. Those precious sheets you got for your wedding anniversary—the luncheon set that's your pride and joy . . . don't take chances—use Blue to keep them white. Costs just a few pennies a month—and that makes good sense, doesn't it? Yes, for the whitest wash, use RECKITT'S BLUE.

Such Delicious Meals come from the new GURNEY Gas Range. M-mmm! Food "cooked to a turn" and with the greatest of ease! Yes, you'll agree, once you've cooked with the new Gurney Gas Range, that it makes cooking and baking a pleasure. One of the Gurney features I particularly like is the glass oven-door panel—so you can see from the outside how things are coming along. And of course, there's the special Gurney "Even-Heat" oven that keeps the temperature exactly right—automatically. Why not see your Gurney dealer tomorrow? He'll show you all the exciting new features that make the Gurney Ranges so popular.

One Of The Nicest Meals Of The Week . . . that's Sunday supper with the family. And it's a special treat when you serve Salmon Supper Cakes with tangy lemon wedges. SUNKIST LEMONS, of course. They're the finest, juiciest grown—

SALMON SUPPER CAKES

1 can (½ lb.) pink salmon
3 medium potatoes
½ cup bread crumbs
fat for frying
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
fresh Sunkist lemon wedges

Boil and mash the potatoes. Flake salmon. Mix salmon with potatoes, moistening with one tablespoon fresh lemon juice and a little salmon liquor to get the right consistency to handle. Shape into small, flat cakes, dip into bread or cracker crumbs and fry until a golden brown on both sides. Serve with fresh lemon wedges.

Did You Know That You Can get bathroom tissue in dainty pastel shades to match the color-scheme of your bathroom? It's NANCY "TRIPLE-SOFT" TISSUE priced at only 20c per 800-sheet roll. I've found that this inexpensive way to add a pleasing note of color harmony to the bathroom is really catching on in a big way. And you'll like the extra softness of this 3-ply tissue. It's made of genuine facial-quality tissue by the Face-Elle people. You'll see it in the stores packaged in the distinctive wrapper with the red ends. You can also get Nancy in 2-ply white tissue. I can recommend either as being a wonderful improvement over the ordinary type of bathroom tissue.

Want More Bab... Smiles? Then I advise you to stock up with FARLEY'S RUSKS . . . the famous English rusks that are truly made for babies. You'll see them in food stores in the yellow package with the cellophane top. I know that Farley's are more than a rusk, more than a biscuit, they're a scientific baby formula in a form which can be eaten in hand or crushed and spoon fed in warm milk, fruit, jelly, or milk desserts. Farley's Rusks are made from selected wheats, other fine ingredients, sweetened for appealing taste . . . and with vital calcium and phosphorus added to aid in bone and tooth development. Farley's Rusks both please and benefit baby. For children, invalids, old folk, too. Farley's provide easily digested, quickly assimilated nourishment—and the taste appeals to all. Shop for Farley's soon.

Employment Higher In Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario employment is remaining stable at a level about four per cent higher than at the same time last year, the Ontario bureau of statistics reports.

Unemployed persons in mid-March totalled about 100,000, roughly 15,000 less than last year's figure. Seasonal gains in some jobs such as women's and children's clothing and shipbuilding offset losses in others such as logging and rubber footwear.

Increasing activity is expected in secondary textile industries, wood products, aircraft, automotive and electrical apparatus. Farm implement firms are operating at reduced rates.

HIGHER PAYROLLS

Higher payrolls and real earnings were credited for pushing retail trade 8.4 per cent higher in the first two months than in the same period last year, the monthly survey showed.

Appliances and furniture sales increased, while men's clothing sales dropped off. Construction contracts were increased.

Total payrolls in manufacturing industries in February were 15.1 per cent higher, with weekly average earnings at a record of $61.77. By regions, the Nickel Belt continues to lead in average pay with $75.02 weekly.

Presents Credentials

OTTAWA (CP)—Gen. Teodoro Ruiz, newly-appointed Chilean ambassador to Canada, presented his credentials to Governor-General Vincent Massey Wednesday. The former air force general of Chile was accompanied by Gaston Wilson first secretary of the Chilean embassy.

Launch Escort Ship

MONTREAL (CP)—A sleek, grey anti-submarine destroyer escort, the HMCS Ottawa, was launched Wednesday at the yards of Canadian Vickers Limited here.

Mrs. H. G. DeWolf, wife of Rear-Admiral H. G. DeWolf, chairman of the Canadian joint staff in Washington, christened the vessel, after it was blessed by Rev. T. Deschenes, Navy chaplain.

Thief Steals Car Then Sets It Afire

TORONTO (CP)—What at first appeared to be an ordinary car theft Wednesday night, turned into a whodunnit for township police when the car thief set fire to the car.

A 1947 model of an expensive car was stolen in Hamilton, driven to Weston, and set on fire.

Township police could offer no explanation but said the case was under investigation.

Columnist Wins PC Nomination

TORONTO (CP)—Margaret Aitken, 44, for 10 years a columnist on The Telegram, Wednesday night won the York-Humber Progressive Conservative nomination for the federal election on the first ballot.

The riding is a new one under redistribution. Miss Aiken won with 441 votes to 382 for Eric Baker and 32 for J. J. Addy.

Credit Union Expansion Worries Senate

OTTAWA (CP)—A wave of opposition developed in the Senate Wednesday at the prospect of Canada's credit unions expanding into a national organization to lend money from province to province.

Senator Cyrille Vaillancourt (L—Quebec) said such centralization could have bad results. Senator Arthur Roebuck (L—Ontario) saw it as a "great big mushroom" that could come tumbling down if the props were knocked out of one part of it. Senator G. P. Burchill (L—New Brunswick) was of like mind.

Senator J. W. de B. Farris (L—British Columbia) and some others who favored the idea tried to quiet the fears of the dissenters, but were not entirely successful.

CHARTER APPROVED

A government bill to provide a general charter of rules and regulations under which a national credit association could operate, got approval in principle "on division"—a parliamentary way of showing dissent without a recorded vote.

The measure already has passed the Commons and now goes to a Senate committee for further study.

Mining industries, notably copper account for about three-quarters of the exports of chile.

LIFE SAVED—Eleven-year-old Gerald Green, his arm severed at the shoulder by a whirling sawmill blade on the remote Labrador coast, rests in a hospital in St. John's, Nfld. The boy and his father (left), a 35-year-old school teacher, battled some of the worst hazards southern Labrador could produce in a 2½-day trip which included a race by dog team over harbor ice already beginning to break up and a motorboat trip through ice floes. They rode in a seaplane for the last lap.

Provision Gets Ottawa Approval

OTTAWA (CP)—A controversial provision touching on strikes in public utilities and transportation was approved Wednesday by the House of Commons criminal law committee despite protests from CCF members against it becoming part of the Criminal Code.

The committee, studying a general consolidation of the code, voted 4 to 3 against a CCF suggestion embodying the proposals of the 370,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor.

Then the committee voted 4 to 3 in favor of an amendment which the 20,000-member Trades and Labor Congress earlier told the committee would be acceptable to it. The amendment was drafted by the justice department and moved by F. D. Shaw (SC—Red Deer).

The committee spent the greater part of two meetings trying to iron out the objections of the two major labor groups to a clause in the proposed new code The clause would make it an offence wilfully to break a contract when such action would hold up service by a public ufility, endanger life or expose property to injury or destruction.

ADDS CLAUSE

The amendment adopted by the committee adds a clause specifying that there would be no offence on the part of employees or unions in the case of a legal strike.

J. W. Noseworthy (CCF—York South), a former CCL organizer, said provincial labor laws provide amply for "so-called illegal strikes." There was no good reason for providing additional penalties of up to five years in the Criminal Code.

During a general discussion of the section earlier, Don Brown (L—Essex West), committee chairman, read a telegram from the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor supporting the CCL stand.

The Strand in London was first mentioned in Anglo-Saxon chronicles of A.D. 1052.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Lamb Demands Specialized Attention

If and when I do go out for dinner and have a choice, when lamb is on the menu I order it.

Now I know folks who go overboard for steak or roast chicken in much the same way but I'm a lamb woman.

Have I told you the story of my father's cousin Sarah who emigrated to Canada from England in 1946, and in spite of a low budget bought lamb at $1.30 per pound for four Sundays in a row because she was so hungry for it? She told that they hadn't tasted it in England for over seven years.

Lamb demands specialized attention. But you folks came second when I made Lamb Curry for dinner last Sunday. I made it because I wanted it. But I knew the recipe was headed for this column when the rest of the family enjoyed it so much.

The classic, Roast Lamb and Mint Sauce come first.

ROAST LAMB

A 6-lb. leg of lamb is about the best buy. Wipe meat with damp cloth and sprnikle with salt and pepper. If you are going to glaze it (see below) it is ready for hte oven now. If you are not glazing it, sprinkle it with paprika and sparingly with flour Place fat side up on rack in open pan in preheated oven of 325 deg. Fahr. For a well-done roast it requires 2¾ hours. For a medium-done roast 2¼ hours. Do not and water, or baste or cover.

If you would like to glaze it dissolve ½ cup grape or apple or mint jelly in ½ cup boiling water, and baste it with this during the last 40 minutes of roasting. Roast Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb is done in the same way, but since shoulders are always smaller, roasting time is never over 2 hours.

Mint Sauce: Chop mint as finely as possible on chopping board or in chopping bowl. Dissolve 1½ tablespoons sugar in ¼ cup boiling water and when dissolved, pour this and ¼ cup mild vinegar over the chopped mint. Let stand 1 hour covered, before serving.

EMEM'S LAMB CURRY

(serves 5)

In this recipe I used the milk from a fresh cocoanut as part of the liquid, and I believe, and my family agrees, that the flavor was rich and delicious, but you need not do this. If fresh cocoanuts are not yet available in your community skip the cocoanut part and use water.

In 3 tablespoons fresh bacon drippings saute ½ cup each finely chopped onion and celery including leaves, for 5 minutes, without browning them much. Cut 1 lb. stewing lamb (or veal) in 1-inch pieces and add to it one ½-inch thick pork chop cut in 1-inch pieces too. Dredge the meat with flour and add to the pan with the onions and celery and sear it for about 3 or 4 minutes, constantly turning. Add 1½ cups boiling water or the milk of 1 fresh cocoanut made up to 1½ cups with boiling water, stir until liquid is thick, cover, reduce heat as much as possible and simmer 1 hour. Now add the seasonings: 1 to 3 teapsoons curry powder (we added 3), ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar. It does not need pepper. The curry makes it hot enough. Some curry addicts like ¼ teaspoon powdered ginger, or 1 teaspoon finely chipped preserved ginger added to this, but it is too hot for me so I can't recommend it. Plenty of people love it though. Have ready plenty of fluffy boiled rice. Shape it into a big ring on hot platter. Pour Lamb Curry in centre. Garnish with parsley sprigs in the rice ring.

I passed freshly grated peeled cocoanut piled lightly in a little bowl at the table. That was the sensation of the meal.

This same idea could be used for an economical but different midnight snack. Serve the curry in a large bowl. Pass freshly grated peeled cocoanut in a small bowl—also chutney. Fresh white bread or white bread toasted or homemade hot rolls served with it will make your reputation as a clever cook and hostess.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Lamb Demands Specialized Attention

If and when I do go out for dinner and have a choice, when lamb is on the menu I order it.

Now I know folks who go overboard for steak or roast chicken in much the same way but I'm a lamb woman.

Have I told you the story of my father's cousin Sarah who emigrated to Canada from England in 1946, and in spite of a low budget bought lamb at $1.30 per pound for four Sundays in a row because she was so hungry for it? She told that they hadn't tasted it in England for over seven years.

Lamb demands specialized attention. But you folks came second when I made Lamb Curry for dinner last Sunday. I made it because I wanted it. But I knew the recipe was headed for this column when the rest of the family enjoyed it so much.

The classic, Roast Lamb and Mint Sauce come first.

ROAST LAMB

A 6-lb. leg of lamb is about the best buy. Wipe meat with damp cloth and sprnikle with salt and pepper. If you are going to glaze it (see below) it is ready for hte oven now. If you are not glazing it, sprinkle it with paprika and sparingly with flour Place fat side up on rack in open pan in preheated oven of 325 deg. Fahr. For a well-done roast it requires 2¾ hours. For a medium-done roast 2¼ hours. Do not and water, or baste or cover.

If you would like to glaze it dissolve ½ cup grape or apple or mint jelly in ½ cup boiling water, and baste it with this during the last 40 minutes of roasting. Roast Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb is done in the same way, but since shoulders are always smaller, roasting time is never over 2 hours.

Mint Sauce: Chop mint as finely as possible on chopping board or in chopping bowl. Dissolve 1½ tablespoons sugar in ¼ cup boiling water and when dissolved, pour this and ¼ cup mild vinegar over the chopped mint. Let stand 1 hour covered, before serving.

EMEM'S LAMB CURRY

(serves 5)

In this recipe I used the milk from a fresh cocoanut as part of the liquid, and I believe, and my family agrees, that the flavor was rich and delicious, but you need not do this. If fresh cocoanuts are not yet available in your community skip the cocoanut part and use water.

In 3 tablespoons fresh bacon drippings saute ½ cup each finely chopped onion and celery including leaves, for 5 minutes, without browning them much. Cut 1 lb. stewing lamb (or veal) in 1-inch pieces and add to it one ½-inch thick pork chop cut in 1-inch pieces too. Dredge the meat with flour and add to the pan with the onions and celery and sear it for about 3 or 4 minutes, constantly turning. Add 1½ cups boiling water or the milk of 1 fresh cocoanut made up to 1½ cups with boiling water, stir until liquid is thick, cover, reduce heat as much as possible and simmer 1 hour. Now add the seasonings: 1 to 3 teapsoons curry powder (we added 3), ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar. It does not need pepper. The curry makes it hot enough. Some curry addicts like ¼ teaspoon powdered ginger, or 1 teaspoon finely chipped preserved ginger added to this, but it is too hot for me so I can't recommend it. Plenty of people love it though. Have ready plenty of fluffy boiled rice. Shape it into a big ring on hot platter. Pour Lamb Curry in centre. Garnish with parsley sprigs in the rice ring.

I passed freshly grated peeled cocoanut piled lightly in a little bowl at the table. That was the sensation of the meal.

This same idea could be used for an economical but different midnight snack. Serve the curry in a large bowl. Pass freshly grated peeled cocoanut in a small bowl—also chutney. Fresh white bread or white bread toasted or homemade hot rolls served with it will make your reputation as a clever cook and hostess.

Home and School Association News

NORWOOD

NORWOOD (ENS)— The Home and School Association met in the public school with the president, Mrs. Jack Stewart, in the chair and Mrs. Jack Cronin at the piano.

Volunteers were received for decorating a couple of stands for the Coronation celebration. William Goodswan, Mrs. Harry Wilford, Mrs. Gerald Martin, Mrs. H. W. Hudson and Mrs. Melville Andrews will be in charge of the float for that day.

Edgar Clarke, treasurer, reported proceeds from the school fair were $158.76, making a bank balance of $199.94. There are 97 paid up members. Reports were given by conveners of the fair.

The attendance banner was again won by Kenneth Trumpour's room. There will be a vaccination clinic May 13 with Dr. A. R. Atkinson in charge. A number of ladies volunteered to help.

The president asked for cars to take the children of Mrs. Reta Pakenham's room to the Kiwanis Festival.

Miss Ruth Avery reported on free TB literature on hand. Mrs. Stewart thanked the teachers for their part in making the fair a success.

Duncan Sinclair, principal, spoke to the parents on registering their children for beginner's class in September.

Mrs. Max Scott took charge of the program. Mrs. J. H. Caskey and Mrs. William Sarden Jr., played a piano duet "The Robins Return."

Mrs. Scott introduced the guest speaker Arthur Duncan, Latawa, president of the Trent Valley Hockey League, who spoke on "The Philosophy of Mother Goose." He said the four essential qualities in child education were simplicity, action, good humor and mystery. There was a lot we could get out of the simplicity of baby rhymes to take along with us. He closed his address with two poems and a toast to the Norwood association. Mr. Sinclair thanked the speaker on behalf of the association.

Those in charge of the lunch were Mrs. Harry Wilford, Mrs. Melville Andrews, Mrs. Gordon Rothwell, Mrs. Keith Ross, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. Kenneth Pakenham, Mrs. Max Scott, Mrs. Roy Scott, Mrs. George Richardson, Mrs. Perrin Rork, Mrs. Charles Rose, Mrs. Thomas Ranson and Mrs. Harry Sherwin.

RHEUMATIC PAIN
Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. Glofcheskie, Wilno, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

Don't suffer from Rheumatic or Arthritic pain. Take Templeton's T-R-C's—Canada's LARGEST-SELLING proprietary medicine to bring quick relief from such pain. Only 65c, $1.35 at druggists. T-848

IT MAY BE YOUR LIVER
If life's not worth living it may be your liver!

It's a fact! It takes up to two pints of liver bile a day to keep your digestive tract in top shape! That's when you need mild gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills. These famous vegetable pills help stimulate the flow of liver bile. Soon your digestion starts functioning properly and you feel that happy days are here again! Don't ever stay sunk. Always keep Carter's Little Liver Pills on hand.

DOROTHY DIX:

Girl 13 Wants To Have Fun Parents Disagree On Method

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm 13 years old and mother doesn't approve of my going on dates until I'm 15 or 16. I'm in love with a boy 20, who is in the Army. Mother, of course, doesn't know about it, and he tells me I'm silly to do what she says. Do you think it would hurt for me to go with boys and not tell her? My dad says I should go ahead and have fun. I'm all mixed up.

KATHERINE L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No wonder you are all mixed up! When the two people most concerned with your welfare can't agree on your conduct, certainly it's difficult for you to know what to do. You are facing a trio of opinions, with two for you (in your opinion) and one against you, and mother dropped another log on the fire when she voted against you. Apparently the vote of mom and her common sense, thereby avoiding much trouble and heartache.

PARENTS MUST SEE EYE-TO-EYE

Parents should present a united front in dealing with their children, if the youngsters are to grow up well adjusted. Such differences as do occur between mom and dad should be settled between them in private, and not aired before the children. A child who has different rules of conduct presented from mother and father is greatly handicapped.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Four months ago I learned that my 24-year-old unmarried son was having an affair with a married woman, the mother of three children. He has tried breaking off the relationship, but each time she pesters him with telephone calls until he sees her again. She claims she doesn't love her husband, but accepts his support. She refuses to leave him and go to work to support the children. What can I do?

MRS. R. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Get in touch with the woman and threaten to tell her husband of her infidelity. Apparently she is more concerned with collecting his pay check and avoiding work than with anything else, and the possibility of having this support taken away will accomplish more than an appeal to her decency. I doubt if this woman will hesitate to make her choice.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a fine girl friend with whom I am very much in love. A few months ago I was taken ill with tuberculosis, and am now in the hospital. Since I realize that I may be ill for several years, I told the girl to go out with other men, and I would hold her to no promises. She refuses to accept the suggestion, and said she will wait for me if it takes years.

M. G. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You can certainly thank God for a wonderful friend. You can be quite sure of her love if she's willing to wait through your long hospitalization. Let's hope it won't be as long as you anticipate.

Student Nurses Entertain Graduating Class

The intermediate and junior students of St. Joseph's School of Nursing entertained the 1953 graduating class Wednesday evening in the residence auditorium.

Miss Ellen Houlihan was in charge of the arrangements and an interesting program was presented with Miss Mary Collins as chairman.

Vocal numbers were sung by Miss Thelma Dion, Miss Mary Ferguson, Miss Ellen Houlihan, Miss Ann LaPointe, Miss Mary Roddy and Miss Joan Whitmore. A piano duet was played by Miss Jane O'Loughlin and Miss Joan Whitmore. Violin selections were played by Miss Barbara Brooks, tap dancing by Miss Thelma Dion and choral selections by the school chorus.

Miss Ann Marie O'Toole reviewed in retrospect the interesting highlights of the student days. Miss Madeline Young gave famous sayings, and a 20-year forecast for the members of the class was given by Miss Ann LaPointe.

The Student Council awarded a book to Miss Marie Hogan for the best school spirit.

Refreshments were served and favors appropriate to the occasion were distributed.

Canadian Girl Takes Course In Horsemanship

PORLOCK VALE, England (CP) —There'll be little that 17-year-old Janet Spenceley of London, Ont., won't know about horses when she completes her "horsemanship" course at this Somerset centre shortly.

Miss Spenceley, a member of the Pony Club of Canada, is the first Canadian to be awarded a scholarship to Porlock Vale Riding School, one of the largest riding colleges in the country. Most scholars are experienced riders when they arrive.

Along with other Commonwealth students, Miss Spenceley learns in 15 weeks the theory and practice of stable management, horsemanship, horse training and veterinary treatment and how to organize and conduct riding schools.

She grooms horses, feeds, exercises and stables them, is responsible for saddles and harnes. Once a week scholars are taken on long rides over Exmoor. Dressage and jumping of show horses are taught by qualified instructors.

Porlockford House, where Janet stays when she isn't in the stables, stands in 30 acres of ground running down to the sea and backing on to the famous moors, known as "the riding playground of England."

Bowling Club Holds Closing Banquet

The annual closing banquet of the St. Andrew's Bowling Club was held Tuesday night in the recreation room of St. Andrew's United Church.

Mrs. Mary Edwards and Mrs. Leone Moncrief were in charge of the dinner arrangements and members and guests sat down to tables decorated with lovely spring flowers.

Mrs. D. R. Morrow welcomed the guests and introduced the Rev. Henry Cotton, who gave a very interesting talk on, Our World Today.

Mr. Ray Morrow, games convener, announced the names of the following winners: 1—team 1, Mr. Ray Morrow, skip; 2—team 1, Mrs. Hattie Morrow, skip; 3—team 3, Mrs. Leona Moncrief, skip; 4—team 5, Mrs. Mary Saunders, skip. The consolation prize went to Mrs. Margaret Weir.

Miss Clara Dobbin presented the prizes.

Mr. Joe Cooper of the Peterborough Film Council, showed three films: Fundy Holiday, The Man in the Peace Tower, and Bell Telephone Orchestra.

Mr. Reg. Dyer thanked the ladies for the lovely dinner and also the younger members who assisted with the serving.

Mr. George Tremaine, oldest member of the club, was missing at the banquet for the first time in many years. He is quite ill in a Hamilton hospital.

Hastings News

AMAZING NEW PAINT

Here's good news for the Home Decorator—a flat paint which is so durable and scrubable that it may be used on both walls and woodwork—and the finish and the colors are the most beautiful you have ever seen!

PRACTICAL AND SIMPLE TO USE

Moore's Alkyd Sani-Flat is the easiest paint to apply you have ever tried. No undercoats are needed—simply apply it directly on old paint, new plaster or wood. One coat will cover in many cases but, if two are needed, simply apply another one. Use roller or brush—here's truly a wonder paint.

Trinity Mothers Spring Tea Held Under Ideal Weather

Delightful springtime weather and a lovely Springtime Tea in the Trinity Hall Wednesday afternoon went hand in hand to spell success for the Trinity Baby Mothers.

This annual event to raise money for the Mothers' welfare work in the church and in the city was the second tea in the new hall. It was distinguished by being the first tea at which the new minister's wife, Mrs. Gordon S. Maxwell, has acted in an official capacity. Mrs. Maxwell was receiving with president Mrs. William Taylor and met more than 500 guests.

Violets and cupids were chosen as the theme of decorations this year. The cupids displayed the artistic design capability of Mrs. H. Gray and it was perhaps the expressions of two that had been caught in April showers that revealed it at its best. The violets were in large clusters on the wall and they also decorated the candy boxes and were embodied in the decoration of the booths done with skirts and canopies of sunshine yellow.

Mrs. Earle Wellman was co-convener with Mrs. Gray on the decorations and their assistants included Mrs. P. Calhoun, Mrs. R. Kempt, Mrs. N. Bennett, Mrs. D. Irving and Mrs. Brooks.

The tea table was placed in the centre of the hall and it was centred with a bouquet which carried out the violet shades in sweet peas and phlox and the yellow in iris, daffodils and daisies. Yellow tapers on either side were in pyramid arrangement. Presiding were the presidents of other mothers' groups in the city, Mrs. H. Hamley for Mark St. Church, Mrs. Harold Shaw for Murray St., Mrs. O. Mackay for George St. and Mrs. S. Deyell for Stewart Hall.

Hostesses who guided guests to places at the quartette tables were Mrs. E. McWilliam, Mrs. John Davern, Mrs. R. T. Bogle and Mrs. Wellman.

The tea room was in charge of Mrs. W. B. Gordon and Mrs. A. E. Thompson and their assistants were Mrs. J. Pierce, Mrs. R. Seabrooke, Mrs. W. Laird, Mrs. W. Van Atter, Mrs. D. Clarke, Mrs. W. Van Stienburg, Mrs. K. Harrison, Mrs. R. Scrutton, Mrs. D. Irving, Mrs. J. Moebus, Mrs. D. Lillico, Mrs. B. Harrison, Mrs. Wm. Cuppy, Mrs. J. Robson, Mrs. D. Murray, Mrs. A. Purdon, Mrs. W. B. Arnup, Mrs. N. Bennett, Mrs. E. Edmonson, Mrs. G. Vallery, Mrs. Hugh Redmond, Mrs. A. E. Huehn, Mrs. R. Huffman, Mrs. Wm. Messervey, Mrs. T. Clarke, Mrs. W. Swain, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. P. Calhoun, Mrs. E. Malcolm, Mrs. J. Staves, Mrs. G. Wallace, Mrs. L. Northey, Mrs. D. Aitken, Mrs. C. Isaac, Mrs. E. Gregg, Mrs. J. H. Fraser and Mrs. A. Parker.

Piano music providing a background for the tea cup chatter so pleasant was by Mrs. Hugh Redmond, Mrs. John Stewart and Mrs. Wm. Messervey.

Quite a large portion of the financial returns were from the sale of goods. The home baking was of very fine quality and eye appeal and the variety included bread. Within 20 minutes of the tea time the table was almost bare.

The bazaar table was particularly attractive to mothers,—almost like a children's clothing store, only these garments were homemade. Another table offered "white elephants" which were novelties, dishes, etc. There were also special occasion cards and magazine subscriptions for sale.

Convener of the home baking was Mrs. K. W. Milne and her sales assistants were Mrs. D. Cutmore, Mrs. D. G. Smith, Mrs. K. I. Barltrop, Mrs. C. Isaac, Mrs. B. Till and Mrs. G. Kiff. Candy table conveners were Mrs. Don Lamont and Mrs. H. E. Coon and they were assisted by Mrs. J. Sage. The bazaar conveners were Mrs. O. Jamison and Mrs. R. Macdonald and Mrs. A. Legon and Mrs. L. A. Brooks assisted them. Mrs. G. Thomson collected the white elephants and was assisted in selling by Mrs. L. Smith. Mrs. S. Phillips sold the cards.

Mrs. Melville Elliott and Mrs. Jack Skitch were the general conveners of this event and responsible for its success. They included in the arrangements a nursery for the children in the upstair classrooms and Mrs. Skitch took charge.

Treasurers at the door were Mrs. Douglas Tanney and Mrs. W. Wildman.

Athletic Awards Given At Mother And Daughter Tea

One of hte biggest social events of the school year at PCVS is the Girls' Athletic Auxiliary tea for their mothers and special guests. The girls entertained on Wednesday after four o'clock in the gym and were themselves honored by having presented on this occasion the athletic awards won.

There were 250 awards given out this year, the greatest number to date. Principal Mr. C. S. Browne made the presentaitons, assisted by the athletic director Miss Audrey Hustwitt. He made special comment on the swimming which has been outstanding this year.

Welcome was extended to the guests by GAA president Miss Maizie Shearer. The girls entertained with a demonstration of their gym work including drills, tumbling, pyramids, etc. Mrs. R. R. Baker played their march music and fanfare.

Six committees were formed among the students to carryout the tea ararngements. Chairmen of each were Marilyn Bentley, food; Carol Wood, decorations; Arlene Nickson, corsages; Margaret Patterson, servers; Nancy Rose, dishwahsing; Nancy Zolyomy, advertising, and Shirley Peryer was convener of tickets. Carol Wood and Donalda Powers played the piano as the guesst arrived. The daughters were on hand to greet their mohters and conduct them to seats.

The tea table was very dainy with an arrangement of white and purple hya inths highlighted with lighted pencil tapers and set in a dish filled with pink sweet peas, and flanking candelabra held pink candles. The tea pourers were Mrs. C. S. Browne and Mrs. Paige Rowell and Mrs. Blake Bell and Mrs. F. A. Shearer.

The awards were presented to the following:

Radio Can Detect Celestial Systems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two scientists say celestial systems far beyond the range of existing telescopes can apparently be detected by radio which picks up noises created by heat and other radiation.

Dr. Martin Ryle of Cambridge, England, and Dr. Rudolph Minkowski of Mt. Wilson and Mt. Palomar observatories in California described the evidence Wednesday at meetings of the National Academy of Sciences and affiliated groups.

They mentioned no specific distances, but said some noises picked up by sensitive radio devices apparently stem from galaxies far beyond the vision range of the 200-inch Mt. Palomar telescope.

And that's a long way, for it has an estimated range of 5,900,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles.

Supports Suggestion Indians Given Vote

BRANTFORD (CP)—Chief councillor James Powless of the Six Nations Indians said Wednesday he supports Welfare Minister Goodfellow's suggestion that Indians be given the right to vote and equal liquor privileges.

"Indians desire equal liquor privileges not to boost the sale of liquor but to be free men and women in a free country," he said. "Indians should be given the right to vote because they should have the right to choose their government just as any white man."

Special Train To Haliburton Cottage Sites

LINDSAY (ENS)—Evidence of the development of the Haliburton lake cottage project, the work of a Toronto realty firm and the Haliburton Developments is seen in the notice this week that a special train of owners and prospective buyers of the cottagers will be run from Toronto to the site, this weekend.

The train will leave Toronto Saturday morning and will carry many of those who have purchased the cottages of which 50 have been finished on the property once owned by Clayton Hodgson, MP, on what was formerly known as Crooked Lake, near the village of Haliburton. The passengers on the train will be taken by bus to the site of the cottages. The Haliburton Rotary Club has prepared a large snack bar tent in the village, and other features will fill the afternoon program, including the official opening of the project. A fish derby will be held for the visitors, with Mr. Hodgson as judge. Tours of the lake in boats, and the surrounding country by plane will also be offered. Some 800 cottages are planned in the area, Canada's first completely planned summer cottage development. Work has been going on now for more than a month.

Coronation Tea Held By Omemee WA

OMEMEE (ENS).—Flags, red, white and blue streamers and pictures of the members of the Royal Family were the setting for a Coronation tea and bazaar held by the Trinity United Church Woman's Association Tuesday afternoon.

The general effect was enhanced by potted spring flowers. The small tables were each centred by miniature mounitng of British and Canadian flags, and the menu carried out the royal color scheme in the salad plate.

The bazaar consisted of a home baking table in charge of Mrs. H. Lang and Mrs. P. Brooks, a country store managed by Mrs. M. Jones, Mrs. A. Tully and Mrs. T. A. McConnell, and a mystery parcel sale with Mrs. W. D. Weir in charge.

The table committee was convened by Mrs. T. J. Pogue, and the menu committee by Mrs. V Lang. Assisting were Mrs. Hough, Mrs. V. E. R. Zufelt, Mrs. H. Laidley, Mrs. E. Mahood, and Mrs. Wilfred Wilson.

President Mrs. H. Deyell received, assisted by Mrs. Zufelt and Mrs. H. Graham. Mrs. G. Overholt and Mrs. S. D. Vaughan poured tea. Mrs. T. J. Pogue, Mrs. M. Finney, Mrs. R. Rehill, and Mrs. G. Smith served.

Girl Given Portrait For Accident Help

STIRLING (ENS) — A former RCAF Trenton Girl Guide, Heather McGregor, recently received a framed charcoal portrait of herself by the Canadian artist Egbert C. Reid, in recognition of her prompt and intelligent action on Highway 2 near Trenton air station.

She was delivering papers near her home when she saw an airman struck by a truck and badly injured. Heather hurried to a nearby telephone but found the line to hospital busy, so she hurried on her bicycle to the station hospital and summoned a doctor and ambulance to the scene of the accident.

The award was made in Barrie where her father has been stationed with the RCAF since November.

John Henry Gay

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Funeral services were conducted today for John Henry Gay, who passed away suddenly at his home on Monday night following a heart attack. He was in his 53rd year.

Mr. Gay, better known to his many friends as "Harry" was born in Bonarlaw, son of the late Edith Brown and John Gay. He resided in this district all his life and was a grocer in Campbellford for a number of years.

Surviving besides his father, John Gay, are one sister, Mrs. Hogle (Lulu) and a brother James, both of Campbellford.

Services were conducted from his home at 66 Doxsee Ave. S. with the Rev. D. M. Smith of St. John's United Church officiating. Pallbearers were Malcolm Cook, Harry Denike, Ronald Brown, Douglas Brown, Grant Gay and Harold Sanders. Interment was in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Taking Boy To Hospital Crashes Parked Car

Taking a child to the hospital Wednesday after he had been injured in an automobile accident, Darrell Willshaw of 504 Patterson St. suffered injuries himself when the car he was driving crashed into the rear of a parked vehicle.

The child, Brian Green, 6, of 26 Edgewater Blvd., son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Green, had run into the path of Willshaw's vehicle and suffered several cuts and bruises. Willshaw put him in the back seat of his car and set off for St. Joseph's Hospital.

Enroute he glanced into the back seat to see how the Green child was faring when his car struck a parked vehicle belonging to Alfred Fuller of 70 Robinson Ave.

Willshaw suffered a cut nose and the cars were damaged to the extent of $550.

PC J. A. Armstrong investigated the accidents.

James Dutton Resigns Board

At the request of James Dutton, board of works recommended Monday that his resignation from the town planning committee be accepted.

Mr. Dutton wrote that a great deal of his time was now spent out of the city, "and I don't like apologizing to the planning committee for my absences." He had previously asked to be relieved of the chairmanship.

A motion by Aldermen H. T. Rehill and Syd Black accepted Mr. Dutton's resignation, and directed City Clerk Outram to convey to Mr. Dutton the council's appreciation of his service on the town planning committee.

Mr. Dutton has been a member since its inception and was for years its chairman, in his expressed conviction that Peterborough and its people owed it to adopt and follow a planned course of expansion in its physical appearance and development.

Department Of Health

the agreement, the separate schools will be getting the same health services as those outlined for the public schools. For the past few years, the Board of Health has provided nursing services in the separate schools.

The board authorized Dr. Wells to interview members of this year's graduating class of the School of Public Health Nursing, University of Toronto, in an effort to bring the department's staff up to the required number.

VON HELPS OUT

The situation will be temporarily solved by an agreement with the Peterborough Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses. Ald. J. A. Dewart, chairman of the board, was authorized to sign an agreement with the VON by which VON nurses will work three half days with the department. This arrangement will be carried out through May and possibly through June.

The board supported Dr. Wells' recommendation that Miss Veronica O'Leary, a department nurse, be appointed senior nurse in a supervisory capacity until a supervisor is employed.

The question of health services for St. Alphonsus Separate School was also discussed at the meeting. This school is outside the city, but has an 80 per cent enrolment of city students. At present the Board of Health has a similar agreement with the school's board for nursing services as with the Separate School Board. The only difference is that the Separate School Board has paid a set fee for these services each year and the St. Alphonsus board has paid according to the enrolment every year.

The chairman was authorized to meet the board and draw up an agreement for services.

Driver Found Not Guilty Of Two Charges

Damage totalled $350 in a two-car accident Wednesday involving Miss Effie Dale of 1141 High St. and a parked car belonging to Paul Moloney of 321 Dalhousie.

Driving with a 60-day permit, Miss Dale was travelling west on Dalhousie and pulled to the left to avoid cars parked on the right side. She ran into a car parked on the left side of the road. Damage was shared equally by the two vehicles.

Rev. John Purser Gets Rectorship

Curate of St. John's Anglican Church for two years, the Rev. John Purser will assume duties Friday as recton of the Church of the Incarnation in Toronto

His new duties commence exactly two years after coming to Peterborough as a graduate of Wycliffe College in Toronto.

Originally from Cobourg, Mr. Purser was informed of his appointment three weeks ago The Church of the Incarnation is a small mission on Victoria Park in east Toronto.

UE Wins Vote

Mr. Wirtz added that the vote did not indicate a majority in the plant for the UE. One man didn't vote and another was away ill.

The declaration that the IUE would appeal the results was pooh-poohed by Ralph Sullivan, UE area representative.

"The action of the IUE in claiming to file an objection on the vote is but another attempt to impede negotiations at the Raybestos plant," said Mr. Sullivan.

"UE observed the election rules to the letter. However if they want to make an issue of this a record of their pre-election activities will be made known. For example, in a radio talk Tuesday night by Mr. Wirtz, during the 72-hour blackout period, every rule in the book was violated."

TAPE RECORDING

Mr. Sullivan said his union had a tape recording of the talk. He quoted Mr. Wirtz as saying "Vote IUE". Ostensibly this was a broadcast dealing with similar union trouble at the CGE, said Mr. Sullivan, but as the OLRB has not ordered a vote among the production workers there, it could only refer to the Raybestos dispute.

Meanwhile at the Raybestos plant Local 527 are trying to resume negotiations to get a new contract.

Their contract proposals include a package increase of 30 cents an hour. This works out to about 14 cents an hour to maintain the present take-home pay with a shortened work week, and 16 cents as a general wage increase.

Local 527 want a reduction in the work week from 43¼ hours to 40 hours; sick pay benefits increased from the present $18 a week to $35; a pension plan; and an improved vacation plan (three weeks' vacation after 15 years service, four weeks after 20 years).

Ex-Football Head James Fleming Dies

TORONTO (CP)—James Fleming, 74, former president of the Ontario Football Association, died Wednesday

A former secretary of the 48th Highlanders' Old Comrades Association, he was a member of the famed No. 1 platoon of the 134th battalion (48th Highlanders), known as the soccer platoon in the First World War.

Dry Forces Win Stanhope Vote

LINDSAY (ENS)—Voters of Stanhope Township, in Haliburton County, have voted "dry" in the first plebiscite held in the area. The voting was conducted at Eagle Lake and Carnarvon yesterday. The "drys" polled 1,345 votes and the "wets" 728.

The eight questions before the voters were to establish a beer retail store, a liquor store, men's and women's beverage rooms, hotel dining room licenses, liquor with meals, cocktail lounges, and dining lounges in the Standhope area. Although the area has never had a vote before, and is considered "wet" before the plebiscite yesterday, the vote was forced when the "dry" forces in the district circulated a petition for a decision of the people.

Two Cars Collide 3 Hurt Near Oshawa

OSHAWA (CP)—Three Kingston residents were injured just east of here Wednesday when two cars collided. They were taken to hospital.

Mrs. Mary Wilson suffered scalp injuries and fractures to both legs, Mrs. Verlie Wade cuts and concussion, and her husband, Eric, driver of one of the cars, cuts about the face.

Mrs. P. Martyn Re-elected H & S President

Mrs. P. Martyn was re-elected president of the PCVS Home and School Association at the association's annual meeting Wednesday night.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. M. Clarke, Mrs. C. Collins, Mrs. L. Raper, Mrs. A. Londry, vice-presidents; Mrs. A. Collins, recording secretary; Mrs. W. P. Young, treasurer; and executive members, Mrs. A. Hancock, Mrs. W. Ovens, Mrs. J. Morton, Mrs. C. Ferguson and Mrs. R. Standish.

Mrs. E. C. Outram was in charge of nominations and Mr. J. H. Moebus, past president, installed the new officers.

Annual reports were read and adopted. Mrs. N. Elliott read the secretary's report of the year's progress. The finance committee's report was read by Mrs. C. Ferguson in the absence of Mrs. Ken Kingston. The following conveners also read their annual reports: Mrs. A. Purdon, publicity; Mrs. R. Morgan, transportation; Mrs. M. Clarke, junior frolic committee; Mrs. J. Goodson, social; Mrs. F. Dobson, kitchen.

The corresponding secretary's report was read by the secretary, Mrs. Elliott, in the absence of Mrs. Fred Gray.

One of the unique features of the meeting was a tour of the girls' and boys' washrooms, locker rooms and shower rooms.

The concensus of opinion was that the inspector had not exaggerated when he said that on the whole they were in deplorable condition, and inadequate for the size of the school.

It was suggested that a committee be formed to look into the matter and make recommendations to the Board of Education.

Refreshments were served at the social hour by Mrs. J. Goodson and her social committee.

Owners Reject Canadian Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Canadian proposal to arbitrate damages sought by American owners of Lake Ontario shore property has been rejected.

The Lake Ontario Land Development and Beach Protection Association Inc. advised the state department today of its rejection of Canadian proposal.

Members of the association contend the damage to their properties was caused by the construction of Gut dam on the St.Lawrence river. The dam, they say, caused a six- to eight-inch rise in the level of the lake. The dam was recently removed by Canada

Clayton L. Burwell, association secretary, wrote the department that the organization wants settlement of the damages negotiated and, should Canada reject such a proposal, it would have no alternative but to proceed with a suit in U. S. courts. Such an action has been filed.

Burwell said that unless a favorable Canadian answer is forthcoming by May 15 the association will proceed with the court action.

PRAYER IN STONE — Tradition holds that 62 years ago a Buffalo minister had the Lord's Prayer carved on this rock near the city's outskirts as a reminder to swearing teamsters attempting to climb the muddy hill in the spring. No doubt it still holds good for the modern motorist who gets stuck in the mud or snow.

Mississauga Indians Protest Non-Payment

BRANTFORD (CP)—The Mississauga Indians, who surrendered the land on which Toronto now stands, will protest non-payment of interest on the money they received for giving it up.

The Indian affairs branch called off "drawing money day" more than a week ago. Each Indian used to get about $5.

The tribe has called a meeting for today to protest.

The Indians say $1,600 is usually set aside for drawing day and they are going to ask what has been done with the money.

Indigestion, Dizzy Spells

London Citizen Tells How Syntona Helped Him

Relieved Awful Gas and Stomach Pains, Appetite Improved, Free of Headache, Tired Feeling.

"I just want to tell you what good results I got by taking Syntona Herbal Compound for stomach disorders," said Mr. Ross Penrose, RR 1, Hyde Park, London, Ontario, in a recent statement.

Always Felt So Tired

"Because of my upset stomach condition I was feeling so miserable I couldn't eat my meals. And what little I did manage to eat gave me awful gas and cramps in my stomach. I would get sick, dizzy feelings and throbbing headache. My nerves became all on edge and pains set into my back, limbs and joints. Many nights I couldn't sleep.

Tried Many Things

"I had tried so many things in an effort to help my stomach that I was getting discouraged, bu when I read about Syntona helping other people I got some and it proved to be just what I needed. I am not bothered with any of those ailments now, food is digesting fine gas and cramps all cleared up, and I have a wonderful appetite. Also the dizzy feelings and aches and pains are gone away and I sleep better.

"I will recommend his grand medicine to any one suffering as I did."

How It Acts

The reason why such good results are obtained by taking Syntona is because the organs of digestion are so closely related in their function that when one becomes upset it so often affects one or more of the others. Syntona works, not on one thing alone, but acts gently on stomach kidneys, liver and bowels, improving their function, and soon you feel like yourself again.

Why not let this Pure Herbal Medicine help you, too? Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough by Elliott's Drug Store.

In junior home economics year Margery Finnie of RR 1, Port Hope, had an average of 76.6 per cent.

Spring Days Come To Korea Winter Parkas Disappear

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IN KOREA (CP)—Winter gear is being doffed in favor of lighter, summer wear here as the 25th Canadian infantry brigade gets ready for its third summer in Korea.

Spring is just around the corner. Snow has vanished. Hillside shrubbery is still brown but will burst into green any day. Days are longer, sunnier and clear with the thermometer hitting the 50s. By night the mercury slips to the 20s or 30s.

Winter parkas and wind pants already have been withdrawn by unit quartermasters.

Already, the brigade ordnance officer, Capt. Stan Campbell of London, Ont., is issuing to quartermasters their first stocks of summer wear.

RUN ADVANCE DUMP

Campbell and his staff, who operate an advance dump right at brigade headquarters, are issuing cotton shirts, underwear and mosquito nets. Heavier winter shirts and underwear will be exchanged by the soldiers on an item-for-item basis.

Scheduled for wear May 15 are summer-weight field-service trousers, bush jackets and summer caps.

Canadian Army boots also will reappear in the infantry battalions.

During the winter the foot-soldiers used the British Army's "boot CWW," (cold wet weather). The $28 footwear is considered the answer to the army's prayers for a versatile boot.

Soles have not had to be repaired, they are as thick and leave as clear an imprint as the day they were issued. They are quiet, hence suitable for patrolling, and they shine well.

They are being turned in during the first fortnight in May, and soldiers will resume wearing the Canadian Army boot during the summer and fall months.

SKEETERS AGAIN

Mosquitoes have reappeared, although nights are still cool, turning medical officers' thoughts to malaria.

Commonwealth division headquarters have called unit field hygiene corporals to the rear for a brush-up course on malaria control and summer hygiene.

Canadians took palludrine antimalaria tablets throughout the winter this year. Ordinarily pill-taking stops during cold weather. But so many malaria cases developed in Canada among soldiers returned from Korea as the suppressive effect of the palludrine wore off that army headquarters in Ottawa suggested the pills be kept up.

Unit fly-control measures are being jacked up to prevent dysentery, and once again the hygiene boys are warning soldiers against swimming in "any old hole."

Korean streams abound in fungus and no repetition is wanted of the Canadians' first summer experience here when more than a company's strength was laid up with fungus which attached itself to soldiers, mainly in the ear.

Losing Proposition

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Allan Lamport said Wednesday that court costs on traffic tickets may be raised from the present $1 to $10. He said it now costs the city $1,639,000 annually to collect $1,500,000 in court fines and costs.

Parish Honors Family Prior To Departure

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—The CWL of St. Paul's Church gathered in the parish hall Sunday afternoon to honor Mrs. George Charlton and family on the occasion of their departure from the village.

Mrs. V. Hickey read an address of farewell to Mrs. Charlton. Mrs. C. Allen presented her with a beautiful mirror and little Linda Leonard presented a bouquet of narcissus, gifts from the league. The presentation of a leather-bound missal to Miss Pearl Charlton was made by Mrs. J. Sabatino. Miss Mary Spencer read the address.

The Rev. Dr. J. V. Masterson thanked Mrs. Charlton for her many years of church work and on behalf of the members of the parish wished her and her family much happiness in their new home in Peterborough. Mrs. M. Coughlin league president, thanked both ladies for their co-operation throughout the years.

The three small Quackenbush girls entertained with several spring songs and a recitation.

Lunch was served from a colorfully decorated tea table at which Mrs. H. Armstrong and Miss M. Fortier poured tea.

Road Building Aid Gets $12,000,000 Cut

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario municipalities will get $12,000,000 less than they asked this year in subsidies for road building and maintenance, J. D. Millar, deputy highways minister, said Wednesday.

He said the legislature voted a record $28,000,000 for these subsidies in 1953, nearly $2,000,000 more than last year, but the total of municipalities' requests was higher by $14,000,000.

The province pays subsidies for roads and bridges ranging from 33 per cent for cities to 80 per cent for rural areas.

"Some municipalities went a bit wild," said Mr. Millar. ". . . you can't make a $2,000,000 increase cover $14,000,000."
